IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below will be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the place at which the vessel is to arrive. The list or manifest must be filled out and sworn to before the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival, and a copy delivered to the master of the vessel (form 988) duly certified by the master to be a true copy, before the vessel will be granted clearance papers.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of a vessel in the United States from any foreign port to a place at which the only or the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival is not stationed, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel shall, before any passengers are landed, deliver to such immigration officer, or to the customs officer at such place, a list or manifest of all such passengers, and shall make oath before such officer to the correctness of such list or manifest. Such list or manifest shall be prepared in such form and contain such information as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and shall be signed by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may by regulations provide for the delivery of such list or manifest to the immigration officer at the port of arrival within such time before the vessel's entry as he may deem necessary: Provided further, That the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel who refuses to deliver such list or manifest, or who refuses to answer truthfully the questions contained therein, concerning persons on board such vessel, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 37. That the Secretary of Labor may prescribe such additional rules and regulations governing the admission of aliens to the United States as he may deem necessary, and may prescribe such forms of reports and require such information from masters, owners, agents, consignees, or persons in charge of vessels concerning the admission, detention, and deportation of aliens coming to the United States as he may deem necessary.

SEC. 38. (a) That the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States, who shall refuse to allow such alien to land in the United States, except pursuant to a written permit from the Secretary of Labor or a person designated by him for that purpose, or who shall refuse to return any such alien on board such vessel or to cause him to be detained thereon, pending the determination of the question of the right of such alien to land, or who shall neglect to take such alien on board such vessel and convey him to the country whence he came, or to some other country willing to receive him, or who shall neglect to cause such alien to proceed in immediate transit through any country, or who shall neglect to prevent such alien from landing in any country through which he may be required to pass in transit, or who shall neglect to cause such alien to proceed on the vessel or other conveyance on which he shall arrive in the United States, or on some other vessel or conveyance, to the country whence such alien came to the United States, shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each alien so refused permission to land, or neglected to be detained, or neglected to cause to proceed, or neglected to prevent from landing, or neglected to proceed in immediate transit through any country, or neglected to proceed on the vessel or other conveyance on which he arrived in the United States, or on some other vessel or conveyance, to the country whence such alien came to the United States, or neglected to cause such alien to be returned, as aforesaid, or who shall refuse to pay the same when demanded by the Secretary of Labor, or any person duly authorized thereto by him, and no vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the right to land of any such alien, or while the payment of any such penalty is refused, nor shall such vessel be granted clearance papers after the payment of such penalty or the determination that such alien has the right to land in the United States.

(b) That any such master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel who shall bring to a port of the United States any alien afflicted with any loathsome disease, or with any mental defect likely to become a public charge, or who shall bring to a port of the United States any alien who has been deported within one year next preceding the application of such alien for admission, unless prior to the embarkation of such alien for the United States the Secretary of Labor shall have given his consent for the admission of such alien to the United States, shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien so brought, and no vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the right to land of any such alien, or while the payment of any such penalty is refused, nor shall such vessel be granted clearance papers after the payment of such penalty or the determination that such alien has the right to land in the United States.

(c) That the Secretary of Labor shall prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this section, and shall refer the decision as to the facts in any case to a board of special inquiry appointed by the Secretary of Labor.

(d) Every alien who shall enter the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act.

(e) If any person shall bring to the United States from any foreign port any alien who is not in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa, if such visa is required by this Act, or other valid passport, or who is not in possession of a certificate from a consular officer of the United States, or of a certificate from the Secretary of Labor, when such certificate is required by this Act, such person shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien so brought, and no vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the right to land of any such alien, or while the payment of any such penalty is refused, nor shall such vessel be granted clearance papers after the payment of such penalty or the determination that such alien has the right to land in the United States.

(f) Every alien who shall enter the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act.

(g) If any person shall bring to the United States any alien and shall refuse to return such alien on board the vessel or other conveyance which brought him, or cause him to be returned thereon, as provided in this section, or if any person shall refuse to pay any head tax imposed by this Act, such person shall not be admitted to enter the United States from any foreign port or place during a period of one year thereafter.

SEC. 39. No alien seaman (other than one employed on board a vessel of war of the United States) shall be admitted into the United States unless upon the expiration of the voyage upon which he arrived or within sixty days after his arrival, whichever shall first occur, he shall depart on board the vessel upon which he arrived or upon some other vessel leaving a port in the same insular possession of the United States, or in the adjacent mainland territory of the United States, from which the vessel sailed, or upon some vessel departing for a port in the country to which belongs the vessel upon which he arrived, or for a port in the country of which he is a subject or citizen, or for a port in the country in which he resided before coming to the United States: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, extend the time within which such alien seaman shall depart from the United States in any case in which he finds that the refusal of such alien seaman to depart within such time is due to circumstances over which such alien seaman has no control.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, shall have been delivered by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel to the immigrant inspector, and sworn to before him, and a copy certified by the master delivered to the immigrant inspector, unless the vessel has been granted clearance papers before the list was delivered, in which case the list shall be delivered and sworn to before the vessel leaves the port.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or quarantine, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the nonimmigrant classes of aliens defined in section 3, and shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of the Act of February 5, 1917, to the country in which he was born or of which he was a subject at the time of his last admission to the United States, unless such country refuses to accept him as a subject or national, or unless he is a native of the United States. Any alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any place outside thereof, who is permitted to land temporarily as provided in this section, and who remains in the United States for more than sixty days, or who shall land at any port or place in the United States and ship on board any vessel other than the vessel on which he arrived, shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of seamen who remain in the United States for more than sixty days. Any alien seaman who shall desert while his vessel is in port in the United States shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of seamen who remain in the United States for more than sixty days. Any alien seaman who shall fail to report for deportation or who shall conceal himself to prevent deportation shall be deported whenever found in the United States, but if any such alien seaman shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he was unable to obtain a position on board a vessel on which he arrived or on board some other vessel leaving a port in the same insular possession of the United States, or in the adjacent mainland territory of the United States, from which the vessel sailed, or on board some vessel departing for a port in the country to which belongs the vessel upon which he arrived, or for a port in the country of which he is a subject or citizen, or for a port in the country in which he resided before coming to the United States, and that he has been unable to secure subsistence while he has been making reasonable efforts to obtain such a position, he may be allowed to depart temporarily in such manner as the Secretary of Labor may direct, and the cost of his maintenance and passage shall be paid from the appropriation for the expenses of the administration of the immigration laws. Any alien seaman who shall have been granted temporary admission to the United States for the purpose of medical treatment, and who remains in the United States for more than sixty days after the completion of such treatment, shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of seamen who remain in the United States for more than sixty days. Any alien seaman who shall have been granted temporary admission to the United States because of illness, injury, or quarantine, and who shall be certified by the United States Public Health Service as being able to proceed to sea without danger to the public health, shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of seamen who remain in the United States for more than sixty days. Any alien seaman who shall have been granted temporary admission to the United States because of illness, injury, or quarantine, and who shall be certified by the United States Public Health Service as being able to proceed to sea without danger to the public health, shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of seamen who remain in the United States for more than sixty days. Any alien seaman who shall have been granted temporary admission to the United States because of illness, injury, or quarantine, and who shall be certified by the United States Public Health Service as being able to proceed to sea without danger to the public health, shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of seamen who remain in the United States for more than sixty days.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, _____, of the _____ do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the men, women, and children who have entered the United States from any port or place during the past three months, so far as I have been able to ascertain the facts, and that I have complied with the requirements of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and with Subdivision B, rule 7, and with the instructions of the Secretary of Labor relative thereto, so far as the same have been communicated to me by the immigrant inspector at the port of _____.

I further declare that I have not, nor has any person in the employ of the vessel, to my knowledge or belief, concealed, removed, or destroyed any part of the manifest or list of passengers, or any portion thereof, and that I have not, nor has any person in the employ of the vessel, to my knowledge or belief, altered, added to, or changed the manifest or list of passengers, or any portion thereof, after the same was signed by me, except as directed by the immigrant inspector.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 688) when a vessel is a "foreigner," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of a vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all persons on board such vessel, stating the nationality, last residence, and destination of each such person, and such other information as shall be required by the rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor for the guidance of immigration officers in the performance of the duties imposed upon them by this act. Such lists shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival before any passenger is landed from such vessel, and the master shall thereupon report to such officer the number of aliens on board who have been landed at such port, and shall report the cases of all aliens who have died on board during the journey, and the cause of death in each case, so far as known to him. Such report shall be verified by the master under oath upon forms furnished by the Secretary of Labor, and any master who refuses to deliver such lists or to report the number of aliens who have been landed at such port, or who refuses to report the cases of aliens who have died on board during the journey, and the cause of death in each case, so far as known to him, or who refuses to the immigration officer at the port of arrival such information in addition to that required upon the lists as the Secretary of Labor may by regulation prescribe, or who refuses to deliver to such officer the lists required by this section, or who refuses to permit such officer to come on board the vessel for the purpose of obtaining the information required by this section, or who refuses or neglects to perform any other duty required of him by this section or by such regulations, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each and every such offense, for which fine the vessel shall also be liable.

SEC. 37. (a) That every alien arriving at a port within the United States from any place outside thereof, or coming from Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, Central America, the Canal Zone, the Republic of Panama, the Republic of Haiti, the Dominican Republic, the Empire of Japan, or the Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, shall be examined by one or more immigrant inspectors at the port of arrival, and for the purpose of such examination the vessel shall be met by the proper immigration officers before the passengers shall be landed from such vessel. Such examination shall include a personal physical examination by the medical officer of the port, and such other examination of each alien as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Such examination shall be made in the presence of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel, or a representative thereof, and shall be completed and the physical examination of each alien certified by the medical officer of the port before the vessel shall be admitted to entry. Such examination shall be conducted as rapidly as practicable, in order that vessels may not be unnecessarily detained in port, and the physical examination of each alien shall be made separately and apart from the examination of any other alien.

(b) Every alien who shall be found physically capable and who shall not be certified to be afflicted with any of the diseases or mental defects which will be ground for exclusion under the provisions of this act shall be examined by a board of special inquiry, which shall also be appointed by the Secretary of Labor, and which shall have authority to determine whether such alien belongs to any of the classes excluded by law. Such board of special inquiry shall consist of three immigrant inspectors, and a majority vote shall be sufficient to decide any case. The decision of such board shall be communicated immediately to the alien and to the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel, and shall be entered upon the records of the board. Such records shall show clearly the full name, birth date, sex, marital status, race, last residence, literacy, nationality, port of embarkation, final destination, whether in possession of railroad ticket or other ticket, whether in possession of money, and if so how much, whether ever before in the United States, whether ever before refused admission and deported and if so when and why, whether going to join relatives or friends and if so what relatives or friends and their names and addresses, whether in possession of a return ticket, whether coming under contract, the condition of health, mental and physical, of each alien, and the final determination of the board. Such records shall be open to the inspection of the Secretary of Labor and his assistants, and shall be preserved in the Department of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall not have been heretofore appointed, he shall be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, and shall receive a salary of $12,000 per annum. The Secretary of Labor may appoint, subject to the civil-service laws and regulations, such clerks and other employees as may be necessary for the proper performance of the duties of the Department of Labor, and may make such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the performance of the powers and duties conferred upon him by this act, and may delegate any of his powers and duties to such officers and employees of the Department of Labor as he may deem best.

(d) That the Secretary of Labor may appoint, subject to the civil-service laws and regulations, such inspectors of immigration as may be necessary for the proper performance of the duties relating to the inspection of aliens who may arrive at the various ports of the United States, and may also appoint, subject to the civil-service laws and regulations, such other employees of the Bureau of

The list described below shall be prepared on plain white paper by the Department and be ready for delivery to the Immigration Inspector at the port. The list is not to be handed to the master of the vessel as the port of arrival, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of departure. The list is to be signed by the master of the vessel in the presence of the immigration officer at the port of departure (Form 688) and not be detached or mixed, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival in the United States.

"Form ——."

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of the vessel in the United States from foreign port to which it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all the persons on board the vessel, showing the following facts concerning each person before the vessel is admitted to entry or granted clearance: Full name, age, sex, whether married or single, calling or occupation, whether able to read or write, nationality, last residence, and final destination, if alien, whether in possession of a ticket through to such destination, whether the transportation is paid by himself or by other persons or by the government or some State or municipality, whether in possession of money and how much, whether ever before in the United States and when and where, whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether a polygamist, whether under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, whether going to join a relative or friend, and if so what relative or friend and their name and complete address, whether in good health, mental and physical, and whether deformed or crippled, and the height and color of hair and eyes of each alien. The said lists shall be signed by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of the vessel, and shall be sworn to before the vice consul of the United States at the port of departure, if there be a consul at such port, otherwise before the collector of customs at the port of departure, or his deputy, and shall be approved by the commissioner of immigration at the port of departure, or his assistant in charge, before the vessel shall be granted clearance papers. The master shall deliver a true copy of said lists to the immigration officer at the port of arrival in the United States, and shall deliver the original lists to the collector of customs at the port of departure. Any master who knowingly refuses to deliver such lists, or who knowingly delivers false lists, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 7. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, shall have been furnished, and such list shall unless notice of disability to the administrative authorities as prescribed by rules section 10 to 9 shall prescribed by section 36 of the Act has been prompt served, the deposit specified in rule 22 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 21. No alien seaman shall be admitted into the United States under the immigration visa employed on board the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from the foreign port for which he is destined to land in the United States, except temporarily for the purpose of obtaining treatment in a hospital, or unless specifically ordered by the Secretary of Labor, prior to the departure of the vessel from the United States, for the purpose of proceeding to the port at which the vessel is scheduled to complete the voyage. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of this Act, and the cost of his maintenance while detained shall be borne by the master of the vessel on which he arrived. Any master who shall refuse to detain on board the vessel any alien seaman employed on such vessel shall immediately report the fact to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure, and shall deposit with the Secretary of Labor such sum as may be required by him, not exceeding $300 in any case, to cover the cost of maintenance and return of such alien seaman, and such sum shall be refunded only upon the certificate of the Secretary of Labor that the purposes of this section have been complied with.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien (except a bona fide alien seaman who is employed on board the vessel on which he arrived in the United States and who is not afflicted with any of the mental or physical defects or diseases for the exclusion of which aliens are required to be examined under section 16 of this Act) who does not have in his possession an unexpired immigration visa, or who is afflicted with any of the mental or physical defects or diseases for the exclusion of which aliens are required to be examined under section 16 of this Act, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district at which the vessel shall arrive a tax of $10 for each such alien not in possession of such visa, or who is afflicted with any of such defects or diseases, and a further tax of $10 for each such alien for every month he remains in the United States after the vessel's arrival. Such tax shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by the collector of customs by the detention thereof or the clearance thereof may be withheld by the Secretary of Labor until such tax is paid or a bond given to the United States to guarantee the payment thereof, in such amount and with such sureties as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, not exceeding the amount of such tax. Such tax shall not be refunded in the event of the departure from the United States of any such alien, but shall be refunded if such alien is found by the Secretary of Labor to have been a bona fide member of the crew of the vessel on which he arrived and to have been allowed to depart from the United States as such member of the crew, or if such alien is found by the Secretary of Labor to have been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence, or if such alien is found by the Secretary of Labor to have been prevented from departing from the United States within the time limited by reason of his being detained for the enforcement of any provision of the immigration laws, or by reason of his being detained as a witness in connection with the prosecution of any person charged with violating any provision of the immigration laws, or by reason of his being detained in a hospital, or if such alien is found by the Secretary of Labor to have been prevented from departing from the United States by reason of shipwreck or other casualty subsequent to the arrival of the vessel on which he arrived, or if such alien is found by the Secretary of Labor to have been compelled by stress of weather to land in the United States from the vessel on which he arrived and to have been allowed to depart from the United States as a member of the crew of another vessel, or if such alien is found by the Secretary of Labor to have been unable to depart from the United States on account of the refusal of a foreign government to grant him a visa to his passport within the time limited by reason of his being detained for the enforcement of any provision of the immigration laws, or by reason of his being detained as a witness in connection with the prosecution of any person charged with violating any provision of the immigration laws, or by reason of his being detained in a hospital, or if such alien is found by the Secretary of Labor to have been unable to depart from the United States within the time limited by reason of the refusal of the master of the vessel on which he arrived to receive him on board, or by reason of the refusal of the master of any other vessel to receive him on board, or by reason of his being detained by the quarantine authorities, or if such alien is found by the Secretary of Labor to have been unable to depart from the United States within the time limited for any cause beyond his control, no such tax shall be refunded. Any such tax shall be paid before the vessel shall be granted clearance papers, and any such tax may be sued for and recovered by the United States in the name of the collector of customs.

(b) Upon first arrival of any alien seaman who did not obtain from the consular officer at the port of departure in the United States from which he arrived a seaman's visa, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived shall report the name of such alien seaman to the Secretary of Labor and deposit with the collector of customs at the port of arrival the sum of $10 for each such alien seaman, which sum shall be refunded to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of the vessel on which such alien seaman departs from the United States within the period of a visa granted to him by the consular officer at the port of departure in the United States from which he arrived.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived will be unduly burdensome because of inability to secure his return to the port of departure in the United States from which he arrived, or because of the refusal of the master of the vessel on which he arrived to receive him on board, or because of the refusal of the master of any other vessel to receive him on board, or because of his being detained by the quarantine authorities, or because of his being detained as a witness in connection with the prosecution of any person charged with violating any provision of the immigration laws, or because of his being detained in a hospital, or because of inability to secure a passport within the time limited by reason of the refusal of a foreign government to grant a visa to such passport within the time limited, or because of shipwreck or other casualty subsequent to the arrival of the vessel on which he arrived, or because of his having been compelled by stress of weather to land in the United States from the vessel on which he arrived and to have been allowed to depart from the United States as a member of the crew of another vessel, or because of his having been unable to depart from the United States within the time limited for any cause beyond his control, and such alien seaman shall not have been granted clearance papers, the Secretary of Labor may cause such alien seaman to be detained at the port of arrival pending the final determination of his case. Any such alien seaman who shall depart from the United States without the consent of the Secretary of Labor shall be deported as an alien crewman employed on board a vessel which arrived at a port of the United States, and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived shall be liable to a fine of $1,000 for each such alien seaman so departing.

(d) Upon first arrival of any alien seaman who did not obtain from the consular officer at the port of departure in the United States from which he arrived a seaman's visa, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived shall report the name of such alien seaman to the Secretary of Labor and deposit with the collector of customs at the port of arrival the sum of $10 for each such alien seaman, which sum shall be refunded to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of the vessel on which such alien seaman departs from the United States within the period of a visa granted to him by the consular officer at the port of departure in the United States from which he arrived.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived will be unduly burdensome because of inability to secure his return to the port of departure in the United States from which he arrived, or because of the refusal of the master of the vessel on which he arrived to receive him on board, or because of the refusal of the master of any other vessel to receive him on board, or because of his being detained by the quarantine authorities, or because of his being detained as a witness in connection with the prosecution of any person charged with violating any provision of the immigration laws, or because of his being detained in a hospital, or because of inability to secure a passport within the time limited by reason of the refusal of a foreign government to grant a visa to such passport within the time limited, or because of shipwreck or other casualty subsequent to the arrival of the vessel on which he arrived, or because of his having been compelled by stress of weather to land in the United States from the vessel on which he arrived and to have been allowed to depart from the United States as a member of the crew of another vessel, or because of his having been unable to depart from the United States within the time limited for any cause beyond his control, and such alien seaman shall not have been granted clearance papers, the Secretary of Labor may cause such alien seaman to be detained at the port of arrival pending the final determination of his case. Any such alien seaman who shall depart from the United States without the consent of the Secretary of Labor shall be deported as an alien crewman employed on board a vessel which arrived at a port of the United States, and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived shall be liable to a fine of $1,000 for each such alien seaman so departing.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The law described below shall be enforced on board vessels of the Department and no vessel for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 650) shall not be accepted on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port where an arriving seaman is a "foreign seaman" within the meaning of the immigration laws.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That any alien who arrives at the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel from any foreign port to which any alien contemplating the practice of polygamy or any other form of immoral practice or who is a prostitute or who has been coming for any other immoral purpose has been or is booked to come, whether such booking be for the present voyage or for any subsequent voyage, to report the name of such alien, together with such additional information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, to the commissioner of immigration at the port of arrival at the time of the arrival of such vessel at such port, and it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel to detain such alien on board such vessel until a permit for the landing of such alien shall have been granted by the Secretary of Labor or by such immigrant inspector as he may designate for the purpose, and the failure to comply with the provisions of this section shall subject such owner, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel to a penalty of $200 for each and every such alien so brought, or in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor to the refusal or cancellation of clearance papers of such vessel, or, if such penalty and costs shall not be paid, to the withholding or revocation of the certificate of registry of such vessel until paid. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the detention in the United States of any alien in transit through the United States to a foreign country unless it shall appear to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that such detention is necessary to prevent such alien from becoming a public charge.

SEC. 37. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien who has come to a port of the United States on board any vessel shall before such vessel departs from such port, in such manner as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, report the departure of such alien from the United States, whether such departure be temporary or permanent, and shall furnish such information as the Secretary of Labor may require for the purpose of identifying any such alien, and shall pay for each such alien a tax of $8 if destined to any country contiguous to the United States, $4 if destined to any island adjacent thereto (except Cuba), or $10 if destined to any other foreign country, which tax shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States and shall be refunded only (1) if the alien shall be refused admission to the United States by the immigration officers at the port of arrival and shall depart therefrom within such period as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, or (2) if the alien shall depart from the United States within six months from the date of payment of the tax and shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor, by such proof as he may require, that during such period of six months he has not returned to the United States, or (3) if the alien shall be a seaman employed on a vessel which shall depart from the United States without the payment by the master, owner, agent, or consignee thereof of the tax herein provided for, and the master, owner, agent, or consignee of such vessel shall furnish to the Secretary of Labor such information concerning the departure of such seaman as the Secretary of Labor may require, and shall pay to the Secretary of Labor the tax herein provided for each such seaman, which tax shall be refunded to the master, owner, agent, or consignee of such vessel if the seaman departs on such vessel: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, refund the tax in the case of any seaman who shall have been forced to leave his vessel while in the United States because of illness requiring his hospitalization, or who shall have been left behind because of illness, or who shall have been separated from his vessel because of injury, or who shall have been duly discharged therefrom for the convenience of the vessel, or who shall have been arrested as a witness in connection with any criminal case, or who shall have been granted permission to remain in the United States for the purpose of assisting in the prosecution of offenders against the immigration laws, or who shall have been granted permission by the Secretary of Labor to remain in the United States for the purpose of settling the estate of a deceased relative, or who shall have been granted permission by the Secretary of Labor to remain in the United States for such length of time as he may deem necessary for the purpose of enabling any seaman employed on any vessel arriving at a port of the United States to accompany such vessel to such port and secure other employment therein, or who shall have been granted permission by the Secretary of Labor to remain in the United States for such length of time as he may deem necessary for the purpose of pursuing his studies in any public or private institution of learning or research, such refund to be made only upon the certification of the Secretary of Labor to the Secretary of the Treasury.

(b) Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to report, or who shall make any false report, in regard to any alien employed on board his vessel, or who shall refuse or neglect to pay the tax imposed by this section, or who shall refuse or neglect to furnish the Secretary of Labor any information required by him concerning any such alien, or who shall refuse or neglect to detain any such alien on board his vessel when ordered so to do by the Secretary of Labor, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien in respect to whom any such violation occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, but in case such fine is imposed, suit for the collection thereof may be instituted immediately by the Secretary of Labor after such determination, and clearance may be granted such vessel upon the filing with the collector of customs of a sufficient bond conditioned for the payment of such fine when finally determined.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any person has violated any of the provisions of this section, or any rule, regulation, or order thereunder, or any of the terms or conditions of any contract or bond filed in connection therewith, such person may, after notice and hearing, be debarred by the Secretary of Labor from bringing any alien into the United States for such time as he may deem sufficient to prevent such violation, and such determination shall be final and conclusive upon all officers of the United States.

(d) Every alien arriving at a port within the United States from any foreign port who is found to be unable to read the English language or some other language or dialect, including Hebrew or Yiddish, shall be allowed to enter the United States: Provided, That nothing in this section shall exempt from the operation thereof the wife or minor child of any alien not otherwise exempt who is entitled to admission.

(e) Nothing in this section shall be construed to apply to any person who is a bona fide passenger for Canada or Mexico coming to the United States for a visit not exceeding six months, or to any person who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who shall depart therefrom temporarily, or to any person who is a seaman employed on a vessel arriving at a port of the United States who is not a deserter from such vessel, or to any person who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who shall depart therefrom temporarily to perform labor as a seaman on board any vessel engaged in the transportation of passengers or merchandise or both between the United States and any foreign port or ports, or between the United States and the Panama Canal Zone or the Territory of Hawaii, or between the United States and any insular possession of the United States, or between any two insular possessions of the United States, and who is employed and actually engaged in such service.

(f) That the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, shall prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this section, and shall prescribe the manner in which reports required by this section shall be made, and the records to be kept of aliens employed, and the form and contents of the certificates to be issued for the purposes of this section, and may require any such certificate to be issued in duplicate.

(g) Any person who knowingly violates any of the provisions of this section, or any rule, regulation, or order thereunder, or who knowingly makes any false report or false entry in any report required to be made hereunder, or who knowingly makes any false statement in any affidavit required to be made hereunder, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel that shall have violated the provisions of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, unless such violation shall not have been known to the master, owner, agent, or consignee of such vessel and could not have been prevented by the exercise of due diligence on the part of any of them, and in such event clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws now or hereafter in force, and no alien seaman who shall have been granted a temporary permit to enter the United States solely in pursuance of law and who shall have been allowed to enter the United States as a bona fide alien visitor for pleasure, for business, or for medical treatment, and no alien seaman who shall have been granted a permit to enter the United States solely in order to accompany and care for a person certified by a public medical officer to be insane, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospitalization as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the alleviation of distress, or emergency, or for such other purpose as may be approved by the Secretary of Labor, under such bond as the Secretary of Labor may require to guarantee the departure of such alien from the United States. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section, or who shall land in the United States from any vessel and fail to depart therefrom with such vessel, or who shall land in the United States at any time or place other than as designated by immigration officers, or who shall remain in the United States for a longer time than permitted by the Secretary of Labor or his authorized representative, shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have been admitted to the United States. Any alien seaman who shall be deported from the United States, or who shall depart therefrom under this section, shall be ineligible to receive a visa and to enter the United States or to be admitted thereto unless prior to his application for admission he shall have been lawfully admitted to the United States after examination at a port of entry therein.

SEC. 28. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien seaman (except an alien seaman employed on board a vessel touching only at ports in the United States or at ports in foreign contiguous territory) shall before such vessel departs from such port, in such manner as the Secretary of Labor may require, report the departure of such alien seaman on board such vessel, whether such departure is temporary or permanent, and shall furnish such information as the Secretary of Labor may require for the purpose of identifying any such alien seaman, and shall pay for each such alien seaman a tax of $8 if destined to any country contiguous to the United States, $4 if destined to any island adjacent thereto (except Cuba), or $10 if destined to any other foreign country, which tax shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States and shall be refunded only (1) if the alien seaman shall be refused admission to the United States by the immigration officers at the port of arrival and shall depart therefrom within such period as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, or (2) if the alien seaman shall depart from the United States within six months from the date of payment of the tax and shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor, by such proof as he may require, that during such period of six months he has not returned to the United States, or (3) if the alien seaman shall be employed on board a vessel which shall depart from the United States without the payment by the master, owner, agent, or consignee thereof of the tax herein provided for, and the master, owner, agent, or consignee of such vessel shall furnish to the Secretary of Labor such information concerning the departure of such seaman as the Secretary of Labor may require, and shall pay to the Secretary of Labor the tax herein provided for each such seaman, which tax shall be refunded to the master, owner, agent, or consignee of such vessel if the seaman departs on such vessel: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, refund the tax in the case of any seaman who shall have been forced to leave his vessel while in the United States because of illness requiring his hospitalization, or who shall have been left behind because of illness, or who shall have been separated from his vessel because of injury, or who shall have been duly discharged therefrom for the convenience of the vessel, or who shall have been arrested as a witness in connection with any criminal case, or who shall have been granted permission to remain in the United States for the purpose of assisting in the prosecution of offenders against the immigration laws, or who shall have been granted permission by the Secretary of Labor to remain in the United States for such length of time as he may deem necessary for the purpose of enabling any seaman employed on any vessel arriving at a port of the United States to accompany such vessel to such port and secure other employment therein, or who shall have been granted permission by the Secretary of Labor to remain in the United States for such length of time as he may deem necessary for the purpose of pursuing his studies in any public or private institution of learning or research, such refund to be made only upon the certification of the Secretary of Labor to the Secretary of the Treasury.

(b) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any person has violated any of the provisions of this section, or any rule, regulation, or order thereunder, or any of the terms or conditions of any contract or bond filed in connection therewith, such person may, after notice and hearing, be debarred by the Secretary of Labor from bringing any alien into the United States for such time as he may deem sufficient to prevent such violation, and such determination shall be final and conclusive upon all officers of the United States. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section, or who shall land in the United States from any vessel and fail to depart therefrom with such vessel, or who shall land in the United States at any time or place other than as designated by immigration officers, or who shall remain in the United States for a longer time than permitted by the Secretary of Labor or his authorized representative, shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have been admitted to the United States. Any alien seaman who shall be deported from the United States, or who shall depart therefrom under this section, shall be ineligible to receive a visa and to enter the United States or to be admitted thereto unless prior to his application for admission he shall have been lawfully admitted to the United States after examination at a port of entry therein.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on board every vessel before leaving port from the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (not earlier than 960 days) before the vessel is admitted to land, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival in the United States.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of a vessel in the United States from the foreign port it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspectors at the port of first arrival manifests of all passengers, and also to deliver to the immigrant inspectors at each port where passengers are landed from such vessel manifests of such passengers as may be destined to such port, which manifests shall be prepared respectively as follows: (1) Those of passengers who embark at seaports in foreign countries shall be prepared at the port of embarkation; (2) those of passengers who embark at ports in contiguous countries shall be prepared at the last port of such embarkation; (3) those of passengers who embark at ports in adjacent islands shall be prepared at the last port of such embarkation; (4) those of passengers who embark at ports in the United States shall be prepared at the port of such embarkation; (5) those of passengers who embark at ports in the United States from which no manifests are required shall be prepared at the port of first arrival. The manifests required by this section shall contain such information, and be prepared in such manner, as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe; but the same shall include the following, to wit: Full name, age, sex, whether married or single, calling or occupation, whether able to read or write, nationality, last residence, seaport for landing in the United States, final destination if known, whether in possession of a ticket reaching such destination, whether the passage is paid by himself or by other persons or by the government, whether in possession of money, and if so how much, whether in possession of a railroad or steamship ticket or through transportation contract, whether coming by reason of any offer, promise, agreement, or solicitation to perform labor or service of any kind in the United States, whether ever before in the United States, and if so when and where, whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether a polygamist, whether under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, the location, occupation, and wages in such contract or agreement, whether the immigrant has been deported, and if so how many times and the cause for each deportation, whether coming in pursuance of a prepaid railroad or steamship ticket or in pursuance of a ticket purchased in the United States, or in pursuance of a ticket or passage furnished by any relative or friend, and if so what relative or friend, the age, sex, marital condition, race, nationality, last occupation, and last residence in the United States or elsewhere of each of such relatives or friends, and whether the immigrant intends to join or remain with such relative or friend, and what is the immigrant's ultimate destination. Each manifest required by this section shall be verified by the master or commanding officer of the vessel, or by the first or second officer thereof, in such manner as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and shall be delivered to the immigrant inspectors at the port of first arrival before any passengers are landed from such vessel. Any master, commanding officer, first or second officer of any such vessel who refuses to deliver such manifests, or who refuses to answer questions concerning the same, or who delivers a false manifest, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such offense.

SEC. 37. (a) That the master, captain, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel bringing an alien to any port of the United States shall be required to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list or manifest of all such aliens, and for each and every alien who may be found on board such vessel and not mentioned in such list or manifest, or in case of the failure of the master, captain, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to deliver such list or manifest, he shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which such port is located a sum not exceeding $10 for each and every such alien, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the payment of such sum, and in case a clearance shall be granted before such question is determined, and such sum is not paid, or such bond is not given, as hereinafter provided, suit shall be brought for the recovery of the same in favor of the United States.

(b) That the master, captain, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel bringing an alien to any port of the United States from any place outside thereof, or bringing to any port of the United States from any place outside thereof any immigrant not duly listed in the manifest required by this section, shall be required to file with the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a bond in the penal sum of $300 for each and every such alien not listed in such manifest conditioned that such alien will not become a public charge within three years after landing, and that if such alien becomes a public charge within three years after landing the amount of such bond will be paid to the collector of customs for the district in which such port is located. Such bond shall be prosecuted by the United States district attorney for the district in which such port is located, and the amount recovered thereon shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States. Such bond shall not be required as to any alien who is in possession of a ticket entitling him to admission to the United States and who establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he has paid directly to the transportation company the cost of his passage, and that such ticket was issued to him at a place outside the United States, nor as to any alien who is in possession of a through ticket entitling him to admission to the United States and who establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he has paid directly to the transportation company the cost of his passage, and that such ticket was issued to him at a place outside the United States, nor as to any alien who is in possession of a

I, _____, of the _____, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew now on board the _____ bound from _____ to _____; that all of said crew have been regularly shipped before the proper shipping commissioner, and that the _____ has on board the said vessel the proper complement of officers and crew; that I am the master [or first officer or second officer] of said vessel; that I have personally examined the crew and their certificates, and that to the best of my knowledge and belief the certificate of each member of the crew is genuine and the property of the person to whom it was issued; that I have satisfied myself that each person on board is the person described in such certificate; that I have caused each person on board to be mustered at the gangway of the vessel before her departure from each port, and have satisfied myself that each person on board was on board at such muster, or was accounted for by sickness or other cause to be stated in the log-book; that I have caused the log-book to be written up to the date of sailing, and will cause it to be written up to the date of arrival at the next port, and will cause the crew or such members thereof as may be required to be mustered by the shipping commissioner at each port of arrival and departure; that I will not knowingly employ any person named in this list who is not on board at the time of sailing, except in case of death or desertion, and in case of death or desertion will report the circumstances to the shipping commissioner at the first port of arrival thereafter; that I will not discharge any seaman in this list in a foreign port except for the reasons prescribed by law, and will report the circumstances and reasons for so discharging him to the shipping commissioner at the first port of arrival thereafter; that I will not knowingly employ on board this vessel any person whose name does not appear in this list, unless he shall be shipped in the presence of a shipping commissioner, and will report the circumstances to the shipping commissioner at the first port of arrival thereafter; that I will not allow any seaman in this list to be transferred to any other vessel, except by the direction of the shipping commissioner, or by sickness, or by death, or by desertion, or by the transfer being made to a vessel about to sail on a voyage which will be longer than the voyage of the vessel from which he is transferred, or by the transfer being made to a vessel which will be absent from the United States for a longer time than

The law described below requires an alien arriving by any route to present a valid immigration visa and passport, unless the alien is entitled to enter without such documents under the provisions of section 3 of the immigration act of February 5, 1917. The alien must also present a valid unexpired reentry permit if he intends to return to the United States after a temporary visit abroad. Failure to comply with these requirements will result in the alien being excluded from admission into the United States and returned to the country from which he came. Masters of vessels bringing aliens to the United States who fail to prevent the landing of aliens who do not comply with the requirements of the law are subject to a fine of $1,000 for each alien landed in violation of the law.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arriving at a land station in the United States from any foreign port or place at which the vessel, aircraft, or other conveyance to be entered by the provisions of this Act first touches or stops, every alien, including each person in the United States in transit through the same, shall be subject to such inspection and examination by the immigrant inspectors at the port of entry as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, under the direction of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be examined as to his admissibility to enter the United States under the provisions of this Act or of any law or treaty now or hereafter in force regulating the admission of aliens to the United States: Provided, That the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may prescribe that in the case of aliens arriving in continental territory adjacent to Canada or Mexico, or in the case of aliens arriving on islands adjacent to the United States, such examination or any part thereof may be made at some place other than a port of entry.

SEC. 37. (a) That any alien who by the provisions of this Act is excluded from admission into the United States shall, if he has been admitted, be taken into custody and returned to the country whence he came by the transportation line which brought him to the port from which he sailed, or by the transportation line which brought him to the land border at which he entered, as the case may be, as soon as practicable after the decision of the inspection officers is rendered and approved by the Commissioner General of Immigration or his assistant in charge of the division having jurisdiction at the port of arrival, unless the alien shall be admitted or shall be allowed to withdraw his application for admission, or unless the Secretary of Labor shall determine that the return of the alien would be prejudicial to the interests of the United States, in which case the alien may be detained under such rules and regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe until the alien is returned to the country whence he came or is admitted to the United States. Pending a final determination of the right of the alien to enter the United States, the Secretary of Labor, in his discretion, may grant the alien temporary permission to enter upon such terms as he may prescribe. Any alien who shall come in contrary to law may, within such time as may be prescribed by rules and regulations made hereunder, be returned as provided in this section in lieu of being brought before a board of special inquiry for examination. The cost of the maintenance of any alien detained for the purpose of obtaining further information regarding his right to enter the United States shall be borne by the appropriation for the enforcement of the provisions of this Act.

(b) Any alien who becomes a public charge within two years after his entry into the United States from causes not affirmatively shown to have arisen subsequent to his entry shall be deported as provided in this section.

(c) Any alien who at any time after entering the United States is found to have been at the time of entry a member of any of the classes excluded by law, or to have entered or remained unlawfully in the United States, shall be taken into custody and deported in the manner provided by subdivision (a) of this section: Provided, That any alien who shall have been arrested within one year after entry and shall be deported shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act: Provided further, That any alien who shall have been arrested after one year but within five years after entry and shall be deported shall be deported in the manner provided by subdivision (a) of this section, but at the expense of the appropriation for the immigration service: Provided further, That any alien who shall have been arrested within five years after entry and deported shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the immigration service unless the Secretary of Labor shall in his discretion direct deportation at the expense of the transportation line by which such alien came to the United States: Provided further, That any alien who shall have been arrested within five years after entry and deported shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the immigration service unless the Secretary of Labor shall in his discretion direct deportation at the expense of the owner of the vessel on which such alien came to the United States: Provided further, That any alien who shall have been arrested within five years after entry and deported shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the immigration service unless the Secretary of Labor shall in his discretion direct deportation at the expense of the person who brought such alien

The list described below should be preserved on board vessel by the Department and be kept for ready reference so that immediate information may be given to immigrant inspectors boarding vessel as to ports at which vessel is to call, and the number of aliens destined to each port. The list is arranged in alphabetical order of races (or peoples) and the number of aliens destined to each port is indicated opposite the name of the race (or people).

When an alien entitled to admission is in doubt as to the race (or people) to which he belongs, the inspector will be guided by the definition of race or people given in the list.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of vessel at United States ports from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, purser, or other person in charge thereof to deliver to the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival lists containing the full names of all aliens employed on board such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, where born, where they were last permanently resident, whether they have been in the United States before, whether they have been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether they are coming in pursuance of a previously existing contract, and whether they have been deported or excluded and the cause thereof, and whether they have been connected with the business of making contracts for labor to be performed in the United States, and such other information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, Assistant Commissioners General of Immigration, or Boards of Special Inquiry. Such lists shall be produced at the request of any such officer, and shall be open to his inspection and copying. Any master, purser, or other person in charge of any such vessel who refuses to deliver such lists, or refuses to answer truthfully the questions contained therein, or refuses to allow such officer to inspect and copy the same, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and shall pay to the United States a sum equal to the amount of any fine imposed upon any alien employed on board such vessel who may be excluded from admission to the United States or who may be deported therefrom before the payment of such fine, which sum shall be a lien upon such vessel, and such vessel may be libeled therefor in any district court of the United States within the jurisdiction of which she may be found.

SEC. 37. That any alien employed on board any vessel arriving at any port of the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States from such vessel for temporary medical treatment, or because certified by the proper medical officer to be unable to proceed with the vessel without danger to life, but shall be detained on board or at such hospital as may be designated by the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service, or other medical officer in charge, until such time as the vessel is ready to depart, or sooner if required for hospital treatment, and upon the certification of the medical officer in charge that the danger to life has passed, and in the case of those destined to ports within the United States, shall be entered at the port of arrival, and in the case of those destined to foreign ports shall be returned on the vessel which brought them to the United States: Provided, That the cost of their maintenance while on shore shall be borne by the owners of the vessel on which they arrived: Provided further, That in the case of those who are destined to foreign ports the cost of their maintenance while on shore and their return passage to their destination shall be borne by the owners of the vessel on which they arrived, unless the consul of the country to which they are destined shall certify that they have sufficient means to pay for the same, which certificate shall be taken in lieu of the bond required by this section: Provided further, That the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may issue rules and regulations governing the admission of aliens employed on board vessels arriving at ports of the United States, and prescribe the conditions upon which they may be granted temporary shore leave, and may require the masters of vessels to furnish such bonds as may be necessary to insure compliance with such rules and regulations.

SEC. 38. (a) That it shall be unlawful for the master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel to bring to the United States from any place outside thereof any alien who is unable to become a citizen and is not admissible to the United States under the immigration laws, or who is not in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa, if such visa is required by this Act, or who is not in possession of a valid unexpired passport, if such passport is required by the regulations issued hereunder, or who is not in possession of a valid unexpired reentry permit or other travel document required by the regulations issued hereunder, or who is not in possession of a certificate of identity, if such certificate is required by the regulations issued hereunder.

(b) Any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel who violates any of the provisions of this section shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the vessel arrives a penalty of $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such violation occurs, and to the Commissioner General of Immigration a penalty of $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such violation occurs, and such penalties shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be recovered by proceedings in rem in the district court of the United States for the district within which the vessel may be found.

(c) The owner, agent, master, or consignee of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States in violation of this section shall not be permitted to enter any port of the United States during the next succeeding three months on the same or any other vessel owned in whole or in part by him, or of which he is master, agent, or consignee, and the vessel on which the alien was brought to the United States shall not be permitted to enter any port of the United States during the next succeeding three months on any voyage, unless the Commissioner General of Immigration shall be satisfied that sufficient precautions have been taken to prevent the bringing of aliens in violation of this section.

(d) Upon the arrival of any vessel at a port of the United States the master, agent, owner, or consignee thereof shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at such port a list or manifest of all aliens on board such vessel, whether destined to ports in the United States or in foreign countries, and such list or manifest shall contain such information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration. Such list or manifest shall be delivered before any of the passengers shall be landed from such vessel, and the master, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel shall not grant clearance papers for such vessel until the immigrant inspector has certified that he has received the list or manifest required by this section, or has indorsed thereon that the inspection of the aliens has been waived.

(e) It shall be unlawful for any person, including masters, officers, and members of the crew of any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any place outside thereof, to land or permit to be landed any alien from such vessel except at the port designated by the immigrant inspector at which such alien is to be inspected by the immigrant inspection officers, unless the Commissioner General of Immigration, Assistant Commissioners General of Immigration, or Boards of Special Inquiry shall have canceled or waived the right to inspect such alien at such designated port, or unless such master, officer, member of the crew, or person in charge has been ordered by the immigrant inspector in charge at such port to land such alien for the purpose of medical treatment or hospital treatment or detention.

(f) Any person who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a period not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel that has failed to report as required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, even though subsequently granted permission to depart by the commissioner general of immigration or the boards of special inquiry, or by the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival, unless notice of the withdrawal of the application for such permission has been received by the collector of customs at the port of clearance before the vessel has left the dock, or, if no dock is used, before the vessel has left the anchorage.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 11. (a) No alien seaman shall be granted a visa as an immigrant unless (1) he is destined to a port in the United States, and intends to depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrives or some other vessel within the period of his permit hereinafter provided for, and (2) he is in possession of a valid seaman's passport or other travel document issued by the country of which he is a subject or citizen, and (3) he is in possession of a certificate from the Secretary of Labor stating that he has been found admissible for the purpose of his application for a visa.

(b) Upon the arrival of any alien seaman who has been granted a visa as an immigrant, and who is found by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival to be admissible as an immigrant, the immigrant inspector shall, in lieu of issuing a permanent certificate of admission, issue to such alien seaman a permit to land temporarily in the United States for a period not exceeding twenty-nine days, subject to such conditions as may be imposed by the Secretary of Labor. Such permit may be revoked at any time in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, and upon such revocation, or upon the expiration of such period of twenty-nine days, such alien seaman shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have been admitted to the United States.

(c) Any alien seaman who has been granted a visa as an immigrant, and who is found by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival to be inadmissible as an immigrant, but admissible as a seaman, shall be granted a permit to land temporarily in the United States under such conditions as may be imposed by the Secretary of Labor, and shall be required to depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrives or some other vessel within the period of his permit, and upon the revocation of such permit, or upon the expiration of such period of time, shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have been admitted to the United States.

(d) Any alien seaman who has been granted a visa as an immigrant, and who is found by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival to be inadmissible as an immigrant, but admissible as a seaman, and who fails to depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrives or some other vessel within the period of his permit, shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have been admitted to the United States.

(e) Any alien seaman who has been granted a visa as an immigrant, and who is found by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival to be inadmissible as an immigrant, but admissible as a seaman, and who departs from the United States on a vessel other than the vessel on which he arrives, or some vessel within the period of his permit, shall not be admitted to the United States unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he was unable to depart on the vessel on which he arrived, and that he has not been able to secure passage on any vessel on which he could depart within the period of his permit, and that he has not remained in the United States for a longer period than the vessel on which he arrived would have remained in port had it not been necessary for it to depart without the alien seaman.

(f) Any alien seaman who has been granted a visa as an immigrant, and who is found by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival to be inadmissible as an immigrant, but admissible as a seaman, and who fails to depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrives or some other vessel within the period of his permit, shall not be admitted to the United States unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he was unable to depart on the vessel on which he arrived, and that he has not been able to secure passage on any vessel on which he could depart within the period of his permit, and that he has not remained in the United States for a longer period than the vessel on which he arrived would have remained in port had it not been necessary for it to depart without the alien seaman.

(g) If any alien seaman who has been granted a visa as an immigrant fails to depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrives or some other vessel within the period of his permit, and is found by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival to be admissible as an immigrant, he shall be granted a permanent certificate of admission.

(h) Any alien seaman who has been granted a visa as an immigrant, and who is found by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival to be admissible as an immigrant, but who fails to depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrives or some other vessel within the period of his permit, shall not be admitted to the United States unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he was unable to depart on the vessel on which he arrived, and that he has not been able to secure passage on any vessel on which he could depart within the period of his permit, and that he has not remained in the United States for a longer period than the vessel on which he arrived would have remained in port had it not been necessary for it to depart without the alien seaman.

(i) If any alien seaman who has been granted a visa as an immigrant fails to depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrives or some other vessel within the period of his permit, and is found by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival to be admissible as an immigrant, he shall be granted a permanent certificate of admission.

(j) Any alien seaman who has been granted a visa as an immigrant, and who is found by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival to be inadmissible as an immigrant, but admissible as a seaman, and who fails to depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrives or some other vessel within the period of his permit, shall not be admitted to the United States unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he was unable to depart on the vessel on which he arrived, and that he has not been able to secure passage on any vessel on which he could depart within the period of his permit, and that he has not remained in the United States for a longer period than the vessel on which he arrived would have remained in port had it not been necessary for it to depart without the alien seaman.

(k) If any alien seaman who has been granted a visa as an immigrant fails to depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrives or some other vessel within the period of his permit, and is found by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival to be admissible as an immigrant, he shall be granted a permanent certificate of admission.

(l) Any alien seaman who has been granted a visa as an immigrant, and who is found by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival to be inadmissible as an immigrant, but admissible as a seaman, and who fails to depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrives or some other vessel within the period of his permit, shall not be admitted to the United States unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he was unable to depart on the vessel on which he arrived, and that he has not been able to secure passage on any vessel on which he could depart within the period of his permit, and that he has not remained in the United States for a longer period than the vessel on which he arrived would have remained in port had it not been necessary for it to depart without the alien seaman.

The list described below will be prepared on plank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall be in duplicate for the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 880). Each list of cabin passengers and each list of steerage passengers must be separately prepared, and shall not be combined on board, but shall be delivered by the master on the manifest.

When an arriving cabin passenger is a "nonquota" immigrant, in addition to such officer should block be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival in the United States from foreign port from place if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master, charterer, agent, or owner of any vessel in the United States to have a list or manifest of all aliens employed on board such vessel, showing the nationality, last residence, calling, and intended destination of each alien, together with such additional information at such time and place and in such form as may be prescribed in the port of arrival; to have conspicuously posted on board such vessel a copy of such list or manifest, and to deliver a true copy thereof to each such alien at the time of the inspection of such vessel by the proper immigration officer, or at such other time as may be specified by the Secretary of Labor. Such list or manifest shall be prepared in the port of arrival; to have conspicuously posted on board such vessel a copy of such list or manifest, and to deliver a true copy thereof to each such alien at the time of the inspection of such vessel by the proper immigration officer, or at such other time as may be specified by the Secretary of Labor. Such list or manifest shall be prepared in such manner, and contain such information, as the Secretary of Labor shall prescribe; and the owner, agent, consignee, master, charterer, or agent of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section or with any such rule, regulation, or order made thereunder shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $10 for each such alien in respect to whom such default occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance until the master thereof has complied with the provisions of this section. For any refusal to grant clearance in the case of any such vessel, or the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer thereof, such vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $500. Such penalty shall constitute a lien upon such vessel, which may be enforced by libel in rem, and such vessel may be detained until such penalty is paid or secured to be paid, or may be discharged therefrom on bond or other sufficient security in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor or such person as he may designate for the purpose.

SEC. 37. That any alien who shall depart or attempt to depart from the United States in violation of any of the provisions of this Act, or of any rule, regulation, or order made in pursuance thereof, or who shall, when required to do so by any officer charged with the administration of this Act, refuse or fail to furnish information required by or pursuant to this Act, or furnishes false information in response thereto, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof: Provided, That deportations may be made to foreign contiguous territory in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor instead of to the country whence such alien came to the United States.

SEC. 38. (a) That the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing an alien to any port of the United States shall be liable to a tax of $10 for each such alien, which tax shall be paid to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located before any such alien shall be allowed to land, except that no such tax shall be levied in the case of any alien who has been in the United States and who shall return from a temporary visit abroad, nor in the case of any alien who is in transit through the United States and who has in his possession a through ticket or who is in charge of bona fide attendants for such alien, nor in the case of any alien who shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he is a member of any of the following classes: Government officials, their families, suites, and servants, members of the professions, persons who have resided in the United States previously and are returning to it, artisans, agriculturists, and laborers coming to seek employment in the United States, and persons in the United States who secure the services of any such alien in good faith for their personal use and not for any business, trade, profession, or other gainful occupation.

(b) That the tax imposed by this section shall be paid to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located before any such alien shall be allowed to land, except as provided in section 23 hereof, and shall be in addition to any head tax imposed by section 1 hereof. Such tax shall be refunded to any alien who is not permitted to land in the United States, except those coming from foreign contiguous territory, who are not admitted to the United States solely because they are afflicted with a contagious disease or mental or physical defect or disability which would be the cause of their rejection under the provisions of this Act, and the cost of their maintenance while in the United States and of their return passage shall be borne by the owner, agent, consignee, master, charterer, or agent of the vessel bringing them to the United States.

(c) That the tax imposed by this section shall be a lien upon the vessel bringing the alien to the United States, and shall be collected by any collector of customs before clearance is granted such vessel, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance while such tax remains unpaid, and any such vessel may be detained by any collector of customs until such tax is paid or secured to be paid to his satisfaction or until the decision of the Secretary of Labor in the case of any alien detained for special inquiry is rendered as provided in section 16 hereof, and any such vessel which shall depart or attempt to depart from the United States in violation of this section shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such violation occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance while the determination of any question or questions relative to the payment of the tax imposed by this section is pending before the Secretary of Labor, but clearance may be granted upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax and such additional sum as may be required to cover any subsequent charges or expenses which may accrue before a decision is rendered.

(d) That the master, owner, agent, consignee, charterer, or lessee of any vessel who knowingly or negligently violates any of the provisions of this section, or who knowingly or negligently furnishes a false manifest, or who knowingly or negligently fails to perform any duty imposed upon him by this section, or who knowingly or negligently aids or abets any alien to violate any of the provisions of this section, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such offense, and shall be liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(e) That the master of any vessel who fails to report and deliver to the immigrant inspector at any port of arrival any alien on board such vessel who is ill, injured, or mentally or physically defective, or who has been committed to any institution or place within three years prior to the date of such vessel's arrival at a port of the United States, or who has been deported, or who has been granted a visa by the consular officer without having been identified as the person to whom such visa was issued, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien.

(f) That the master, owner, agent, consignee, charterer, or lessee of any vessel bringing an alien who is not in possession of an unexpired immigration visa, when such visa is required by this Act, or other travel document required by the President under the provisions of section 1 hereof, or who shall fail to detain such alien on board such vessel at such time as the immigrant inspector may direct, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien.

(g) That the master, owner, agent, consignee, charterer, or lessee of any vessel bringing an alien to any port of the United States shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien not duly admitted by an immigrant inspector, and such penalty shall be a lien upon such vessel, which may be enforced by libel in rem, and such vessel may be detained until such penalty is paid or secured to be paid to his satisfaction or until the decision of the Secretary of Labor in the case of any alien detained for special inquiry is rendered as provided in section 16 hereof, and any such vessel which shall depart or attempt to depart from the United States in violation of this section shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien with respect to whom such violation occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance while the determination of any question or questions relative to the payment of the tax imposed by this section is pending before the Secretary of Labor.

(h) That the master, owner, agent, consignee, charterer, or lessee of any vessel who knowingly or negligently violates any of the provisions of this section, or who knowingly or negligently furnishes a false manifest, or who knowingly or negligently fails to perform any duty imposed upon him by this section, or who knowingly or negligently aids or abets any alien to violate any of the provisions of this section, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such offense, and shall be liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(i) That the master of any vessel who fails to report and deliver to the immigrant inspector at any port of arrival any alien on board such vessel who is ill, injured, or mentally or physically defective, or who has been committed to any institution or place within three years prior to the date of such vessel's arrival at a port of the United States, or who has been deported, or who has been granted a visa by the consular officer without having been identified as the person to whom such visa was issued, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien.

(j) That the master, owner, agent, consignee, charterer, or lessee of any vessel bringing an alien who is not in possession of an unexpired immigration visa, when such visa is required by this Act, or other travel document required by the President under the provisions of section 1 hereof, or who shall fail to detain such alien on board such vessel at such time as the immigrant inspector may direct, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien.

(k) That the master, owner, agent, consignee, charterer, or lessee of any vessel bringing an alien to any port of the United States shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien not duly admitted by an immigrant inspector, and such penalty shall be a lien upon such vessel, which may be enforced by libel in rem, and such vessel may be detained until such penalty is paid or secured to be paid to his satisfaction or until the decision of the Secretary of Labor in the case of any alien detained for special inquiry is rendered as provided in section 16 hereof, and any such vessel which shall depart or attempt to depart from the United States in violation of this section shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien with respect to whom such violation occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance while the determination of any question or questions relative to the payment of the tax imposed by this section is pending before the Secretary of Labor.

(l) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien will not be practicable or proper by reason of the inadequacy of the means of transportation or the refusal of the government of the country to which such alien is ordered deported to receive such alien, or for any other reason, he may, in his discretion, cause such alien to be deported to any country which may be designated by such alien and which is willing to receive him, such country to be designated in the warrant of deportation: Provided, That such country shall be designated by such alien within a period of three months after the Secretary of Labor has given such alien notice of his intention to deport him, unless the Secretary of Labor shall extend such period for a further period not exceeding three months: Provided further, That such alien may be deported pursuant to this section to the country whence he came to the United States, at the option of the transportation company which brought him, if such country will receive him within a period of one year after the Secretary of Labor has given such alien notice of his intention to deport him.

SEC. 39. That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, and under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, establish a fund to be used in the payment of rewards, not exceeding $100 in any one case, for the apprehension of any alien who shall enter the United States in violation of law, and in the payment of expenses incurred in such apprehension, such fund to be available for use by any officer designated by the Secretary of Labor for the purpose of such apprehension, and to be replenished from time to time by requisition upon the Secretary of the Treasury.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 3. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and has not been unless duplicate of manifest as the administrative one prescribed by rule section or to that prescribed by section 38 of said Act.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board a vessel arriving in the United States from a foreign port may be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, or for the necessities of the vessel, or for such time as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and such seaman shall be deported in the same manner as provided in the case of other aliens ordered deported. Any alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States who is afflicted with any contagious disease, or who is found upon medical examination by the medical examiners), or who shall refuse to be so examined, shall be detained on board or at quarantine as the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel may elect, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance papers until such alien seaman is certified by the medical officer in charge as no longer afflicted with such disease, or is discharged in pursuance of law.

SEC. 30. (a) That owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel shall pay to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for inspection or examination of each alien seaman employed on board such vessel a tax of $8 for each such alien seaman, except those specifically exempted by the Secretary of Labor, which tax shall be paid to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located before any such alien seaman shall be granted shore leave. No vessel shall be granted clearance until the determination of any question or questions relative to the payment of the tax imposed by this section is pending before the Secretary of Labor, but clearance may be granted upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax and such additional sum as may be required to cover any subsequent charges or expenses which may accrue before a decision is rendered.

(b) That such alien seaman who has been granted shore leave shall be required to return to the vessel before it departs from the port, and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall be responsible for the return of such alien seaman, and in default thereof shall pay to the immigration officer in charge at the port a sum sufficient to cover the cost of returning such alien seaman to the country whence he came, or to any country willing to receive him, at the option of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, and such sum shall be a lien upon such vessel, which may be enforced by libel in rem, and such vessel may be detained until such sum is paid or secured to be paid to his satisfaction or until the decision of the Secretary of Labor in the case of any alien detained for special inquiry is rendered as provided in section 16 hereof, and any such vessel which shall depart or attempt to depart from the United States in violation of this section shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien with respect to whom such violation occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance while the determination of any question or questions relative to the payment of the tax imposed by this section is pending before the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any such alien will not be practicable or proper by reason of the inadequacy of the means of transportation or the refusal of the government of the country to which such alien is ordered deported to receive such alien, or for any other reason, he may, in his discretion, cause such alien to be deported to any country which may be designated by such alien and which is willing to receive him, such country to be designated in the warrant of deportation: Provided, That such country shall be designated by such alien within a period of three months after the Secretary of Labor has given such alien notice of his intention to deport him, unless the Secretary of Labor shall extend such period for a further period not exceeding three months: Provided further, That such alien may be deported pursuant to this section to the country whence he came to the United States, at the option of the transportation company which brought him, if such country will receive him within a period of one year after the Secretary of Labor has given such alien notice of his intention to deport him.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The law described below should be prepared on blank forms supplied by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel as the boat of arrival. This law is of changes of value to the owners (from 850 down to one dollar) but the master should be careful to see that the inspector of the principal immigration office at the port of arrival has the proper "MONTEVIDEO" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel at the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the proper immigration officer at the port of entry a list or manifest of all the persons on board such vessel, whether cabin passengers or those in the steerage, who may have been taken on board at any foreign port or place, and the said list or manifest shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the time of the vessel's entry into port and before any of the passengers shall be landed therefrom, and shall state the full name, age, sex, calling or occupation, and nationality of each and every alien, and the last permanent residence of such alien, and whether he or she has a ticket through to his or her final destination, and whether he or she has the means of paying his or her passage, and whether the passage has been paid directly or indirectly by any person, company, or corporation in the United States, and the amount thereof, and whether in possession of any money, and if so how much, and whether going to join relatives or friends, and if so what relatives or friends and their names and complete addresses, and whether ever before in the United States and if so when and where, whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether connected with any society or organization, whether a polygamist, whether coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, or agreement, expressed or implied, to perform labor in the United States, and what is the condition of health, mental and physical, of such alien, whether deformed or crippled, and if so how and from what cause, and whether the head, hands, and feet of such alien appear to be sound and normal. The said list or manifest shall also show specifically the last occupation, calling, or vocation and the intended future occupation, calling, or vocation in the country of origin and in the United States of each alien mentioned therein, and the final destination, whether in the United States or elsewhere, of each such alien. The said list or manifest shall be verified by the oath of the master or commanding officer of the vessel, which oath may be administered by any officer of the United States authorized to administer oaths to passengers arriving in the United States, and shall be in such form as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. Such master or commanding officer shall also be required to deliver to the said immigration officer at the time of the vessel's entry into port a separate report of the number of citizens of the United States, the number of aliens who have been admitted to the United States, and the number of aliens who have departed from the United States during the previous month or since the departure of the vessel from the last port at which she touched, which report shall be verified by the oath of the master or commanding officer of the vessel. Such master or commanding officer shall also report the name of every alien stowaway found on board, and the facts in relation to his case, to the immigration officer at the port of arrival at the time of making the report required by this section.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of a vessel at the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the proper immigration officer at the port of entry a list or manifest of all the persons who may be in the steerage of such vessel, which list or manifest shall be prepared as directed by the Secretary of Labor and shall state the full name, age, sex, calling or occupation, nationality, last residence, seaport for landing in the United States, final destination, whether in possession of a ticket through to such destination, whether the passage is paid by the person himself or by others, whether in possession of money, and if so how much, whether going to join relatives or friends, and if so what relatives or friends and their complete address, whether ever before in the United States and if so when and where, whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether connected with any society or organization, whether a polygamist, whether coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, or agreement, expressed or implied, to perform labor in the United States, and what is the condition of health, mental and physical, of such alien, whether deformed or crippled, and if so how and from what cause, and whether the head, hands, and feet of such alien appear to be sound and normal. The said list or manifest shall also show specifically the last occupation, calling, or vocation and the intended future occupation, calling, or vocation in the country of origin and in the United States of each alien mentioned therein, and the final destination, whether in the United States or elsewhere, of each such alien. The said list or manifest shall be verified by the oath of the master or commanding officer of the vessel, which oath may be administered by any officer of the United States authorized to administer oaths to passengers arriving in the United States, and shall be in such form as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. Such master or commanding officer shall also be required to deliver to the said immigration officer at the time of the vessel's entry into port a separate report of the number of citizens of the United States, the number of aliens who have been admitted to the United States, and the number of aliens who have departed from the United States during the previous month or since the departure of the vessel from the last port at which she touched, which report shall be verified by the oath of the master or commanding officer of the vessel. Such master or commanding officer shall also report the name of every alien stowaway found on board, and the facts in relation to his case, to the immigration officer at the port of arrival at the time of making the report required by this section.

SEC. 41. On and after January first, nineteen hundred and seventeen, it shall be unlawful for any person, company, or corporation to bring, land, or cause to be brought or landed in the United States from any place outside thereof, or for the master, agent, owner, charterer, lessee, or consignee of any vessel to land or permit to be landed in the United States, except temporarily for the ordinary purposes of the vessel, any alien not in possession of a valid immigration visa and passport, if required by this Act, or other document required by the Secretary of Labor under the provisions of this Act, or not in possession of a ticket or sufficient money to pay his passage to a foreign port, or to the port from which he came to the United States, or not in possession of sufficient money or other means to support himself until he procures employment, unless such alien is destined to a country other than the United States and is in transit through the United States: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, permit any alien to enter the United States without the immigration visa herein provided for when in his opinion the same cannot be obtained, and may prescribe in lieu thereof such other method of ascertaining the admissibility of such alien as he may deem expedient: Provided further, That nothing in this section shall be construed to apply to accredited officials of foreign governments coming to the United States solely in the performance of their official duties, or to their suites, families, or guests: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, except from the operation of this section aliens coming temporarily to the United States as members of the crew of vessels or other means of transportation arriving at ports of the United States, and may make such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the proper enforcement of this section: Provided further, That any person, company, or corporation violating any of the provisions of this section shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each and every such violation.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 3. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fees required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not after noon of the day following the date of the application for clearance, unless notice of the application is given to the immigration officer in charge of the vessel at least 24 hours before the departure of the vessel.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. On and after January first, nineteen hundred and twenty-five, it shall be unlawful for any alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any foreign port or place to land temporarily or permanently at any port in the United States, except for the purpose of replacing a seaman employed on board such vessel, and then only after the Commissioner General of Immigration, the Assistant Commissioner General of Immigration, or the Inspector in Charge at the port of arrival of such seaman shall have certified that such seaman has been found admissible under the immigration laws and has been granted a permit to land for the purpose of replacing a specified seaman employed on board such vessel. Any alien seaman employed on board any vessel who lands in the United States from any vessel arriving at a port thereof from any foreign port or place contrary to the provisions of this section shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act to the country whence he came to the United States, or to the country in which he was born or of which he was a citizen or subject at the time he entered the United States, at the option of the Secretary of Labor. Any alien seaman who shall come to the United States on any vessel arriving at a port thereof from any foreign port or place and who shall be permitted to land temporarily as provided in this section and shall remain in the United States beyond the period for which he was granted a permit to land shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act to the country whence he came to the United States, or to the country in which he was born or of which he was a citizen or subject at the time he entered the United States, at the option of the Secretary of Labor, as if he had entered the United States in violation of law. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving at a port thereof from any foreign port or place and who shall remain in the United States beyond the period for which he was granted a permit to land shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act to the country whence he came to the United States, or to the country in which he was born or of which he was a citizen or subject at the time he entered the United States, at the option of the Secretary of Labor, as if he had entered the United States in violation of law. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving at a port thereof from any foreign port or place and who shall remain in the United States beyond the period for which he was granted a permit to land shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act to the country whence he came to the United States, or to the country in which he was born or of which he was a citizen or subject at the time he entered the United States, at the option of the Secretary of Labor, as if he had entered the United States in violation of law. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving at a port thereof from any foreign port or place and who shall remain in the United States beyond the period for which he was granted a permit to land shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act to the country whence he came to the United States, or to the country in which he was born or of which he was a citizen or subject at the time he entered the United States, at the option of the Secretary of Labor, as if he had entered the United States in violation of law.

(a) That any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving at a port thereof from any foreign port or place and who shall remain in the United States beyond the period for which he was granted a permit to land shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act to the country whence he came to the United States, or to the country in which he was born or of which he was a citizen or subject at the time he entered the United States, at the option of the Secretary of Labor, as if he had entered the United States in violation of law. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving at a port thereof from any foreign port or place and who shall remain in the United States beyond the period for which he was granted a permit to land shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act to the country whence he came to the United States, or to the country in which he was born or of which he was a citizen or subject at the time he entered the United States, at the option of the Secretary of Labor, as if he had entered the United States in violation of law.

(b) That any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving at a port thereof from any foreign port or place and who shall remain in the United States beyond the period for which he was granted a permit to land shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act to the country whence he came to the United States, or to the country in which he was born or of which he was a citizen or subject at the time he entered the United States, at the option of the Secretary of Labor, as if he had entered the United States in violation of law. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving at a port thereof from any foreign port or place and who shall remain in the United States beyond the period for which he was granted a permit to land shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act to the country whence he came to the United States, or to the country in which he was born or of which he was a citizen or subject at the time he entered the United States, at the option of the Secretary of Labor, as if he had entered the United States in violation of law. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving at a port thereof from any foreign port or place and who shall remain in the United States beyond the period for which he was granted a permit to land shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act to the country whence he came to the United States, or to the country in which he was born or of which he was a citizen or subject at the time he entered the United States, at the option of the Secretary of Labor, as if he had entered the United States in violation of law.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that any alien seaman on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign port or place has been refused a permit to land by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and that such refusal is based in whole or in part upon the certificate of a medical officer, or upon the certificate of two medical officers, such alien seaman may appeal from such decision to a board of special inquiry, consisting of three immigrant inspectors, and such board may, by a majority vote, reverse such decision. Such appeal must be taken within five days after the decision appealed from is rendered, unless the time is extended by the Secretary of Labor. Pending the decision of such board of special inquiry, such alien seaman shall be detained in the custody of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival. Such board of special inquiry shall give notice of its decision to the master of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived at the port of arrival, and if such decision is favorable to such alien seaman, he shall be permitted to land in the United States under the same conditions as if a permit to land had been granted him in the first instance. If such decision is adverse to such alien seaman, he shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act to the country whence he came to the United States, or to the country in which he was born or of which he was a citizen or subject at the time he entered the United States, at the option of the Secretary of Labor, as if he had entered the United States in violation of law. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving at a port thereof from any foreign port or place and who shall remain in the United States beyond the period for which he was granted a permit to land shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act to the country whence he came to the United States, or to the country in which he was born or of which he was a citizen or subject at the time he entered the United States, at the option of the Secretary of Labor, as if he had entered the United States in violation of law. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving at a port thereof from any foreign port or place and who shall remain in the United States beyond the period for which he was granted a permit to land shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act to the country whence he came to the United States, or to the country in which he was born or of which he was a citizen or subject at the time he entered the United States, at the option of the Secretary of Labor, as if he had entered the United States in violation of law.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived, or on some other vessel, within the period for which he was granted a permit to land, shall be deported as provided in this section, whether or not the vessel on which he arrived shall depart from the port at which he landed within the period for which he was granted a permit to land.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that any alien seaman on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign port or place has been refused a permit to land by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and that such refusal is based in whole or in part upon the certificate of a medical officer, or upon the certificate of two medical officers, such alien seaman may appeal from such decision to a board of special inquiry, consisting of three immigrant inspectors, and such board may, by a majority vote, reverse such decision. Such appeal must be taken within five days after the decision appealed from is rendered, unless the time is extended by the Secretary of Labor. Pending the decision of such board of special inquiry, such alien seaman shall be detained in the custody of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival. Such board of special inquiry shall give notice of its decision to the master of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived at the port of arrival, and if such decision is favorable to such alien seaman, he shall be permitted to land in the United States under the same conditions as if a permit to land had been granted him in the first instance. If such decision is adverse to such alien seaman, he shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act to the country whence he came to the United States, or to the country in which he was born or of which he was a citizen or subject at the time he entered the United States, at the option of the Secretary of Labor, as if he had entered the United States in violation of law. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving at a port thereof from any foreign port or place and who shall remain in the United States beyond the period for which he was granted a permit to land shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act to the country whence he came to the United States, or to the country in which he was born or of which he was a citizen or subject at the time he entered the United States, at the option of the Secretary of Labor, as if he had entered the United States in violation of law.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of (Form 888) Each of the masters "manifests" is a notation to each other should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That from and after the first day of July, nineteen hundred and seventeen, no person shall be admitted to the United States unless he shall have been inspected by the immigration officers at the port of his arrival, which inspection shall include an examination of his head, face, eyes, nose, mouth, teeth, general appearance, and carriage, and such other examination of him as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor from time to time. Such examination shall be made in accordance with such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and may be conducted at first, second, or subsequent inspections. Every alien who may not appear to the satisfaction of the immigration officers at the port of arrival to be clearly and beyond doubt entitled to land shall be detained for further examination in accordance with such rules and regulations, except that such examination may be conducted at any time within three years after the arrival of the alien at the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, whenever in his judgment any alien has been found to have been at the time of entry one of the classes excluded by law, and in such cases warrants may be issued by the Secretary of Labor for the arrest and deportation of the alien according to the provisions of sections 19 and 20 hereof. Any alien who shall come into the United States in violation of law may be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall be construed to require the detention for examination of any alien other than those seeking admission at ports designated by the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 7. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the master has subscribed to section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, even if he has been naturalized, and not then unless unless he shall give to the administrative and inspection officers at the port of departure the information required by section 33 of said Act.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excepting alien seamen employed on board vessels of the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board vessels of the United States, and alien seamen employed on board vessels plying between the United States and foreign contiguous territory, or between the United States and adjacent islands, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospitalization, or to secure supplies, and pending the decision of the immigration officers at the port of arrival as to whether such alien seamen shall be permitted to land in the United States, except that such alien seamen may be detained on board vessels plying between the United States and foreign contiguous territory or between the United States and adjacent islands, and alien seamen employed on board vessels engaged in trade between the United States and the Panama Canal Zone, or between ports thereof, or between ports of the United States and its insular possessions, or between ports of the insular possessions of the United States one with another, may be required to enter and depart from such vessels at such times and places and under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and shall be subject to such other regulations governing the movements of such seamen while in the United States as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided in the immigration laws. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel who shall employ any alien seaman not entitled to be employed as such seaman under this section shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which such vessel arrives a sum not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman so employed, and shall also pay to the collector of customs of the district from which such vessel departs a like sum not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman so employed, and such vessel may be detained until such sums are paid. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of any question relative to the payment of any such sum: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the filing of a bond or undertaking approved by the Secretary of Labor sufficient to cover such sum, or in a case where the question involved is one of law, upon the filing of a bond or undertaking approved by the court in which such question is to be determined sufficient to cover such sum and costs. Such bond or undertaking may be sued upon and recovery had thereon by any person who would be entitled to sue for the recovery of such sum in case no bond or undertaking had been filed. Clearance may be granted to any vessel prevented by the provisions of this section from departing from any port of the United States on account of the failure to obtain the crew necessary for such vessel, upon the filing of a bond or undertaking with sufficient sureties approved by the collector of customs in double the amount of the wages of such seamen as determined by the customary rate of wages for seamen in the same employment at the port where such vessel is cleared, conditioned that the master will pay to each of such seamen the wages earned by him on such vessel, or that if such seaman shall not within ten days after such vessel shall have completed her voyage demand payment of such wages the master will pay into the Treasury of the United States the sum deposited by such seaman as security for such wages. Such deposits shall be returned to such seamen after the vessel on which they were employed shall return to a port in the United States, if they demand the same within ten days after such return, and if not so demanded shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States. Any master who fails to deposit or secure the wages of any seaman discharged in a foreign port as provided in this section shall be liable to a penalty of $500 to be recovered by such seaman in any court of the United States having jurisdiction thereof. Any seaman who shall have been left behind in a foreign port in violation of this section shall have a lien upon the vessel for his wages, which may be enforced by proceedings in rem in any court of the United States having jurisdiction thereof. Any seaman who shall desert before the vessel on which he shall have been employed shall have cleared from the last port in the United States shall forfeit to the United States the sum of $50, which may be recovered by proceedings in rem in any court of the United States having jurisdiction thereof, and the vessel on which he was employed shall be liable for such forfeiture. Any seaman who shall have been induced to desert his vessel or to neglect to join the same after signing articles on board thereof by any fraud or misrepresentation, or who shall desert or neglect to join his vessel at any port in the United States by reason of illness caused by venereal disease, which illness existed before such seaman signed articles on board such vessel, and which was fraudulently concealed from the master, owner, agent, or shipping commissioner who shipped such seaman, shall not forfeit any wages earned on board such vessel, and shall be entitled to receive the same as though he had faithfully performed his contract

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival. Data shall be obtained on board, but shall be verified by the master to the immigration officer at the port.

No alien shall be admitted to the United States unless he has in his possession a valid passport viséed by an American consular officer, or, if not required to have a passport, a valid certificate of identity issued by the Commissioner General of Immigration, Washington, D. C., or by such other officer as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman employed upon any vessel arriving at the United States shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospitalization as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien who is not lawfully entitled to enter the United States shall be notified by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and informed of the cause for detention. Unless such alien is immediately taken on board and removed in custody of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel to the country from which he came, or to the country in which he resides, or to the country in which he embarked, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district at which such alien shall land the sum of $1,000 for each alien so detained at request of such officer, unless such alien shall be admitted by the Secretary of Labor or his duly authorized agent. Such payment shall not relieve the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer from the payment of any fine imposed upon such alien.

(b) Upon failure to pay the head tax or to post a bond therefor, the vessel may be required to depart forthwith from the port, and clearance may be withheld in case of default.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that any alien has been allowed to land in the United States from any vessel through error or mistake of the immigration officials, or that circumstances have arisen which would have warranted the refusal to permit such alien to land originally, and that such alien can be returned to the country whence he came, or to the country in which he resides, or to the country in which he embarked, without expense to the United States, the Secretary of Labor may cause such alien to be returned to any such country on any vessel arriving at any port of the United States, whether bound thereto or not, which can accommodate him, and the cost of his maintenance while in the United States and of his return may be paid out of the appropriation for the enforcement of this act.

(d) Upon failure of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel to comply with any provision of this section, or with any rule or regulation made thereunder, such vessel may be refused clearance from any port of the United States while such default continues, and in addition thereto such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each and every such failure.

(e) The Secretary of Labor shall have power to enter into contracts with transportation lines for the detention on board vessel or at other places in the United States of aliens who may be brought to the United States by such transportation lines, and for their safekeeping and maintenance while so detained, and for their return in discharge of any obligation or liability incurred under the provisions of this section or of section 18 of this act.

(f) The Secretary of Labor shall have power to enter into contracts with transportation lines for the return of aliens who may be excluded from admission to the United States, and for their safekeeping and maintenance while they are being returned.

(g) The Secretary of Labor shall have power to enter into contracts with transportation lines for the return of aliens who may be excluded from admission to the United States, and for their safekeeping and maintenance while they are being returned.

(h) The Secretary of Labor shall have power to enter into contracts with transportation lines for the return of aliens who may be excluded from admission to the United States, and for their safekeeping and maintenance while they are being returned.

(i) The Secretary of Labor shall have power to enter into contracts with transportation lines for the return of aliens who may be excluded from admission to the United States, and for their safekeeping and maintenance while they are being returned.

(j) The Secretary of Labor shall have power to enter into contracts with transportation lines for the return of aliens who may be excluded from admission to the United States, and for their safekeeping and maintenance while they are being returned.

(k) The Secretary of Labor shall have power to enter into contracts with transportation lines for the return of aliens who may be excluded from admission to the United States, and for their safekeeping and maintenance while they are being returned.

(l) The Secretary of Labor shall have power to enter into contracts with transportation lines for the return of aliens who may be excluded from admission to the United States, and for their safekeeping and maintenance while they are being returned.

(m) The Secretary of Labor shall have power to enter into contracts with transportation lines for the return of aliens who may be excluded from admission to the United States, and for their safekeeping and maintenance while they are being returned.

(n) The Secretary of Labor shall have power to enter into contracts with transportation lines for the return of aliens who may be excluded from admission to the United States, and for their safekeeping and maintenance while they are being returned.

(o) The Secretary of Labor shall have power to enter into contracts with transportation lines for the return of aliens who may be excluded from admission to the United States, and for their safekeeping and maintenance while they are being returned.

(p) The Secretary of Labor shall have power to enter into contracts with transportation lines for the return of aliens who may be excluded from admission to the United States, and for their safekeeping and maintenance while they are being returned.

(q) The Secretary of Labor shall have power to enter into contracts with transportation lines for the return of aliens who may be excluded from admission to the United States, and for their safekeeping and maintenance while they are being returned.

(r) The Secretary of Labor shall have power to enter into contracts with transportation lines for the return of aliens who may be excluded from admission to the United States, and for their safekeeping and maintenance while they are being returned.

(s) The Secretary of Labor shall have power to enter into contracts with transportation lines for the return of aliens who may be excluded from admission to the United States, and for their safekeeping and maintenance while they are being returned.

(t) The Secretary of Labor shall have power to enter into contracts with transportation lines for the return of aliens who may be excluded from admission to the United States, and for their safekeeping and maintenance while they are being returned.

(u) The Secretary of Labor shall have power to enter into contracts with transportation lines for the return of aliens who may be excluded from admission to the United States, and for their safekeeping and maintenance while they are being returned.

(v) The Secretary of Labor shall have power to enter into contracts with transportation lines for the return of aliens who may be excluded from admission to the United States, and for their safekeeping and maintenance while they are being returned.

(w) The Secretary of Labor shall have power to enter into contracts with transportation lines for the return of aliens who may be excluded from admission to the United States, and for their safekeeping and maintenance while they are being returned.

(x) The Secretary of Labor shall have power to enter into contracts with transportation lines for the return of aliens who may be excluded from admission to the United States, and for their safekeeping and maintenance while they are being returned.

(y) The Secretary of Labor shall have power to enter into contracts with transportation lines for the return of aliens who may be excluded from admission to the United States, and for their safekeeping and maintenance while they are being returned.

(z) The Secretary of Labor shall have power to enter into contracts with transportation lines for the return of aliens who may be excluded from admission to the United States, and for their safekeeping and maintenance while they are being returned.

SEC. 31. No alien seaman employed upon any vessel arriving at the United States shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospitalization as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien who is not lawfully entitled to enter the United States shall be notified by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and informed of the cause for detention. Unless such alien is immediately taken on board and removed in custody of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel to the country from which he came, or to the country in which he resides, or to the country in which he embarked, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district at which such alien shall land the sum of $1,000 for each alien so detained at request of such officer, unless such alien shall be admitted by the Secretary of Labor or his duly authorized agent. Such payment shall not relieve the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer from the payment of any fine imposed upon such alien.

(b) Upon failure to pay the head tax or to post a bond therefor, the vessel may be required to depart forthwith from the port, and clearance may be withheld in case of default.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that any alien has been allowed to land in the United States from any vessel through error or mistake of the immigration officials, or that circumstances have arisen which would have warranted the refusal to permit such alien to land originally, and that such alien can be returned to the country whence he came, or to the country in which he resides, or to the country in which he embarked, without expense to the United States, the Secretary of Labor may cause such alien to be returned to any such country on any vessel arriving at any port of the United States, whether bound thereto or not, which can accommodate him, and the cost of his maintenance while in the United States and of his return may be paid out of the appropriation for the enforcement of this act.

(d) Upon failure of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel to comply with any provision of this section, or with any rule or regulation made thereunder, such vessel may be refused clearance from any port of the United States while such default continues, and in addition thereto such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each and every such failure.

(e) The Secretary of Labor shall have power to enter into contracts with transportation lines for the detention on board vessel or at other places in the United States of aliens who may be brought to the United States by such transportation lines, and for their safekeeping and maintenance while so detained, and for their return in discharge of any obligation or liability incurred under the provisions of this section or of section 18 of this act.

(f) The Secretary of Labor shall have power to enter into contracts with transportation lines for the return of aliens who may be excluded from admission to the United States, and for their safekeeping and maintenance while they are being returned.

(g) The Secretary of Labor shall have power to enter into contracts with transportation lines for the return of aliens who may be excluded from admission to the United States, and for their safekeeping and maintenance while they are being returned.

(h) The Secretary of Labor shall have power to enter into contracts with transportation lines for the return of aliens who may be excluded from admission to the United States, and for their safekeeping and maintenance while they are being returned.

That upon arrival of vessel at the United States from the foreign port or place if alien be found to be ill with contagious disease, or to be a person who is insane, epileptic, or who has been within one year previously insane, or who has had two or more attacks of insanity at any time previously, or who is feeble-minded, or who is afflicted with constitutional psychopathic inferiority which is likely to affect his ability to earn a living, or who is a professional beggar, or who is a vagrant, or who is an anarchist, or who believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States, or of all forms of law, or who disbelieves in or is opposed to organized government, or who advocates the assassination of public officials, or who is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining, advocating, or teaching any of the above-named principles, or who advocates or teaches the unlawful destruction of property, or who is a polygamist, or who practices polygamy or believes in the practice of polygamy, or who is coming to the United States in pursuance of any offer, solicitation, promise, agreement, or arrangement of any kind to perform labor in the United States, or who has been deported as an alien who has violated the provisions of this Act, or who has been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or who is a prostitute or procurer, or who is coming to the United States for any other immoral purpose, or who is under sentence of death, whether the crime wherein he was convicted be designated a felony or misdemeanor, or who has been convicted of any crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, though pardoned, or who has been convicted of two or more offenses for which the aggregate sentence imposed was five years or more, or who is a person likely to become a public charge, or who is afflicted with tuberculosis in any form or with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, or who has been within one year previously deported or excluded from the United States or who shall have come in violation of any of the provisions of this Act relating to the importation of contract laborers, shall be taken upon the arrival of the vessel at a port of the United States from the foreign port or place where he has embarked on board the vessel bound for the United States to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and such immigration officer, or any assistant immigration officer designated by the Secretary of Labor, shall have power to examine any and all persons coming into the United States from foreign ports or places touching their right to enter the United States, and for the purpose of such examination such immigration officer, or assistant immigration officer designated by the Secretary of Labor, shall have power to administer oaths and to take and consider evidence concerning any matter which may be material or relevant to a decision as to the right of any alien to enter the United States, and may, where he deems it necessary, order any such alien to be detained for further inquiry to be conducted by a special board of inquiry which shall have power to administer oaths and take evidence touching the right of any such alien to enter the United States, but such board shall not have the power to compel the attendance of witnesses or the production of books, papers, and documents. Said board shall, however, have power to require by subpœna the attendance and testimony of witnesses before said board and the production of books, papers, and documents relating to the right of any such alien to enter the United States, and to that end may invoke the aid of any court of the United States. Any witness appearing before said board shall be subject to cross-examination by the alien whose right to enter is being inquired into, or by his representative, and shall be allowed to testify in his own behalf. Said board shall have power to adjourn from time to time and from place to place as it may deem necessary. Said board shall have power to order the deportation of any alien who shall be found to be in the United States in violation of this Act. The decision of any such board of special inquiry shall be final unless reversed on appeal to the Commissioner of Immigration, but subject to such appeal and reversal the decision of such board of special inquiry shall be final as to the facts of the case. Any alien who shall be ordered deported shall have the right to appeal to the Secretary of Labor within such time as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, his decision

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel at the United States from any foreign port to which it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver lists or other documents, the immigrant inspector shall have authority to go on board such vessel, examine the lists relating to the passengers and the crew, and make such changes therein as may be necessary to conform to the facts developed on such examination, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs until the master thereof has delivered to the immigrant inspector the lists required by this section, corrected to conform to the facts developed on such examination.

SEC. 36. (a) That upon arrival of any vessel at the United States from any foreign port at which it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver lists or other documents, the immigrant inspector shall have authority to go on board such vessel, examine the lists relating to the passengers and the crew, make such changes therein as may be necessary to conform to the facts developed on such examination, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs until the master thereof has delivered to the immigrant inspector the lists required by this section, corrected to conform to the facts developed on such examination.

(b) That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel bringing to the United States any person who is not clearly and beyond a reasonable doubt entitled under the immigration laws to enter the United States shall, if required by the Secretary of Labor, cause such person to be detained on board such vessel or at such place in the United States as may be designated by the immigrant inspector in charge until a determination as to the right of such person to enter the United States shall be reached, which determination shall be made within the period prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, but such period shall not exceed five days in addition to the time necessary to bring such person to the port of first arrival after the discovery of the right to exclude such person, unless such master, agent, consignee, or owner shall fail to provide adequate facilities for such detention, in which case such period may be extended by the Secretary of Labor for such time as may be necessary to provide such facilities, but such person may be paroled into the United States by the Secretary of Labor under such conditions as he may prescribe for a period not exceeding one year, upon the giving of a suitable bond, or under the custody of a society or association approved by the Secretary of Labor, which will guarantee the appearance of such person before the Board of Special Inquiry and the custody of such person while paroled.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien will result in serious injury to the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which such alien arrived, and that such vessel sailed from a foreign port to which it will return in ballast, he may, in his discretion, permit such alien to depart from the United States without having been subjected to a hearing before a Board of Special Inquiry, upon the payment by such master, agent, consignee, or owner of the sum of $10 for each such alien.

(d) Every alien who shall enter the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 21. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port, or any alien seaman who has been granted a conditional permit to land temporarily in the United States, except upon the certificate of the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival that such alien seaman has been certified by the consular officer at the port of departure as not belonging to any of the classes excluded from admission into the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospital or such temporary sickness as in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor may prevent the alien seaman from proceeding to the port at which the vessel is scheduled to depart, or pending the departure of the vessel on which he arrived or some other vessel, from the United States. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act. The cost of maintenance and treatment of any alien seaman pending his departure from the United States shall be borne by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived

The line described below shall be prepared on board of each vessel by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and in no instance be taken from the vessel. The line is to engage in main compartment of steam (not exceeding 650 tons) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival.

When an arriving alien is a "stowaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of vessel at the United States from any foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the name in full of every alien employed on the vessel, stating the nationality, last residence, and destination of each alien who may be found on board, and the vessel shall be detained at the port of arrival by the principal immigration officer until the master shall have delivered such lists to the Secretary of Labor, or his authorized representative, and shall have made oath before a commissioner of deputy commissioner of immigration that the lists contain a full, correct, and complete manifest of all aliens employed on the vessel at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port of arrival, and of all changes and additions thereto, and of the reasons for the same, and that he has not knowingly or willfully concealed or withheld information concerning any such alien, together with such information relative to the same as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who refuses to deliver the lists required by this section, or who refuses to make oath to the same, or who knowingly and willfully makes a false statement in connection therewith, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien specified in the lists as to whom such refusal or false statement is made, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 6. Clearance shall not be granted via Canada to vessel until the duties imposed by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been complied with, and not then unless notice of illability to the administrative head prescribed by this section or to that prescribed by section 35 of the Act has been received, the deposit specified in rule 35 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 21. No alien seaman entering United States from adjacent foreign territory on board vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospital to which he may be sent by the Secretary of Labor upon prescription of the medical officer in charge of the port, unless such alien seaman shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he is not a member of any class of aliens ineligible to citizenship, and that the refusal of such alien seaman to accept employment on board the vessel upon which he arrived, or his desertion therefrom, was caused by the failure or refusal of the master of such vessel to furnish such alien seaman with proper food or accommodations, or to provide for his return to the country from which he came to the United States, in accordance with the requirements of the immigration laws of the United States, or by reason of the cruelty practiced upon such alien seaman during the voyage.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof, who shall land or permit to be landed any alien seaman employed on board such vessel at any port of the United States, except such alien seaman as may be specifically certified by the medical officer in charge of the port to be destitute or helpless, or to have become ill during the period of such employment, shall be liable to a penalty of $500 for each such alien seaman so landed, and no clearance shall be granted to such vessel while the payment of such penalty is delayed or refused. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, remit, mitigate, or refund any penalty incurred or paid under this section, and his decision shall be final.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall have been lawfully employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof, and who shall be ordered deported in pursuance of law, shall be entitled to a hearing before the Secretary of Labor, or his authorized representative, and to the services of counsel, at his own expense, to be furnished by the master of such vessel, before any order of deportation is made. Such hearing shall be had before the immigration officer in charge of the port at which such alien seaman shall have been found, or before such other immigration officer as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor. Pending such hearing, such alien seaman shall be detained on board such vessel or at such port, in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, and the master of such vessel shall be liable to the payment of a penalty of $500 for each such alien seaman who shall not be produced by him for such hearing, unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that such alien seaman was not a member of the crew of such vessel, or that he had reasonable cause to believe that such alien seaman would not be subject to deportation, or that he was unable by the exercise of reasonable diligence to produce such alien seaman for such hearing, or that such alien seaman has been otherwise accounted for to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor. The decision of the Secretary of Labor after such hearing shall be final.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien seaman on any vessel on which he arrived will be unduly burdensome because of the inability of such alien seaman to pay his passage to the country to which he is ordered deported, and that such country will not pay the cost of such alien seaman's passage to such country, and that deportation will be unduly delayed by reason thereof, he may cause such alien seaman to be deported on such vessel or any other vessel, or otherwise, at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have been admitted to the United States.

(e) Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse to deliver to any alien seaman employed on such vessel who shall demand the same, his wages earned and due at the time of demand, at the port where such demand is made, or within two days thereafter, shall be liable to a penalty of $100 for each such refusal, and shall also be liable to such alien seaman for treble the amount of wages earned and due at the time of demand.

(f) Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse to pay the head tax imposed by section 2 of the Act of February 5, 1917, upon any alien seaman employed on such vessel, shall be liable to a penalty of $100 for each such refusal, and no clearance shall be granted to such vessel while the payment of such penalty is delayed or refused.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof, who shall land or permit to be landed any alien seaman employed on board such vessel after inspection by the immigration officer in charge of the port, or after such alien seaman has been ordered deported, or who shall refuse to deliver on board such vessel for the return to the country to which ordered deported any such alien seaman, shall be liable to a penalty of $500 for each such alien seaman so landed, and no clearance shall be granted to such vessel while such penalty is delayed or refused. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, remit, mitigate, or refund any penalty incurred or paid under this section, and his decision shall be final.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall have been lawfully employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof, and who shall be ordered deported in pursuance of law, shall be entitled to a hearing before the Secretary of Labor, or his authorized representative, and to the services of counsel, at his own expense, to be furnished by the master of such vessel, before any order of deportation is made. Such hearing shall be had before the immigration officer in charge of the port at which such alien seaman shall have been found, or before such other immigration officer as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor. Pending such hearing, such alien seaman shall be detained on board such vessel or at such port, in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, and the master of such vessel shall be liable to the payment of a penalty of $500 for each such alien seaman who shall not be produced by him for such hearing, unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that such alien seaman was not a member of the crew of such vessel, or that he had reasonable cause to believe that such alien seaman would not be subject to deportation, or that he was unable by the exercise of reasonable diligence to produce such alien seaman for such hearing, or that such alien seaman has been otherwise accounted for to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor. The decision of the Secretary of Labor after such hearing shall be final.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien seaman on any vessel on which he arrived will be unduly burdensome because of the inability of such alien seaman to pay his passage to the country to which he is ordered deported, and that such country will not pay the cost of such alien seaman's passage to such country, and that deportation will be unduly delayed by reason thereof, he may cause such alien seaman to be deported on such vessel or any other vessel, or otherwise, at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, Stanley Forster Master, of the U.S.A.Transport Nestor, do declare that the foregoing is a list and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage.

I have noted the copy of section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from subdivision B, rule 7, and copy of sections 41 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, multiply appear below.

Master First or Second Officer.

PORT TOWNSEND, WASH.

Sworn to before me this 7th day of September 1924.

Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel as the boat is arriving, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 988) and not be retained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port where the vessel shall next dock in the United States.

The list must contain the name of every alien on board, including children and members of the crew, stating the full name, age, sex, married or single, calling or occupation, nationality, last permanent residence, whether having a ticket to destination, whether in possession of money and how much, whether going to join a relative or friend and if so what relative or friend and his name and complete address, whether ever before in the United States and if so when and where, whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity and if so what institution, whether a polygamist, whether an anarchist, whether coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, or agreement, expressed or implied, to perform labor in the United States, whether in possession of a ticket through to final destination, whether any of his transportation was paid for by others and if so by whom, whether he has been in the United States before and if so when and how long he remained, whether he is going to join a husband or other relative and if so what relative and his name and complete address, whether he intends to become a citizen of the United States, whether he is coming to the United States of his own free will and accord, whether he has a ticket for passage directly through to his final destination, whether his head and face or either is deformed or disfigured, whether he is blind, deaf and dumb, an idiot, imbecile, feeble-minded, epileptic, insane, a person who has been insane within five years previous, has had two or more attacks of insanity, constitutional psychopathic inferiority, chronic alcoholism, tuberculosis in any form, or a dangerous contagious disease, and the exact condition of each of the foregoing persons as to each and all of said matters.

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of a vessel at the United States from a foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel to deliver to the proper immigration officer at the port of entry a list or manifest of all persons, including the crew, whether cabin passengers or steerage passengers, who may be landed from such vessel, whether destined to the United States or not, and to furnish such additional information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, the Secretary of Labor, or the Board of Special Inquiry touching the right of any and all persons to enter the United States, which list or manifest shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of first arrival, and a like list or manifest of all persons who may depart on such vessel shall be delivered by the master to the proper immigration officer at the port of last departure before the departure of such vessel from the United States. Such list or manifest shall be made out in such form and contain such additional information relative to each person listed therein as the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may prescribe, and the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may modify the requirements of this section with respect to the information to be furnished by masters of vessels arriving at ports of the United States from foreign contiguous territory.

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of a vessel at the United States from a foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel to deliver to the proper immigration officer at the port of entry a list or manifest of all persons, including the crew, whether cabin passengers or steerage passengers, who may be landed from such vessel, whether destined to the United States or not, and to furnish such additional information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, the Secretary of Labor, or the Board of Special Inquiry touching the right of any and all persons to enter the United States, which list or manifest shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of first arrival, and a like list or manifest of all persons who may depart on such vessel shall be delivered by the master to the proper immigration officer at the port of last departure before the departure of such vessel from the United States. Such list or manifest shall be made out in such form and contain such additional information relative to each person listed therein as the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may prescribe, and the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may modify the requirements of this section with respect to the information to be furnished by masters of vessels arriving at ports of the United States from foreign contiguous territory.

[illegible] 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, prove been [illegible], and not then unless notice of [illegible] to the administrative and prescribed by said section or to [illegible] prescribed by section 38 of said Act.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. (a) No alien seaman employed upon any vessel arriving at the United States under the immigration laws of the United States shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospitalization, or because of sickness or injury certified by the immigration officer at the port of arrival as requiring such alien's detention, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the sole purpose of [illegible] removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Any owner, operator, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien seaman who is employed on board such vessel and who deserts therefrom, or who is found by the immigration officer at the port of arrival to be a member of a class of aliens who may be excluded under section 3 of this Act, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located a tax in the sum of $10.00 for each such alien. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs of the district in which the port is located, or any other officer of the United States authorized to grant clearance papers, while any tax imposed by this section remains unpaid, except that clearance papers may be granted before the payment of such tax upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor to pay the tax and any fine or penalty which may be imposed therefor under the provisions of this Act, and the decision of the Secretary of Labor as to the sufficiency of the sum deposited shall be final. The provisions of section 4378 of the Revised Statutes (U.S.C., title 46, sec. 91) shall not apply to the payment of the tax imposed by this section.

(c) Any alien seaman who shall leave the vessel upon which he arrived in the United States and who shall remain in the United States for a period in excess of the period allowed him by the immigration officer at the time of inspection or by any subsequent immigration officer, or for a period in excess of five days without the permission of the Secretary of Labor, shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of the immigration laws, and shall be ineligible to become a citizen of the United States.

(d) Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of the immigration laws, and shall be ineligible to become a citizen of the United States.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien seaman on account of his physical or mental condition will endanger the life of such alien seaman if such alien seaman be taken on board a vessel for deportation, or that such alien seaman is helpless from illness, he may cause such alien seaman to be hospitalized on shore at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws until such alien seaman can be safely deported.

(f) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien seaman will be prejudiced by the unavailability of witnesses, he may cause such alien seaman to be detained on board or elsewhere pending the taking of such testimony by deposition as he may deem necessary, and such deposition shall be admissible in any hearing before the Secretary of Labor.

(g) Any alien seaman who shall fail or refuse to depart from the United States when required so to do by the Secretary of Labor, or who shall refuse or fail to appear before, or submit testimony when required by, any immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor, shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of the immigration laws, and shall be ineligible to become a citizen of the United States.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms furnished by the Department and be kept for delivery to the immigration inspector stationed at the port of arrival. Each list of aliens shall be signed by the master, agent, or owner (Form 988) and not be detained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port.

When an arriving steamer is a "motorship," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel at the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, commander, or owner of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival lists containing the full name of every alien on board such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, their last permanent residence, and the final destination for which they are booked. Such lists shall be verified by the oath of the master, agent, commander, or owner of such vessel, taken before the consul, vice consul, or consular agent of the United States at the port of departure, or if there be no consul, vice consul, or consular agent at such port, then before the chief executive officer of the district, and shall be in the following form: [Here insert the name of the vessel, its nationality, and the name of the port of departure.]

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospitalization as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who shall employ on board such vessel any alien seaman who is excluded from admission or to depart such seaman pursuant to any order of the Secretary of Labor, or who shall refuse to pay the cost of such alien seaman's removal from the United States as provided in section 20 of this Act, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman so employed, excluded, or refused, which sum shall be a lien upon the vessel, to be recovered by the United States in rem proceedings.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not possess a proper certificate of identity and nationality, or that he was employed on board a vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or that he was employed on board a vessel in violation of the provisions of this section, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such seaman.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien seaman on board any vessel at the time of its departure from the United States will require the detention of such vessel beyond the time usually required for the departure of vessels, he may cause such alien seaman to be detained on board such vessel, and may, if he deems it necessary, require a bond in such amount as he may determine, not to exceed $1,000, with sufficient surety to secure the payment of the penalty provided by this section.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector at the port of arrival at least twenty-four hours before the vessel is scheduled to arrive. When no arrivals are scheduled for a period of more than one week, a notice to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the alien's employ, where and where they were respectively applied or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board the vessel in the port of arrival; or state contained in such lists of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a similar list of the names of all persons employed who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon in the case of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired or discharged, and of those, if any, who have left the vessel, since the last report thereon; and before the departure of any vessel from a port in the United States for a foreign port it shall be the duty of the master thereof to deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port a list containing the names of all persons employed on board, specifying those who were employed thereon at the time of the arrival of such vessel at such port, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired or discharged since the last report thereon; and it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer all cases in which any such alien has illegally entered or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the said lists of such persons or to report any such case of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall, if required by the Secretary of Labor, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and on such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and, in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 8.

PAR. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 have been furnished, and not then unless, unless the deposit specified in Rule 22 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or bringing to such territories as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof having on board any alien seaman who has been refused a landing certificate or other documentation by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the original manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a foreign place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of any vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain such alien on board.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that adequate provision of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(d) Section 23 of the Immigration Act of 1917 is repealed, but shall remain in force as to all vessels that owners, agents, consignees, and masters have had an opportunity to file all manifests in the United States prior to the enactment of this Act.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but no list or manifest is required by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When no arriving alien is carried (000 shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When no arriving aliens are carried, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of the vessel in the United States from the foreign port or place from which it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, commander, or consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a complete list of the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of the vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immediately upon the discovery thereof all changes in such list of aliens, together with such information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor in relation to such aliens. Any such owner, agent, consignee, or master who shall refuse to deliver such list, or who shall refuse to furnish such information, or who shall make any false statement in relation thereto, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense. The list of aliens required to be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival may be inspected by the immigrant inspector at the request of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or commanding officer of the vessel, but such list shall not be removed by any person from the vessel or from the custody of the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival except upon the written permission of the Secretary of Labor, and any person who shall remove or attempt to remove any such list in violation of this provision shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense. The master, owner, agent, consignee, or commanding officer of any vessel failing to deliver such list, or any person who shall refuse to furnish any information required by the provisions of this section, or who shall make any false statement in relation thereto, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 6.

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 have been furnished, and not then unless, unless of inability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 36 hereof has been paid, the deposit specified in Rule 22 has been made.

AN ACT [PUBLIC, NO. 139.]

SEC. 11. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration law and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or any alien seaman who has been granted a conditional permit to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospital to such territories as are specified in the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the allowance of such alien seaman to land temporarily, shall be permitted to land in the United States from any place outside thereof unless such alien seaman shall furnish a bond in such amount, not exceeding $500, and with such sureties as may be required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, conditioned that such alien seaman will depart from the United States from such port or such other port as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor within the period for which he was admitted, except in case of sickness or accident which shall prevent such departure within such period, and will comply with such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor governing the admission and departure of such seamen. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers from the determination of such question adverse to the applicant to the person in charge of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived, or to the master of such vessel, unless such alien seaman has been granted a permit to land temporarily or has been duly admitted to the United States or has been granted clearance papers as provided herein. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of law shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of the immigration act of 1917, notwithstanding the provisions of section 3 of said act.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States under the provisions of this section and who shall fail to depart therefrom with the vessel on which he arrived, and every person who shall fail to perform any condition upon which any alien seaman was granted a landing permit under the provisions of this section, shall be deemed to be unlawfully within the United States and shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who entered the United States in violation of law.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that deportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived will result in unusual hardship because of the financial circumstances of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or line which owns the vessel, he may cause such alien seaman to be returned to the United States on any vessel which in his judgment will not result in such hardship.

(d) Section 32 of the immigration act of 1917 is repealed, but shall remain in force as to all aseamen shall arrive in the United States prior to the enactment of this act.

The list described below contains the names of persons who have been approved by the Department and permitted to land temporarily for delivery to the immigration inspector pending the arrival at the port of arrival, and in all cases of sickness or accident to such persons, or when they are destined to points within the country, or have (upon) been admitted to permanent residence, or when in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor it is necessary for the protection of their interests that they be permitted to land temporarily under bond. Any master bringing any alien to the United States from foreign contiguous territory, or from adjacent islands, without having such alien in possession a valid immigration visa, or other travel document in lieu thereof, duly viséed by the proper immigration officer, at the port of arrival, will be fined $1,000 for each alien so landed or brought. (See section 10 of the immigration act of February 5, 1917.)

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any person at the United States from foreign port to which he proceeds if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master, operator, or person in charge of the port of arrival like duly authenticated immigration officer at the same or all such persons, separate and apart from all other persons, and without the presence of any interested party, for the purpose of ascertaining whether they severally hold in full the qualifications prescribed in this Act, and such physical and mental examination shall be made by the medical officer of the port service, or by such boards of special inquiry as may be appointed for the purpose by the Secretary of Labor, and for the purpose of such examination any such officer, or any such board, shall have power to administer oaths and to take and consider evidence touching any matter which may be material or relevant thereto, and may require the production of any book, paper, or document by the master, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel in which such person arrives or by the master, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel in which such person arrives at a port of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, and may summon before such board any person whose testimony is required for a full and proper investigation of the case, and may administer to or take the affidavit of any witness touching the right of any alien to enter the United States, and may subpoena any witness who refuses to appear at the request of the master, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel in which such alien arrives, or the master, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel in which such witness arrives from any foreign port to the United States, which said subpoena, in case of disobedience, may be enforced by any district court of the United States or any court of first instance in any possession of the United States, after reasonable notice to the master, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel, and witness fees and mileage as allowed in the courts of the United States: Provided, That no master, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel shall be required to produce for examination any alien who shall have been duly examined and passed by the immigrant inspectors at the port of departure, and who shall have been certified by them to the Secretary of Labor and to the master, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel on which such alien is destined, unless specially ordered to do so by the Secretary of Labor, or unless such alien shall have been certified by the examining surgeon at the port of departure as requiring special medical observation.

SEC. 37. That upon the certification by the immigrant inspectors at the port of arrival that any alien arriving on any vessel is not clearly and beyond a doubt entitled to land under the provisions of this Act, the master, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel shall not permit such alien to land from the vessel, and it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel to detain such alien on board the vessel or at such place in the United States as may be designated by the immigrant inspectors until such alien shall be given a hearing before a board of special inquiry, and the decision of such board if favorable to the admission of such alien shall be indicated to the master, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel upon which such alien arrived in the United States, but such decision shall not be binding upon the Secretary of Labor. Such hearing shall be had before a board of special inquiry within the United States as soon as practicable, and in such manner as may be prescribed by rules and regulations made by the Secretary of Labor. The Secretary of Labor shall have power to appoint, remove, and prescribe the duties of all such boards of special inquiry, and may call upon any other department of the Government for available boards, or upon any State, county, or municipality for the use of their existing boards, with the consent of the proper authorities, and may also designate any officer of the United States Government, with the consent of the head of the department in which he is employed, to act as a member of any board of special inquiry in such cases as may be deemed necessary, and may remove any member of any board of special inquiry appointed by him. The Secretary of Labor may also appoint such boards of special inquiry as may be necessary to hear cases of aliens who may be excluded from admission to the United States by any law, treaty, or convention hereafter entered into by the United States, and may prescribe rules and regulations governing the procedure of such boards in the performance of the duties imposed upon them by this Act or by such treaty or convention. The decision of such boards adverse to the admission of any alien shall be final unless reversed on appeal to the Secretary of Labor within such time as may be prescribed by him. Such boards shall have power to administer oaths, to take evidence touching the right of any alien to enter, reside in, or pass through the United States, to issue subpoenas for and to enforce the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers, and documents touching the right of any alien to enter, reside in, or pass through the United States, and to invoke the aid of any court of the United States in compelling witnesses to attend and testify and produce books, papers, and documents before them, and to punish for contempt in the same manner and to the same extent as courts of the United States are authorized to punish for contempt, and such courts are hereby invoked for such purpose. Such boards shall have authority to confer upon aliens seeking admission to the United States the privilege of withdrawing their applications for admission in lieu of being excluded and deported, such withdrawals to be allowed only once unless permission to subsequently apply for admission is granted by the Secretary of Labor. Nothing contained in this Act shall be construed to require the detention in any immigrant station of any alien while an appeal is pending from the decision of a board of special inquiry, or while awaiting the decision of the Secretary of Labor, if such alien shall furnish security approved by the Secretary of Labor in such sum not exceeding $500 as may be required, conditioned upon the production of such alien to the proper immigrant station or other place designated by the Secretary of Labor when required to do so.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 3. Clearance shall not be granted via a destination prohibited by section 37 of the Act of February 5, 1917, even though landed, and not even unless notice of inability of the administrative authorities to land the alien has been received, the deposit specified in rule 33 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under this Act, except temporarily for the purpose of and while in pursuit of his calling on a vessel arriving at a port of the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or for the purpose of obtaining treatment in a hospital, or except in case of the granting of a discretionary visa by the Secretary of Labor after the alien has established that he became an alien seaman in good faith, that he has been employed on board a vessel of the United States for a period of not less than one year immediately preceding his application for admission, that he intends to return on board a vessel of the United States, and that he is not destitute or likely to become a public charge. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States during the period his vessel is in port may be required by the immigration officer at the port of arrival to give a bond in such sum, not exceeding $500, with such sureties as may be required, conditioned upon the departure of such alien seaman on board his vessel or some other vessel before the expiration of the period of her stay in port, or upon the performance by such alien seaman of such other conditions as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Any such alien seaman who fails to depart on board his vessel or such other vessel as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor, or who departs from the United States on board any other vessel without the permission of the Secretary of Labor, shall be deemed to have violated the conditions of his bond. Any such alien seaman who remains in the United States after the departure of his vessel without the permission of the Secretary of Labor, or who fails to depart on board his vessel or such other vessel as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor, shall be taken into custody upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor and deported in the manner provided in the case of other aliens illegally in the United States. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States during the period his vessel is in port, and who shall not be required to give a bond as provided in this section, shall be granted a conditional permit to land temporarily, and shall be required to return on board his vessel or such other vessel as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor before the departure of the vessel from the port. Any such alien seaman who fails to return on board his vessel or such other vessel as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor before the departure of the vessel from the port shall be deemed to have violated the conditions of his bond. Any such alien seaman who remains in the United States after the departure of his vessel without the permission of the Secretary of Labor, or who fails to depart on board his vessel or such other vessel as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor, shall be taken into custody upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor and deported in the manner provided in the case of other aliens illegally in the United States. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States during the period his vessel is in port, and who shall not be required to give a bond as provided in this section, shall be granted a conditional permit to land temporarily, and shall be required to return on board his vessel or such other vessel as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor before the departure of the vessel from the port. Any such alien seaman who fails to return on board his vessel or such other vessel as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor before the departure of the vessel from the port shall be deemed to have violated the conditions of his bond. Any such alien seaman who remains in the United States after the departure of his vessel without the permission of the Secretary of Labor, or who fails to depart on board his vessel or such other vessel as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor, shall be taken into custody upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor and deported in the manner provided in the case of other aliens illegally in the United States. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States during the period his vessel is in port, and who shall not be required to give a bond as provided in this section, shall be granted a conditional permit to land temporarily, and shall be required to return on board his vessel or such other vessel as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor before the departure of the vessel from the port. Any such alien seaman who fails to return on board his vessel or such other vessel as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor before the departure of the vessel from the port shall be deemed to have violated the conditions of his bond. Any such alien seaman who remains in the United States after the departure of his vessel without the permission of the Secretary of Labor, or who fails to depart on board his vessel or such other vessel as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor, shall be taken into custody upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor and deported in the manner provided in the case of other aliens illegally in the United States. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States during the period his vessel is in port, and who shall not be required to give a bond as provided in this section, shall be granted a conditional permit to land temporarily, and shall be required to return on board his vessel or such other vessel as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor before the departure of the vessel from the port. Any such alien seaman who fails to return on board his vessel or such other vessel as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor before the departure of the vessel from the port shall be deemed to have violated the conditions of his bond. Any such alien seaman who remains in the United States after the departure of his vessel without the permission of the Secretary of Labor, or who fails to depart on board his vessel or such other vessel as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor, shall be taken into custody upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor and deported in the manner provided in the case of other aliens illegally in the United States.

(a) If the Secretary of Labor finds that a vessel upon which an alien seaman has been employed has arrived at a port of the United States, and that such alien seaman has deserted such vessel, or has failed to remain on board thereof to depart therein when ordered so to do by the Secretary of Labor, or has been lawfully removed therefrom, and that such vessel is about to depart from such port without having on board all alien seamen lawfully employed thereon, he may, in his discretion, issue a certificate to that effect, and upon the presentation of such certificate to the collector of customs of the district in which such port is situated the vessel shall be detained by the collector of customs at the port of departure until the Secretary of Labor notifies the collector of customs that such certificate has been withdrawn or that such alien seaman has been delivered to the master of such vessel, or has been otherwise properly disposed of, or that a bond has been given for such alien seaman in a penal sum not exceeding $500, with sureties satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the delivery of such alien seaman to the master of such vessel before the departure of the vessel from the port.

(b) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any alien seaman has deserted a vessel in violation of law, he may direct the withholding of clearance papers for such vessel until such alien seaman is delivered to the master of such vessel, or has been otherwise properly disposed of, or that a bond has been given for such alien seaman in a penal sum not exceeding $500, with sureties satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the delivery of such alien seaman to the master of such vessel before the departure of the vessel from the port.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any alien seaman has been left behind by the master of a vessel upon which he was employed, he may, in his discretion, issue a certificate to that effect, and upon the presentation of such certificate to the collector of customs of the district in which such port is situated the vessel shall be detained by the collector of customs at the port of departure until the Secretary of Labor notifies the collector of customs that such certificate has been withdrawn or that such alien seaman has been delivered to the master of such vessel, or has been otherwise properly disposed of, or that a bond has been given for such alien seaman in a penal sum not exceeding $500, with sureties satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the delivery of such alien seaman to the master of such vessel before the departure of the vessel from the port.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States on board any vessel without having in his possession a valid immigration visa, or other travel document in lieu thereof, duly viséed by the proper immigration officer at the port of departure, shall be deemed to be a person who has been deported from the United States, and may be arrested and returned to the United States in the manner provided in the case of other aliens illegally in the United States.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any alien seaman has been employed on board any vessel in violation of law, he may refuse clearance papers for such vessel until such alien seaman is delivered to the master of such vessel, or has been otherwise properly disposed of, or that a bond has been given for such alien seaman in a penal sum not exceeding $500, with sureties satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the delivery of such alien seaman to the master of such vessel before the departure of the vessel from the port.

(f) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States on board any vessel as a seaman, shall be deemed to have made a departure to a country contiguous to the United States for the purposes of section 3 of this Act.

(g) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any alien seaman has been employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or from adjacent islands, without having such alien in possession a valid immigration visa, or other travel document in lieu thereof, duly viséed by the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival, and that such alien seaman has been employed on board such vessel at a foreign port to the United States, he may refuse clearance papers for such vessel until such alien seaman is delivered to the master of such vessel, or has been otherwise properly disposed of, or that a bond has been given for such alien seaman in a penal sum not exceeding $500, with sureties satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the delivery of such alien seaman to the master of such vessel before the departure of the vessel from the port.

(h) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any alien seaman has been employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or from adjacent islands, without having such alien in possession a valid immigration visa, or other travel document in lieu thereof, duly viséed by the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival, and that such alien seaman has been employed on board such vessel at a foreign port to the United States, he may refuse clearance papers for such vessel until such alien seaman is delivered to the master of such vessel, or has been otherwise properly disposed of, or that a bond has been given for such alien seaman in a penal sum not exceeding $500, with sureties satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the delivery of such alien seaman to the master of such vessel before the departure of the vessel from the port.

(i) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any alien seaman has been employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or from adjacent islands, without having such alien in possession a valid immigration visa, or other travel document in lieu thereof, duly viséed by the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival, and that such alien seaman has been employed on board such vessel at a foreign port to the United States, he may refuse clearance papers for such vessel until such alien seaman is delivered to the master of such vessel, or has been otherwise properly disposed of, or that a bond has been given for such alien seaman in a penal sum not exceeding $500, with sureties satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the delivery of such alien seaman to the master of such vessel before the departure of the vessel from the port.

(j) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any alien seaman has been employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or from adjacent islands, without having such alien in possession a valid immigration visa, or other travel document in lieu thereof, duly viséed by the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival, and that such alien seaman has been employed on board such vessel at a foreign port to the United States, he may refuse clearance papers for such vessel until such alien seaman is delivered to the master of such vessel, or has been otherwise properly disposed of, or that a bond has been given for such alien seaman in a penal sum not exceeding $500, with sureties satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the delivery of such alien seaman to the master of such vessel before the departure of the vessel from the port.

(k) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any alien seaman has been employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or from adjacent islands, without having such alien in possession a valid immigration visa, or other travel document in lieu thereof, duly viséed by the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival, and that such alien seaman has been employed on board such vessel at a foreign port to the United States, he may refuse clearance papers for such vessel until such alien seaman is delivered to the master of such vessel, or has been otherwise properly disposed of, or that a bond has been given for such alien seaman in a penal sum not exceeding $500, with sureties satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the delivery of such alien seaman to the master of such vessel before the departure of the vessel from the port.

(l) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any alien seaman has been employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or from adjacent islands, without having such alien in possession a valid immigration visa, or other travel document in lieu thereof, duly viséed by the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival, and that such alien seaman has been employed on board such vessel at a foreign port to the United States, he may refuse clearance papers for such vessel until such alien seaman is delivered to the master of such vessel, or has been otherwise properly disposed of, or that a bond has been given for such alien seaman in a penal sum not exceeding $500, with sureties satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the delivery of such alien seaman to the master of such vessel before the departure of the vessel from the port.

(m) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any alien seaman has been employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or from adjacent islands, without having such alien in possession a valid immigration visa, or other travel document in lieu thereof, duly viséed by the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival, and that such alien seaman has been employed on board such vessel at a foreign port to the United States, he may refuse clearance papers for such vessel until such alien seaman is delivered to the master of such vessel, or has been otherwise properly disposed of, or that a bond has been given for such alien seaman in a penal sum not exceeding $500, with sureties satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the delivery of such alien seaman to the master of such vessel before the departure of the vessel from the port.

(n) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any alien seaman has been employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or from adjacent islands, without having such alien in possession a valid immigration visa, or other travel document in lieu thereof, duly viséed by the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival, and that such alien seaman has been employed on board such vessel at a foreign port to the United States, he may refuse clearance papers for such vessel until such alien seaman is delivered to the master of such vessel, or has been otherwise properly disposed of, or that a bond has been given for such alien seaman in a penal sum not exceeding $500, with sureties satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the delivery of such alien seaman to the master of such vessel before the departure of the vessel from the port.

(o) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any alien seaman has been employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or from adjacent islands, without having such alien in possession a valid immigration visa, or other travel document in lieu thereof, duly viséed by the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival, and that such alien seaman has been employed on board such vessel at a foreign port to the United States, he may refuse clearance papers for such vessel until such alien seaman is delivered to the master of such vessel, or has been otherwise properly disposed of, or that a bond has been given for such alien seaman in a penal sum not exceeding $500, with sureties satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the delivery of such alien seaman to the master of such vessel before the departure of the vessel from the port.

(p) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any alien seaman has been employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or from adjacent islands, without having such alien in possession a valid immigration visa, or other travel document in lieu thereof, duly viséed by the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival, and that such alien seaman has been employed on board such vessel at a foreign port to the United States, he may refuse clearance papers for such vessel until such alien seaman is delivered to the master of such vessel, or has been otherwise properly disposed of, or that a bond has been given for such alien seaman in a penal sum not exceeding $500, with sureties satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the delivery of such alien seaman to the master of such vessel before the departure of the vessel from the port.

(q) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any alien seaman has been employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or from adjacent islands, without having such alien in possession a valid immigration visa, or other travel document in lieu thereof, duly viséed by the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival, and that such alien seaman has been employed on board such vessel at a foreign port to the United States, he may refuse clearance papers for such vessel until such alien seaman is delivered to the master of such vessel, or has been otherwise properly disposed of, or that a bond has been given for such alien seaman in a penal sum not exceeding $500, with sureties satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the delivery of such alien seaman to the master of such vessel before the departure of the vessel from the port.

(r) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any alien seaman has been employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or from adjacent islands, without having such alien in possession a valid immigration visa, or other travel document in lieu thereof, duly viséed by the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival, and that such alien seaman has been employed on board such vessel at a foreign port to the United States, he may refuse clearance papers for such vessel until such alien seaman is delivered to the master of such vessel, or has been otherwise properly disposed of, or that a bond has been given for such alien seaman in a penal sum not exceeding $500, with sureties satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the delivery of such alien seaman to the master of such vessel before the departure of the vessel from the port.

(s) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any alien seaman has been employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or from adjacent islands, without having such alien in possession a valid immigration visa, or other travel document in lieu thereof, duly viséed by the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival, and that such alien seaman has been employed on board such vessel at a foreign port to the United States, he may refuse clearance papers for such vessel until such alien seaman is delivered to the master of such vessel, or has been otherwise properly disposed of, or that a bond has been given for such alien seaman in a penal sum not exceeding $500, with sureties satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the delivery of such alien seaman to the master of such vessel before the departure of the vessel from the port.

(t) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any alien seaman has been employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or from adjacent islands, without having such alien in possession a valid immigration visa, or other travel document in lieu thereof, duly viséed by the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival, and that such alien seaman has been employed on board such vessel at a foreign port to the United States, he may refuse clearance papers for such vessel until such alien seaman is delivered to the master of such vessel, or has been otherwise properly disposed of, or that a bond has been given for such alien seaman in a penal sum not exceeding $500, with sureties satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the delivery of such alien seaman to the master of such vessel before the departure of the vessel from the port.

(u) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any alien seaman has been employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or from adjacent islands, without having such alien in possession a valid immigration visa, or other travel document in lieu thereof, duly viséed by the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival, and that such alien seaman has been employed on board such vessel at a foreign port to the United States, he may refuse clearance papers for such vessel until such alien seaman is delivered to the master of such vessel, or has been otherwise properly disposed of, or that a bond has been given for such alien seaman in a penal sum not exceeding $500, with sureties satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the delivery of such alien seaman to the master of such vessel before the departure of the vessel from the port.

(v) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any alien seaman has been employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or from adjacent islands, without having such alien in possession a valid immigration visa, or other travel document in lieu thereof, duly viséed by the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival, and that such alien seaman has been employed on board such vessel at a foreign port to the United States, he may refuse clearance papers for such vessel until such alien seaman is delivered to the master of such vessel, or has been otherwise properly disposed of, or that a bond has been given for such alien seaman in a penal sum not exceeding $500, with sureties satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the delivery of such alien seaman to the master of such vessel before the departure of the vessel from the port.

(w) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any alien seaman has been employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or from adjacent islands, without having such alien in possession a valid immigration visa, or other travel document in lieu thereof, duly viséed by the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival, and that such alien seaman has been employed on board such vessel at a foreign port to the United States, he may refuse clearance papers for such vessel until such alien seaman is delivered to the master of such vessel, or has been otherwise properly disposed of, or that a bond has been given for such alien seaman in a penal sum not exceeding $500, with sureties satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the delivery of such alien seaman to the master of such vessel before the departure of the vessel from the port.

(x) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any alien seaman has been employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or from adjacent islands, without having such alien in possession a valid immigration visa, or other travel document in lieu thereof, duly viséed by the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival, and that such alien seaman has been employed on board such vessel at a foreign port to the United States, he may refuse clearance papers for such vessel until such alien seaman is delivered to the master of such vessel, or has been otherwise properly disposed of, or that a bond has been given for such alien seaman in a penal sum not exceeding $500, with sureties satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the delivery of such alien seaman to the master of such vessel before the departure of the vessel from the port.

(y) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any alien seaman has been employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or from adjacent islands, without having such alien in possession a valid immigration visa, or other travel document in lieu thereof, duly viséed by the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival, and that such alien seaman has been employed on board such vessel at a foreign port to the United States, he may refuse clearance papers for such vessel until such alien seaman is delivered to the master of such vessel, or has been otherwise properly disposed of, or that a bond has been given for such alien seaman in a penal sum not exceeding $500, with sureties satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the delivery of such alien seaman to the master of such vessel before the departure of the vessel from the port.

(z) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any alien seaman has been employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or from adjacent islands, without having such alien in possession a valid immigration visa, or other travel document in lieu thereof, duly viséed by the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival, and that such alien seaman has been employed on board such vessel at a foreign port to the United States, he may refuse clearance papers for such vessel until such alien seaman is delivered to the master of such vessel, or has been otherwise properly disposed of, or that a bond has been given for such alien seaman in a penal sum not exceeding $500, with sureties satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the delivery of such alien seaman to the master of such vessel before the departure of the vessel from the port.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector on board the vessel as the ship arrives. The list of aliens on which information is required by the immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 886) shall not be detached on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port

When an arriving alien claims a ''nonquota'' a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival in the United States from via foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list or manifest of all aliens who may be on board such vessel, whether they are destined to the United States or not, and whether they are cabin passengers or in the steerage, which list or manifest shall be prepared in the order and form and contain the information required by the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival; or, where no such officer is present at the port, by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel; and any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such list or manifest to the officer in charge of the port, or to any assistant immigration officer authorized to go on board any such vessel for the purpose of meeting such vessel and receiving such list or manifest, or who shall refuse to answer truthfully to the best of his knowledge any question touching the right of any alien to enter the United States propounded to him by any such officer, or who shall refuse to furnish to such officer any additional information required by him concerning any such alien, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list containing the names of all cabin passengers who were not embarked at any foreign port or place in which such vessel shall have touched on the way to the United States, and the names of all such passengers who were transferred at sea to such vessel from any other vessel or vessels, specifying the names of the vessels from which such passengers were transferred, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman entitled from admission into the United States under the immigration laws employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory to which the provisions of section 3 hereof do not apply, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of actual necessity, to be certified by the Secretary of Labor, unless such seaman shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he is not a member of any class of aliens ineligible to citizenship.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof shall cause each alien seaman (whether destined to the United States or not) employed on board such vessel to be examined by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service at the port of arrival, or, if there be no such officer at such port, by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service designated for the purpose by the Secretary of Labor, and no such seaman shall be admitted to land in the United States unless upon such examination he shall be certified by such medical officer to be not affected with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects which would be sufficient to exclude the alien from admission into the United States under the provisions of this Act. Such examination shall be made in accordance with such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Any such seaman certified by such medical officer to be affected with any such disease or defect shall be detained on board or at such place or places as the immigrant inspector in charge may designate until he shall be certified by such medical officer to be entitled to land or to be removed from the United States under the provisions of this Act, or until he shall be otherwise lawfully landed in the United States or removed therefrom. Such detention shall be at the expense of the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel. The Secretary of Labor shall prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of this subdivision, including the establishment of such medical boards of review as may be necessary, the physicians composing such boards, and the compensation of such physicians.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel upon which he shall have been employed at the time of its arrival in the United States, or who shall leave any vessel in which he arrived in the United States, shall be required to secure from the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival or departure a certificate stating that he has been duly certified by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service as required by this section, and every such alien seaman who fails to secure such certificate shall be deemed to be unlawfully in the United States and shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law.

(c) It shall be the duty of the master of any vessel upon which any alien seaman arrives in the United States to report the name of such alien seaman to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and any master who fails to report any such alien seaman shall be liable to a penalty of $200 for each such alien seaman with respect to whom such master fails to report.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall desert while his vessel is in the United States shall be deported at any time within five years after such desertion upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be returned to the country whence he came or to the country in which he shall have become a resident subsequent to his departure from the United States, as the Secretary of Labor may direct, at the cost of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws.

(e) It shall be the duty of the master of any vessel upon which any alien seaman shall arrive in the United States to detain such alien seaman on board such vessel until a permit for the landing of such alien seaman shall have been granted by the Secretary of Labor, and any master who shall fail to detain any such alien seaman shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such alien seaman shall land or attempt to land a penalty of $500 for each such alien seaman with respect to whom such master shall fail to perform the duty imposed upon him by this section, which penalty shall constitute a lien upon the vessel which may be enforced by libel in rem, and such vessel shall not have clearance granted to her while such penalty remains unpaid; nor shall such vessel be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine; and, in the event such fine is imposed, until the same shall be paid. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, remit, mitigate, or cancel any such penalty or forfeiture, or any part thereof, upon such terms and conditions as he may deem proper, and may ascertain, fix, and impose such terms and conditions as may be necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this section.

(f) Every alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel upon which he shall have been employed at the time of its arrival in the United States, or who shall leave any vessel in which he arrived in the United States, shall be required to secure from the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival or departure a certificate stating that he has been duly certified by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service as required by this section, and every such alien seaman who fails to secure such certificate shall be deemed to be unlawfully in the United States and shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law.

(g) It shall be the duty of the master of any vessel upon which any alien seaman arrives in the United States to report the name of such alien seaman to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and any master who fails to report any such alien seaman shall be liable to a penalty of $200 for each such alien seaman with respect to whom such master fails to report.

(h) Every alien seaman who shall desert while his vessel is in the United States shall be deported at any time within five years after such desertion upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be returned to the country whence he came or to the country in which he shall have become a resident subsequent to his departure from the United States, as the Secretary of Labor may direct, at the cost of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws.

(i) It shall be the duty of the master of any vessel upon which any alien seaman shall arrive in the United States to detain such alien seaman on board such vessel until a permit for the landing of such alien seaman shall have been granted by the Secretary of Labor, and any master who shall fail to detain any such alien seaman shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such alien seaman shall land or attempt to land a penalty of $500 for each such alien seaman with respect to whom such master shall fail to perform the duty imposed upon him by this section, which penalty shall constitute a lien upon the vessel which may be enforced by libel in rem, and such vessel shall not have clearance granted to her while such penalty remains unpaid; nor shall such vessel be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine; and, in the event such fine is imposed, until the same shall be paid. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, remit, mitigate, or cancel any such penalty or forfeiture, or any part thereof, upon such terms and conditions as he may deem proper, and may ascertain, fix, and impose such terms and conditions as may be necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this section.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plain white paper by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector posted at the head of the dock at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel until the immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 988) shall not be received on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port.

When an alien entitled "in transit" is not landed at destination, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of a vessel in the United States from a foreign port or the place at which the vessel in the course of its journey touches for coal, oil, or supplies, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or commanding officer of the vessel shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a complete list of all aliens employed on board the vessel, stating the nationality, last residence, and destination of each alien employed, and such information shall be kept on file by the master of the vessel for a period of three years thereafter, which shall be open to the inspection of the Secretary of Labor or any person or persons authorized by him to make such inspection. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or commanding officer of any vessel who refuses to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival the list required by this section, or who refuses to permit the Secretary of Labor or any person or persons authorized by him to make such inspection, or who refuses to deliver to the Secretary of Labor or any person or persons authorized by him a complete list of the aliens employed on board such vessel, or who refuses to answer truthfully questions propounded to him by the Secretary of Labor or any person or persons authorized by him concerning the employment of aliens on board such vessel, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, for each and every such offense. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or commanding officer of any vessel who shall fail to deliver the list required by this section at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place touched at, or who shall fail to deliver a supplemental list containing the names of aliens employed on board such vessel and not listed on the original list, immediately before the departure of the vessel from any port or place in the United States, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 for each such offense.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, shall have been furnished, and to each person whose name is included in such list a certificate of clearance shall be delivered, unless notice of inability to do so is given, as provided by section 37 of said Act.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 31. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, casualty, or distress, or for the sole purpose of obtaining treatment for such alien from the United States.

SEC. 32. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel of the United States from any place outside thereof having on board any alien seaman (which term includes a person employed in any capacity on board such vessel but does not include a member of the crew or other person employed in the service of the vessel) who is not a citizen of the United States, unless such alien seaman is in possession of a valid immigration visa, if such visa is required by this Act, and a valid certificate of identity issued by the Secretary of Labor, if such certificate is required by regulations made by the Secretary of Labor, shall pay for each such alien seaman the sum of $10 to the collector of customs of the district at which such vessel shall first arrive after such alien seaman is employed on board thereof, and the sum of $10 for each such alien seaman who departs from the United States on board such vessel, unless such alien seaman is in possession of a valid immigration visa, if such visa is required by this Act, and a valid certificate of identity issued by the Secretary of Labor, if such certificate is required by regulations made by the Secretary of Labor, and produces such visa and certificate to the collector of customs of the district in which such vessel departs from the United States. Such sum shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by the collector of customs of the district to which such vessel shall first arrive after such alien seaman is employed on board thereof or by the collector of customs of the district from which such vessel departs from the United States, and clearance may be refused such vessel while such sum remains unpaid. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such sum, or while such sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of the vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to pay the sum imposed by this section. Clearance may be refused by the master of any vessel on which any alien seaman is employed who is required by this section to be included in the list of aliens required to be delivered to the immigrant inspector, if such alien seaman has not been duly entered on such list.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien seaman because of his race, he may cause such alien seaman to be returned to the country to which the vessel belongs, or to the country in which the vessel has its home port, or to any country which may be designated by such alien seaman which will accept him, in lieu of deportation to the country from which he arrived.

Sec.—

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, John Allright, of the Transocean Airforce, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector posted at the port of arrival and at all stations de luxe from the vessel. The list of aliens to whom temporary or transit (from 600 miles) shall not be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival on the "manifest" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival in the United States from via foreign port to or place at shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer at the port of entry a complete list of the aliens employed on board such vessel, arranged and indexed alphabetically, and showing the full name, age, sex, calling or occupation, and nationality of each alien employed on board such vessel, the country to which he belongs by birth, his last permanent residence, the name and address of the nearest relative or friend in the country whence he came, the name and address of the relative or friend in the United States to whom he is going, whether he has a ticket through to his destination, whether his passage is paid by himself or by others, whether he has been in the United States before, and if so when and where, whether he has been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether he is a polygamist, whether he is an anarchist, whether he believes in or is opposed to organized government, or whether he is a member of any organization entertaining such belief, whether he is coming in pursuance of any previous promise or agreement to perform labor in the United States, and whether he is in possession of $50 in money, and such other and further information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such list, or who shall refuse or neglect to answer truthfully any question contained therein as to any alien employed on board such vessel, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such refusal or neglect occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of the port from which she is about to depart for any foreign port or place if the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof shall have refused or neglected to deliver the list required by this section, or if the list delivered does not contain the names of all aliens employed on board such vessel at the time of her departure, or if the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof shall have refused or neglected to answer truthfully any question contained in such list as to each alien employed on board such vessel at the time of her departure, or if there is reason to believe that the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof has been guilty of any fraud or willful misrepresentation in connection with such list, the vessel may be detained at the port from which she is about to depart for the United States from one to five days, in the discretion of the collector of the port, and in case of such detention no clearance papers shall be issued to such vessel. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse to pay any head tax imposed by this section shall be liable to the United States for the amount thereof, which may be sued for and recovered in the name of the United States in any court of competent jurisdiction; and no vessel shall be granted clearance papers while any such head tax remains unpaid. The payment of head taxes shall be enforced by the Secretary of Labor under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, and moneys collected from head taxes shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States and shall be used in the enforcement of the provisions of this Act, and are hereby appropriated for that purpose. Such moneys shall be kept in a separate fund and shall be paid out on the order of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be subject to such audit as may be required by law.

SEC. 37. (a) That every steamship, vessel, consignee, or master who violates any provision of this Act shall be liable to a penalty of not more than $300 for each violation, for which sum it shall have a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in any district court of the United States within the district in which the vessel may be found. Clearance shall be refused any vessel reported by the immigration officer at the port of departure as liable to the payment of such penalty, or concerning the master, agent, consignee, or owner of which complaint has been entered before the immigration officer at the port of departure, until a certificate in writing has been issued by the Secretary of Labor or by a person designated by him for the purpose, stating that the penalty has been paid or that the vessel is not liable therefor. Such certificate shall be delivered to the collector of customs upon application therefor.

(b) Every person who knowingly violates any of the provisions of this Act, or who knowingly makes any false statement or false report or gives false information in connection with the application for any other person for a permit to enter the United States, or who knowingly aids or assists any such person to obtain or execute such permit, or who knowingly aids or assists any such person to land within the United States, except at a port designated by the Secretary of Labor and in possession of such permit, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction in any court of competent jurisdiction shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall have reasonable cause to believe that any person is in violation of any of the provisions of this Act, such person may be taken into custody and returned to the place from whence he came at any time within three years thereafter upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, and the cost of such deportation shall be borne by the owner of the vessel on which such person came to the United States. Such cost shall be a lien upon such vessel, and it shall not be granted clearance papers while such lien remains unsatisfied. Such person shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have been admitted to the United States.

(d) Every alien who shall come into the United States in violation of this Act shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have been admitted to the United States.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor shall not have appointed a sufficient number of inspectors at any port to enable him to examine any vessel with reasonable promptness, he may authorize the customs officer in charge at such port to make such examination, and for such purpose to go on board any vessel in such port.

SEC. 38. That the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing aliens to any port of the United States from any place outside thereof shall be required to pay a tax of $8 for each such alien not in transit through the United States to a country adjacent thereto, and a tax of $4 for each such alien in transit through the United States to a country adjacent thereto, which shall be paid to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of entry is located and the sum of $1,000,000 for each alien so paid, and for the collection of such taxes the vessel shall be liable, and clearance may be withheld or refused and penalties imposed as in the case of other violations of the immigration laws. Such taxes shall be in addition to any other tax or charge provided for by law. Such tax shall not be refunded in case the alien is refused admission to the United States, but shall be refunded if the vessel is prevented from landing the alien at the port of destination by quarantine regulations.

SEC. 39. No alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof, other than a temporary or casual visitor for pleasure or business, or having a domicile in the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or for the purpose of obtaining treatment in a hospital or asylum as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the multiform defective, insane, or indigent alien seamen employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof, who may land in the United States without a permit from the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and in accordance with such rules and regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe. Any such alien seaman (whether destined to the United States or in transit through the United States to a country adjacent thereto) who is not certified by the medical examiner of the United States Public Health Service, or by a medical officer of the United States Army or Navy, to be suffering from a physical or mental disease or defect which will probably make him become a public charge, or to be afflicted with a dangerous contagious disease, shall be detained on board or at quarantine under the direction of the master of the vessel on which he arrived, and such master shall be responsible for the proper care of such alien seaman during such detention and for his safe removal from the United States unless he is granted a permit to land as provided in this section. Upon the certification by the medical officer of the Public Health Service or by the medical officer of the United States Army or Navy that any such alien seaman is suffering from a disease or defect which will probably make him become a public charge, or is afflicted with a dangerous contagious disease, the master of the vessel on which he arrived shall be notified to remove him therefrom, and such master shall be responsible for the proper care of such alien seaman during such detention and for his removal from the United States unless he is granted a permit to land as provided in this section. Upon the certification by the medical officer of the Public Health Service or by the medical officer of the United States Army or Navy that any such alien seaman is suffering from a disease or defect which will probably make him become a public charge, or is afflicted with a dangerous contagious disease, the master of the vessel on which he arrived shall be notified to remove him therefrom, and such master shall be responsible for the proper care of such alien seaman during such detention and for his removal from the United States unless he is granted a permit to land as provided in this section. Upon the certification by the medical officer of the Public Health Service or by the medical officer of the United States Army or Navy that any such alien seaman is suffering from a disease or defect which will probably make him become a public charge, or is afflicted with a dangerous contagious disease, the master of the vessel on which he arrived shall be notified to remove him therefrom, and such master shall be responsible for the proper care of such alien seaman during such detention and for his removal from the United States unless he is granted a permit to land as provided in this section. Upon the certification by the medical officer of the Public Health Service or by the medical officer of the United States Army or Navy that any such alien seaman is suffering from a disease or defect which will probably make him become a public charge, or is afflicted with a dangerous contagious disease, the master of the vessel on which he arrived shall be notified to remove him therefrom, and such master shall be responsible for the proper care of such alien seaman during such detention and for his removal from the United States unless he is granted a permit to land as provided in this section.

ALIEN SEAMEN.

SEC. 18. (a) No alien seaman employed upon any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any place outside thereof, other than a temporary or casual visitor for pleasure or business, or having a domicile in the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or for the purpose of obtaining treatment in a hospital or asylum as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the multiform defective, insane, or indigent alien seamen employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof, who may land in the United States without a permit from the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and in accordance with such rules and regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe. Any such alien seaman (whether destined to the United States or in transit through the United States to a country adjacent thereto) who is not certified by the medical examiner of the United States Public Health Service, or by a medical officer of the United States Army or Navy, to be suffering from a physical or mental disease or defect which will probably make him become a public charge, or to be afflicted with a dangerous contagious disease, shall be detained on board or at quarantine under the direction of the master of the vessel on which he arrived, and such master shall be responsible for the proper care of such alien seaman during such detention and for his removal from the United States unless he is granted a permit to land as provided in this section. Upon the certification by the medical officer of the Public Health Service or by the medical officer of the United States Army or Navy that any such alien seaman is suffering from a disease or defect which will probably make him become a public charge, or is afflicted with a dangerous contagious disease, the master of the vessel on which he arrived shall be notified to remove him therefrom, and such master shall be responsible for the proper care of such alien seaman during such detention and for his removal from the United States unless he is granted a permit to land as provided in this section.

(b) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived will cause undue hardship to the owners of such vessel, such alien may be permitted to remain in the United States for such time as the Secretary of Labor may specify, upon the execution by the owners of a bond or undertaking approved by the Secretary of Labor, in such form and amount and with such sureties as he may require, conditioned that such alien will not become a public charge and will depart from the United States when required by the Secretary of Labor, and upon the deposit of such sum of money as the Secretary of Labor may require, not exceeding $500, to guarantee the performance of such bond or undertaking. Any such deposit shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States as a special deposit account and may be repaid to the depositor or his legal representatives at such time as the bond or undertaking shall be canceled.

(d) Every alien who shall come into the United States in violation of this Act shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have been admitted to the United States.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor shall not have appointed a sufficient number of inspectors at any port to enable him to examine any vessel with reasonable promptness, he may authorize the customs officer in charge at such port to make such examination, and for such purpose to go on board any vessel in such port.

SEC. 38. That the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing aliens to any port of the United States from any place outside thereof shall be required to pay a tax of $8 for each such alien not in transit through the United States to a country adjacent thereto, and a tax of $4 for each such alien in transit through the United States to a country adjacent thereto, which shall be paid to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of entry is located and the sum of $1,000,000 for each alien so paid, and for the collection of such taxes the vessel shall be liable, and clearance may be withheld or refused and penalties imposed as in the case of other violations of the immigration laws. Such taxes shall be in addition to any other tax or charge provided for by law. Such tax shall not be refunded in case the alien is refused admission to the United States, but shall be refunded if the vessel is prevented from landing the alien at the port of destination by quarantine regulations.

SEC. 39. No alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof, other than a temporary or casual visitor for pleasure or business, or having a domicile in the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or for the purpose of obtaining treatment in a hospital or asylum as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the multiform defective, insane, or indigent alien seamen employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof, who may land in the United States without a permit from the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and in accordance with such rules and regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe. Any such alien seaman (whether destined to the United States or in transit through the United States to a country adjacent thereto) who is not certified by the medical examiner of the United States Public Health Service, or by a medical officer of the United States Army or Navy, to be suffering from a physical or mental disease or defect which will probably make him become a public charge, or to be afflicted with a dangerous contagious disease, shall be detained on board or at quarantine under the direction of the master of the vessel on which he arrived, and such master shall be responsible for the proper care of such alien seaman during such detention and for his removal from the United States unless he is granted a permit to land as provided in this section. Upon the certification by the medical officer of the Public Health Service or by the medical officer of the United States Army or Navy that any such alien seaman is suffering from a disease or defect which will probably make him become a public charge, or is afflicted with a dangerous contagious disease, the master of the vessel on which he arrived shall be notified to remove him therefrom, and such master shall be responsible for the proper care of such alien seaman during such detention and for his removal from the United States unless he is granted a permit to land as provided in this section.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens so prepared (Form 688) shall not be destroyed on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival.

When an arriving alien is a "stowaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel at the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the alien's employment, where born, where they were respectively examined, and by whom, and the length of time they have been employed by the present employer, and intend to land in the United States, and such other information about such aliens as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and such lists shall be verified by the oath of the master or commanding officer of such vessel, which oath may be administered by any such officer, as to the truth of the particulars contained therein. The master or commanding officer of any such vessel shall also deliver to the immigrant inspector at each port of arrival a list of all aliens employed on such vessel who are destined to some other port in the United States, showing the name and destination of each such alien, which list shall be verified by the master's oath or affirmation. Any master or commanding officer who shall refuse or neglect to deliver any list required of him by this section, or any master or commanding officer who shall refuse to answer any question in relation to the same or to any other matter concerning any alien employed on such vessel which may be propounded to him by any immigrant inspector, or who shall willfully answer falsely to any such question, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 36. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who shall refuse or fail to deliver the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, or who shall violate any of the provisions of said section, or any rule or regulation made by the Secretary of Labor with reference thereto, shall be severally liable to a penalty of $10 for each and every alien with respect to whom any such violation occurs.

(b) If the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel has refused to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival the list required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, or has refused to answer questions or furnish information in connection therewith, or has willfully failed to comply with the provisions of said section or with the rules and regulations of the Secretary of Labor with reference thereto, such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer may be arrested upon warrant issued by any commissioner of immigration, assistant commissioner of immigration, or immigrant inspector in charge at any port at which such vessel may arrive, and may be prosecuted and punished as provided in section 36 of said Act of February 5, 1917, and shall be liable to the penalty prescribed in subdivision (a) of this section.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel has refused to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival the list required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, or has refused to answer questions or furnish information in connection therewith, or has willfully failed to comply with the provisions of said section or with the rules and regulations of the Secretary of Labor with reference thereto, such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer may be arrested prior to the departure of such vessel, and, in the event such fine is imposed, shall be detained on board until the same is paid or sufficient sum deposited to pay such fine, and such vessel may be libeled therefor in the district court of the United States for the district in which the port of arrival is located and shall be liable to a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a fine thereof as aforesaid not exceeding $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or to both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel prevented from sailing by reason of the provisions of this section.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to the fines prescribed by section 35 of said Act have been paid, unless bond has been entered into as provided in rule 35 for case made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from the immigration zone shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such emergencies as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 36. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place at the port of arrival shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at such port, before any alien seaman employed on board such vessel shall be permitted to land, a list containing the name of each alien seaman employed on board such vessel who intends to land in the United States, except seamen employed on board vessels making regular trips to Canada, Mexico, Cuba, or islands adjacent to the United States, or touching at ports thereof, or returning to the vessel's port of departure without touching at any port in the United States, and such list shall be verified by the oath of the master or commanding officer of such vessel. Any master or commanding officer who shall refuse or neglect to deliver any list required of him by this section, or any master or commanding officer who shall refuse to answer any question in relation to the same or to any other matter concerning any alien seaman employed on such vessel which may be propounded to him by any immigrant inspector, or who shall willfully answer falsely to any such question, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such refusal or willful false answer is made, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States during the period his vessel is in port shall be required to secure the permission of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which he arrived, or the immigrant inspector at the port of departure, to depart from the United States, and shall present such permission to the immigrant inspector at the time of departure. Such permission shall be granted only upon the production by the alien seaman of a certificate from the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival stating that the alien seaman has been lawfully admitted to the United States. Such certificate shall be prepared and delivered by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival to each alien seaman employed on board the vessel at the time of her arrival at such port, who intends to depart from the United States, and who is not known to the immigrant inspector to have been lawfully admitted to the United States. Such certificate shall be prepared in quadruplicate, and shall contain the name, age, sex, nationality, last permanent residence, and present address of the alien seaman, the name of the vessel on which he arrived, the date of arrival, and such other information as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. The original shall be delivered to the alien seaman, the duplicate shall be filed with the records of the vessel on which the alien seaman arrived, the triplicate shall be delivered to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which the alien seaman arrived, and the quadruplicate shall be forwarded to the Secretary of Labor. Any alien seaman who departs from the United States without complying with the provisions of this subdivision shall be deemed to have remained unlawfully, except that clearance may be granted prior to the presentation of such permission in the case of an alien seaman employed on a vessel which is scheduled to depart from the United States within five days after the arrival of such vessel at a port of the United States, if the immigrant inspector at such port is satisfied that such alien seaman intends to depart from the United States on such vessel.

(c) Upon the failure of any alien seaman to depart from the United States in accordance with the provisions of this section, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each such alien seaman, and such vessel may be libeled therefor in the district court of the United States for the district in which the port of arrival is located and shall be liable to a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien seaman. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment thereof, except that clearance may be granted prior thereto upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or on the giving of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof to the collector.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States without complying with the provisions of this section shall be deemed unlawfully within the United States for the purposes of the deportation laws of the United States from the date of his departure.

(e) Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer, shall be liable for any expense incurred in the maintenance or removal of any alien seaman who is required by this section to be detained in the United States, and such expense may be collected in the manner provided by law for the collection of head taxes.

(f) Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel who shall refuse or fail to deliver any list required of him by this section, or who shall refuse to answer any question in relation to the same or to any other matter concerning any alien seaman employed on such vessel which may be propounded to him by any immigrant inspector, or who shall willfully answer falsely to any such question, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such refusal or willful false answer is made, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(g) Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel who shall refuse or fail to deliver any list required of him by this section, or who shall refuse to answer any question in relation to the same or to any other matter concerning any alien seaman employed on such vessel which may be propounded to him by any immigrant inspector, or who shall willfully answer falsely to any such question, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such refusal or willful false answer is made, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(h) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States during the period his vessel is in port shall be required to secure the permission of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which he arrived, or the immigrant inspector at the port of departure, to depart from the United States, and shall present such permission to the immigrant inspector at the time of departure. Such permission shall be granted only upon the production by the alien seaman of a certificate from the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival stating that the alien seaman has been lawfully admitted to the United States. Such certificate shall be prepared and delivered by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival to each alien seaman employed on board the vessel at the time of her arrival at such port, who intends to depart from the United States, and who is not known to the immigrant inspector to have been lawfully admitted to the United States. Such certificate shall be prepared in quadruplicate, and shall contain the name, age, sex, nationality, last permanent residence, and present address of the alien seaman, the name of the vessel on which he arrived, the date of arrival, and such other information as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. The original shall be delivered to the alien seaman, the duplicate shall be filed with the records of the vessel on which the alien seaman arrived, the triplicate shall be delivered to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which the alien seaman arrived, and the quadruplicate shall be forwarded to the Secretary of Labor. Any alien seaman who departs from the United States without complying with the provisions of this subdivision shall be deemed to have remained unlawfully, except that clearance may be granted prior to the presentation of such permission in the case of an alien seaman employed on a vessel which is scheduled to depart from the United States within five days after the arrival of such vessel at a port of the United States, if the immigrant inspector at such port is satisfied that such alien seaman intends to depart from the United States on such vessel.

(i) If the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel has refused to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival the list required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, or has refused to answer questions or furnish information in connection therewith, or has willfully failed to comply with the provisions of said section or with the rules and regulations of the Secretary of Labor with reference thereto, such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer may be arrested prior to the departure of such vessel, and, in the event such fine is imposed, shall be detained on board until the same is paid or sufficient sum deposited to pay such fine, and such vessel may be libeled therefor in the district court of the United States for the district in which the port of arrival is located and shall be liable to a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien seaman. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment thereof, except that clearance may be granted prior thereto upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or on the giving of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof to the collector.

(j) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States without complying with the provisions of this section shall be deemed unlawfully within the United States for the purposes of the deportation laws of the United States from the date of his departure.

(k) Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer, shall be liable for any expense incurred in the maintenance or removal of any alien seaman who is required by this section to be detained in the United States, and such expense may be collected in the manner provided by law for the collection of head taxes.

(l) Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel who shall refuse or fail to deliver any list required of him by this section, or who shall refuse to answer any question in relation to the same or to any other matter concerning any alien seaman employed on such vessel which may be propounded to him by any immigrant inspector, or who shall willfully answer falsely to any such question, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such refusal or willful false answer is made, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, [signature], do declare that I am the [signature] of the [signature], and that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew thereof, and of all persons who have signed articles to proceed on board thereof, and that I have not, nor has any other person to my knowledge, any intention of adding to or altering such list, except in the case of the death of any of the persons mentioned therein, or the desertion of any of them, or the shipping of any other persons in their places, with the consent of a shipping commissioner, and that I will not, nor will any other person to my knowledge, make any alteration in such list, except in the case of the death of any of the persons mentioned therein, or their desertion, or the shipping of any other persons in their places, with the consent of a shipping commissioner, before the vessel leaves the last port at which she touches in the United States.

If no inspector is stationed at the port of arrival, then such list shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of entry (Form 988) shall not be considered as complied with.

When an arriving alien is a "stowaway" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, purser, or other officer in charge of such vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the nationality, last permanent residence, and intended final destination of each alien who intends to enter the United States, and the vocation in which each alien will be employed in the United States, which lists shall be verified by the oath of such master, purser, or other officer in charge of such vessel in the form prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration: Provided, That the master of any such vessel may, in lieu of delivering lists of aliens employed on such vessel, deliver to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival a true copy of the list of aliens employed on such vessel, certified to be such by the master of such vessel under oath administered by any officer of the United States authorized to administer oaths for public purposes: Provided further, That the master of any such vessel, having on board any alien who is destined to the United States and who is not in possession of an unexpired immigration visa, if such there be, or other document which may be required by law for the entry of such alien into the United States, or who is not in possession of the head tax certificate prescribed by section 2 of the Act approved February 5, 1917, if applicable, shall detain such alien on board such vessel and shall report the fact and the name of such alien to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival and shall not permit such alien to land from such vessel except temporarily for examination by the immigration officer, or specially in case of sickness or injury to such alien or emergency requiring his removal for treatment, and in case of the death of any such alien while in transit to the United States the master shall report the circumstances of such death to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival and shall deliver the personal effects of such deceased alien to the immigration officer at such port: Provided, That the Commissioner General of Immigration may, in his discretion, permit the unloading of the personal baggage of aliens destined to the United States in the presence of an inspector at the vessel's side or elsewhere for examination before the same are landed from the vessel: Provided further, That the master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel bringing any alien who is afflicted with any contagious disease, or who has been detained at quarantine or who arrives from a country wherein any contagious disease exists, shall report the fact to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and such alien shall be detained on board such vessel or at quarantine as the case may be, and shall not be allowed to land in the United States except upon certificate from the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival that such alien may be landed without danger to the public health: Provided further, That the master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel bringing any alien who is not in possession of the required documents mentioned in this section shall be liable to the penalties provided in section 10 of this Act.

SEC. 36. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof carrying any alien who is destined to the United States shall furnish to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a list or manifest of such alien, containing such information (which may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration) as can be ascertained by reasonable diligence, touching the identity, nationality, last permanent residence, and intended destination in the United States of such alien, and shall subscribe and deliver to such officer a declaration under oath relative to the correctness of such list or manifest and the truthful answering of the questions therein contained. Such list or manifest shall be prepared and delivered in such form and manner as the Commissioner General of Immigration may prescribe, and the master of such vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $100 for each alien with respect to whom such list or manifest is not prepared and delivered: Provided, That the Commissioner General of Immigration may, in his discretion, permit the delivery of such list or manifest at any time within twenty-four hours after the departure of such vessel from the last port outside the United States at which she may touch.

(b) Every alien arriving at a seaport of the United States from any place outside thereof, whether destined to the United States or not, shall be detained on board or at the immigration station at such port, and shall not be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for the purpose of and in connection with his examination before a special board of inquiry, unless and until he has been duly admitted by such board or by the immigration officer in charge at such port, or by the Commissioner General of Immigration or his appointed agent, to whom such matters may be specially referred for determination: Provided, That such immigration officer in charge may, in his discretion, permit any alien to land temporarily under bond, in such sum and with such security as he may require, conditioned upon the production of such alien to the Board of Special Inquiry at the time and place specified, or upon subsequent departure from the United States, or upon such alien's becoming a public charge, or upon the performance by him of such other conditions as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor: Provided further, That such immigration officer in charge may, in his discretion, parole into the United States temporarily for urgent reasons any alien applying for admission, but such parole shall not be regarded as an admission of the alien and such alien shall be kept under observation until the completion of final action in his case: Provided further, That any alien who has been admitted to the United States shall not be deported without a hearing before a special board of inquiry, unless (1) such alien has been convicted of a crime or crimes for which deportation is provided by this Act, or (2) such alien was at the time of entry a member of one of the classes excluded by law, or (3) such alien entered the United States in violation of any law or laws regulating the admission of aliens, or (4) such alien was admitted to the United States upon a ticket, permit, or other document issued by mistake, or (5) such alien was admitted to the United States upon the certification of a consular officer that he had been found admissible by special board of inquiry, which certification was procured by fraud or misrepresentation of a material fact: Provided, That any alien who shall have been admitted to the United States shall not be deported by reason of having become a public charge from causes not affirmatively shown to have arisen subsequent to his entry to the United States.

(c) The decision of a special board of inquiry shall be based upon the testimony taken in each case separately before the board. A majority vote of the board shall be sufficient to decide any case, but the chairman may order any case reheard by a new board consisting in part of members of the board which first decided the case. The Commissioner General of Immigration shall have power to prescribe rules and regulations for the conduct of proceedings before special boards of inquiry, and shall have power to admit to the United States any alien duly examined and excluded by a special board of inquiry whenever in his opinion the admission of such alien would be prejudicial to the interests of the United States, and he may prescribe the time within which such alien may be so admitted.

(d) Every alien who shall not be clearly and beyond a doubt entitled to land upon the first inspection shall be detained for a hearing before a special board of inquiry, which shall commence its session within two days after the vessel upon which such alien arrived shall have been admitted to pratique and shall have been docked at the immigration station at the port of arrival, unless such time limit be extended by the Commissioner General of Immigration in his discretion, but such board shall not commence its session before the vessel upon which such alien arrived shall have been admitted to pratique and shall have been docked at the immigration station at the port of arrival. Such board shall consist of three members, who shall be appointed from time to time in writing by the Commissioner General of Immigration, and shall have authority to administer oaths and to take evidence touching the right of any alien to enter the United States. The chairman of such board shall be a commissioner of immigration, an assistant commissioner of immigration, a chief inspector, or a special inspector in charge. The other members of such board shall be selected from the following: Immigrant inspectors, medical officers of the United States Public Health Service, citizen physicians, and commissioners of immigration of the various States or cities. The decision of such board shall be by a majority vote and shall be final unless reversed on appeal to the Commissioner General of Immigration within two days after the rendition of such decision. Pending the final decision and during such time as may be allowed for the taking of an appeal and the perfecting thereof, the alien shall be detained in such manner as the immigration officer in charge shall direct. Upon the final decision of the board that any alien is not entitled to enter the United States, such alien shall be deported to the country whence he came, in accordance with the provisions of section 20 of this Act. The actual and necessary expenses of the members of special boards of inquiry, including a reasonable per diem allowance, may be paid from appropriations for the enforcement of this Act.

(e) The Commissioner General of Immigration shall have power to enter into contracts with transportation lines for the detention on board vessel or at Ellis Island of aliens who may be brought to the United States by such lines, pending examination by special boards of inquiry, and for the return of such aliens to the countries whence they came.

(f) Every alien shall be subject to such reasonable medical examination at the port of arrival and at such other time and place as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration or by such boards of special inquiry or immigrant inspectors as he may designate, whether such alien shall have been previously examined or not. Such examination shall be conducted by such medical officers of the United States Public Health Service as may be detailed for the purpose by the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service, or by civil surgeons of the United States, or by medical officers or civil surgeons of the Army, Navy, or Panama Canal service, specially designated for the purpose by the Commissioner General of Immigration. Such examination shall be made in accordance with such instructions as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor.

(g) If the Secretary of Labor shall be of opinion that any of the provisions of this section are unnecessarily severe, he may modify the same, and he shall report his reasons for such modification to Congress.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 21. (a) Upon arrival in the United States from any place outside thereof of any vessel bringing to any alien seaman employed on board such vessel, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or unless specially authorized by the Secretary of Labor, under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, and such seaman shall be detained on board such vessel or at such station as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival pending the departure of such vessel from such port, or pending the repair of such vessel in case she is unseaworthy, or pending the departure of another vessel of the same line sailing to the same port within a reasonable time, not exceeding ten days, and available for the return of such seaman, unless the master, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel shall furnish a bond in such sum, not exceeding $1,000 for each seaman, as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, conditioned upon the return of such seaman on board such vessel or another vessel of the same line sailing to the same port within such period of time, or upon the payment of the cost of the return passage of such seaman if he shall be employed on board any vessel sailing to any port other than a port in the United States, or upon the production of such seaman to the immigration officer in charge at any port in the United States at which such vessel may call within such period of time, or upon such seaman's becoming a public charge, or upon the performance by him of such other conditions as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor.

(b) Any seaman who shall land in the United States contrary to the provisions of this section, or who shall fail to report for departure or who shall secrete himself on board vessel or other vessel about to depart from the United States with intent to evade any of the provisions of the immigration laws of the United States, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not exceeding one year, or both, and may be arrested without warrant by any officer charged with the enforcement of the immigration laws of the United States and taken before a United States commissioner for hearing.

(c) Any seaman who shall desert while his vessel is in any port of the United States shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not exceeding one year, or both, and may be arrested without warrant by any officer charged with the enforcement of the immigration laws of the United States and taken before a United States commissioner for hearing.

(d) Any seaman who shall refuse to proceed to sea with his vessel when ordered to do so by the master, or any seaman who shall be found on board any vessel about to depart from the United States who has in his possession or who has secreted on board such vessel clothing or other property not belonging to him or which he has no reasonable cause to believe belongs to him, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not exceeding one year, or both.

(e) Any seaman who shall fail to report for departure or who shall secrete himself on board vessel or other vessel about to depart from the United States with intent to evade any of the provisions of the immigration laws of the United States may be arrested without warrant by any officer charged with the enforcement of the immigration laws of the United States and taken before a United States commissioner for hearing.

(f) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any vessel has failed to comply with the provisions of this section or any rule or regulation made thereunder, he may withhold clearance or refuse to issue a permit for the departure of such vessel from the United States until such time as he may deem sufficient to insure the due compliance therewith or may cause such vessel to be searched at any time before departure and any seaman found on board in violation of this section to be placed under bond or detained on board for examination before a special board of inquiry.

(g) The Commissioner General of Immigration shall have power to enter into contracts with transportation lines for the detention on board vessel or at Ellis Island of aliens who may be brought to the United States by such lines, pending examination by special boards of inquiry, and for the return of such aliens to the countries whence they came.

(h) That all penalties or forfeitures provided for in this section may be remitted or mitigated by the Secretary of Labor, upon such terms and conditions as he may deem just, or compromised by the United States attorney for the district in which any such penalty or forfeiture shall accrue, upon such terms as may be agreed upon with the approval of the Secretary of Labor.

(i) That all fines collected and moneys received under the provisions of this section shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States and accounted for as other moneys received from head taxes.

(j) That the provisions of this section shall not apply to masters, officers, and members of the crews of vessels plying regularly between ports of the United States and ports of countries contiguous thereto.

(k) That the provisions of this section shall not apply to masters, officers, and members of the crews of vessels touching at ports of the United States solely for the purpose of taking on board bunkers, supplies, or repairs, or for the purpose of transiting the Panama Canal, and which do not land passengers, discharge cargo, or engage in the coastwise trade of the United States.

(l) That the provisions of this section shall not apply to masters, officers, and members of the crews of vessels touching at ports of the United States which do not remain more than forty-eight hours at any one time, and which do not land passengers, discharge cargo, or engage in the coastwise trade of the United States.

(m) That the provisions of this section shall not apply to masters, officers, and members of the crews of vessels touching at ports of the United States which do not remain more than seventy-two hours at any one time, and which do not land passengers, discharge cargo, or engage in the coastwise trade of the United States, if the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that the vessels on which they arrive are employed in the trade between the United States and a foreign country contiguous thereto, and that the masters, officers, and members of the crews of such vessels are in possession of such identification certificates as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 16. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof, except temporary visitors for pleasure or those in transit through the United States from one place outside thereof to another place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospitalization, or because of actual illness during the period the vessel remains in port, but any such alien seaman employed on any vessel leaving the United States shall be required to depart therefrom on such vessel or other vessel leaving such port bound for the country to which such alien seaman belongs, or in which he resided prior to coming to the United States, or for the country of which he is a citizen or subject, or to any country which will accept him, at the option of the master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this subsection in the case of any alien seaman who is found by the Secretary of Labor to have been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence and who is otherwise admissible as an immigrant.

(b) Any alien seaman who shall be employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States and who shall be found upon such vessel after it shall have departed from such port shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (U. S. C., title 8, sec. 155), as amended, to the country to which such alien seaman belongs, or in which he resided prior to coming to the United States, or to the country of which he is a citizen or subject, or to any country which will accept him, at the option of the master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, and the cost of his maintenance while detained and of his deportation shall be borne by the owner of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States. Any such alien seaman shall be detained on board the vessel or in such place as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge of the port pending his deportation, and the master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States shall be responsible for his detention on board and for his removal from the United States. Any such alien seaman who shall have been granted shore leave by the master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States shall report to the immigration officer in charge of the port at the time and place required by such officer for the departure of such vessel from such port, and in case of his failure so to report he shall be deported as provided in this section. Any such alien seaman who shall have been granted shore leave by the master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States and who shall remain in the United States after the departure of such vessel from such port shall be deported as provided in this section. Any such alien seaman who shall have been granted shore leave by the master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States and who shall have failed to return to such vessel or other vessel leaving such port bound for the country to which such alien seaman belongs, or in which he resided prior to coming to the United States, or for the country of which he is a citizen or subject, within the period for which he was granted shore leave, or who shall have been found by the immigration officers to have been employed on board any vessel during its stay in port other than the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, shall be deported as provided in this section. Any master who fails to comply with any of the requirements of this section shall pay to the collector of customs of the district in which the port is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. A vessel on which a deserter from a vessel of a foreign country shall be found shall be required to pay the same fee to the collector of customs of the district in which the port is located as is required to be paid in the case of a seaman who is discharged, and such fee shall be a lien upon such vessel, and clearance may be refused such vessel and, if granted, shall not relieve such vessel from such lien. The fee for each deportation provided for in this section shall be paid to the collector of customs of the district in which the port is located from the appropriation for the expenses of the Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization. Any alien seaman who shall be deported in pursuance of the provisions of this section and who shall enter the United States in violation of this section shall be deported upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be incapable of receiving any certificate of admission or naturalization under the immigration or naturalization laws of the United States.

(c) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who shall refuse to comply with the request of any consular officer of the United States to detain any alien seaman pending the inquiry of such consular officer into the right of such alien seaman to enter the United States, or who shall refuse to detain such alien seaman on board such vessel after notification by such consular officer that the right of such alien seaman to enter the United States has been passed upon by the proper immigration officers, or who shall refuse to pay the cost of detaining such alien seaman on board such vessel, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien seaman with respect to whom such refusal occurs. A vessel upon which a violation of this subsection occurs shall be liable for the payment of the fine provided for herein, and clearance may be refused such vessel and, if granted, shall not relieve such vessel from such liability.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall be employed on board any vessel at the time of its departure from any port of the United States from which it is bound to a foreign port, or who shall be found on board any such vessel after it shall have departed from such port, shall be deemed to have entered the United States within the meaning of the immigration laws of the United States, and the master of such vessel shall be responsible for the immediate deportation of such alien seaman in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(e) The Secretary of Labor shall make such rules and regulations and issue such orders as may be necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this section, and may employ such additional officers and inspectors in the Immigration Service as may be necessary for the enforcement of this section.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below must be prepared in plain ink by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and must be delivered to an immigration officer at the port of entry (from 888 Main to 1000 Main, inclusive) before the vessel is cleared on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of departure

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below will be prepared on blank forms furnished by the Department and by the Commissioner of the Immigration Inspectors stationed at ports of arrival. The list must be delivered by the master to the inspector at the port of arrival, and a duplicate list delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of departure.

Each alien must be examined and must present a valid passport and a consular visé, unless specifically exempted by the Secretary of Labor, before he will be permitted to land in the United States from any vessel arriving at a port of the United States.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That every alien now or hereafter in the United States shall be subject to the same provisions of law, including those regulating the admission, exclusion, deportation, and naturalization of aliens, as are imposed by this Act upon aliens applying for admission to the United States: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion and under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, exempt from the payment of the head tax any alien who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who departs therefrom temporarily, and who is returning to an unrelinquished United States residence within three years from the date of his departure, and may, in his discretion and under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, exempt from the payment of the head tax any alien who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who is returning to an unrelinquished United States residence within one year from the date of his departure: Provided further, That nothing in this section shall be construed as affecting the admission of any alien who is returning from a temporary visit abroad to which his previous residence in the United States was solely incidental: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, permit any alien under the age of sixteen years, in charge of a parent or guardian, to land temporarily at ports designated by the Secretary of Labor, without being subject to the payment of the head tax or to the documentary requirements of this Act, when in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor such action is not prejudicial to the welfare of such alien.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. (a) No alien seaman shall be admitted into the United States from any foreign vessel arriving at a port thereof unless such alien seaman is in possession of a valid passport and a valid visé thereof by a consular officer of the United States, except that a seaman who is a native of the North American continent or adjacent islands, Cuba, Mexico, Newfoundland, or Panama, or who has been in the United States for two years immediately preceding his embarkation, may be admitted without a passport upon the production of such other evidence of identity as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien to a port of the United States shall be responsible for the proper maintenance while in transit through the United States of any such alien destined to a foreign country, including the payment of head taxes and the furnishing of passports when required. Such alien shall be subject to the same inspection and examination as aliens entering the United States for permanent residence, and no owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel shall refuse to submit such alien to such inspection and examination at the port of arrival and at such other time or place as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor. Any such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who shall fail to comply with any requirement of this section or of any rule or regulation issued thereunder, or who shall connive or conspire with, or willfully abet, any alien in the violation of any of the provisions of this Act, or who shall violate, or attempt to violate, any of the provisions of this Act, or who shall assist or abet any alien in attempting to violate any of the provisions of this Act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court.

(b) Any alien who shall enter the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act.

(c) Any person who shall bring into the United States any alien not duly admitted by an immigrant inspector or not lawfully entitled to enter the United States shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court.

(d) The Secretary of Labor shall have power to enter into contracts with transportation lines for the detention of aliens coming to ports of the United States on such vessels pending examination of their admissibility to the United States, and for their safekeeping while in detention, and for their transportation in cases where they are excluded from admission to the United States.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor shall have received information that any vessel is about to depart from a port of the United States with any alien on board who is destined to a port in a foreign contiguous territory or adjacent island and who may not lawfully be admitted into the United States, or who may not have been duly admitted into the United States, the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, direct that such vessel be detained at the port of departure until such alien shall have been landed in the United States or until the vessel shall have given a sufficient bond to the United States in such sum as the Secretary of Labor may determine, conditioned upon the landing of such alien at a port outside the United States: Provided, That clearance may be granted to any such vessel without the detention of such alien upon the deposit of such sum as the Secretary of Labor may require, conditioned upon the subsequent landing of such alien at a port outside the United States.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

SEC. 6. Conference shall not be granted any person seeking admission to the United States, except upon the written request of the Secretary of Labor, which request may be refused without assignment of reason therefor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The law described below is prepared on blank forms furnished by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nominated and assigned to the port at which the vessel is due to commence to enter the United States. The law shall be delivered by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel (from 1893 to 1903 inclusive) or by the person in charge of the vessel (from 1903 to date) to the immigrant inspector at the port of first arrival in the United States.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That from and after the first day of July, nineteen hundred and seventeen, every person, except those specifically exempted as hereinafter provided, now or hereafter admissible into the United States, who is physically capable and may be required by law to read, and who is over the age of sixteen years and not otherwise exempted under the provisions of this Act, who can not read the English language or some other language or dialect, including Hebrew or Yiddish, shall be deported as provided in section nineteen hereof: Provided, That any such alien, otherwise admissible, may enter or remain in the United States if he or she is in good faith the parent, grandparent, husband, wife, mother, grandmother, child over sixteen years of age, brother, or sister of a citizen of the United States or of an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence in the United States, who is over the age of sixteen years and not otherwise exempted under the provisions of this Act, and who shall make affidavit that he or she has such relative in the United States and that he or she is going to the home or to the place of business of such relative; and such alien may be admitted during a period not exceeding six months, and may, in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, have such period extended for such additional period not exceeding six months as may be necessary to the consummation of a pending sale of property or settlement of the estate of a deceased relative, or for the winding up of the affairs of a partnership of which he was a member at the time of the passage of this Act, or for the accomplishment of such purpose as may be satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor, upon the deposit of such sum of money, not exceeding $500, as the Secretary of Labor may require to insure the departure of such alien from the United States within the period of his admission or extension thereof: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the application of the provisions of this section in the case of any alien who is in possession of a round-trip ticket, or who has sufficient money to enable him to procure such a ticket, and who is coming to the United States for a temporary visit only.

SEC. 37. (a) That any person, partnership, or corporation, or agent thereof, who shall bring into the United States any alien not duly admissible under the provisions of this Act, or who shall bring into the United States any alien afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each and every such alien so brought, and may be imprisoned for a period not exceeding one year: Provided, That the Commissioner-General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may, in his discretion, permit any such alien to be brought into the United States from foreign contiguous territory, under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, for the purpose of visiting the bedside of a relative who is dangerously ill, and may extend the permit of any such alien for a period not exceeding six months in order to enable him to remain at the bedside of such relative: And provided further, That no fine, penalty, or forfeiture shall be imposed by reason of the admission of any alien who was in possession of a ticket or sufficient money to procure the same, or who was coming to the United States to visit a relative dangerously ill, if it shall appear to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that it was impossible for such alien to procure a ticket before embarkation because of lack of time or the refusal of the transportation company to sell a ticket to him.

(b) That any person, partnership, or corporation, or agent thereof, who shall bring into the United States any alien who has been deported under the provisions of this Act, and who may hereafter be excluded therefrom, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each and every such alien so brought, and may be imprisoned for a period not exceeding one year: Provided, That the Commissioner-General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may, in his discretion, permit any such alien to be brought into the United States from foreign contiguous territory, under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, for the purpose of visiting the bedside of a relative who is dangerously ill, and may extend the permit of any such alien for a period not exceeding six months in order to enable him to remain at the bedside of such relative: And provided further, That no fine, penalty, or forfeiture shall be imposed by reason of the admission of any alien who was in possession of a ticket or sufficient money to procure the same, or who was coming to the United States to visit a relative dangerously ill, if it shall appear to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that it was impossible for such alien to procure a ticket before embarkation because of lack of time or the refusal of the transportation company to sell a ticket to him.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

SEC. 7. Commencing sixty days from the passage of this Act, the physical and mental examination of all aliens shall be made by the medical officers of the United States Public Health Service, and no certificate shall be issued by consular officers to any alien who has not been duly examined by the medical officers of the United States Public Health Service at the port of foreign departure, and who has not been found to be free from mental and physical defect, except in cases specially certified by the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 31. No alien seaman entering the United States after the termination of one year after the passage of this Act, who is employed on board any vessel arriving at any port of the United States, shall be permitted to land at any United States port, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness requiring his removal to a hospital, or unless a bond in the penal sum of $1,000 is furnished for each such alien seaman to guarantee the return of such alien seaman to the country to which he belongs, or from which he came to the United States, at the time of his departure from the United States, which bond shall be canceled upon the return of such alien seaman to the country to which he belongs, or from which he came to the United States, at the time of his departure from the United States, or upon the payment of a tax of $10 by such alien seaman, which tax shall be in lieu of the return of such alien seaman to the country to which he belongs, or from which he came to the United States, at the time of his departure from the United States. Such tax may be refunded to such alien seaman if he is permitted to land temporarily or permanently in the United States, or if he is required to return to the United States within four years from the date of payment of such tax and does return within such time and lands in the United States. Such tax shall not be refunded to such alien seaman if he returns to the United States after the expiration of four years from the date of payment of such tax. Such tax shall not be refunded to such alien seaman if he is permitted to land temporarily or permanently in the United States, or if he is required to return to the United States within four years from the date of payment of such tax and does return within such time and lands in the United States. Such tax shall not be refunded to such alien seaman if he returns to the United States after the expiration of four years from the date of payment of such tax.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that the provisions of this section are inapplicable to any seaman employed on any vessel arriving at any port of the United States, he may cancel the bond required of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel with respect to such seaman.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall land from any vessel at any port of the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by section nineteen hereof.

(e) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any alien seaman who is in transit through the United States to join a vessel in a foreign port or to any alien seaman who is a native of the United States or who has been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared in plain print approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the port of first arrival. The list shall contain the names of all persons who are to be landed on shore, whether they are passengers or members of the crew (even though they be to be landed on board), but shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of first arrival.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That every alien now or hereafter admitted into the United States who shall be found at any time within five years after the date of his entry into the United States in violation of any of the provisions of this Act shall be taken into custody and returned to the country whence he came at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act: Provided, That if the Secretary of Labor shall be of opinion that any such alien can be apprehended only by reason of the fact that he has become a public charge, or has secured employment in violation of law, and that his return to the country whence he came will result in great hardship to himself or family, the Secretary of Labor may cause such alien to be brought before him for examination, upon such warrant and notice to the alien as he shall by regulation prescribe; and upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor such alien may be taken into custody and returned to the country whence he came, as provided in this section, in the case of aliens who are excludable by reason of the fact that they belong to the classes of persons whose entry is prohibited by section three of this Act, or who entered the United States by means of a false or misleading statement or concealment of a material fact or who have remained therein for a longer time than that for which they were admitted and in the case of aliens who have been convicted of crimes involving moral turpitude committed before entry to the United States and who are sentenced therefor within five years after such entry to confinement in a prison or corrective institution for one year or more: Provided further, That the provisions of this section shall not apply to any alien who shall have been naturalized as provided by law, who shall have entered the United States prior to July first, nineteen hundred and eight, who shall have been at the time of entry a member of the United States Army, Navy, or Marine Corps, who shall have been discharged from the service of the United States otherwise than dishonorably, who shall have resided permanently in the United States for five years next preceding the commencement of proceedings under this section, who shall have filed a declaration of intention to become a citizen of the United States in accordance with the naturalization laws, who is not a member of any of the classes excluded by section three of this Act, who is not under a final order of deportation at the time of the commencement of proceedings under this section, and who shall not be deported under the provisions of this section.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel that shall have shipped or taken on board any seaman after the vessel has cleared, but such seaman may be shipped or taken on board in place of one who has been discharged on account of illness or injury, or who has died, or who has deserted, or who has been forcibly taken out of the vessel by process of law, or who is required as a witness in any legal proceeding, or who is necessary to make the crew sufficient to proceed on the voyage, provided the vessel has not cleared before the application is made for the seaman. Clearance may be granted to vessels which have cleared but have been detained by stress of weather or other cause, and to vessels which have been driven into port by stress of weather, and to vessels which have been in port more than twenty-four hours, without the shipping or discharging of seamen.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 21. No alien seaman belonging to any vessel of the United States under the immigration laws shall be employed on board any vessel arriving at any port of the United States from any place outside thereof, nor shall any such alien seaman be employed on board any vessel clearing from any port of the United States for any place outside thereof, unless such alien seaman shall have declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States, and shall produce to the collector of customs of the district in which such vessel shall arrive, or from which such vessel shall clear, as the case may be, a certificate from the clerk of some court showing that such alien seaman has complied with the requirements of the laws of the United States in regard to the citizenship of seamen.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, agent, master, consignee, or charterer of any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof, or any person who shall bring into the United States any alien seaman by land, shall be required to report the name of such alien seaman (whether destined to the United States or to a foreign country) to the collector of customs of the district in which such vessel shall arrive, or from which such alien seaman shall be brought into the United States, before such alien seaman shall be allowed to land in the United States, except temporarily for the purpose of medical treatment, and to report the name of such alien seaman before such vessel shall depart from the port at which such alien seaman shall be landed in the United States, except temporarily for the purpose of medical treatment, and to report the name of such alien seaman who shall desert or who shall be discharged from such vessel, and the cause of such desertion or discharge, and the destination of such alien seaman, if known, at the time of such desertion or discharge, and to report the name of such alien seaman who shall die on board such vessel, and the cause of such death, and the place where such alien seaman was buried, if buried at sea, and to report the name of such alien seaman who shall be left behind in a foreign country or who shall proceed in transit through the United States to any foreign country, and the intended destination of such alien seaman, if known, at the time of such departure, and to report the name of such alien seaman who shall be discharged in the United States from any vessel, and the cause of such discharge, and the destination of such alien seaman, if known, at the time of such discharge, and to report the name of such alien seaman who shall be left behind in a foreign country or who shall proceed in transit through the United States to any foreign country, and the intended destination of such alien seaman, if known, at the time of such departure, and to report the name of such alien seaman who shall be left behind in the United States in consequence of the refusal of any consul to vise the certificate of discharge of such alien seaman, and the cause of such refusal, so far as known to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, and to report any other information in relation to such alien seaman that may be required of him by any rule or regulation of the Secretary of Labor not inconsistent with law.

(b) Every master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing any alien seaman to the United States from any place outside thereof, or bringing any alien seaman by land into the United States, who shall fail to report the name of such alien seaman, or to make any of the reports and furnish any of the information required of him by the provisions of this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of any question relating to any fine imposed upon the master thereof, and no such vessel shall have clearance granted it if the master thereof has been guilty of failure to deposit the amount of any fine imposed upon him, or to give a bond for the payment thereof, as in this section provided.

(c) It shall be necessary to attach to the outward manifest of the vessel on which any alien seaman arrives at any port in the United States a list of all such alien seamen employed on board such vessel, and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall report at the time of the departure of such vessel from each port in the United States the name of each alien seaman employed on board such vessel who shall have been left behind at such port, and the cause of such alien seaman being left behind, so far as known to him, and the intended destination of such alien seaman, if known to him, and shall report the name of each alien seaman who shall have been shipped on board such vessel at such port, and the cause of such shipping, so far as known to him, and the intended destination of such alien seaman, if known to him.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below is prepared in plain terms which do not require technical knowledge for their interpretation by the Department and no reason is known why it should not be readily understood by the masters of vessels arriving at the ports of the United States. The list of aliens is arranged in alphabetical order, and the races or peoples to which aliens belong are designated by the names commonly used for that purpose in ordinary speech. The immigrant inspectors at the ports of the United States are required by law to admit or reject all aliens coming to the United States, and the information which masters are required to furnish is necessary to enable the inspectors to perform their duties promptly and properly. Masters will therefore greatly facilitate the examination of aliens by the inspectors if they will see that the information called for by the following questions is correctly furnished.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of a vessel at a port of the United States from a foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the proper immigration officer at the port or place of arrival a list or manifest of all aliens who may be on board such vessel, stating the full name, age, sex, calling or occupation, nationality, last residence, and final destination of each alien who is to be landed in the United States, the name and address of the nearest relative or friend in the country whence such alien came, the name and address of the relative or friend in the United States to whom such alien is going, whether such alien has a ticket or passage through to his ultimate destination, whether such alien has been in the United States before, and if so when and where, whether such alien has been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether such alien is a polygamist, whether such alien is an anarchist, whether such alien believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, whether such alien is coming in pursuance of a previously existing contract, and whether such alien has paid his own passage or has it paid by others, and what amount he has with him, and whether such alien is going to join a relative or friend, and if so what relative or friend, and whether such alien has ever been connected with any criminal institution or asylum, workhouse, or charitable institution, and if so which one, and whether such alien is a person who has been deported, and if so how many times and the cause for each deportation, and whether such alien intends to become a citizen of the United States, and whether such alien is coming to the United States of his own free will and accord, and whether such alien is going to any place to which special inquiry should be made by the immigrant inspectors, and such other questions as may be prescribed from time to time by the Secretary of the Treasury for the proper administration of the immigration laws. The list of aliens required to be delivered by the master to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival shall be made out in the order of the consecutive numbers on the ship's manifest, and shall be delivered by the master to the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port, and before any of the passengers shall be landed therefrom, and the master shall report and deliver to the immigrant inspector any additional aliens who may be discovered on board his vessel before the vessel leaves the port. The master of each vessel bringing aliens to the United States shall furnish to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a correct list of all aliens who have been on board his vessel at any time during the voyage, specifying those who have been landed at ports en route, the names of such ports, and those who died en route, and the names and last known addresses of the persons in the United States to whom the surviving aliens are destined, and such information shall be primâ facie evidence in favor of the United States in any proceeding for the collection of the penalties imposed by this section.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of a vessel at a port of the United States from a foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the proper immigration officer at the port or place of arrival a list or manifest of all persons on board such vessel, stating the full name, age, sex, calling or occupation, nationality, last residence, and final destination of each person who may be rejected by the examining surgeon, and the names of the vessel, and the date of sailing and arrival, and the number of cabin passengers and steerage passengers, and from what port or place they severally came, and the names and addresses of the persons who have paid the passage of each, and the amount paid by each, and the amount each has with him, and whether any of such persons have been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, and whether any of such persons are coming in pursuance of a previously existing contract, and whether any of such persons have been deported, and if so, how many times and the cause therefor, and whether any of such persons intend to become citizens of the United States, and whether any of such persons are coming to the United States of their own free will and accord, and whether any of such persons are going to any place to which special inquiry should be made by the immigrant inspectors, and such other questions as may be prescribed from time to time by the Secretary of the Treasury for the proper administration of the immigration laws. The list of aliens required to be delivered by the master to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival shall be made out in the order of the consecutive numbers on the ship's manifest, and shall be delivered by the master to the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port, and before any of the passengers shall be landed therefrom, and the master shall report and deliver to the immigrant inspector any additional aliens who may be discovered on board his vessel before the vessel leaves the port. The master of each vessel bringing aliens to the United States shall furnish to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a correct list of all aliens who have been on board his vessel at any time during the voyage, specifying those who have been landed at ports en route, the names of such ports, and those who died en route, and the names and last known addresses of the persons in the United States to whom the surviving aliens are destined, and such information shall be primâ facie evidence in favor of the United States in any proceeding for the collection of the penalties imposed by this section.

SEC. 41. (a) That the owners, agents, consignees, or masters of vessels hereafter arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or for detention by the immigrant inspectors, only such persons as shall have been duly examined by the immigrant inspectors at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of destination: Provided, That in the case of vessels arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof, the immigrant inspectors may, in their discretion, go on board such vessels at quarantine for the purpose of examining any or all persons on board prior to the arrival of such vessels at the port of destination: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, direct that such examination be made at the last port of departure of such vessels from any foreign port or place: And provided further, That in the case of vessels putting in to the United States in distress or touching at the United States for the purpose of taking on board bunker coal only, the examination of the persons on board such vessels may be made by the immigrant inspector at the port where such vessels shall next arrive after entering the United States, or at such other place as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor.

(b) That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, direct that the examination of any class of aliens who may be entitled to admission to the United States be made at any place in a foreign country, in the case of any foreign port where, in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor, the facilities are such as to secure a satisfactory examination of such aliens, and where, in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor, the number of aliens to be examined justifies the establishment of a station for such examination: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, direct that the examination of any class of aliens who may be entitled to admission to the United States be made at any place in a foreign country, in the case of any foreign port where, in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor, the facilities are such as to secure a satisfactory examination of such aliens, and where, in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor, the number of aliens to be examined justifies the establishment of a station for such examination: Provided further

The list described below must be prepared on blank forms supplied by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector, possibly at the port of arrival, before any of them leave the vessel. The list of members of the crew (from 925 down) is to be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival on all trips to foreign ports, and also upon the vessel's return to the United States from any foreign port. The list of members of the crew (from 925 down) is to be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival on all trips to foreign ports, and also upon the vessel's return to the United States from any foreign port.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival in the United States from any foreign port of a vessel it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer at the port of entry or the inspector in charge at the port of arrival a complete manifest of all persons on board such vessel, showing the full name, nationality, last residence, calling, and destination of every such person who may be rejected, and the names of those who have been naturalized, and such additional information relative thereto as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. The master of every such vessel shall also deliver to the said officer a list or manifest of all aliens employed on board the vessel, showing the condition of each, the nature of his employment, the amount of wages received, and the length of time employed, and such other information relative to their employment as the Secretary of Labor may require. For failure to comply with the provisions of this section the master shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom such correct lists are not delivered, or with respect to whom it does not appear that he has complied with the provisions of this section, to be recovered as hereinafter provided, and clearance may be refused to the vessel while any such penalty remains unpaid: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

Par. 6. Clearance shall not be granted to any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, shall have been furnished, and to any vessel whose master refuses to sign the declaration required by section 37 of said Act prescribed by section 23 of this rule.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 16. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws may be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States until such alien seaman has been duly discharged from the vessel by the immigration officers at the port of arrival, except upon the certification by the Secretary of Labor that such alien seaman is a member of the crew of a vessel which will depart from the United States without unnecessary delay and that the entry of such alien seaman is not prohibited by section 3 of this Act, or upon the certification by the Secretary of Labor that such alien seaman has been duly discharged in a foreign port. Any alien seaman who has been granted shore leave only shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act if found in the United States after the vessel on which he arrived has departed from the United States without him. Any alien seaman who has been granted shore leave only shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act if found in the United States after the vessel on which he arrived has departed from the United States without him. Any alien seaman who has been granted shore leave only shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act if found in the United States after the vessel on which he arrived has departed from the United States without him.

SEC. 36. (a) The owner, operator, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof shall deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival and before the vessel shall depart from the United States, a complete manifest, (electronic or otherwise,) of all persons on board such vessel, whether passengers or members of the crew, and shall answer such questions with regard to each and every such person as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. The master, owner, operator, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel failing to deliver such manifest within the time prescribed, or failing to answer truthfully such questions, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense.

(b) The Secretary of Labor shall cause to be made such investigation as may be necessary to enable him to decide whether any person or persons have been guilty of violating the provisions of this section, and shall report his findings to the district attorney of the district in which the offense was committed, who shall cause the proper proceedings to be instituted against such person or persons.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that a violation of this section has been committed by the master or other person in charge of a vessel, he may, in addition to any other penalty provided by this section, refuse clearance to such vessel while the master or person in charge thereof is in default.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived, or with respect to whom the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel shall have failed to comply with the provisions of this section, shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act, and also a fine of not more than $1,000 or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that a violation of this section has been committed by the master or person in charge of a vessel, and also that the vessel cannot be detained, he may certify the facts to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located at the time of such certification, and such collector shall thereupon withhold clearance to such vessel and may, in addition to all other penalties provided by this section, impose a penalty of $300 upon the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel, which penalty shall be a lien upon the vessel, and such vessel may be libeled therefor in the district court of the United States for the district in which she may be found.

(f) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived, or with respect to whom the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel shall have failed to comply with the provisions of this section, shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act if found in the United States after the vessel on which he arrived has departed from the United States without him. Any alien seaman who has been granted shore leave only shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act if found in the United States after the vessel on which he arrived has departed from the United States without him. Any alien seaman who has been granted shore leave only shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act if found in the United States after the vessel on which he arrived has departed from the United States without him.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below would be prepared on blank forms supplied by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the hour of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens shall be prepared on blank forms (Form 818) shall not be destroyed on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival.

When an alien arriving aboard a vessel "montreys" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon the arrival of the vessel in the United States from foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, assistant, commander, or interpreter of the vessel to deliver to one of the principal immigration officers in charge of the port, to be designated by the Secretary of Labor, lists or manifests of all the persons on board the vessel, which shall be prepared in the form and contain the data required by the Secretary of Labor, and such lists or manifests shall be verified by the oath of the master, assistant, commander, or interpreter of the vessel, taken before the said immigration officer, or before a United States consular officer at the port of departure, which oath may be administered by said officers, and shall state the number of aliens who have been examined by a medical officer, the number certified to be mentally or physically defective, and the number excluded and the cause therefor. Upon the refusal of the master, assistant, commander, or interpreter of the vessel to deliver such lists or manifests, or to verify the same by oath when so required, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master, assistant, commander, or interpreter of any such vessel who refuses to present such list or manifest for examination or to verify the same by oath when so required by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, or who refuses to allow such inspector to come aboard such vessel for the purpose of examining the list or manifest of passengers, shall be liable to a penalty of not more than $1,000 for each such refusal. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, refuse clearance to any such vessel in which such list or manifest has not been delivered and verified as required by this section, and may issue a pass to any such vessel, permitting clearance without the delivery of such list or manifest, either before the departure of the vessel from the port or subsequently, which pass shall be surrendered by the master of the vessel upon arrival at the port to which the vessel is destined. Any master who shall refuse to deliver such pass shall be liable to the penalties provided in this section in case of the refusal to deliver such list or manifest.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel liable for head tax imposed by section 36 of the act of February 5, 1917, and unpaid, and any vessel upon which any head tax imposed by section 36 of said act has been improperly refunded, and any vessel which has failed to deposit with the collector of customs at the port of departure the sum of $10 for each alien employed thereon in the service of the vessel, or who has failed to deposit with the Secretary of Labor, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district of the landing of such alien, the sum of $8 for each alien employed thereon in the service of the vessel who has been certified by the Secretary of Labor to be suffering from a mental or physical disability or infirmity which will probably affect the ability of such alien to earn a living, unless such vessel shall furnish a bond in the penal sum of $1,000 conditioned that such alien shall not become a public charge within five years after the date of entry, or shall produce a certificate from the Secretary of Labor that such alien has been naturalized or has acquired a permanent residence in the United States, or has departed therefrom within such period.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 31. No alien seaman employed upon any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of sickness or injury, or for the purpose of obtaining surgical or medical treatment, or because of the necessity of replacing him by another alien seaman, or pursuant to such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and approved by the Secretary of State, and any such alien seaman who lands in the United States contrary to the provisions of this section shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of this Act, to the country whose flag such vessel flies, or to the country in which he shall have been last domiciled, at the time of his entry into the United States, unless the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that such alien seaman desires to remain temporarily in the United States for the purpose of study, and will depart therefrom upon the completion of such study, and such alien seaman shall be allowed a period of not more than four months within which to depart from the United States, under such conditions as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and shall not be deported to the country whose flag such vessel flies, or to the country in which he shall have been last domiciled, at the time of his entry into the United States, but to such country as he may elect, subject to the approval of the Secretary of Labor. Any such alien seaman who shall fail to depart from the United States within the period allowed by the Secretary of Labor, or who shall return to the United States within one year from the date of his deportation, shall be taken into custody and deported in the manner provided for in this section, unless the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that such alien seaman could not depart within such period because of physical disability or other cause not due to his own fault, in which case the period within which such alien seaman shall depart from the United States may be extended for such time as the Secretary of Labor may deem necessary.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel from any place outside thereof (except from foreign contiguous territory) bringing to the United States any alien seaman (whether destined to the United States or not) who is refused a permit to land by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and any person who shall bring to the United States any alien seaman who has been refused a permit to land by the immigration officer in charge at any other port, and any person who shall refuse to receive back on board any alien seaman employed on any vessel upon which he was originally employed when ordered to do so by the master, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district at which such alien seaman arrived, or from which he departed, a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fund, and in the event such payment is not made, clearance may be withheld or withdrawn: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fund.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart with the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was refused a permit to land by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, shall be prima facie evidence for the purposes of this section.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien seaman on any vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that the refusal of a permit to land by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, have been occasioned by fraud, conspiracy, or unlawful combination entered into by the master, owner, agent, consignee, charterer, or any officer of the vessel, such master, owner, agent, consignee, charterer, or officer of the vessel shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(d) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien seaman on any vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that the refusal of a permit to land by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, have been occasioned by the master, owner, agent, consignee, charterer, or any officer of the vessel, such alien seaman shall be deported to the country whose flag such vessel flies, or to the country in which he shall have been last domiciled, at the time of his entry into the United States, but to such country as he may elect, subject to the approval of the Secretary of Labor.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that sufficient guaranty or security has been given by the master, owner, agent, consignee, charterer, or any officer of the vessel on which any alien seaman has arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that sufficient guaranty or security has been given by the master, owner, agent, consignee, charterer, or any officer of any vessel on which any alien seaman has arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, that such alien seaman will depart from the United States within such period as may be specified by the Secretary of Labor, the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, permit such alien seaman to depart from the United States within such period, and such alien seaman shall not be deported as a result of the refusal of a permit to land by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival.

(f) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart with the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was refused a permit to land by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, shall be prima facie evidence for the purposes of this section.

(g) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien seaman on any vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that the refusal of a permit to land by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, have been occasioned by the master, owner, agent, consignee, charterer, or any officer of the vessel, such master, owner, agent, consignee, charterer, or officer of the vessel shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector posted at the head of the gangway as the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall be delivered on demand to the proper immigration officer at the port of entry by the master or the person in charge of the vessel (Form 980 shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of entry). The list or manifest may be typewritten, and the exact wording of the headings must be adhered to.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel at the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master, forthwith to deliver to the proper immigration officer at the port of entry a complete manifest, duplicate and triplicate, of all the passengers who may be found on board such vessel, whether such passengers are destined to the United States or to pass through the same in transit to some foreign country, which manifest shall be prepared at the time of sailing from the last foreign port or place touched at by such vessel, and shall contain the following information as to each passenger, to wit: Number in the group; name in full; age; sex; married or single; calling or occupation; whether able to read or write; nationality; last residence; final destination; whether in possession of money, and if so, how much, and whether in possession of railroad ticket, and if so, to what point; whether ticket is through or not; whether destined to join relatives, and if so, what relatives and their names and complete addresses; whether going to join a specific employer, and if so, his name and complete address; whether ever before in the United States, and if so, when, where, and how long ago; whether ever in prison or almshouse, or supported by charity, and if so, what and when; whether a polygamist; whether an anarchist; whether coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, agreement, or prepayment of transportation, or otherwise, to perform labor in the United States, and if so, what kind of labor; whether a person who has been in the United States before, and if so, when, how long he remained, and what he did while here; whether going to join a husband, wife, father, mother, grandparent, brother, sister, uncle, aunt, nephew, niece, cousin, or other relative, and if so, what relative and where such relative is; whether having a ticket or passage paid for by others, and if so, by whom; whether in good health, mentally and physically; whether deformed or crippled, and if so, how; height; complexion; color of hair and eyes; marks of identification; and such other facts as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

FEB. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fees required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and no such vessel shall depart from any port in the United States to any foreign port or place in violation of this section or of any prescription by section 38 of this Act.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the immediate deportation of any such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel (other than a vessel solely navigating the waters of the United States and foreign contiguous territory) or aircraft arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, who shall fail to comply with any of the requirements of the immigration laws with respect to the manifest or the landing of any alien, or who shall refuse to allow the proper immigration officer to enter such vessel or aircraft for the purpose of inspecting the same and the persons thereon, or who shall refuse to detain any alien on board or at quarantine or elsewhere, as directed by the immigration officer, or who shall refuse to allow any such alien to be taken from such vessel or aircraft for hospital treatment or observation, or who shall refuse to carry back any alien ordered excluded from the United States by the Secretary of Labor, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10.00 for each alien as to whom any of the violations occur. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such sum, and, in the case such sum is not paid, no other vessel owned in whole or in part by the owner of the delinquent vessel shall be granted clearance papers while the indebtedness remains unpaid: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, ____, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew now on board the ____, of the ____ port of ____, bound for ____ port of ____; that I have caused to be delivered to the proper immigration officer a true copy of the list of crew (Form 980) required by section 28 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from subdivision B, rule 7, and copy of section 38 of the Act of May 26, 1924, multiply appear below.

Sworn to before me this ____ day of ____, 19__.

Immigrant Inspector.

Master, First or Second Officer.

(1) Here state the name of the vessel.

(2) Here state the name of the port or place from which the vessel sailed.

(3) Here state the name of the port or place in the United States at which the vessel has arrived.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The law described below should be observed by the Department and be kept for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and then at the port of departure from the United States. Failure to deliver the list required by the immigration officer at the port of arrival will subject the master to a penalty of $10 (Form 888) and not to exceed $50 additional.

Any alien entering the United States "steerage" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel at the United States from any foreign port to a place at which the vessel is to discharge passengers, or to begin to embark passengers, the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of the vessel, as the case may be, shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names and such other information as to each alien on board the vessel, whether such alien is a passenger, or a member of the crew, or otherwise, as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall make oath before such officer to the correctness of the lists so delivered. The master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of the vessel shall not be required to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival the list required by this section in respect of any alien who has been duly and regularly admitted to the United States and who is in possession of a certificate of identity issued by the Secretary of Labor, which certificate shall be surrendered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival. The master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of the vessel shall not be required to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival the list required by this section in respect of any alien who is in transit through the United States to a foreign country, and who has been duly admitted to the United States for such transit, and who is in possession of a certificate of identity issued by the Secretary of Labor, if the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of the vessel shall have delivered to the immigration officer at the port of departure from the United States lists containing the names of all such aliens and such other information as to each such alien as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. Upon the refusal of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of the vessel to deliver the lists required by this section, or upon the refusal of any such master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival any such list in respect of any alien on board the vessel, such master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien as to whom such list is not delivered, or in respect of whom such inaccuracy occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers until the determination of the liability to pay the penalty or the payment or the securing of the payment thereof by the owner, master, agent, charterer, or consignee of the vessel, or the giving of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector. Such lists shall be open to the inspection of immigrant inspectors, and shall be bound with the other papers of the vessel, and produced on demand of any officer of customs or immigration who may request to see them, and shall be preserved for a period of two years by the owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of the vessel, and produced on the demand of any such officer of customs or immigration at any subsequent time within said period. Any master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of any vessel who refuses to deliver the lists required by this section, or who fails to exercise due diligence to secure the correctness of the information required to be furnished by this section, or who refuses to permit any immigrant inspector to go on board such vessel and make such inspection, or to detain such vessel for such reasonable time as may be necessary to make such inspection, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court.

(a) That any person who knowingly and willfully, by himself or by another, makes any false statement or representation as to any fact material to the decision of any question affecting the admission of any alien into the United States, or who knowingly and willfully makes any false statement or representation for the purpose of obtaining for himself or for another admission into the United States, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than two years, or both, in the discretion of the court.

(b) It shall be the duty of the boards of special inquiry, boards of review, commissioners of immigration, immigrant inspectors, and other officers of the United States Immigration Service, in the administration of the immigration laws, to give all such information concerning the same as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and to furnish to the Secretary of Labor, or to any person duly authorized by him, such records of proceedings and papers as may be necessary in any case or class of cases.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that any person has been illegally admitted to the United States, or that any alien has entered the United States in violation of law, he shall cause such person to be taken into custody and returned in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law. The decision of the Secretary of Labor shall be final as to the facts regarding the admission and entry of any alien into the United States unless application for a writ of habeas corpus shall be made within one year after such decision.

(d) That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, and under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, establish and maintain in the United States Immigration Service a bureau of information and education concerning the number, character, and needs of such aliens as may be admitted into the United States, the purpose of which shall be to acquaint such aliens in advance of their embarkation with the opportunities and conditions which await them in the United States, and to promote their distribution according to such opportunities and conditions.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 6. Clearance shall not be granted vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, shall have been furnished, and not then unless notice of inability to do so admissible and practicable by the administrative and prescribed by rule or to and from prescribed by section 38 of this Act and 25 and need made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, or any vessel clearing from the United States for any foreign port or place, unless such alien seaman has been granted a conditional permit to land temporarily in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or has been granted the right to enter the United States as an immigrant, or has been granted a visitor's permit as a temporary visitor for pleasure or business, or has been granted a permit to enter the United States solely in pursuance of his employment on board a vessel touching at a port or ports of the United States, and is in possession of such permit.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or bringing to the United States any alien crewman employed on board any vessel shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and report and account for each alien crewman employed on board such vessel at the time of arrival, a separate manifest, or a part of the manifest of the vessel, as the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may prescribe for the different classes of vessels or trades. Such manifest shall include a separate alphabetical examination by the medical examiner), or who shall fail to do so, or shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or in respect of whom such inaccuracy occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers until the determination of the liability to pay the penalty or the payment or securing of the payment thereof by the owner, master, agent, charterer, or consignee of the vessel, or the giving of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector. Such lists shall be open to the inspection of immigrant inspectors, and shall be bound with the other papers of the vessel, and produced on demand of any officer of customs or immigration who may request to see them, and shall be preserved for a period of two years by the owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of the vessel, and produced on the demand of any such officer of customs or immigration at any subsequent time within said period. Any master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of any vessel who refuses to deliver the lists required by this section, or who fails to exercise due diligence to secure the correctness of the information required to be furnished by this section, or who refuses to permit any immigrant inspector to go on board such vessel and make such inspection, or to detain such vessel for such reasonable time as may be necessary to make such inspection, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court.

(b) That any person who knowingly and willfully, by himself or by another, makes any false statement or representation as to any fact material to the decision of any question affecting the admission of any alien into the United States, or who knowingly and willfully makes any false statement or representation for the purpose of obtaining for himself or for another admission into the United States, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court.

(c) It shall be the duty of the boards of special inquiry, boards of review, commissioners of immigration, immigrant inspectors, and other officers of the United States Immigration Service, in the administration of the immigration laws, to give all such information concerning the same as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and to furnish to the Secretary of Labor, or to any person duly authorized by him, such records of proceedings and papers as may be necessary in any case or class of cases.

(d) That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, and under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, establish and maintain in the United States Immigration Service a bureau of information and education concerning the number, character, and needs of such aliens as may be admitted into the United States, the purpose of which shall be to acquaint such aliens in advance of their embarkation with the opportunities and conditions which await them in the United States, and to promote their distribution according to such opportunities and conditions.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that any person has been illegally admitted to the United States, or that any alien has entered the United States in violation of law, he shall cause such person to be taken into custody and returned in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law. The decision of the Secretary of Labor shall be final as to the facts regarding the admission and entry of any alien into the United States unless application for a writ of habeas corpus shall be made within one year after such decision.

(f) That any person who knowingly and willfully, by himself or by another, makes any false statement or representation as to any fact material to the decision of any question affecting the admission of any alien into the United States, or who knowingly and willfully makes any false statement or representation for the purpose of obtaining for himself or for another admission into the United States, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than two years, or both, in the discretion of the court.

(g) If the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that any person has been illegally admitted to the United States, or that any alien has entered the United States in violation of law, he shall cause such person to be taken into custody and returned in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law. The decision of the Secretary of Labor shall be final as to the facts regarding the admission and entry of any alien into the United States unless application for a writ of habeas corpus shall be made within one year after such decision.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFESTS

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States according to separate immigration districts and for the third class and the so-called tourist class, where they exist. The Immigration Act of 1924 provides that the total number of aliens of any nationality who may be admitted to the United States in the same class during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1924, shall be limited to a certain percentage of the number of aliens of such nationality who were resident in the United States as determined by the United States Census of 1890, but that not more than 2 per centum of such number may be admitted in any one year. Quota immigrants must be charged to the quota of the country of birth unless they are admissible as non-quota immigrants under the provisions of section 4 of the Act.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFESTS

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States, according as separate manifests immigrants are required by the Act of 1891; but alien seamen, alien members of the crew of vessels arriving at the ports of Canada, Mexico, Cuba, or adjacent islands, and aliens in transit through the United States, whose names are not entered on the manifests of vessels on which they arrive at such ports, need not be included in the manifests.

Manifests must be typewritten or printed in the English language, and must be made out in the order of the numbers on the schedule, as follows:

Column 1 (No.).—Number consecutively, beginning with 1 for the first alien on each vessel.

Column 2 (Name in full).—Enter surname (family name) and given names in full.

Column 3 (Age).—Enter age at last birthday. If under 1 year, state in months.

Column 4 (Sex).—Enter "male" or "female."

Column 5 (Married or single).—Enter "married" or "single."

Column 6 (Occupation).—Enter occupation of each alien arriving, as "laborer," "servant," "clerk," "seamstress," "no occupation," etc. Do not use indefinite terms, such as "merchant," "manufacturer," "dealer," "agent," "trader," "gentleman," "lady," "farmer," "student," "scholar," "boy," "girl," "child," "baby," "invalid," "none," etc., but state specifically what each person is capable of doing.

Column 7 (Can read?).—Enter "yes" or "no" to indicate whether the alien can read or not.

Column 8 (Can write?).—Enter "yes" or "no" to indicate whether the alien can write or not.

Column 9 (Country of which citizen or subject).—Enter the country of which the alien is a citizen or subject.

Column 10 (Race or people).—Enter the race or people to which the alien belongs, as "Negro," "Anglo-Saxon," "Chinese," "Celtic," "Hebrew," "Slavonic," "Teutonic," "Latin," "Mongolian," "Polynesian," "Indian," "Japanese," "Spanish," "Italian," "Irish," "Scotch," "Welsh," "English," "French," "German," "Dutch," "Finnish," "Swedish," "Norwegian," "Russian," "Polish," "Bohemian," "Magyar," "Servian," "Croatian," "Turkish," "Armenian," "Syrian," "Greek," "Corsican," "Moorish," "Spanish-American," "Mexican," "West Indian," "Cuban," "Porto Rican," "South American," "Canadian," "Acadian," "Portuguese," "Australian," "New Zealand," "Scandinavian," "Basque," "Arab," "Bulgarian," "Dalmatian," "Montenegrin," "Roumanian," "Moldavian," "Wallachian," "Albanian," "Croatian," "Slovak," "Ruthenian," "Gypsy," "Hebrew," "Lithuanian," "Finn," "Bohemian," "Moravian," "Slovenian," "Carniolan," "Dalmatian," "Herzegovinian," "Bosnian," "Lapp," "Icelander," "Faroese," "Manx," "Celtic," "Cornish," "Welsh," "Scotch," "Irish," "Basque," "Negro," "Kaffir," "Zulu," "Hottentot," "Bushman," "Abyssinian," "Berber," "Soudanese," "Egyptian," "Indian," "Chinese," "Japanese," "Malay," "Philippine," "Pacific Islander," "East Indian," "Portuguese," "Brazilian," "Dutch," "Flemish," "Belgian," "French," "Italian," "Spanish," "Portuguese," "German," "Austrian," "Hungarian," "Swiss," "Scandinavian," "Russian," "Finnish," "Polish," "Bohemian," "Slovak," "Magyar," "Roumanian," "Greek," "Albanian," "Turkish," "Armenian," "Syrian," "Arabian," "Persian," "Afghan," "Hindu," "Parsee," "Japanese," "Chinese," "Korean," "Burmese," "Malay," "Filipino," "Polynesian," "Indian," "Pacific Islander," "Central American," "South American," "West Indian," "Mexican," "Cuban," "Porto Rican," "Canadian," "English," "French," "Scotch," "Irish," "Newfoundland," "Portuguese," "Negro," "Chinese," "Hebrew," "Irish," "Scotch-Irish," "English," "Welsh," "Swedish," "Russian," "Finnish," "Norwegian," "Danish," "Icelandic," "Turkish," "Greek," "Italian," "Syrian," "Armenian," "Lithuanian," "Polish," "Russian-Hebrew," "German-Hebrew," "French-Canadian," "Indian (Hindoo)," "Pacific Islander," "East Indian," "African (native)," "Negro (native)," "Polish-Jewish," "Kinsman," "Friend," "Guardian," or "Relative."

Column 11 (Last residence).—Enter the last place of residence of the alien before embarking for the United States. Use the name of the country, and not of the city or town.

Column 12 (Final destination).—Enter the place in the United States where the alien intends to go. Use the name of the city or town, and not of the State, except when the destination is unknown.

Column 13 (Whether going to join a relative or friend, and, if so, what relative or friend, and its name and complete address).—Enter "yes" or "no" to indicate whether the alien is going to join a relative or friend, and if "yes" state the name and address of the relative or friend.

Column 14 (Ever in prison or almshouse? If so, how long and when?).—Enter "yes" or "no" to indicate whether the alien has ever been in prison or an almshouse, and if "yes" state how long and when.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The law described below shall be observed on board vessels of the Department and be read by the master to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The law in full of changes of alien immigrants at ports (Form 528) shall not be inspected on board, but shall be delivered by the master of the vessel to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien arrives at a "foreign" port and is destined for the United States, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon the arrival of an alien at a United States port from foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port a complete manifest and duplicate thereof, in the form or forms prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, containing such information in regard to each alien on board as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and such other information as he may require for the proper administration of the immigration laws, which manifest shall be sworn to before the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel or before a person authorized to administer oaths for such purpose by the Secretary of Labor, and shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival before the vessel shall be admitted to entry or granted clearance papers, except that in the case of vessels plying regularly between ports in the United States and ports in foreign contiguous territory the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, by general regulations, provide for the delivery of such manifests at some other time or place or for the examination of aliens prior to the departure of such vessels from foreign ports. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver manifests in the manner prescribed herein, or who shall refuse or neglect to answer truthfully and completely all questions touching the right of any alien to enter the United States, or who shall refuse or neglect to detain any alien on board his vessel when required so to do by the Secretary of Labor or any immigrant inspector, or who shall refuse or neglect to deliver any such alien to the proper immigration officer at the time of the arrival of the vessel at a port of entry, or who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section or with any rule or regulation made by the Secretary of Labor with reference thereto, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof in any court of competent jurisdiction shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, shall have been furnished, and not then unless duplicate of the affidavit of the administrative officer prescribed by this section or of that prescribed by section 38 of this Act is produced.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 31. No alien seaman employed upon a vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or for transfer to the custody of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, or for such other purpose as may be approved by the Secretary of Labor or such person as he may designate for the purpose, unless such seaman shall have been duly admitted to the United States or shall be in possession of a valid immigration visa. Any such seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported to the country in which he shall have been granted a visa, or to the country from which he came to the United States, at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

SEC. 36. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deposit on board such vessel before departure from the last immigration office at which any alien seaman employed on board such vessel was inspected by an immigrant inspector, or who fails to detain such seaman on board such vessel when required so to do by the Secretary of Labor or any immigrant inspector, or who refuses to pay the cost of maintenance and return of such seaman as provided in section 16 hereof, or who refuses to make any deduction from the wages of such seaman authorized by section 16 hereof, or who refuses to pay to such seaman the wages found due him after such deduction is made, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district at which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000.12 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be cleared or granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such sum or while any such alien seaman remains on board. Clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such liability upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such sum or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily in the master of a vessel or other person authorized by the Secretary of Labor, shall be prima facie evidence to the contrary.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that the master of any vessel or the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or owner thereof has failed to comply with the provisions of this section, he may refuse clearance papers to such vessel while it remains in any port of the United States, and if such vessel shall depart without clearance papers the collector of customs of the district in which the last port of departure is located may withhold clearance papers for such vessel in the event it returns to any port of the United States, and may refuse clearance papers to any vessel of which such master, agent, consignee, or owner is master, agent, consignee, or owner on any subsequent voyage until such sum has been paid or bond given therefor.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily in the master of a vessel or other person authorized by the Secretary of Labor, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deposit such alien seaman on board such vessel before departure from the last immigration office at which any alien seaman employed on board such vessel was inspected by an immigrant inspector, or of a failure to detain such seaman on board such vessel when required so to do by the Secretary of Labor or any immigrant inspector, or of a refusal to pay the cost of maintenance and return of such seaman as provided in section 16 hereof, or of a refusal to make any deduction from the wages of such seaman authorized by section 16 hereof, or of a refusal to pay to such seaman the wages found due him after such deduction is made, unless and until it is proved that such master, agent, consignee, or owner has complied with the requirements of this section and of the rules and regulations of the Secretary of Labor.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien seaman on any vessel on which he arrived at a port of the United States from any place outside thereof has been unduly delayed by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, such vessel may be required to remain in port not more than five days after the Secretary of Labor notifies the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof that such alien seaman will be taken on board for deportation.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival. But alien in transit through the United States shall not be required to be listed on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 6500) shall not be detained on board the vessel at the port of departure unless specially required by the immigration officer.

When an arriving alien is a citizen or subject of a foreign state contiguous to the United States, and is in possession of a passport issued by the government of such foreign state, or a consular officer of such foreign state has certified in writing to the identity of such alien, such passport or certificate shall be presented to the immigrant inspector at the time of inspection, and the master shall be required to indorse upon the list the name of the country which issued such passport or certificate.

SEC. 30. That upon arrival of a vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, assistant, consignee, agent, charterer, or owner of such vessel, or the person in charge thereof, to deliver to the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival lists containing full and accurate information in the manner required by the rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor shall be required to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of inspection of the vessel at the port of arrival lists containing full and accurate information concerning all the persons who are to be landed at that port, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and such lists shall be signed by the master, assistant, consignee, agent, charterer, or owner of such vessel, and verified by his oath administered by the immigrant inspector. Such lists shall contain the names of all persons who shall have been taken on board such vessel at any foreign port or place destined to the United States, and the names of those who have been transferred from any other vessel or vessels during the journey, and shall show the full names of all persons who are citizens or subjects of foreign states, the last permanent residence of each such person, whether in the United States or elsewhere, the final destination of each such person who is not a citizen or subject of the United States, whether each person has been in the United States previously, and if so, how many times, the calling of each person for which a passport has been issued, the place where and the date when issued, by what authority issued, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. The master, assistant, consignee, agent, charterer, or owner of such vessel shall subscribe and deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of inspection of the vessel at the port of arrival a list containing a full and accurate statement of the number of aliens on board such vessel who have been examined and certified by the examining surgeon at the time of such inspection, and the names of those who have been so certified, and the names of those who have been passed at the time of such inspection without certification by the examining surgeon, and the names of those who have been certified by the examining surgeon since the last inspection, and the names of those who have been certified by the examining surgeon since the last inspection and have been landed, and the names of those who have been certified by the examining surgeon since the last inspection and have died, and the names of those who have been certified by the examining surgeon since the last inspection and have been detained for special examination in relation to their right to enter the United States, and the final disposition of each such case. Any master, assistant, consignee, agent, charterer, or owner of such vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver such lists, or who refuses or neglects to subscribe and deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of inspection of the vessel at the port of arrival a list containing a full and accurate statement of the number of aliens on board such vessel who have been examined and certified by the examining surgeon at the time of such inspection, and the names of those who have been so certified, and the names of those who have been passed at the time of such inspection without certification by the examining surgeon, and the names of those who have been certified by the examining surgeon since the last inspection, and the names of those who have been certified by the examining surgeon since the last inspection and have been landed, and the names of those who have been certified by the examining surgeon since the last inspection and have died, and the names of those who have been certified by the examining surgeon since the last inspection and have been detained for special examination in relation to their right to enter the United States, and the final disposition of each such case, or who refuses or neglects to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of inspection of the vessel at the port of arrival a list containing a full and accurate statement of the number of aliens on board such vessel who have been examined and certified by the examining surgeon at the time of such inspection, and the names of those who have been so certified, and the names of those who have been passed at the time of such inspection without certification by the examining surgeon, and the names of those who have been certified by the examining surgeon since the last inspection, and the names of those who have been certified by the examining surgeon since the last inspection and have been landed, and the names of those who have been certified by the examining surgeon since the last inspection and have died, and the names of those who have been certified by the examining surgeon since the last inspection and have been detained for special examination in relation to their right to enter the United States, and the final disposition of each such case, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district at which the port of arrival is located a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom such report is required to be made, or for each alien concerning whom such report is required to be made who is not included in such report, or who is not presented for examination by the examining surgeon at the time of such inspection, or who is not certified by the examining surgeon at the time of such inspection, or who is not certified by the examining surgeon since the last inspection, or who is not certified by the examining surgeon since the last inspection and has been landed, or who is not certified by the examining surgeon since the last inspection and has died, or who is not certified by the examining surgeon since the last inspection and has been detained for special examination in relation to his right to enter the United States, or concerning whom such report is required to be made who is not presented for examination

The list described below should be prepared on blank forms supplied by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector, boarding the vessel at the first port of call in the United States, in all cases where the vessel is bound to a port of the United States from a foreign port. The list is to contain the names of all persons (4500 in number) on board, and should be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of entry.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That every alien now or hereafter admitted to the United States who is not in possession of a valid unexpired immigrant visa or who is not exempted by law or by the President from the presentation of such visa, or who has come to the United States from foreign contiguous territory, or who has been in the United States two years or more next preceding his application for admission to the United States, shall, in addition to the head tax, pay a sum equal to the head tax at the port where he is applying for admission, to be collected by the immigrant inspector and accounted for as head tax. Every alien who is liable to the payment of the head tax shall be deported as provided by law unless such payment is made within three months after the date when he was notified by the immigrant inspector that he is liable to the payment of the head tax.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 6. Clearance shall not be granted by any officer of the United States to any vessel until the master, before the departure of the vessel from each port of call in the United States, except the last port of departure for a foreign country, shall deliver to the boarding officer at each such port a list or manifest of all persons on board such vessel who are to be landed at such port, which list or manifest shall be sworn to by the master before the boarding officer, and shall show the full name, age, sex, calling or occupation, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each person who is to be landed at such port, and such other information as may be required by the rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. The master shall also deliver to the boarding officer at each port of departure in the United States a correct list or manifest of all persons on board such vessel who have been landed at previous ports of departure in the United States, which list or manifest shall show the full name, age, sex, calling or occupation, nationality, last permanent residence, final destination, and such other information as may be required by the rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Any master who refuses or neglects to deliver such list or manifest, or who refuses to answer truthfully any question relative to the persons on board his vessel propounded by the boarding officer, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. (a) No alien seaman employed upon any vessel arriving at any port of the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land at any United States port except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness which could not have been detected prior to the departure of the vessel from such place, unless such alien seaman shall have been duly admitted to the United States for permanent residence or shall be in possession of a valid immigration visa and otherwise admissible under this Act.

(b) Any alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving at any port of the United States from any place outside thereof, who shall desert while such vessel is in port, shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of this Act, upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, unless such alien seaman shall be admitted for permanent residence or shall be in possession of a valid immigration visa and otherwise admissible under this Act.

SEC. 19. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien seaman who is required by section 18 of this Act to be deported shall be liable to the head tax imposed by section 2 of this Act, and to a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien seaman, which shall be a lien upon the vessel, to be recovered by proceedings in rem in the district court of the United States for the district in which the vessel may be found. The vessel may be libeled for such head tax and fine at any time after arrival at any port of the United States, and may be cleared from such port notwithstanding such head tax and fine are unpaid, upon the filing of a bond or undertaking with sufficient surety approved by the collector of customs in such sum as may be required by him, not exceeding double the amount of such head tax and fine. Such bond or undertaking shall be conditioned upon the payment of such head tax and fine as may be finally determined by the Secretary of Labor or the courts on appeal.

(c) If any master of a vessel fails to detain any alien seaman who is required by section 18 of this Act to be deported, or refuses or fails to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of departure a complete list or manifest of all persons on board such vessel who are to be landed at such port, or refuses to answer truthfully any question relative to the persons on board such vessel propounded by the boarding officer, or refuses or fails to deliver to the immigrant inspector at each port in the United States a complete list or manifest of all persons on board such vessel who are to be landed at such port, or refuses or fails to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of departure from the United States a complete list or manifest of all persons on board such vessel who have been landed at previous ports of departure in the United States, or refuses or fails to deliver to the immigrant inspector at any

I, ---------- of the ----------, do declare that final the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage. I have noted the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1915, extract from subdivision B, rule 7, and copy of sections 13 and 50, Act of May 28, 1924, multon appear below.

Master, First or Second Officer.

Sworn to before me this ---------- day of ---------- 19----

Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector, if there be one (680 shall not be declared on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. The list of aliens on board shall be numbered consecutively, beginning with the number one. If there be no aliens on board, a list to that effect shall be delivered.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of the vessel in the United States from the foreign port the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel in the United States from which the vessel sails shall deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a complete manifest of all the aliens on board the vessel, whether destined to the United States or not, and such additional information relative thereto as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, which manifest shall be prepared on the blank forms furnished by the Commissioner General of Immigration, and shall be certified to by the master of the vessel. The master shall also deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list containing the names of all aliens employed or shipped to engage in any capacity on board the vessel during her call at the port. Any master who knowingly conceals, or attempts to conceal, any alien on board his vessel shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien so concealed, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. If the master of any vessel is ignorant of the right of any person to enter the United States, he may detain such person on board his vessel subject to the order and control of the immigrant inspector in charge until a decision is rendered in the case by the Secretary of Labor upon appeal or otherwise. If the master of any vessel fails to detain any alien on board his vessel after notice that the alien is excluded from admission into the United States by the Secretary of Labor or any immigrant inspector, he shall pay to the collector of customs for the district at which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien so detained, and the vessel may be libeled therefor in the district court of the United States for the district at which the port of arrival is located, and such sum shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by the process of admiralty court, which may, pending the proceedings to enforce the lien, require the vessel or the master thereof to furnish a bond for the payment of such fine, not exceeding the amount thereof, with sureties, to be approved by the court, and may issue all necessary orders and processes to detain the vessel in port until such fine shall be paid or such bond given, and may, in the event of default in such payment, direct the sale of such vessel, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to pay such fine, and the costs and expenses incurred in the proceedings for the recovery thereof. The owner of any vessel upon which or in connection with which any alien shall have been brought into the United States in violation of law shall be liable to a penalty of not more than $200 for each such alien, and the vessel upon which such alien may be brought may be seized and held as security for the payment of such penalty, and may be sold to pay the same if not paid, the proceedings in relation to such sale and the disposition of the proceeds thereof to be the same as in case of sale to enforce a lien for such penalty.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fees levied by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and shall not then unless notice of liability to the administrative and prescribed by said section or to some prescribed by section 36 or said act.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 31. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily to enable the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel to provide for the departure or substitution of such alien seaman, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the allowance of such seaman to land temporarily.

SEC. 36. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who shall refuse to obey any lawful requirement of the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival, or any immigrant inspector, or who shall refuse to detain any alien seaman on board, shall upon conviction be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien seaman in respect of whom such refusal occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment thereof. Such fine may be remitted or mitigated by the Secretary of Labor, whose decision shall be final.

(b) Every such alien seaman who shall not depart with the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from the port of arrival, or who, after having been granted permission to land temporarily, shall remain in the United States for a longer period than that for which he was granted permission, without the consent of the Secretary of Labor, shall be deported in the manner provided by the immigration laws for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States unlawfully. Such deportation shall be at the expense of the appropriation for the expenses of the Bureau of Immigration, and the cost of the maintenance of such alien seaman while in the United States shall be paid out of such appropriation.

(c) Every such alien seaman who shall not depart with the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from the port of arrival, or who, after having been granted permission to land temporarily, shall remain in the United States for a longer period than that for which he was granted permission, without the consent of the Secretary of Labor, shall be deported in the manner provided by the immigration laws for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States unlawfully. Such deportation shall be at the expense of the appropriation for the expenses of the Bureau of Immigration, and the cost of the maintenance of such alien seaman while in the United States shall be paid out of such appropriation.

(d) Every such alien seaman who shall not depart with the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from the port of arrival, or who, after having been granted permission to land temporarily, shall remain in the United States for a longer period than that for which he was granted permission, without the consent of the Secretary of Labor, shall be deported in the manner provided by the immigration laws for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States unlawfully. Such deportation shall be at the expense of the appropriation for the expenses of the Bureau of Immigration, and the cost of the maintenance of such alien seaman while in the United States shall be paid out of such appropriation.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien seaman on any vessel on which he arrived in the United States from the port of arrival, and such vessel has departed from the port of arrival, and such vessel has departed from the port of arrival, and such vessel has departed

The list described below should be prepared on plain foolscap paper and each page signed by the master or other officer in charge of the vessel. The list is to be prepared in duplicate, one copy to be delivered to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the first port of entry in the United States, and the other copy to be delivered to the immigration officer at the last port of departure from a foreign country. The list is to be retained on board, and shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival in the United States (950 Main Building, Washington, D. C.).

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That every alien arriving at a seaport in the United States from any foreign port to which it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, charterer, or commanding officer of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States to deliver to such alien a certificate of the physical and mental examination of such alien, and to report to the Commissioner of Immigration at the port of arrival the name of every alien who may have been certified by the examining surgeons as suffering from a mental or physical defect of such character as to render the alien liable to exclusion under the provisions of this Act, and the names of the aliens so certified shall be indicated on the list or manifest required to be delivered by the master or commanding officer of the vessel to the immigration officers at the port of arrival in the United States. Every such master, owner, agent, consignee, charterer, or commanding officer of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to perform any of the duties imposed upon him by this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every such refusal or neglect, and no vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and such vessel may be libeled therefor in the United States district court for the district into which she first arrives or in which she may be found by the collector of customs of the district to which she belongs, and may be detained by the collector until the payment of such fine shall be finally determined or such vessel shall have given a bond with sufficient surety therefor to the satisfaction of the collector, in which proceeding the decision of the court shall be final: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fees imposed by section 35 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been transferred, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fee prescribed by section 35 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from application B, rule 7, and copy of section 13 and 50, Act of May 28, 1934, multiple appear below.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. (a) No alien seaman employed on board any vessel of the United States under the immigration laws of the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except upon such conditions as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor and the Secretary of the Treasury, to insure to the greatest extent possible that such alien seaman will depart from the United States from the port through which he entered the United States or from any port to which subsequently transferred with the consent of the Secretary of Labor on board the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on board some other vessel. Such alien seaman shall be deported in the manner provided in section 20 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (8 U.S.C., sec. 156) as in the case of any other alien illegally in the United States. Any such alien seaman who shall have been granted shore leave temporarily by the master, agent, or consignee of the vessel on which he arrived, and who fails to return to such vessel or to depart from the United States on any other vessel or in any other manner permitted by law within the period of such shore leave or any extension thereof granted by the Secretary of Labor, shall be deported in the manner provided in section 20 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (8 U.S.C., sec. 156) as in the case of any other alien illegally in the United States.

(b) Every alien seaman, other than a native of the United States, who shall be employed on board any vessel of the United States shall be registered by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel in such manner and at such time and place as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Such registry shall include a personal description of such alien seaman, including his nationality, last foreign residence, and such other facts as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Such registry shall be prima facie evidence of the matters required to be recorded therein in favor of any such alien seaman in any proceeding under the immigration laws, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel failing to register any alien seaman employed on board such vessel as required by this subsection shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 for each such alien seaman with respect to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and such vessel may be libeled therefor in the United States district court for the district into which she first arrives or in which she may be found by the collector of customs of the district to which she belongs, and may be detained by the collector until the payment of such fine shall be finally determined or such vessel shall have been granted clearance papers pursuant to the provisions of section 4378 of the Revised Statutes, as amended, or bond given for the payment of such fine in such sum and with such sureties as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

(c) If any seaman shall desert while his vessel is in any port in the United States, it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to report the desertion to the immigration officer at the port of departure, stating the full name, nationality, last foreign residence, and such other facts as may be required by the Secretary of Labor concerning the deserting seaman, and to deliver to such immigration officer any papers belonging to such seaman which may be in the possession or control of such master, agent, consignee, or owner. Any such master, agent, consignee, or owner who shall fail to report any such desertion or to deliver any such papers shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and such vessel may be libeled therefor in the United States district court for the district into which she first arrives or in which she may be found by the collector of customs of the district to which she belongs, and may be detained by the collector until the payment of such fine shall be finally determined or such vessel shall have been granted clearance papers pursuant to the provisions of section 4378 of the Revised Statutes, as amended, or bond given for the payment of such fine in such sum and with such sureties as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall desert while his vessel is in any port in the United States shall be ineligible to be admitted to the United States during the period of twelve months thereafter, unless prior to his application for admission he shall have been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence, and every alien seaman who shall remain in the United States after the departure of the vessel on which he arrived, or other vessel on which he may have been lawfully transferred, shall be deported in the manner provided in section 20 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (8 U.S.C., sec. 156) as in the case of any other alien illegally in the United States.

(e) If any seaman employed on any vessel of the United States shall be found dead, or shall die or disappear from any such vessel while in a port of the United States, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall report the circumstances thereof to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and deliver to such officer any papers belonging to such seaman which may be in his possession or control. Any such master, agent, consignee, or owner who shall fail to report any such death or disappearance or to deliver any such papers shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and such vessel may be libeled therefor in the United States district court for the district into which she first arrives or in which she may be found by the collector of customs of the district to which she belongs, and may be detained by the collector until the payment of such fine shall be finally determined or such vessel shall have been granted clearance papers pursuant to the provisions of section 4378 of the Revised Statutes, as amended, or bond given for the payment of such fine in such sum and with such sureties as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

LIST OF RACES OR PEOPLES

INSTRUCTIONS FOR FILLING OUT MANIFESTS

Separate sheets should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark.

(FROM MALTA)

The people who are going to settle in the district of Iowa should go to the port of the Iowa Bay to be inspected. Iowa (i.e., the northern Iowa) comprises the districts of Piedmont, Lombardy, Venetia, and Emilia, but excludes Tuscany, which should be classed as "Rome (north)". Rome (i.e., Latium) and Tuscany should be shown separately, as they will require different treatment.

(FROM ITALY)

The people who are going to settle in the district of Iowa should go to the port of the Iowa Bay. To (i.e., comprises the districts of Piedmont, Lombardy, Venetia, and Emilia. Tuscany, the Marches, Umbria, Rome, and Abruzzi and Molise. Campania, Apulia, Basilicata, Calabria, Sicily, and Sardinia) and each passenger should be classed as "Italy (south)".

Column 11 (Last permanent residence).—Answer to be as in Intended Residence in the case of those born in Malta.

Column 12 (Last residence).—Put last country in which person has resided for a year or more. Birthplace should be given only if same as last residence. Visits to other countries should be disregarded.

Column 13 (Ticket).—Write as in Column 11 of List A.

Column 14 (Whether holding a ticket to its ultimate destination).—Write "Yes" or "No".

Column 15 (Whether in possession of money or prepaid order, and how much).—Write "Yes" or "No". If "Yes", state amount in words, not figures. Money includes bankers' drafts, circular notes, letters of credit, and any other means of obtaining money at destination. It is important that all persons who have the means to support themselves should be entered as having such means, as otherwise they may be refused admission into the United States.

Column 16 (Whether going to join friend or relative, and, if so, name and address of friend or relative).—Write "Yes" or "No". If "Yes", state name and address in full of friend or relative to whom passenger is going, as "John Smith, 1427 Main Street, Iowa City, Iowa". Do not write "Friend" or "Relative" unless the name is also given.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.—1. Check every name against the manifest to see that no name has been omitted. Include infants. Number consecutively, beginning with 1 for each sheet. Do not begin a new sheet for each class of passengers. Complete each sheet before beginning the next. Use as many sheets as may be necessary.

2. Each sheet must be signed by the master or agent. Erasures must be initialed.

3. Any alien who has resided in the United States and who departs therefrom for temporary visit abroad should have his certificate of identity viséed by an American consular officer before sailing.

4. Any alien who has resided in the United States and who intends to return after a temporary visit abroad should apply to the Department of Labor, Washington, D. C., for a certificate of identity before sailing from a port in the United States.

5. Any alien who intends to become a citizen of the United States must have in his possession at the time of sailing from a port in the United States his declaration of intention or certificate of naturalization, or he may be refused the right to land in a foreign country and return to the United States.

6. Any alien who intends to become a citizen of the United States should not depart therefrom for a temporary visit abroad without first communicating with the Bureau of Naturalization, Washington, D. C., for information as to his rights and obligations.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector at the port of arrival, and in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens required by this section shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 888) and not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien is a "stowaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of a vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival like manifests and duplicates thereof in the manner and form required by section 12 of this Act, and any such owner, agent, consignee, or master who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such manifests and duplicates, or who shall deliver manifests which are incorrect or incomplete in any material respect, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment: Provided, That the master of any vessel who has on board thereof any alien who has been refused admission to the United States shall cause such alien to be detained on board such vessel and shall deliver him to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for removal to the country whence he came, at the expense of the vessel, unless the Secretary of Labor shall otherwise direct: Provided further, That the master of any vessel who fails to report and deliver or detain any alien as herein provided, or who violates any of the provisions of this section relating to any such alien, shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each such alien in respect of whom such violation occurs. (a) Any vessel which is required by this section to detain any alien on board while such alien is being inspected by immigrant inspectors, or pending the decision of a board of special inquiry, shall pay to the collector of customs of the district at which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1.00 for each such alien so detained for each period of twenty-four hours or fraction thereof in excess of the first twenty-four hours during which such alien is detained, and such sum shall be a lien upon the vessel, and may be recovered in the name of the United States in any court of competent jurisdiction: Provided, That no such charge shall be made for the detention of any alien in respect of whom a certificate is issued by the Secretary of Labor under the provisions of section 3 of the immigration act of February 5, 1917, or who is in transit through the United States to a foreign country, or who is detained for examination or treatment by the United States Public Health Service, or who is detained for any cause for which the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which he arrived at a port of the United States shall be adjudged to have been in no way responsible: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, remit any charge provided for in this section. (b) Every alien who may be refused a landing from any vessel at any port of the United States shall be returned on the vessel bringing him to the port at which he was originally taken on board, or to the country from which he came to the United States, at the option of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, and the cost of his maintenance while detained and of his return shall be borne by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel bringing him to the United States. (c) If the Secretary of Labor shall order any alien to be returned under the provisions of this section, no appeal shall be allowed to review the decision of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel having on board any person liable to be refused a landing certificate by section 2 of the Act of February 5, 1917, until such person has been landed and such certificate delivered to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel, or his duly authorized representative, by the immigrant inspector, and a clearance granted by section 34 of the Act of February 5, 1917, until the master has delivered to the immigrant inspector a list containing the name of each alien on board, the country of which he is a citizen or subject, the country from which he last came, and the number of pieces of baggage belonging to each alien, and has made oath before the immigrant inspector that the list contains a full and correct statement of all aliens on board, and that he has not knowingly or willfully concealed, or caused to be concealed, any such alien.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under this or any other law or treaty now or hereafter in force may be employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty or temporarily and for a period not to exceed 29 days in case of a vessel arriving at the United States from any port in the West Indies, Central America, Mexico, Newfoundland, or Canada, or temporarily and for a period not to exceed 7 days in case of a vessel arriving at the United States from any other foreign port, unless specifically certified by the Secretary of Labor to the master of such vessel as a member of a class found by the Secretary of Labor to be necessary for the proper navigation of such vessel, and to be not unacceptable to the United States because of their character, history, or loyalty to the United States or its institutions, and to be not likely to become a public charge, and to be not likely to attempt to enter the United States to engage in any immoral occupation or practice. (a) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who shall employ any alien seaman (whether a member of the crew or otherwise) on board any vessel in violation of this section, or who shall cause or permit any such alien seaman to depart from the United States on board any vessel, except as provided in this section, shall pay to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien so employed, and such sum shall be a lien upon the vessel, and may be recovered in the name of the United States in any court of competent jurisdiction: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may remit any such fine, or any part thereof, if he shall be satisfied that the person who employed such alien seaman on board such vessel did not know and could not with reasonable diligence have ascertained that such alien seaman was not a citizen of the United States, and that such person has not previously employed any alien seaman in violation of this section, or knowingly or willfully concealed, or caused to be concealed, any such alien seaman, or knowingly or willfully aided or abetted any such alien seaman to evade any of the provisions of this section. (b) Every alien seaman who may be refused a landing from any vessel at any port of the United States shall be returned on the vessel bringing him to the port at which he was originally taken on board, or to the country from which he came to the United States, at the option of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, and the cost of his maintenance while detained and of his return shall be borne by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel bringing him to the United States. (c) If the Secretary of Labor shall order any alien to be returned under the provisions of this section, no appeal shall be allowed to review the decision of the Secretary of Labor.

(a) Every alien who shall not be admitted into the United States or who shall be deported from the United States under any law or treaty now or hereafter in force, upon the certificate in writing of a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service that in his opinion such alien is afflicted with a dangerous contagious disease, shall be detained on board or at quarantine or in such hospital as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor until a certificate is issued by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service that in his opinion such alien is not afflicted with such disease or that such disease in his opinion does not require detention, or such alien shall be otherwise duly admitted or deported. (b) Every alien who shall not be admitted into the United States shall be deported on the vessel bringing him to the port at which he was originally taken on board, or to the country from which he came to the United States, at the option of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, and the cost of his maintenance while detained and of his return shall be borne by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel bringing him to the United States. (c) If the Secretary of Labor shall order any alien to be returned under the provisions of this section, no appeal shall be allowed to review the decision of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspectors desiring the same at the port at which the said ship shall arrive on or before the sailing of the vessel. The list shall be numbered on board, and shall be delivered by the master of the vessel to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 688) and one "foreman" a duplicate of such list shall be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port to which it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver lists or manifests of passengers, the master of such vessel, before proceeding to any other port, shall deliver to the boarding officer at the port of arrival lists which contain information in the English language and in the following form concerning each and every alien on board such vessel, whether destined to the United States or not, which shall be filled out legibly and submitted to the boarding officer:

Names in full of all persons, including children, in the family group; age; sex; whether married or single; calling or occupation; whether able to read or write; nationality; last residence; final destination, if not to the United States; whether in possession of railroad ticket or other ticket to such destination; whether the passage is paid by himself or by others, and if by others, whether by relatives or friends or by the government or State to which they belong; whether in possession of $50 in money or more, and if less than $50 the amount possessed; whether ever before in the United States, and if so, when, where, and how long; whether going to join relatives or friends, and if so, what relatives or friends, their names and addresses; whether coming for labor, and if so, whether he has a ticket through to his destination; whether his transportation is paid for by others, or by himself; whether he has been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity; whether a polygamist; whether an anarchist; whether coming by reason of any offer, solicited or unsolicited, direct or indirect, to perform labor in the United States; whether connected with any labor organization; whether ever before rejected and for what reason; whether accompanying any rejected or deported alien, and if so, what relation to such alien; whether ever engaged in any form in the practice of polygamy; whether under sentence of death for any offense; whether deformed or crippled, and if so, how long and how; height; complexion; color of hair and eyes; marks of identification.

SEC. 37. (a) That the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof with intent to land therein any alien not duly certified by a consular officer of the United States to be in possession of the proper documents required by this Act, or who shall not appear to the inspection officers to be in possession of such documents, shall be liable to a penalty of $200 for each such alien, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty, or while the same remains unpaid, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers thereafter until such penalty shall have been paid, unless the master of such vessel shall have delivered a bond to the collector of customs of the district from which such vessel is about to depart, in a penal sum equal to the amount of such penalty, conditioned upon the payment thereof as hereinafter provided, and such vessel may be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs upon the deposit with him of the amount of such penalty by the master of such vessel, pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment thereof, and in such case the money deposited shall be returned or the bond canceled, as the case may be, upon a finding that no such penalty is due.

(b) That the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, shall prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the proper execution of the provisions of this section, and may employ such additional inspectors at the various ports of arrival as may be necessary for the prompt performance of the duties imposed by this section, to be appointed in the same manner as other inspectors are appointed.

(c) That any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States who refuses to allow such alien to land in the United States, except those specified in section 3 of this Act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such alien, or by imprisonment for a period not exceeding one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(d) That any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States who shall refuse or neglect to return such alien on the same vessel or on the vessel of the same line on which such alien arrived in the United States to the port from which such vessel sailed, or to some other port which may be designated by the Commissioner General of Immigration, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such alien, or by imprisonment for a period not exceeding one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(e) That any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States who shall refuse or fail to deliver to the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival a list containing the information required by this Act, or who shall refuse or fail to furnish the information required by this Act, or who shall refuse or fail to answer truthfully to the best of his knowledge and belief all questions propounded to him by the immigration officer at the port of arrival touching the right of any alien to enter the United States, or who shall refuse or fail to detain any alien on board his vessel when ordered so to do by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who shall refuse or fail to comply with the regulations of the Commissioner General of Immigration governing the care of aliens detained on board vessels pending the examination of such aliens by the immigration officers at the port of arrival, or who shall refuse or fail to carry out the instructions of the immigration officer in charge with respect to the separate detention of any alien who shall be suffering from a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such alien in respect to whom such default occurs, or by imprisonment for a period not exceeding one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(f) That any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States who shall refuse or fail to comply with the requirements of the immigration officer in charge with respect to the separate detention of any alien who shall be suffering from a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, or who shall refuse or fail to detain in quarantine such alien for the period of time required by the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such alien so detained, or by imprisonment for a period not exceeding one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(g) That any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States who shall refuse or fail to deliver such alien to the immigration officers for examination, or who shall refuse or fail to detain such alien on board or at such place as the immigration officer may designate, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such alien so landed, or by imprisonment for a period not exceeding one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(h) That any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States who shall refuse or fail to pay the head tax levied by section 2 of this Act, or who shall refuse or fail to pay the cost of maintenance and care of such alien while detained by the immigration officers at the port of arrival, or who shall refuse or fail to pay the cost of such alien's transportation to the place of his detention, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such alien, or by imprisonment for a period not exceeding one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(i) That any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States who shall refuse or fail to report, detain, or deliver such alien in accordance with the provisions of this Act, or any rule, regulation, or order made thereunder, or who shall refuse or fail to pay any tax, fine, or penalty due and owing by such alien at the time of his application for admission to the United States, or who shall aid or abet such alien to come unlawfully to the United States or to land in any place other than one designated by an immigration officer or at any time not designated by the immigration officers for the landing of aliens, or who shall transport such alien by any means, in order to prevent such alien from coming to an immigration officer for inspection or from reporting to such officer, or who shall conceal or harbor such alien, or who shall assist such alien to escape after he has been taken into custody, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $2,000 or by imprisonment for a period not exceeding two years, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(j) That any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States who shall fail to comply with any of the requirements of this Act, or any rule, regulation, or order made thereunder, for which no other penalty is prescribed, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $500 for each such offense, or by imprisonment for a period not exceeding six months, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(k) That any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States who shall refuse or fail to deliver to the immigration officers at the port of arrival the certificate from the consular officer at the port of foreign departure, as provided for in section 9 of this Act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such alien so landed, or by imprisonment for a period not exceeding one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(l) That any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States who shall refuse or fail to deliver to the immigration officers at the port of arrival the manifest required by section 12 of this Act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such alien so landed, or by imprisonment for a period not exceeding one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 38. That the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may prescribe such additional rules and regulations as may be necessary for the proper execution of the provisions of this Act, and any violation of any such rule or regulation shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $100 or by imprisonment for a period not exceeding one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under this Act, except one employed on board a vessel arriving at a port of the United States, and no alien seaman employed on board any vessel which shall depart from the United States, except those regularly classified as such by the Commissioner General of Immigration, or intending to abandon his employment in the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or for such other cause as may be approved by the Secretary of Labor, and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe, but the decision of the Secretary of Labor may be reviewed by the Secretary of Commerce. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act, and the cost of his maintenance while detained, and of his deportation, shall be paid from the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act. Any alien seaman who shall be employed on board any vessel in the United States and who shall desert such vessel shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act, and at the request of the master of such vessel shall be detained in custody pending the departure of such vessel from the United States. Any master who refuses to detain such alien seaman on board his vessel or to deliver him to the immigration officers for deportation, or who refuses to pay the cost of his maintenance while detained, shall be liable to a penalty of $500 for each such alien seaman. Any alien seaman who shall desert while his vessel is in port in the United States shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act, unless he shall have married a citizen of the United States and shall have filed his declaration of intention to become a citizen of the United States, or shall have resided in the United States for five years next preceding his application for admission to Canada, Newfoundland, Cuba, Mexico, South America, Central America, the West Indies, the Philippine Islands, the Canal Zone, or the Hawaiian Islands, and shall have sailed thereafter on a vessel regularly engaged in trade between ports of the United States and ports of one or more of such countries, and shall have been lawfully admitted to the United States after inspection by the immigration officers at the port of arrival as provided in this Act. Any alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States who shall be discharged from such vessel, with the consent of the master, by the order of the shipping commissioner, or other authority, at the port of arrival, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act, at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act, unless he shall ship as a seaman on board some vessel at the same or some other port within one month after such discharge, and such vessel shall depart from the United States within one month after such alien seaman shall have shipped on board thereof. Any alien seaman who shall have been granted shore leave while his vessel was in port shall not be refused admission to the United States solely because the period of such shore leave shall have expired before the departure of such vessel from a port of the United States, if the master or agent of such vessel shall certify in writing to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival the name of such alien seaman prior to the departure of such vessel from such port, and such alien seaman shall have reported on board such vessel within a period of time from the departure of such vessel from such port equal to the period of such shore leave granted to such alien seaman.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a list containing the name and description of all persons who shall be on board such vessel, whether they are to land or remain on board, whether they are citizens of the United States or aliens, whether they have been naturalized or not, whether they are in possession of certificates of naturalization or not, the country of which they severally are citizens or subjects, their calling or occupation, whether they can read or write, whether they have been in the United States previously and if so when and how long, whether they have been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether they are under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, their final destination, whether they have a ticket through to such destination, whether their passage is paid by themselves or by others, whether they have in their possession or have been supplied with money by others, and if so the amount thereof, whether they are coming to join relatives or friends, and if so what relatives or friends, whether they have ever been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether they are connected with any institution for the insane or feebleminded, whether they are coming by reason of any offer, solicited or unsolicited, to labor in the United States, and if so what is the nature of such offer, whether they are in possession of the amount of money required by the immigration laws to be in the possession of each immigrant, and such other information as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, touching the right of any such person to enter the United States, which list shall be sworn to before the consular officer of the United States at the port of departure of such vessel, or, if there be no consular officer at such port, before the collector of customs or his deputy, or other officer designated by the Secretary of the Treasury for the purpose, or before the chief officer of customs at the last port at which such vessel touched before coming to the United States, or before the commissioner of immigration, if any, at such port, and shall be delivered by the master to the immigrant inspector at the port of first arrival in the United States. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such list, or who shall refuse to answer truly any question herein required touching any passenger, shall pay a penalty of $10 for each such refusal or neglect, and the vessel shall not be granted clearance until such penalty is paid or until the refusal to pay is reported to the Secretary of the Treasury.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 38 of said act has been served, the deposit abolished in case 35 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. (a) Alien seamen entering the United States from adjacent foreign territory solely in pursuance of their employment on board any vessel arriving in the United States may be permitted by the Commissioner of Immigration, subject to such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, to enter the United States, except contiguous territory for which separate provision is made by section 3 of this Act, without being subject to the head tax or visa fee provided for in this Act, and without being subject to the provisions of the immigration laws, except those relating to the refusal of admission to any such alien seaman and his deportation in pursuance thereof, and except those relating to the treatment in the United States of aliens admitted temporarily to the United States.

(b) Any alien seaman employed on board any vessel which arrives at a port of the United States from any place outside thereof, or any alien seaman who has been allowed to enter the United States temporarily as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, who deserts or remains in the United States after the departure of the vessel on board which he arrived, or after the departure of any other vessel on board which he has been allowed to enter the United States temporarily as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, shall be deemed to be a person who has entered the United States in violation of law, and shall be subject to deportation as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act.

(c) Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States under the provisions of this section and who is certified by the immigrant inspector at the port of entry to be suffering from any disease or disability for which he may be excluded from admission into the United States shall not be permitted to land, notwithstanding the provisions of this section, but shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act.

(d) Any alien seaman who lands temporarily in the United States under the provisions of this section and who is found by the Secretary of Labor to have remained in the United States for a period longer than permitted by the Secretary of Labor, or to have performed labor other than that required in the normal operation of the vessel, or to have failed to depart on any vessel on which he may be destined and which is ready to depart, shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act, irrespective of the time limitations imposed by section 19 of this Act.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien seaman who has been allowed to enter the United States temporarily as provided in subdivision (a) of this section will be unduly burdensome because of the lack of transportation facilities, he may, under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, permit such alien seaman to depart from a port other than a port of the United States, and such departure shall be deemed for the purposes of this Act to be in lieu of deportation of such alien seaman by the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 16. (a) No alien seaman employed upon any vessel arriving at any port of the United States shall be permitted to land temporarily unless (1) such alien seaman is in possession of a valid passport issued by the government of the country to which he owes allegiance, or by a consular officer of such country, and (2) such alien seaman is in possession of a valid visa issued by a consular officer of the United States, except that a visa may be issued to such alien seaman for the purpose of his temporary landing in the United States without a passport if the consular officer is satisfied that a passport cannot be obtained by such alien seaman without undue delay.

(b) Upon the arrival of any vessel at any port of the United States, the master or commanding officer, or the agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of such vessel shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at such port a list or manifest of all alien seamen employed on board such vessel, which list or manifest shall be prepared with such particulars concerning each such alien seaman as may be required by the Secretary of Labor and in such form as he may prescribe, and shall be sworn to before an immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's entry at such port. The master or commanding officer of any such vessel may, in case of sickness or death or other unavoidable cause, report and deliver such list or manifest at the earliest practicable time, and in case of his inability to do so, such list or manifest may be sworn to and delivered by the first cabin passenger, or by the second cabin passenger if there be no first cabin passenger, or by the person acting in the capacity of steward if there be no second cabin passenger, or by the highest officer or member of the crew who shall be available.

(c) Upon the arrival of any vessel at any port of the United States, the master or commanding officer, or the agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of such vessel shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at such port a list or manifest of all alien seamen employed on board such vessel, which list or manifest shall be prepared with such particulars concerning each such alien seaman as may be required by the Secretary of Labor and in such form as he may prescribe, and shall be sworn to before an immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's entry at such port. The master or commanding officer of any such vessel may, in case of sickness or death or other unavoidable cause, report and deliver such list or manifest at the earliest practicable time, and in case of his inability to do so, such list or manifest may be sworn to and delivered by the first cabin passenger, or by the second cabin passenger if there be no first cabin passenger, or by the person acting in the capacity of steward if there be no second cabin passenger, or by the highest officer or member of the crew who shall be available.

(d) Upon the arrival of any vessel at any port of the United States, the master or commanding officer, or the agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of such vessel shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at such port a list or manifest of all alien seamen employed on board such vessel, which list or manifest shall be prepared with such particulars concerning each such alien seaman as may be required by the Secretary of Labor and in such form as he may prescribe, and shall be sworn to before an immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's entry at such port. The master or commanding officer of any such vessel may, in case of sickness or death or other unavoidable cause, report and deliver such list or manifest at the earliest practicable time, and in case of his inability to do so, such list or manifest may be sworn to and delivered by the first cabin passenger, or by the second cabin passenger if there be no first cabin passenger, or by the person acting in the capacity of steward if there be no second cabin passenger, or by the highest officer or member of the crew who shall be available.

(e) Upon the arrival of any vessel at any port of the United States, the master or commanding officer, or the agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of such vessel shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at such port a list or manifest of all alien seamen employed on board such vessel, which list or manifest shall be prepared with such particulars concerning each such alien seaman as may be required by the Secretary of Labor and in such form as he may prescribe, and shall be sworn to before an immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's entry at such port. The master or commanding officer of any such vessel may, in case of sickness or death or other unavoidable cause, report and deliver such list or manifest at the earliest practicable time, and in case of his inability to do so, such list or manifest may be sworn to and delivered by the first cabin passenger, or by the second cabin passenger if there be no first cabin passenger, or by the person acting in the capacity of steward if there be no second cabin passenger, or by the highest officer or member of the crew who shall be available.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFESTS

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port in which passengers embark for the United States, according to separate immigrant and non-immigrant classes, and for the third class and the so-called tourist class, where there is a distinct steerage compartment. The number on each manifest should begin with the figure 1 and run consecutively throughout that manifest, no matter how many different alien nationalities are included. The manifest should be filled in ink or typewritten.

(STOP)

MAINE

The people who live on the island of Ivan's motion and the people who live on the island of Brant are the people who are going to the United States, according to separate immigrant and non-immigrant classes, and for the third class and the so-called tourist class, where there is a distinct steerage compartment. The number on each manifest should begin with the figure 1 and run consecutively throughout that manifest, no matter how many different alien nationalities are included. The manifest should be filled in ink or typewritten.

Column 1 (Number on list.)—Number each person, beginning with 1 for the first person listed in each family and with 1 for each person traveling alone.

Column 2 (Name in full.)—Enter surname (family name) and given names (first name and middle name or initial) of all persons, including infants. Do not abbreviate. Give the name of any person who is deceased, whether an adult or child, who was a member of the family group or who was traveling with the group and who died en route to the United States.

Column 3 (Relationship.)—Enter relationship of each person listed to the head of the family, as husband, wife, son, daughter, brother, sister, father, mother, grandfather, grandmother, uncle, aunt, nephew, niece, cousin, friend, servant, etc. Do not enter "head," "wife," "child," or "servant" for persons traveling alone.

Column 4 (Age.)—Enter age of person at last birthday. Infants under 1 year old should be entered as "1 m." or "2 m.," etc., according to the number of months old.

Column 5 (Sex.)—Enter "M" for male or "F" for female.

Column 6 (Married or single.)—Enter "M" for married, "S" for single, "W" for widowed, or "D" for divorced.

Column 7 (Occupation.)—Enter "None" for children and persons of no occupation. For persons having an occupation, enter the occupation specifically, as "laborer," "servant," "clerk," "seamstress," "housewife," "merchant," "farmer," "professor," "author," "physician," "musician," "actress," "editor," "lawyer," "engineer," "accountant," "bookkeeper," "stenographer," "barber," "tailor," "dressmaker," "miner," "driver," "chauffeur," "mason," "carpenter," "painter," "baker," "butcher," "blacksmith," "shoemaker," "weaver," "cook," "waiter," "housekeeper," "nurse," "servant," "laborer," "clerk," etc., but not merely "factory," "mill hand," "office," "manufacturer," "dealer," "agent," "broker," "contractor," or "gentleman." Do not abbreviate occupations.

Column 8 (Can read?)—Enter "Yes" or "No" to indicate whether the person can read.

Column 9 (Can write?)—Enter "Yes" or "No" to indicate whether the person can write.

Column 10 (Race or people.)—See list of races or peoples printed on back of this sheet. The races or peoples should be entered as specifically as possible, as "Irish," "German," "English," "Scotch," "Welsh," "French," "Dutch," "Flemish," "Swiss," "Norwegian," "Swedish," "Danish," "Russian," "Finnish," "Lithuanian," "Polish," "Bohemian," "Moravian," "Slovak," "Hungarian," "Croatian," "Servian," "Bulgarian," "Dalmatian," "Greek," "Italian," "Spanish," "Portuguese," "Mexican," "Cuban," "West Indian," "Japanese," "Chinese," "Hindu," "Arabian," "Syrian," "Turkish," "Armenian," "Persian," "Negro," "Indian," etc. Do not enter "American" or "United States" as the race or people of any person.

Column 11 (Last residence.)—Enter the country of last permanent residence of each person, as "England," "France," "Germany," "Spain," "Italy," "Mexico," "Canada," "Cuba," "Porto Rico," "China," "Japan," "India," "Australia," "Scotland," "Ireland," "Wales," etc. Do not enter "United States" or the name of any city, town, or village in the United States.

Column 12 (Intending permanent residence in the United States?)—Enter "Yes" or "No" to indicate whether each person intends to become a permanent resident of the United States.

Column 13 (Final destination.)—Enter the city, town, or village in the United States to which each person is destined, as the place where he intends to settle permanently or for an indefinite period. Do not enter "United States" unless the person intends to remain permanently in the United States as a whole.

Column 14 (Have you ever been in the United States? If so, when?)—Enter "Yes" or "No" to indicate whether each person has been in the United States at any time previous to the present visit, and if so, the approximate date of the last visit.

Column 15 (Have you ever been in prison or in almshouse or asylum? If so, which?)—Enter "Yes" or "No" to indicate whether each person has been in prison or in almshouse or asylum for the insane or for the support at public charge, and if so, which institution.

Column 16 (Have you ever been in a prison, almshouse, asylum, or hospital for treatment of mental disease? If so, which?)—Enter "Yes" or "No" to indicate whether each person has been in a prison, almshouse, asylum, or hospital for treatment of mental disease, and if so, which institution.

Column 17 (Have you ever been in a prison, almshouse, asylum, or hospital for treatment of tuberculosis? If so, which?)—Enter "Yes" or "No" to indicate whether each person has been in a prison, almshouse, asylum, or hospital for treatment of tuberculosis, and if so, which institution.

Column 18 (Have you ever been in a prison, almshouse, asylum, or hospital for treatment of epilepsy? If so, which?)—Enter "Yes" or "No" to indicate whether each person has been in a prison, almshouse, asylum, or hospital for treatment of epilepsy, and if so, which institution.

Column 19 (Have you ever been in a prison, almshouse, asylum, or hospital for treatment of insanity? If so, which?)—Enter "Yes" or "No" to indicate whether each person has been in a prison, almshouse, asylum, or hospital for treatment of insanity, and if so, which institution.

Column 20 (Have you ever been in a prison, almshouse, asylum, or hospital for treatment of any form of mental disease? If so, which?)—Enter "Yes" or "No" to indicate whether each person has been in a prison, almshouse, asylum, or hospital for treatment of any form of mental disease, and if so, which institution.

Column 21 (Have you ever been in a prison, almshouse, asylum, or hospital for treatment of any form of mental disease? IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

Attention is called to the requirement of the Department that a search for deserters be made on board vessels arriving at this port. The list of crew's effects must be prepared in duplicate, and a careful examination of the same made by the Immigrant Inspector before the vessel is allowed to proceed to the dock. Any deserters found on board will be arrested and taken before the United States Commissioner for examination.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That every alien now or hereafter admitted into the United States or now or hereafter residing in the United States who shall go from any State or Territory to or across the border into another State or Territory or the District of Columbia, or to any island possession of the United States, or who shall go from the District of Columbia or any island possession of the United States to any State or Territory or another island possession, or who shall go from one place to another in the United States through a foreign country, shall be required before leaving the place of his then actual residence to obtain from the Secretary of Labor, or such person or persons as he may designate for the purpose, a certificate stating the right of such alien to go from such place to such other place, and the time within which he is to complete the journey and reach destination. Every such alien who shall leave the place of his then actual residence without obtaining such certificate, or who shall fail to reach destination within the time specified therein, shall be deported as provided in this Act. Every such alien shall, upon demand of any immigrant inspector, or other officer designated by the Secretary of Labor, or by any person in charge or command of any railway train or other vehicle, or vessel, before being allowed to depart from or leave any place in the United States, whether he intends to depart therefrom by railway train or other vehicle, or vessel, or to proceed to another State or Territory or the District of Columbia, or to any island possession of the United States, or to pass through a foreign country, exhibit and surrender his certificate as above provided, and in default thereof shall be taken into custody and returned as provided in this Act in the case of aliens illegally remaining in the United States.

SEC. 36. (a) That every alien, whether a citizen or subject of a country now or hereafter imposing a head tax or not, who is not in possession of a valid unexpired immigrant visa or other document required by section 2 of this Act, or who is not in possession of a valid unexpired passport, or other travel document in lieu of passport, if a passport or travel document is required by the rules made hereunder by the President, or who is not in possession of a valid unexpired immigrant visa or other travel document required by section 9 of this Act, and a valid unexpired passport, or other travel document in lieu of passport, if a passport or travel document is required by the rules made hereunder by the President, and who enters or attempts to enter the United States at a port of entry, or who comes in search of admission to the United States elsewhere than at a port of entry, or who is brought into the United States in any manner whatsoever not subsequently lawfully admitted by an immigrant inspector at a port of entry, shall be deported as provided in this Act. Any alien who at any time after entering the United States is found to have been at the time of entry a member of any of the classes excluded by law, or to have entered or remained in the United States in violation of this Act, shall be deported as provided in this Act. Any alien who shall willfully remain beyond the period of the admission granted to him under the provisions of this Act, or who shall willfully violate any of the conditions under which he was admitted as a nonimmigrant, or who shall remain in the United States for a longer time than permitted under this Act without having complied with the requirements of section 6 hereof, shall be deported as provided in this Act.

(b) Any alien who shall willfully make any false or misleading statement or representation for the purpose of obtaining admission to the United States, or who shall willfully conceal a material fact or make any false statement in connection with his application for admission, shall be deported as provided in this Act.

(c) Any alien who shall, after admission, knowingly aid or assist any alien to enter the United States in violation of law, or who shall conceal, harbor, or shield from detection, or attempt to conceal, harbor, or shield from detection, any such alien in any place, including any building or any means of transportation, shall be deported as provided in this Act.

(d) Any alien who shall, after admission, become a public charge from causes not affirmatively shown to have arisen subsequent to his admission to the United States, shall be deported as provided in this Act.

(e) Any alien who shall, after admission, become a member of any of the classes of aliens excluded by section 3 of this Act, shall be deported as provided in this Act.

(f) Any alien who shall, after admission, become a member of any of the classes of aliens excluded by section 3 of this Act, shall be deported as provided in this Act.

(g) Any alien who shall, after admission, become a member of any of the classes of aliens excluded by section 3 of this Act, shall be deported as provided in this Act.

(h) Any alien who shall, after admission, become a member of any of the classes of aliens excluded by section 3 of this Act, shall be deported as provided in this Act.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 6. Clearance shall not be granted a vessel that has been reported by a customs officer as having a person on board who has been ordered deported from the United States under the provisions of the immigration laws, unless such person has been granted an extension of time within which to depart from the United States, or has been certified by the Secretary of Labor to be a desirable alien duly admitted to the United States on returning from a temporary visit abroad.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 16. (a) That no alien seaman employed upon any vessel arriving at a port of the United States shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospitalization, or because of illness requiring his detention for the proper care of the vessel, until a bond in the penal sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman, with sufficient sureties, shall be given to the United States to the effect that such alien seaman will depart on a vessel from the port of arrival within the period limited by the immigration officer, not to exceed four months, and will not become a public charge. The Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization may, in his discretion, and under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, waive the requirement of a bond in the case of any alien seaman.

(b) Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States unlawfully. The cost of maintenance of any alien seaman detained under this section shall be reimbursed to the United States by the owner of the vessel on which he arrived.

(c) If any alien seaman fails to depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived, or on another vessel, within the period limited by the immigration officer, not to exceed four months, the bond given for his departure shall be forfeited. The Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization may, in his discretion, cancel any bond given under this section, or any part thereof, and refund any money deposited as security for the bond, or any part thereof, when in his opinion circumstances exist which render such action proper.

(d) If any alien seaman shall be treated in a hospital at the expense of the United States, or shall be cared for at the expense of the United States, the cost of such treatment or care shall be collected from the owner of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived in the United States.

(e) The Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization may, in his discretion, and under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, waive the requirement of a bond in the case of any alien seaman employed upon any vessel arriving at a port of the United States.

(f) If any alien seaman fails to depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived, or on another vessel, within the period limited by the immigration officer, not to exceed four months, and will not become a public charge, the bond given for his departure shall be forfeited. The Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization may, in his discretion, cancel any bond given under this section, or any part thereof, and refund any money deposited as security for the bond, or any part thereof, when in his opinion circumstances exist which render such action proper.

(g) If any alien seaman shall be treated in a hospital at the expense of the United States, or shall be cared for at the expense of the United States, the cost of such treatment or care shall be collected from the owner of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived in the United States.

(h) The Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization may, in his discretion, and under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, waive the requirement of a bond in the case of any alien seaman employed upon any vessel arriving at a port of the United States.

(i) If any alien seaman fails to depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived, or on another vessel, within the period limited by the immigration officer, not to exceed four months, and will not become a public charge, the bond given for his departure shall be forfeited. The Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization may, in his discretion, cancel any bond given under this section, or any part thereof, and refund any money deposited as security for the bond, or any part thereof, when in his opinion circumstances exist which render such action proper.

(j) If any alien seaman shall be treated in a hospital at the expense of the United States, or shall be cared for at the expense of the United States, the cost of such treatment or care shall be collected from the owner of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived in the United States.

(k) The Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization may, in his discretion, and under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, waive the requirement of a bond in the case of any alien seaman employed upon any vessel arriving at a port of the United States.

(l) If any alien seaman fails to depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived, or on another vessel, within the period limited by the immigration officer, not to exceed four months, and will not become a public charge, the bond given for his departure shall be forfeited. The Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization may, in his discretion, cancel any bond given under this section, or any part thereof, and refund any money deposited as security for the bond, or any part thereof, when in his opinion circumstances exist which render such action proper.

(m) If any alien seaman shall be treated in a hospital at the expense of the United States, or shall be cared for at the expense of the United States, the cost of such treatment or care shall be collected from the owner of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived in the United States.

(n) The Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization may, in his discretion, and under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, waive the requirement of a bond in the case of any alien seaman employed upon any vessel arriving at a port of the United States.

(o) If any alien seaman fails to depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived, or on another vessel, within the period limited by the immigration officer, not to exceed four months, and will not become a public charge, the bond given for his departure shall be forfeited. The Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization may, in his discretion, cancel any bond given under this section, or any part thereof, and refund any money deposited as security for the bond, or any part thereof, when in his opinion circumstances exist which render such action proper.

(p) If any alien seaman shall be treated in a hospital at the expense of the United States, or shall be cared for at the expense of the United States, the cost of such treatment or care shall be collected from the owner of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived in the United States.

(q) The Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization may, in his discretion, and under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, waive the requirement of a bond in the case of any alien seaman employed upon any vessel arriving at a port of the United States.

(r) If any alien seaman fails to depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived, or on another vessel, within the period limited by the immigration officer, not to exceed four months, and will not become a public charge, the bond given for his departure shall be forfeited. The Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization may, in his discretion, cancel any bond given under this section, or any part thereof, and refund any money deposited as security for the bond, or any part thereof, when in his opinion circumstances exist which render such action proper.

(s) If any alien seaman shall be treated in a hospital at the expense of the United States, or shall be cared for at the expense of the United States, the cost of such treatment or care shall be collected from the owner of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived in the United States.

(t) The Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization may, in his discretion, and under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, waive the requirement of a bond in the case of any alien seaman employed upon any vessel arriving at a port of the United States.

(u) If any alien seaman fails to depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived, or on another vessel, within the period limited by the immigration officer, not to exceed four months, and will not become a public charge, the bond given for his departure shall be forfeited. The Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization may, in his discretion, cancel any bond given under this section, or any part thereof, and refund any money deposited as security for the bond, or any part thereof, when in his opinion circumstances exist which render such action proper.

(v) If any alien seaman shall be treated in a hospital at the expense of the United States, or shall be cared for at the expense of the United States, the cost of such treatment or care shall be collected from the owner of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived in the United States.

(w) The Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization may, in his discretion, and under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, waive the requirement of a bond in the case of any alien seaman employed upon any vessel arriving at a port of the United States.

(x) If any alien seaman fails to depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived, or on another vessel, within the period limited by the immigration officer, not to exceed four months, and will not become a public charge, the bond given for his departure shall be forfeited. The Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization may, in his discretion, cancel any bond given under this section, or any part thereof, and refund any money deposited as security for the bond, or any part thereof, when in his opinion circumstances exist which render such action proper.

(y) If any alien seaman shall be treated in a hospital at the expense of the United States, or shall be cared for at the expense of the United States, the cost of such treatment or care shall be collected from the owner of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived in the United States.

(z) The Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization may, in his discretion, and under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, waive the requirement of a bond in the case of any alien seaman employed upon any vessel arriving at a port of the United States.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shows aliens who are brought to the Department and to whom the immigration inspectors desire the master to call attention. The list is arranged in the order of the ports at which the aliens are to be landed, and the names of the aliens are followed by the name of the port. If the list is headed "Ports other than Ellis Island," the aliens are to be landed at the port designated. If the list is headed "Ellis Island," the aliens are to be landed at that station.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of a vessel from a foreign port at a place at which the officers of the customs, acting as immigrant inspectors, are stationed, the master, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel shall report to the immigrant inspector in charge the name of each alien on board, the number of cabin passengers, and the number of steerage passengers, and shall, before any of the passengers have landed, make oath before such inspector to a manifest containing such information in relation to each alien as is required by law to be shown on the list or manifest of aliens required to be taken before the departure of the vessel from the foreign port at which such alien embarks: Provided, That the master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel may, in lieu of making oath to the manifest of each alien, make oath to a general manifest in such form as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, which general manifest shall contain such information in relation to such aliens as can be ascertained from the records of the vessel: Provided further, That the master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel may, in lieu of making oath to the manifest of each alien destined to the United States not holding an unexpired immigration visa, make oath to a list containing only the names of such aliens and such additional information required by the Secretary of Labor as can be ascertained from the records of the vessel: Provided further, That the master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel shall not be required to make oath to the manifest of any alien in transit through the United States to a foreign country who is in possession of an unexpired immigration visa, but shall furnish a list containing the name of each such alien, and such other information in relation thereto as may be required by the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 3. Conference shall not be granted to masters of vessels who shall have failed to report to a medical officer at the time prescribed by section 28 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and thereafter, except in case of sickness or injury to aliens requiring such attention, and by section 16 of this Act prescribed by the administrative officers.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 31. No alien seaman admitted from adjacent foreign territory to the United States shall be employed on board any vessel arriving at any United States port from any foreign port or place other than adjacent foreign territory, or shall depart from the United States on board any vessel clearing for any foreign port or place other than adjacent foreign territory, unless such alien seaman shall have been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence or shall have in his possession a valid immigration visa issued by an American consular officer at the port or place in the foreign country where such alien seaman shall have been granted a permit to land temporarily in the United States as a bona fide alien seaman, and shall be identified as the person to whom such permit was granted, in accordance with such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel at any port and who shall be employed on board any vessel departing from such port for any other port in the United States, except upon a permit duly granted to him, or who shall fail to depart with the vessel on which he arrived, or on some other vessel within such period of time as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act. Any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each such violation. (a) Any alien seaman who shall desert while his vessel is in any port of the United States shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act, and shall be ineligible to become a citizen of the United States. (b) Any alien seaman who shall be employed on board any vessel in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act. (c) If the master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel shall refuse or fail to comply with the requirements of this section, or any rule or regulation made thereunder, he shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 for each such refusal or failure.

(a) See section 19 (a) (3) of the Act of May 26, 1924, which provides that any alien who is found in the United States in violation of any law thereof may be deported at any time within five years after entry.

(b) See section 19 (a) (4) of the Act of May 26, 1924, which provides that any alien who is found in the United States in violation of any law thereof may be deported at any time within five years after entry.

(c) See section 19 (a) (5) of the Act of May 26, 1924, which provides that any alien who is found in the United States in violation of any law thereof may be deported at any time within five years after entry.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, Ernst Hoffman master, of the Motorship "Martin Luther," do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew thoroughly fit for said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below will be prepared on blank forms furnished by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the port of first arrival of the vessel in the United States from foreign ports. It will be the duty of the master of the vessel to deliver the list to the immigration officer at the port of first arrival, and before any of the passengers have been landed or have left the vessel. Before the vessel leaves the port the master will be required to sign and deliver to the immigration officer a list containing the names of any passengers who may have been taken on board at any foreign port and who may have died or been landed at some port in the United States during the journey. The failure to deliver the list required or to report the deaths or landings will be punished by a fine of $10 for each such failure. (Sec. 8, act Mar. 3, 1903.)

SEC. 36. That upon arrival at a port of the United States from a foreign port of any vessel in the service of which there shall be found any person who has been refused a certificate of medical inspection, or who has been certified to be afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, or who has been detained for special examination in relation to his admissibility, the vessel shall be detained at quarantine or such other place as may be designated by the medical officer in charge of the port for the inspection and examination of the said vessel and of the passengers and crew thereon by the medical officers of the United States Public Health Service, and such vessel shall not be permitted to proceed to any port of the United States until the medical officer in charge of the port shall certify that in his opinion the said vessel may proceed without danger of the introduction of any contagious or infectious disease into the United States: Provided, That the Secretary of the Treasury may, upon the certificate of the medical officer in charge of the port, permit the said vessel to proceed to a destination within the United States other than the port at which she arrives, subject to such conditions as he may prescribe, for the further detention and examination of passengers and crew on board thereof, or for the removal of such passengers to a station for detention and examination: And provided further, That the Secretary of the Treasury may, in his discretion, refuse to permit the said vessel to proceed to any port of the United States other than the port at which she arrives: And provided further, That the judgment of the medical officer in charge of the port as to the admissibility of any person who has been certified to be afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease shall be subject to review by the Secretary of the Treasury upon application made within twenty-four hours after such certification by any person interested or his agent.

SEC. 37. That any person, corporation, or agent who shall bring into the United States from any place outside thereof any alien subject to any of the physical or mental disabilities or afflictions hereinbefore described, or who shall bring into the United States any alien who has come in violation of any of the provisions of this act, shall pay a penalty of two hundred dollars for each and every such alien, which penalty shall be a lien upon the vessel or vehicle bringing such alien to the United States, and may be recovered by action in any district court of the United States within one year from the time the alien was landed in the United States. The Secretary of the Treasury may, in his discretion, remit any such penalty or any part thereof.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 31. (a) No alien seaman shall be employed on board any vessel documented under the laws of the United States, or on the navigation of any vessel of the United States, unless such alien has in his possession a certificate issued by the Secretary of Labor, which certificate shall be prima facie evidence that the alien is entitled to be employed on board such vessel in the capacity specified therein. (b) Any alien seaman employed on board any vessel in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of this Act, and shall be ineligible to become a citizen of the United States. (c) Any alien seaman who shall desert while his vessel is in any port of the United States shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of this Act, and shall be ineligible to become a citizen of the United States. (d) Any alien seaman who shall fail to report for deportation within two months after notification and warrant for his arrest shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of this Act, and shall be ineligible to become a citizen of the United States. (e) Any alien seaman who shall fail to maintain himself for a period of four months after his entry into the United States shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of this Act, and shall be ineligible to become a citizen of the United States. (f) Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii, Porto Rico, or the Canal Zone, and who fails to depart therefrom with his vessel, shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of this Act, and shall be ineligible to become a citizen of the United States. (g) The Secretary of Labor shall have the power to prescribe rules and regulations necessary for the enforcement of the provisions of this section, and to establish such bureaus of information and shipping as he may deem necessary. (h) Any person who knowingly violates any of the provisions of this section, or who knowingly makes any false statement in connection with the application for any certificate provided for in this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than two years, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted until all liens reported by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been terminated, or bond furnished, or other adequate provision made therefor by the owner of the vessel, as provided by section 35 of said Act.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival at a port of the United States from a foreign port of any vessel in the service of which there shall be found any person who has been refused a certificate of medical inspection, or who has been certified to be afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, or who has been detained for special examination in relation to his admissibility, the vessel shall be detained at quarantine or such other place as may be designated by the medical officer in charge of the port for the inspection and examination of the said vessel and of the passengers and crew thereon by the medical officers of the United States Public Health Service, and such vessel shall not be permitted to proceed to any port of the United States until the medical officer in charge of the port shall certify that in his opinion the said vessel may proceed without danger of the introduction of any contagious or infectious disease into the United States: Provided, That the Secretary of the Treasury may, upon the certificate of the medical officer in charge of the port, permit the said vessel to proceed to a destination within the United States other than the port at which she arrives, subject to such conditions as he may prescribe, for the further detention and examination of passengers and crew on board thereof, or for the removal of such passengers to a station for detention and examination, and the judgment of the medical officer in charge of the port as to the admissibility of any person who has been certified to be afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease shall be subject to review by the Secretary of the Treasury upon application made within twenty-four hours after such certification by any person interested or his agent.

(a) That the following classes of persons shall be excluded from admission into the United States: All idiots, insane persons, paupers or persons likely to become a public charge, professional beggars, vagrants, persons afflicted with tuberculosis in any form or with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, persons who have been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, polygamists, and also any person who admits the commission of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, but only when the offense was committed prior to the date of his application for admission to the United States, anarchists, or persons who believe in or advocate the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or who disbelieve in or are opposed to organized government, or who advocate the assassination of public officials, or who advocate or teach the unlawful destruction of property, or who are members of or affiliated with any organization entertaining, advocating, or teaching any of the doctrines above specified, or who are members of or affiliated with any organization publishing or distributing any printed or published matter advocating or teaching any of the doctrines above specified, persons who have been deported under any of the provisions of this act, and persons who have been convicted of or admit the commission of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, prior to the date of their application for admission to the United States, but only when the offense was committed prior to the date of their application for admission to the United States: Provided, That nothing contained in this act shall be construed to prevent the return to the United States of any immigrant who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who shall have departed therefrom for any temporary purpose.

(b) That the following classes of persons shall be excluded from admission into the United States: All persons who have been within one year from the date of application for admission into the United States, physically deported or who have departed from the United States in consequence of any proceedings for deportation, under any law of the United States or who have been arrested within one year from the date of application for admission into the United States and are in the United States in consequence thereof: Provided, That nothing contained in this act shall be construed to prevent the return to the United States of any immigrant who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who shall have departed therefrom for any temporary purpose.

(c) That the following classes of persons shall be excluded from admission into the United States: All persons who have been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, although pardoned, unless the person committing said crime shall have been duly relieved of all disabilities and penalties incurred thereby by the action of the President of the United States: Provided, That nothing contained in this act shall be construed to prevent the return to the United States of any immigrant who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who shall have departed therefrom for any temporary purpose.

(d) That the following classes of persons shall be excluded from admission into the United States: All persons who have been within one year from the date of application for admission into the United States, physically deported or who have departed from the United States in consequence of any proceedings for deportation, under any law of the United States or who have been arrested within one year from the date of application for admission into the United States and are in the United States in consequence thereof: Provided, That nothing contained in this act shall be construed to prevent the return to the United States of any immigrant who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who shall have departed therefrom for any temporary purpose.

Form 260
DEPARTMENT OF LABOR
IMMIGRATION SERVICE

Issue No. _____

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, ... of the ....., do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage.

I have noted the copy of section 30 of the United States Immigration Law and of subdivisions 3 (a) and (b) of Immigration Rule 10 which appear below.

Master, First or Second Officer.

Sworn to before me this ..... day of ....., 19....

.....
Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared and ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and in all instances be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens members of crews (Form 888) shall not be detained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the said vessel's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be paid off in the port of arrival; to list containing as much of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and prior to the granting to any such alien of a permit to land from such vessel it shall be the duty of the master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a written list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port, and also the names of all persons certified by the medical officer of the port as being afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, if it was known, or might have been known by the exercise of reasonable diligence, by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel prior to the departure thereof from the last foreign port or place: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the delivery of such lists in cases where the immigration officer in charge of the port is convinced that the vessel is required to depart before the regular hour for the delivery of such lists, but in such cases the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master shall be required to report to the immigration officer at the port of first arrival the names of any aliens employed on such vessel who were not listed with the immigration officer in charge of the port of departure. Any person who shall knowingly violate any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION 3, RULE 10

3. (a) Affidavit and identification.—Every master or commanding officer of any vessel bringing aliens to the United States from any foreign port or place shall be required to make and subscribe before the immigrant inspector at the port of first arrival in the United States, and before the examination of any alien passenger is begun, an affidavit in duplicate, in accordance with the terms of section 36, Act of February 5, 1917, substantially as follows:

(b) Clearance shall not be granted any vessel bringing aliens to the United States from any foreign port or place until the master or commanding officer thereof shall have made and subscribed the affidavit prescribed by section 36 of said act, and shall have been furnished with a duplicate thereof. Such affidavit shall be delivered by the master to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of first arrival, and in all instances before the examination of any alien passenger is begun. Such affidavit shall be in addition to the list or lists required by section 36 of said act to be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of first arrival.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below should be prepared on plain white paper by typewriter or printing machine. The information should be typed (from 950 lines to 1,000 lines on a page) or printed as plainly as can be done. The list is to be delivered to the inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and should be delivered by the master of the vessel to the principal immigration officer at the port of entry (from 950 lines to 1,000 lines on a page) or printed as plainly as can be done. The list is to be delivered to the inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and should be delivered by the master of the vessel to the principal immigration officer at the port of entry.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon the arrival of the United States from foreign ports at ports of the mainland of the United States, except as otherwise provided in this section, every alien, including alien seamen, arriving at ports of the United States from foreign ports shall be examined by the immigrant inspectors at the port of arrival, and for the purpose of such examination the alien shall be required to land, upon the payment of a tax of $8 in the case of each alien, unless specifically exempted in this section or by treaty obligations with nations hereafter entering into treaties with the United States, and the decision of the immigrant inspectors shall be final as to the right of any alien to land, subject to appeal to the Secretary of Labor, which appeal shall be taken within two days after the decision of the immigrant inspectors unless extended by the Secretary of Labor, and pending such appeal the alien shall be detained in the custody of the steamship company bringing him to the United States, but not in jail. Such appeals shall be decided promptly and finally by the Secretary of Labor. Any alien who shall come in contrary to law may within five years thereafter be taken into custody and returned to the country whence he came at any time, and any alien who becomes a public charge within two years after his entry from causes not affirmatively shown to have arisen subsequent to his entry shall be deported as provided by law. Any alien who shall be taken into custody or deported as herein provided shall be entitled to a hearing before the Secretary of Labor if he shall demand the same, and he shall be allowed to send for friends and communicate with them before and pending such hearing. Any alien who shall willfully remain in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in the case of aliens who unlawfully remain in the United States in violation of law. Any person who shall bring into the United States any alien not duly admissible under the provisions of this section, or who shall conceal, harbor, or shield from detection, or attempt to conceal, harbor, or shield from detection any such alien in pursuance of any conspiracy hatched within or without the United States to defeat the provisions of this section, or who shall encourage or induce in any manner any alien to come to the United States unlawfully, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $2,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court, and shall pay, in addition to any other penalty imposed, the sum of $200 for each alien in respect to whom any violation of this section occurs. Any steamship or transportation company which shall bring to a port of the United States any alien who is excluded from admission to the United States by the Board of Special Inquiry at such port, or by the Secretary of Labor on appeal, shall return such alien to the country from which he came or to the country in which he resided before coming to the port from which he came, and shall pay the cost of the maintenance of such alien while in the United States and the cost of his return transportation. Any steamship or transportation company which shall refuse or neglect to return any such alien, or to pay the cost of his maintenance and return transportation, shall be subject to a penalty of $100 for each such refusal or neglect. Any steamship or transportation company which shall bring to the United States any alien afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, except in transit through the United States, shall be subject to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien, and shall pay the cost of his maintenance while detained at a hospital or other place designated by the Public Health Service, and the cost of his return transportation. Any steamship or transportation company which shall bring to the United States any alien who has come in contrary to law by way of foreign contiguous territory shall be subject to the penalties imposed by this section upon the importation of aliens who are excluded from admission to the United States, and shall pay the cost of the maintenance and return transportation of such alien.

(a) Every alien, including alien seamen, who shall come into the United States from any place in the United States to which he came from a foreign country, shall be subject to the provisions of this section relating to aliens coming from foreign countries.

SEC. 39. (a) The Secretary of Labor may enter into contracts with transportation companies, or other persons, for the detention in the United States of aliens arriving at ports of the United States from time to time, and for their transportation to the ports at which they embarked for the United States, or to such other ports as may be more convenient, and may pay the cost of such detention and transportation out of appropriations made for the enforcement of the immigration laws. Such detention may be authorized at such places and in such manner as the Secretary of Labor may think best, and shall be as near as may be practicable in accordance with the treatment provided by law for aliens detained for observation. Such aliens may be detained on board vessel or other means of transportation, or at Government stations specially provided for the purpose, or in such hospitals or other places as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor, and shall be subject to such regulations as he may prescribe. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the detention of any alien beyond the period prescribed by law for the completion of his application for admission to the United States.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws now in force or hereafter enacted shall be admitted to land temporarily from any vessel in which he arrived at a port of the United States, except under such conditions as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and any such alien seaman who remains in the United States for a longer period than the period for which he is granted permission to land shall be deported as provided in the immigration laws, notwithstanding the provisions of section 19 of this Act.

(b) Any alien seaman (except a member of the crew of a vessel which shall have been granted clearance by the Secretary of Labor) who, after having been granted a landing permit as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, fails to report on board the vessel upon which he arrived at the time of departure of such vessel from a port of the United States, shall be deported as provided in the immigration laws, notwithstanding the provisions of section 19 of this Act, unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel upon which such alien seaman arrived shall have given a bond with sufficient surety, in such sum, not exceeding $1,000, as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the departure of such alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived or some other vessel leaving the port at approximately the same time, or upon the procurement of a discharge for such alien seaman in accordance with such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor.

(c) Every alien seaman who shall come into the United States from any place in the United States to which he came from a foreign country, shall be subject to the provisions of this section relating to aliens coming from foreign countries.

(d) If the Secretary of Labor shall have granted any alien seaman an extension of the period of his permit to land temporarily in the United States, such alien seaman may be required to furnish a bond in such sum, not exceeding $1,000, with sufficient surety, as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, conditioned upon the departure of such alien seaman from the United States within the period of the extension granted by the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted via Detroit River to any vessel that has been temporarily detained by the Department at Ellis Island, or at any other port, for special examination of any of the crew, unless such vessel has been specially cleared by the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws now in force or hereafter enacted shall be admitted to land temporarily from any vessel in which he arrived at a port of the United States, except under such conditions as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and any such alien seaman who remains in the United States for a longer period than the period for which he is granted permission to land shall be deported as provided in the immigration laws, notwithstanding the provisions of section 19 of this Act.

(b) Any alien seaman (except a member of the crew of a vessel which shall have been granted clearance by the Secretary of Labor) who, after having been granted a landing permit as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, fails to report on board the vessel upon which he arrived at the time of departure of such vessel from a port of the United States, shall be deported as provided in the immigration laws, notwithstanding the provisions of section 19 of this Act, unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel upon which such alien seaman arrived shall have given a bond with sufficient surety, in such sum, not exceeding $1,000, as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the departure of such alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived or some other vessel leaving the port at approximately the same time, or upon the procurement of a discharge for such alien seaman in accordance with such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor.

(c) Every alien seaman who shall come into the United States from any place in the United States to which he came from a foreign country, shall be subject to the provisions of this section relating to aliens coming from foreign countries.

(d) If the Secretary of Labor shall have granted any alien seaman an extension of the period of his permit to land temporarily in the United States, such alien seaman may be required to furnish a bond in such sum, not exceeding $1,000, with sufficient surety, as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, conditioned upon the departure of such alien seaman from the United States within the period of the extension granted by the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The law described below is prepared on blank forms supplied by the Department and is ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall on all instances be taken from the vessel. The law is of changes of mind sometimes of views (form 650) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of debarkation, who will then make an entirely separate and distinct "manifest" a notation of that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That from and after the first day of July, nineteen hundred and seventeen, every vessel from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master, charterer of the vessel to which or in which any alien shall come to the United States from any foreign port or place to cause such alien to be detained on board such vessel or at the immigration station at the port of arrival, under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and such alien shall not be allowed to land in the United States except temporarily for the purpose of inspection, examination, or detention under the provisions of this Act, until and unless he or she shall have been duly admitted by the immigration officers: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, permit any alien to land temporarily under bond, in such sum and with such conditions as he may prescribe, or under such other reasonable regulations as he may prescribe, without bond, which may be modified at any time, and upon violation of any condition of any such bond the same may be prosecuted and collected and such alien immediately taken into custody and returned: And provided further, That the decision of the immigration officers in all cases shall be final unless reversed on appeal to the Secretary of Labor, whose decision shall be final as to any matter involving the right of any alien to enter the United States, except that in cases of aliens certified by the examining surgeon to be suffering from a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, the decision of the immigration officers shall be final unless appeal be taken within twenty-four hours after the decision is rendered, but the Secretary of Labor may in his discretion admit any such alien to the United States pending the determination of such appeal.

SEC. 39. Any alien arriving in the United States who is excluded from admission into the United States under any law or treaty now existing or hereafter made, and who is not subject to any other penalty or to prosecution for violation of any such law or treaty, shall be taken back to the foreign port from which he came to the United States by the transportation line which brought him, and the cost of his maintenance while in the United States and of his return shall be borne by such transportation line. Such alien shall be deported in pursuance of the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, and the decision of the Secretary of Labor shall be final as to the right of the alien to enter the United States unless he shall within five days after the decision is rendered appeal therefrom to the United States district court for the district in which the port of arrival is situated by petition in writing setting forth the reasons why he should not be returned to the country whence he came, and the cause shall be immediately heard by the court upon the certified record of the case before the Secretary of Labor and the decision of the court shall be final.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman employed from admission into the United States shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness which necessitates his removal to a hospital, unless a bond in the penal sum of $500 with sufficient surety or sureties approved by the collector of the district in which the vessel arrives is given that such seaman will not become a public charge, and that he will be returned to the country from which he came with the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or to the country in which he shipped as a seaman, or to such other country as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor, and that he will comply with all the requirements of the immigration laws of the United States relative to seamen. Upon the failure of any alien seaman to depart from the United States when required by the Secretary of Labor, or to comply with the requirements of the immigration laws relative to seamen, a penalty of $10 for each such alien seaman may be imposed upon the master of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived in the United States, which penalty may be remitted or mitigated by the Secretary of Labor upon the recommendation of the commissioner of immigration and naturalization. Such penalty may be collected by suit or out of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived in the United States, and no clearance shall be granted to such vessel while it remains within the United States except upon the certificate of the Secretary of Labor that such penalty has been remitted or mitigated or that a sufficient sum has been deposited with him to cover such penalty. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the Secretary of Labor as to the payment of the penalty herein provided for, or while any alien seaman who has been ordered deported is employed thereon, unless security approved by the Secretary of Labor is given to the collector of customs of the district in which such vessel has cleared sufficient to cover the cost of the maintenance of such alien seaman while detained and the transportation of such alien seaman to the country to which he is ordered deported. Any vessel which shall have been granted clearance papers and which shall have left the port without the payment of the penalty herein provided for may be proceeded against in any district court of the United States which may have jurisdiction of the vessel, by libel or other process, for the recovery of the penalty.

(a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien into the United States from any place outside thereof (other than an alien crewman employed on a vessel touching only at ports in the United States and Canada), and the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel carrying an alien from a port in the United States to any place outside thereof (other than an alien crewman employed on a vessel touching only at ports in the United States and Canada), who fails to comply with any of the requirements of the immigration laws relative to the entry or departure of aliens, or who fails to detain any alien on board such vessel when ordered by the Secretary of Labor, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien with respect to whom any such violation occurs.

(b) Every alien who shall come to the United States from any country contiguous to the United States shall report to the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry at the time of his application for admission to the United States, whether at a regularly established port of entry or not, the purpose for which he seeks admission, his intended length of stay in the United States, whether he intends to remain permanently or temporarily, whether he is coming for the purpose of performing labor if admitted, his occupation, whether he is in possession of a ticket or has sufficient money to pay his passage to his destination, whether he has been refused admission to the United States or deported previously, whether he is coming pursuant to advice or assistance rendered by any relative or friend in the United States, whether he is an anarchist, a believer in or member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining a belief in or teaching the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or the assassination of public officials, whether he is a polygamist, whether he has a ticket or other document through to his ultimate destination, whether he has been in prison or in a almshouse within the past five years, whether he is under a contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, whether he has ever been in the United States before, and if so, how often and when he last came, the port at which he last landed in the United States from abroad, whether he has ever been deported from the United States, and if so, how often and when he was deported, whether he has been arrested or convicted for any crime or misdemeanor, and the reasons therefor, whether he is a polygamist, whether he is coming to perform labor, if so, what kind, whether he has a ticket through to his final destination, whether he has been in the United States before, if so, when and how long he remained, whether he has been in prison or in a almshouse, and if so, where, whether he is a person who believes in the practice of polygamy, whether he is a person who believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States, or of all forms of law, or the assassination of public officials, whether he is a person who is coming to the United States for any purpose or in pursuance of any arrangement, understanding, or contract, parole, or agreement, made previous to his embarkation at any place outside the United States, to perform any kind of labor if admitted into the United States, whether he has a ticket or sufficient money to pay his passage to his ultimate destination, whether he has been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, and the circumstances in connection therewith, and shall be given a certificate by the examining immigrant inspector to the effect that the immigrant has been examined by him and that he has complied with the requirements of this section. Any immigrant who shall fail or refuse to answer any question addressed to him by an immigrant inspector in pursuance of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of this Act.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, M. STRANGER, master of the M. STRANGER, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly in addition thereto, and of all persons who have signed articles to go in the vessel in which I now sail as master, and that to the best of my knowledge and belief no member of the crew has deserted or abandoned the vessel at the above-named port or place, or neglected to join the vessel, or is under the influence of liquor, except as follows: None.

I further declare that the vessel named in the list has not been sold or transferred, and that no change has been made in the crew list since the vessel cleared from her last port, except as follows: None.

I further declare that the vessel named in the list has not been visited by any person or persons, and that no communication has been had with the vessel by any person or persons

The law described below requires an alien to be detained on board the vessel by the master, unless a permit for his landing is granted by the Department of Labor. The master is required to report to the immigration inspector at the port of arrival the name of each alien detained on board and the reason therefor. Failure to report, or to detain any alien required to be detained, is punishable by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each offense. (Form 986.)

Any alien ordered excluded may, at the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, be granted a hearing before a board of special inquiry, which shall determine whether such alien may land or shall be deported. Such hearing may be had before the vessel reaches port, and the master will be notified of the action of the board. Any alien ordered excluded has the right to appeal from the decision of the board of special inquiry to the Secretary of Labor, whose decision is final. Pending the decision on appeal, the alien must be detained on board or at such place as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge. Failure to detain any alien ordered excluded renders the master liable to a penalty of $100 for each offense.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States to detain such alien on board such vessel or at such place in connection with the wharf at which the vessel may dock as the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival may direct, and it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel having any alien on board at the time of arrival at any port of the United States to report the name of each such alien, the country from which he came, the country of which he is a citizen or subject, the number of pieces of baggage belonging to each, and such other information regarding each such alien as may be required by the rules and regulations prescribed for the administration of the provisions of this Act, and it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States to prevent any such alien from landing at any port in the United States in violation of any of the provisions of this Act, and to detain such alien on board such vessel or at such place in connection with the wharf at which the vessel may dock as the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival may direct until a permit shall be granted for the landing of such alien by the Secretary of Labor or by such person or persons as may be designated by him for that purpose, or until such alien shall be returned to the country whence he came or to the country of which he is a citizen or subject, or until such alien shall be otherwise disposed of according to law. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel who shall violate any of the provisions of this Act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each and every such violation, and it shall be discretionary with the court whether or not a part of such fine shall be remitted to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel: Provided, That nothing herein shall be held to relieve any such master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel from the penalty provided for the violation of any of the provisions of this Act by reason of the failure of any alien to land within the time allowed by the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival, and such alien may be allowed to land after the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel has given a bond in such sum, not exceeding $500, as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the return of such alien to the vessel or place in foreign country from which brought when required by the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival, or upon the payment of the tax provided for by this Act in case of such alien's failure so to return.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted by the Bureau of Customs to any vessel with passengers on board until the master has delivered to the boarding officer at the port of departure a correct list, signed and sworn to by him, of all such passengers, showing the full name, age, sex, calling or occupation, nationality, and last permanent residence of each passenger, and the number of pieces of baggage belonging to each. The master shall also deliver to the boarding officer a list of the names of all persons employed on the vessel in any capacity, showing the full name, age, sex, calling or occupation, nationality, and last permanent residence of each person employed, and the number of pieces of baggage belonging to each. Such lists shall be delivered to the boarding officer before the vessel leaves her dock or berth, and shall be verified by the master's signature and oath administered by the boarding officer. Any master who shall refuse to deliver such lists, or who shall knowingly or willfully make false statements in such lists, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master who shall fail to deliver such lists, or who shall refuse to verify the same by his signature and oath, shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each and every day during which he shall so refuse, to be recovered by the collector of customs at the port of departure before the vessel shall be granted clearance papers. Any master who shall knowingly or willfully report or make a false statement in any list required by this section shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000, to be recovered by the collector of customs at the port of departure before the vessel shall be granted clearance papers.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 16. No alien seaman belonging to any nationality not entitled to the benefits of section 13 hereof shall be permitted to land temporarily from any vessel arriving at a port of the United States unless such alien seaman shall be in possession of a valid passport and unless he shall be in possession of a seaman's identification certificate, issued by a consular officer of the country of which such alien seaman claims nationality, stating that such alien seaman has been identified by such consular officer according to such reasonable rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and containing a description of such alien seaman, and such other data as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Such certificate shall be viséed by a consular officer of the United States at the port from which such alien seaman departs, and shall be delivered to the master of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrives in the United States. Such master shall deliver such certificate to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and such certificate shall be returned to such alien seaman by the immigrant inspector upon the departure of such alien seaman from the United States. Such master shall be responsible for the presence of such alien seaman at the time of departure, and for the payment of the tax provided for by this Act in case of such alien's failure so to depart.

(a) If such alien seaman is destined to a port in foreign contiguous territory, a permit may be granted by the Secretary of Labor, or by such person or persons as may be designated by him for that purpose, upon the execution of a bond in such sum, not exceeding $500, as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the return of such alien seaman to the vessel or place in foreign contiguous territory from which he came to the United States not later than the departure of the vessel on which he arrived, or such subsequent vessel on which he may be granted passage by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and upon the payment of the tax provided for by this Act in case of such alien's failure so to depart.

(b) If such alien seaman is destined to a port in foreign territory not contiguous to the United States, a permit may be granted by the Secretary of Labor, or by such person or persons as may be designated by him for that purpose, upon the execution of a bond in such sum, not exceeding $500, as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the return of such alien seaman to the vessel or place in foreign territory not contiguous to the United States from which he came to the United States not later than the departure of the vessel on which he arrived, or such subsequent vessel on which he may be granted passage by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and upon the payment of the tax provided for by this Act in case of such alien's failure so to depart.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, [illegible], of the [illegible] Dominion, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew properly in said vessel from and port or place sailing last previous to my departure therefrom, and of all persons who have been taken on board from any pilot boat or other vessel or boat, and of all persons who have been transferred from or to any other vessel or boat, or to the shore, during that time; that I have caused the crew to be mustered at quarters, and have compared the list with them, and that I have delivered to the boarding officer a true copy thereof; that I have made a due and diligent inquiry into the conduct of the crew during the time they have been under my command, and that I have entered in the log-book a true account of the conduct of each of them during that time; that I have caused the log-book to be duly written up to the time of my departure therefrom, and will continue the same in like manner during the remainder of the time the crew shall belong to the vessel; that I have caused the vessel to be properly searched before her departure, and that I have made a due and diligent inquiry into the stowaways and persons secreted on board, and that I have entered in the log-book a true account of all such persons who have been found on board, and of the proceedings had with them; that I have caused the vessel to be properly supplied with provisions and water for the intended voyage, and that I will not permit any boat to go alongside to supply the vessel with provisions or water, or anything else, except in my presence and with my consent; that I will not permit any person to come on board the vessel before the proper officer has granted clearance for the vessel, and that I will not, to the best of my knowledge and belief, carry any person or persons stowed away on board the vessel, or any opium or other prohibited drugs or articles, without reporting the same to the proper officer of customs; that I will not, to the best of my knowledge and belief, land any of the crew, or allow any of them to land, except in the case of sickness, or other unavoidable cause, until the vessel has been granted entry at the customhouse; that I will not, to the best of my knowledge and belief, land any of the crew at any port in the United States at which the vessel may touch in the course of her present voyage, except such as may be required to land for the purpose of working the vessel into dock, or such as may be required to land for the purpose of working the vessel from one dock to another, or such as may be required to land in case of sickness, or other unavoidable cause; that I will not, to the best of my knowledge and belief, allow any of the crew to have in their possession any opium or other prohibited drugs or articles while the vessel remains in the United States; that I will not, to the best of my knowledge and belief, allow any of the crew to have in their possession any intoxicating liquor while the vessel remains in the United States, except such as may be required for the use of the crew during the voyage; that I will not, to the best of my knowledge and belief, allow any of the crew to have in their possession any firearms, pistols, or other weapons while the vessel remains in the United States, except such as may be required for the use of the crew during the voyage; that I will not, to the best of my knowledge and belief, allow any of the crew to have in their possession any gunpowder while the vessel remains in the United States, except such as may be required for the use of the crew during the voyage; that I will not, to the best of my knowledge and belief, allow any of the crew to have in their possession any dynamite or other explosive while the vessel remains in the United States; that I will not, to the best of my knowledge and belief, allow any of the crew to have in their possession any matches while the vessel remains in the United States, except such as may be required for the use of the crew during the voyage; that I will not, to the best of my knowledge and belief, allow any of the crew to have in their possession any intoxicating liquor while the vessel remains in the United States, except such as may be required for the use of the crew during the voyage; that I will not, to the best of my knowledge and belief, allow any of the crew to have in their possession any opium or other prohibited drugs or articles while the vessel remains in the United States

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared in duplicate, one copy to be delivered to the Commissioner of Immigration at the port of arrival, and the other copy to be retained by the master of the vessel as a part of the ship's papers, and produced on demand by any inspector of the United States Immigration Service. Any master of a vessel who refuses to allow any such inspector to make such examination, or who refuses to produce such list, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. (Act Feb. 20, 1907, sec. 16.)

The list or manifest shall be made out in the following form, and shall contain the following information, viz:

First. The name in full of each person, including the master, who shall depart on such vessel from any port in the United States, and the name in full of each person who shall join such vessel at any subsequent port or place, and intend to depart from the United States.

Second. The place of birth of each person mentioned in the list hereinbefore required, the name of the country of which he is a citizen or subject, and the country to which he belongs, whether native, naturalized, or alien.

Third. The last residence of each person mentioned in said list, whether in the United States or elsewhere.

Fourth. The intended destination of each person who is not a citizen of the United States, and who does not have a through ticket to a foreign country.

Fifth. Whether each person has been in the United States previously, and if so, when, where, and how long he or she resided therein.

Sixth. Whether each person has a ticket or money sufficient to pay his or her way to the place of his or her ultimate destination, and who paid his or her passage.

Seventh. Whether each person is in possession of $50 in money, or not, and if not, how much he or she has with him or her, not exceeding $50 to any one person.

Eighth. Whether each person is married or single.

Ninth. The calling or occupation of each person.

Tenth. Whether each person can read or write.

Eleventh. The age of each person.

Twelfth. Whether each person is a male or female.

Thirteenth. The race or people to which each person belongs.

Fourteenth. The last country or place of permanent residence of each person.

Fifteenth. Whether each person is a person who has been in the United States before; if so, how many times; and whether he or she has been in prison or in almshouse or asylum, or hospital, or institution for the insane, or supported by charity; and whether he or she is a polygamist, or under a contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia.

Sixteenth. Whether each person is coming to the United States to join a husband, father, wife, parent, child, brother, sister, grandparent, grandchild, uncle, aunt, nephew, niece, cousin, or friend, and if so, what relative or friend, and the name and complete address of such relative or friend in the United States.

Seventeenth. Whether each person has been employed under contract or agreement, express or implied, parol or special, to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, and if so, what kind of labor or service.

Eighteenth. Whether each person has a ticket or through transportation to his or her final destination.

Nineteenth. Whether each person has been assisted to come, and if so, by whom.

Twentieth. Whether each person has been in prison or in a almshouse or asylum, or hospital, or institution for the insane, or supported by charity.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 6. Clearance data not required when vessel returns to port after having cleared and before departure.—When a vessel clears from a port in the United States and returns to that port before departure for a foreign port, the master shall not be required to make oath to the clearance papers upon the return of the vessel, unless application is made for clearance papers after the vessel has been entered inward, in which case the master shall make oath to the clearance papers before they are issued.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 21. (a) It shall be unlawful for any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel to bring to the United States any alien seaman (except a stowaway) who is ineligible to citizenship and who does not have in his possession at the time of application for admission a valid seaman's certificate and a valid passport viséed by the consular officer of the United States at the port or place from which the vessel is about to depart for the United States. Such certificate and passport shall be delivered by the master, agent, owner, or consignee to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and if the alien seaman is admitted, such certificate and passport shall be returned to him by the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel upon which he departs from the United States. Such certificate and passport shall be prima facie evidence that the alien seaman is entitled to enter the United States solely in pursuance of his calling as a seaman, and solely for the period specified therein, and shall be subject to such reasonable rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor.

(b) Any master, agent, owner, or consignee who shall refuse to return any alien seaman who has been granted a certificate and passport as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, upon the departure of such vessel from the United States, shall pay to the collector of customs of the district from which such departure is made the sum of $1,000 for each such alien seaman, which sum shall be a lien upon such vessel, and may be recovered by the United States in a civil action in the name of the collector of customs of the district from which such departure is made. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, remit any such penalty or any part thereof if it is shown to his satisfaction that the vessel was not at fault in connection with the departure of such alien seaman.

(c) Any alien seaman who shall depart from the United States without having in his possession a valid certificate and passport as provided in subdivision (a) of this section shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act, and in addition shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(d) Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, without having in his possession a valid certificate and passport as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(e) Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, without having in his possession a valid certificate and passport as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(f) Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, without having in his possession a valid certificate and passport as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(g) Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, without having in his possession a valid certificate and passport as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(h) Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, without having in his possession a valid certificate and passport as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(i) Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, without having in his possession a valid certificate and passport as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(j) Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, without having in his possession a valid certificate and passport as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(k) Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, without having in his possession a valid certificate and passport as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(l) Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, without having in his possession a valid certificate and passport as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(m) Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, without having in his possession a valid certificate and passport as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(n) Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, without having in his possession a valid certificate and passport as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(o) Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, without having in his possession a valid certificate and passport as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(p) Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, without having in his possession a valid certificate and passport as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(q) Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, without having in his possession a valid certificate and passport as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(r) Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, without having in his possession a valid certificate and passport as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(s) Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, without having in his possession a valid certificate and passport as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(t) Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, without having in his possession a valid certificate and passport as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(u) Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, without having in his possession a valid certificate and passport as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(v) Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, without having in his possession a valid certificate and passport as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(w) Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, without having in his possession a valid certificate and passport as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(x) Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, without having in his possession a valid certificate and passport as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(y) Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, without having in his possession a valid certificate and passport as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(z) Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, without having in his possession a valid certificate and passport as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 16. That upon arrival of vessels from foreign ports at ports of the United States the commissioner of immigration, or his assistant in charge at the port, shall cause a careful inspection to be made of all aliens arriving on such vessels, and shall determine which aliens may be admitted to enter the United States and which aliens are subject to detention for further examination in accordance with the provisions of this Act. The Secretary of Labor shall have the power and is hereby authorized to establish such boards of special inquiry as may be necessary to decide upon the admissibility of aliens who may be detained by the immigrant inspectors at the various ports of arrival, and he may appoint such boards of special inquiry, consisting of three members, at such ports of arrival as he may deem necessary. The boards of special inquiry shall have authority to administer oaths and to take evidence touching the right of any alien to enter the United States, and may adjourn from time to time and from place to place as in their judgment may be necessary. The decision of any two members of a board shall be the decision of the board, subject to appeal through channels to the Secretary of Labor, whose decision shall be final. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, delegate to any officer of the Department of Labor the power and authority to hear and decide appeals from the decisions of boards of special inquiry. The Secretary of Labor may also, in his discretion, order the admission of any alien applying therefor who may appear to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor to be clearly and beyond a doubt entitled to admission under this Act.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared in duplicate, one copy to be delivered to the Commissioner of Immigration at the port of arrival, and the other copy to be retained by the master of the vessel as a part of the ship's papers, and produced on demand by any inspector of the United States Immigration Service. Any master of a vessel who refuses to allow any such inspector to make such examination, or who refuses to produce such list, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. The list described below shall be prepared in plain typewriting by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector possible the vessel is ready to depart. The list is not to change or alter the manifest of crews (Form 588) made out and delivered on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port where the vessel is first to arrive. Any person who knowingly refuses to make oath to the manifest or list required by section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, or who knowingly makes a false statement in such manifest or list, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than two years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 38. That any master of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival [or, if there is no such officer in charge, to the collector of customs] at the port where such vessel shall first arrive in the United States, before any of the passengers shall be landed therefrom, a complete list, manifest, and descriptive list of all the passengers who shall have been taken on board such vessel at any foreign port or place, which said list shall contain the name, age, sex, calling or occupation, and nationality of each alien who shall be a passenger on board such vessel, and the last permanent residence of each such alien, and the final destination of each such alien as to city, town, village, state, or country, and whether such destination is to a relative, friend, or other person, and the sum of money in possession of each such alien, and whether any such alien has been in the United States before, and if so, when, where, and how long he or she resided therein, and whether such alien has a ticket to his or her final destination, and whether such passage is paid for by himself or herself or by others, and whether such alien is in possession of a through ticket, and whether such alien has been deported or excluded from admission to the United States, and the cause for such deportation, and whether such alien is coming in pursuance of a previous promise or agreement to labor for any person or organization in the United States, and whether such alien is a polygamist, and whether such alien is an anarchist, and whether such alien believes in or advocates or is a member of or affiliated with any organization that entertains a belief in, teaches, or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, and whether such alien is coming to perform labor if so, what kind, and whether he or she has a ticket or passage engagement for any State, Territory, or place to which he or she is destined, and whether he or she intends to become a citizen of the United States, and whether he or she is going to join a relative or friend, and if so, what relative or friend, and in what place, and whether he or she has ever been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, and whether he or she is a person of good character, and whether he or she is a skilled laborer or farm laborer, and what is his or her occupation, and whether he or she is married or single, and whether he or she is under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, and the location of future home in the United States, and such other information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration.

(b) That there shall be added to the list required by the preceding subdivision of this section the name of every alien who may be admitted to the United States on the conclusion of the voyage, and such list shall be certified by the master of the vessel in the manner provided by that subdivision.

SEC. 18. (a) That any person, company, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien to any port of the United States from any place outside thereof, or any person who shall aid or abet any alien to come to the United States from any place outside thereof, or any person who shall conceal or harbor any such alien, in pursuance of any previous agreement or understanding that such alien will enter the United States in violation of the law, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(b) Any person who shall bring, or cause to be brought, into the United States by water, any alien who is not duly admitted by an immigrant inspector at a port of entry designated by the Commissioner General of Immigration, or who shall conceal or harbor any such alien, knowing him to be unlawfully in the United States, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(c) If the Commissioner General of Immigration shall be satisfied that any person has violated any of the provisions of this section, such person shall be forever debarred and prohibited from coming to the United States, and he may cause any such person to be taken into custody and returned to the country whence he came at any time within five years after the entry of such person into the United States, in the same manner as provided for the deportation of persons who have entered the United States in violation of law.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. (a) No alien seaman admitted from adjacent land into the United States under the immigration visas issued to bona fide seamen shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical or emergency treatment, or hospitalization as a nonquota immigrant, or for the purpose of and in connection with his departure on a vessel or aircraft for some foreign port or place, and any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States for any purpose shall be deemed to have waived any right he may have had to enter the United States as a temporary visitor, or as a nonquota immigrant, or as a seaman.

SEC. 18. (a) That any master, captain, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside thereof any alien who has been refused admission to the United States by the immigration officers at the port of arrival and who has been certified by such officers to the Secretary of Labor for special inquiry under the provisions of section 3 of this Act, shall be required to remove such alien to the country from which he came, or to the country from which he sailed which shall be designated by such alien, and to pay the cost of his maintenance while in the United States and of his removal therefrom, unless such master, captain, agent, consignee, or owner shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that such alien had no reasonable ground to believe that he was subject to exclusion under the provisions of this Act. Any such master, captain, agent, consignee, or owner who shall refuse or fail to remove such alien upon the direction of the Secretary of Labor shall be subject to a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be cleared while any such fine is unpaid and the payment of any such fine may be enforced by libel in the name of the United States. Clearance shall not be refused any vessel under the provisions of this section because of the inability or refusal of any master, captain, agent, consignee, or owner to pay fines imposed upon another master, captain, agent, consignee, or owner.

(b) If the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that any person has violated any of the provisions of this section, such person shall be forever debarred and prohibited from coming to the United States, and he may cause any such person to be taken into custody and returned to the country whence he came at any time within five years after the entry of such person into the United States, in the same manner as provided for the deportation of persons who have entered the United States in violation of law.

SEC. 28. That section 18 of the Act entitled "An Act to regulate the immigration of aliens to the United States," approved February 5, 1917, be amended by adding thereto the following subdivision:

"(c) Any alien who shall enter the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act."

SEC. 29. That section 19 of the Act entitled "An Act to regulate the immigration of aliens to the United States," approved February 5, 1917, be amended by adding thereto the following subdivision:

"(d) Any alien who shall enter the United States in violation of section 18 of this Act shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act."

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below must be prepared on blank forms furnished by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival. Any blank in the list or omission in the entries may cause the vessel to be detained on board, but blank to be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. Any person who willfully makes a false statement in a manifest or other document required by the immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 688) shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and a conviction thereof shall be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of the vessel in the United States from the foreign port or place if there be found on board thereof, or on the person of any of the officers, seamen, or members of the crew, or among the passengers, any person who is afflicted with any of the physical or mental defects or disabilities which would be grounds for the exclusion of aliens under the provisions of this Act, the same shall be reported by the master of the vessel to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and the cost of the maintenance of such persons while in the United States pending the decision of the case shall be borne by the master of the vessel. Any master who knowingly fails to report any such person or who lands or permits to land any such person at any port in the United States without the permission of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every such person landed, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any person who shall bring into the United States any person afflicted with any of the said physical or mental defects or disabilities, or who shall bring into the United States any person who has been excluded therefrom and deported in pursuance of the provisions of this Act, shall pay a tax of $10 for each and every such person, which shall be a lien upon the vessel bringing such person to the United States, and shall be collected as hereinafter provided. Any person who shall bring into the United States any person afflicted with any of the said physical or mental defects or disabilities, or who shall bring into the United States any person who has been excluded therefrom and deported in pursuance of the provisions of this Act, shall pay a tax of $10 for each and every such person, which shall be a lien upon the vessel bringing such person to the United States, and shall be collected as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 37. That upon arrival of the vessel in the United States from the foreign port or place if there be found on board thereof, or on the person of any of the officers, seamen, or members of the crew, or among the passengers, any person who is afflicted with any of the physical or mental defects or disabilities which would be grounds for the exclusion of aliens under the provisions of this Act, the same shall be reported by the master of the vessel to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and the cost of the maintenance of such persons while in the United States pending the decision of the case shall be borne by the master of the vessel. Any master who knowingly fails to report any such person or who lands or permits to land any such person at any port in the United States without the permission of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every such person landed, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any person who shall bring into the United States any person afflicted with any of the said physical or mental defects or disabilities, or who shall bring into the United States any person who has been excluded therefrom and deported in pursuance of the provisions of this Act, shall pay a tax of $10 for each and every such person, which shall be a lien upon the vessel bringing such person to the United States, and shall be collected as hereinafter provided.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from a foreign port or place, or any vessel bringing to the United States any person who has been excluded therefrom, or who has been employed on board any vessel during the last previous visit of such vessel to the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or detained on board or at any port in the United States after the departure of such vessel, but the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any such vessel shall be severally liable to the payment of a tax of $200 for each such alien so landed or detained, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment thereof, and such tax when assessed may be sued for and recovered by the United States collector of customs, and shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by the issuance of a warrant of seizure by the Secretary of the Treasury, directed to any officer of customs or any officer of the United States charged with the enforcement of the navigation laws, and such vessel may be seized in any district in which it may be found by any such officer. Such seizure shall be reported immediately to the Secretary of the Treasury, and such vessel shall be delivered to the collector of customs upon the execution and filing with the Secretary of the Treasury by the owner, consignee, master, agent, or charterer of such vessel of a bond with sufficient sureties, in such amount, not exceeding double the amount of such tax, as may be required by the Secretary of the Treasury, conditioned upon the payment of such tax when finally determined. Upon failure to pay such tax when finally determined, the vessel may be sold by the collector of customs under such rules and regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, and the proceeds of such sale shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States to the credit of the appropriation available for the refund of such taxes. The Secretary of the Treasury may remit, refund, or cancel any such tax or bond, or any part thereof or any interest or charges with respect thereto, whenever he finds that the tax was improperly or illegally collected, or that the vessel arrived in distress or was forced into port, or that the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel has been prevented from complying with the provisions of this section, or that the vessel has been continuously employed in the service of the United States, or that the person for whose benefit the tax was paid has been found and returned to the United States, or that the vessel has been lost on a voyage outside the United States, or that the vessel has been sold to a purchaser who was not the owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel at the time of the arrival of the vessel in the United States, or that the vessel has been sold to a purchaser who was the owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel at the time of the arrival of the vessel in the United States and has been continuously employed in the service of the United States since such arrival

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list checked below shows all persons not citizens of the United States who have been issued certificates of identity by the Department of Labor at this port during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1914. If any person on board your vessel is not a citizen of the United States and is not listed below, he should be detained on board and reported to the Department of Labor at once. Failure to report the presence on board your vessel of any alien not a citizen of the United States will subject you to a fine of not more than $1,000 for each offense.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That every alien now or hereafter in the United States from Asiatic countries, not comprised within the territory, bounds, and limits of the barred zone as created by this Act, who is physically capable of reading the English language, or some other language or dialect, including Hebrew or Yiddish, shall be required to read the same when offered by an immigrant inspector, and to write not less than twenty nor more than twenty-five letters of the alphabet, to be selected by the immigrant inspector, and the decision of said inspector as to the literacy, illiteracy, and physical capacity of any alien to whom the reading test may be given shall be final and conclusive, unless reversed by the Secretary of Labor upon appeal taken as hereinafter provided. Any alien who can read shall be admitted if not otherwise excluded by law, unless he has come from his country to the United States in violation of the provisions of this Act, or unless he has been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or is a polygamist, or is an anarchist, or is coming to perform labor under contract, express or implied, parol or special, oral or written, or is an assisted immigrant under the provisions of section 33 of this Act, or is a professional beggar, or is a person who has been deported, unless such alien has received the consent of the Secretary of Labor to reapply for admission, or is within one of the classes excluded by section 3 of this Act, or is a member of the anarchistic or other objectionable classes excluded by this Act, or is an idiot, insane person, epileptic person, or person who has been insane within five years previous, or who has had two or more attacks of insanity at any time previously, or is a person afflicted with constitutional psychopathic inferiority, or with chronic alcoholism, or is under sentence of death, whether the crime be called by that name or any other name, or who has been convicted or admits the commission of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or is a professional beggar, or is a person who has been deported, who shall come in violation of any law forbidding the entry of such persons into the United States, or who shall enter or attempt to enter the United States by means of any false or fraudulent papers, or by concealment of his true character, or by any other unlawful means, or who shall remain therein in violation of law, or who shall aid or assist in bringing in any alien not duly admitted by an immigrant inspector or not lawfully entitled to enter or land in the United States, or who shall, within three years after entering the United States, be found advocating or teaching the unlawful destruction of property, or who shall within three years after entering the United States become a member of or affiliate with any society, association, or group of persons advocating or teaching such unlawful destruction of property, shall be deported as provided in this Act to the country whence he came, or to the country of which he is a subject or citizen, or to the country in which he last had a domicile, by the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel in which he arrived, at whose expense he shall be detained on board or in such hospital or place of detention as the immigrant inspector in charge may direct until such deportation can be accomplished. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent any alien from withdrawing his application for admission and leaving the United States at any time if he so desires.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The law described below requires the Department and the Bureau of Immigration to furnish to every master of any vessel bringing aliens to the United States information concerning such aliens. The law requires the master of any vessel bringing aliens to the United States to report to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival the name and last residence of every alien on board his vessel who is to be examined by the immigrant inspector, and to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list containing the name, age, sex, calling, nationality, last residence, destination, whether married or single, whether in possession of a ticket, whether in possession of money, and whether in good health, mental and physical, of every such alien. The master is also required to report the name of every alien who is sick or injured at the time of arrival, and to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list containing the name of every alien who has been sick or injured on board his vessel during the voyage, and the name of every alien who has died on board during the voyage, and the cause of sickness or death in each case, as far as known to the master. The master is also required to report the name of every alien who has been treated for any contagious disease during the voyage, and to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list containing the name of every alien who has been so treated during the voyage, and the name of the disease in each case, as far as known to the master. The master is also required to report the name of every alien who has been detained on board for special examination by the Secretary of Labor, and to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list containing the name of every alien who has been so detained during the voyage, and the cause for detaining him. The master is also required to report the name of every alien who has been found insane or afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease during the voyage, and to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list containing the name of every alien who has been found insane or afflicted with any such disease during the voyage, and the cause for such belief in each case. The master is also required to report the name of every alien who has been arrested during the voyage for any crime or misdemeanor, and to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list containing the name of every alien who has been so arrested during the voyage, and the cause for such arrest. The master is also required to report the name of every alien who has been convicted of any crime or misdemeanor during the voyage, and to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list containing the name of every alien who has been so convicted during the voyage, and the crime or misdemeanor of which he was convicted. The master is also required to report the name of every alien who has been admitted to the United States during the voyage as a visitor, and to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list containing the name of every alien who has been so admitted during the voyage, and the length of time granted to each such alien. The master is also required to report the name of every alien who has been admitted to the United States during the voyage as a member of the crew of any vessel, and to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list containing the name of every alien who has been so admitted during the voyage as a member of the crew of any vessel

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The law described below requires the Department of Labor to furnish to every master or agent in charge of a vessel sailing from a port in a foreign country to a port in the United States, before the departure of such vessel from such foreign port, a sufficient number of blank manifests to allow for the proper entry of all passengers who may be taken on board at such port or at any port or place en route to the United States. Such manifests must be delivered by the master or agent to the boarding officer of the United States immediately upon the vessel's arrival within the limits of any port in the United States, and before the vessel shall be granted entry or shall discharge any passengers or cargo. Any master or agent who refuses to deliver such manifests, or who fails to deliver them within the time prescribed by law, or who knowingly or willfully makes a false statement in any manifest with respect to any passenger, is liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such offense.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That the head tax of $8 per capita to be levied under the provisions of this section shall be paid by every alien entering the United States from the United States of Mexico, whether such alien is in possession of an unexpired immigration visa or not, and by every alien entering the United States from the Republic of Panama or the Canal Zone who has not been previously admitted to the United States at a port of entry, and by every alien who has been admitted to the United States and who thereafter goes in transit through Mexico, Panama, or the Canal Zone and reenters the United States at a port of entry, and by every alien entering the United States from the Republic of Cuba or the Republic of Haiti who has not been previously admitted to the United States at a port of entry, and by every alien entering the United States from the Dominican Republic who has not been previously admitted to the United States at a port of entry, and by every alien entering the United States from the Canal Zone, the Republic of Panama, the Republic of Cuba, the Republic of Haiti, or the Dominican Republic who has been previously admitted to the United States at a port of entry, and who has not been in the Republic of Panama, the Republic of Cuba, the Republic of Haiti, or the Dominican Republic for a period of at least eight months immediately preceding his reentry into the United States, and by every alien entering the United States from Newfoundland, Miquelon, Saint Pierre, Bermuda, the Bahama Islands, the Turks and Caicos Islands, the Islands of the Caribbean Sea, Central America, the Canal Zone, Mexico, Cuba, Haiti, the Dominican Republic, Panama, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, Chile, Brazil, Argentina, Uruguay, Paraguay, or the West Indies Islands adjacent thereto, who has been previously admitted to the United States at a port of entry, and who has been in any of the countries or islands mentioned in this section for a period of less than eight months immediately preceding his reentry into the United States, unless such alien shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that his return to the United States was not for the purpose of evading the head tax or other charge provided for in this section.

(a) That the head tax herein provided for shall be paid to the collector of customs of the district at the port of arrival, or to the collector of customs of the district to which such port is tributary, by the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel bringing such alien to the United States, and no such master, agent, owner, or consignee shall be granted a clearance for the vessel carrying such alien to the United States until the head tax herein provided for has been paid or the payment thereof assured to the satisfaction of the collector of customs.

(b) That the head tax herein provided for shall be paid for each alien entering the United States, but shall not be levied more than once in any one year upon the same alien coming to the United States from the Dominion of Canada, Newfoundland, Miquelon, Saint Pierre, Bermuda, the Bahama Islands, the Turks and Caicos Islands, the Islands of the Caribbean Sea, Central America, the Canal Zone, Mexico, Cuba, Haiti, the Dominican Republic, Panama, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, Chile, Brazil, Argentina, Uruguay, Paraguay, or the West Indies Islands adjacent thereto.

(c) That the head tax herein provided for shall not be levied or collected from any alien who has been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence and who is returning from a temporary visit to Canada, Newfoundland, Miquelon, Saint Pierre, Bermuda, the Bahama Islands, the Turks and Caicos Islands, the Islands of the Caribbean Sea, Central America, the Canal Zone, Mexico, Cuba, Haiti, the Dominican Republic, Panama, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, Chile, Brazil, Argentina, Uruguay, Paraguay, or the West Indies Islands adjacent thereto, or from any alien who has been in the United States for less than one year, or from any alien who has been in the United States for less than one year and who is returning from a temporary visit to Canada, Newfoundland, Miquelon, Saint Pierre, Bermuda, the Bahama Islands, the Turks and Caicos Islands, the Islands of the Caribbean Sea, Central America, the Canal Zone, Mexico, Cuba, Haiti, the Dominican Republic, Panama, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, Chile, Brazil, Argentina, Uruguay, Paraguay, or the West Indies Islands adjacent thereto

AFFIDAVIT TO SURGEON

I, Geoffrey Thornhill, Surgeon of the R.M.S. "Empress of Asia", do solemnly, sincerely, and truly swear that I have had Thirty-two years experience as a Physician and Surgeon, and that I am entitled to practice as such by and under the authority of the University of Toronto, Ontario, Canada, and that I have made a personal examination of each of the aliens named herein, and that the foregoing Lists or Manifest Sheets, in triplicate, according to the best of my knowledge and belief, are full, correct, and true in all particulars, relative to the mental and physical condition of such aliens.

Geoffrey Thornhill
Surgeon

Sworn to before me this 19th day of September, 1921, at Victoria & Vancouver, B.C.

(Signature or mark and date if applicant [witness to witness] unable to write, unless impossible to obtain such signature.)

NOTE.—If a surgeon calls with the vessel, this affidavit to certify to examination shall be executed before an immigrant inspector at port of arrival, and vice versa if met by surgeon on route in the condition to via to the alien must be dated on the manifest before the affidavit is executed.

If no surgeon calls with the vessel, the affidavit to certification shall be executed as the port of departure before some officer authorized to administer oaths.

RACE OR TRIBE OF ALIENS

"Race or people" is to be determined by the stock from which each alien came originally and the classification of the immigrant shall be that of the race or people to which he belongs. The original stock or blood of each alien is to be determined by the grandparentage of the immigrant, and not by the country of which he may be a citizen, the mother tongue or by what race he may be classified in the country from which he comes.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 9. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or distress necessitating his being granted shore leave by the master or other officer in charge of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a place outside thereof, and such seaman (while temporarily in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by a medical officer of the Public Health Service), or to detain on board such vessel such seaman if the immigration officer in charge of the port is satisfied that such seaman will depart on board the same vessel or another vessel leaving such port within a period of time deemed reasonable by such officer, not to exceed five days. No alien seaman shall be admitted to the United States from any place outside thereof unless in possession of a valid seaman's passport or other travel document satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor and the consul general, consul, vice consul, consular agent, or consular officer of the United States at the port from which such seaman departs, or if there be no such officer at such port, then at the port most convenient of access to such port, as determined by the Secretary of Labor, and unless such seaman is in possession of a certificate from the master, owner, or agent of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a place outside thereof, stating the name, nationality, and last residence of such seaman, the name of the vessel on which he arrived, the date of her departure and the port from which she cleared, and the length of time such seaman has been employed on board such vessel: Provided, That the master, owner, or agent of any vessel may, in lieu of furnishing such certificate, furnish a list containing the name, nationality, and last residence of each seaman shipped in such port or place, the date of shipment, and the vessel on which such seaman was shipped, and such list shall be certified to by the master, owner, or agent of such vessel under oath administered by any consular officer of the United States, and the consular officer shall certify on the shipping articles of such seaman that such list has been so certified to. Upon the arrival of such vessel at a port of the United States the master, owner, or agent thereof shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port a copy of such list, certified to by the consular officer by whom it was certified, and any seaman employed on such vessel who shall not be identified by such list to the satisfaction of the immigration officer in charge of the port may be required to furnish a bond in the sum of $1,000 conditioned upon the departure of such seaman on the vessel on which he arrived or some other vessel leaving such port within a period of time deemed reasonable by such officer, not to exceed five days. No alien seaman shall be permitted to land temporarily under the provisions of this section unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which such seaman arrived shall have given a bond in the sum of $300 for each such seaman, conditioned upon the departure of such seaman on a vessel bound for a foreign port, or upon the payment of a tax of $8 by such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer: Provided, That seamen employed on vessels plying regularly between ports of the United States and ports of countries contiguous thereto may be admitted under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, without the payment of such tax or the deposit of such bond, and such seamen may be granted such shore leave as may be permitted by the immigration officer in charge of the port.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof having on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel who shall not be identified as a member of the crew by the list or manifest of such vessel deposited with the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival, or who shall not be in possession of a certificate, list, or other document required by section 9 of the Act approved May 26, 1924, entitled "An Act to limit the immigration of aliens into the United States," or who shall not be in possession of a valid passport viséed by the consular officer at the port from which such seaman departed, if such visé is required by the provisions of such Act, or who shall not be in possession of a valid certificate of identity issued by the Secretary of Labor, shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which such vessel arrives a tax of $10 for each alien seaman (whether transported in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by a medical officer of the Public Health Service), or to detain on board such vessel such seaman if the immigration officer in charge of the port is satisfied that such seaman will depart on board the same vessel or another vessel leaving such port within a period of time deemed reasonable by such officer, not to exceed five days. No alien seaman shall be admitted to the United States from any place outside thereof, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or distress necessitating his being granted shore leave by the master or other officer in charge of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a place outside thereof, and such seaman (while temporarily in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by a medical officer of the Public Health Service), or to detain on board such vessel such seaman if the immigration officer in charge of the port is satisfied that such seaman will depart on board the same vessel or another vessel leaving such port within a period of time deemed reasonable by such officer, not to exceed five days. No alien seaman shall be permitted to land temporarily under the provisions of this section unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which such seaman arrived shall have given a bond in the sum of $300 for each such seaman, conditioned upon the departure of such seaman on a vessel bound for a foreign port, or upon the payment of a tax of $8 by such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer: Provided, That seamen employed on vessels plying regularly between ports of the United States and ports of countries contiguous thereto may be admitted under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, without the payment of such tax or the deposit of such bond, and such seamen may be granted such shore leave as may be permitted by the immigration officer in charge of the port.

(a) If the Secretary of Labor finds that adequate inspection facilities are not maintained at any seaport of the United States, he may refuse clearance to any vessel bringing aliens to such port, and may refuse permission to any such vessel to enter such port.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel in the United States shall be deported on the vessel on which he arrived, or on any vessel which relieves such vessel of his custody, unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall prove to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he has been unable to secure the removal of such alien seaman, and has given a bond in the sum of $300 for each such alien seaman, conditioned that he will pay any expenses incurred in the removal of such alien seaman.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that adequate inspection facilities are not maintained at any seaport of the United States, he may refuse clearance to any vessel bringing aliens to such port, and may refuse permission to any such vessel to enter such port.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel in the United States shall be deported on the vessel on which he arrived, or on any vessel which relieves such vessel of his custody, unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall prove to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he has been unable to secure the removal of such alien seaman, and has given a bond in the sum of $300 for each such alien seaman, conditioned that he will pay any expenses incurred in the removal of such alien seaman, and if a deposit has been required to guarantee the payment of such expenses, that such deposit has been made.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plain forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the first port of the vessel at the port of arrival, but in all cases in advance of taking from the vessel. The list of aliens employed on board vessels (Form 598) shall not be detached or posted, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival as an original manuscript, and a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That from within a period of three days prior to the sailing of the vessel in the case of the crew, and from within a reasonable time before the departure of the vessel in the case of all other persons employed on board, the master or commanding officer in charge of the port or place of arrival shall cause a complete list to be prepared of all the persons employed on board the vessel, showing their full names, ages, sex, nationality, last permanent residence, calling, and final destination, and the nationality, last permanent residence, and calling of the parents of all children under fifteen years of age who are members of the crew, and shall cause the list to be subscribed and sworn to by the master or commanding officer of the vessel, before a consular officer of the United States, if there be one at the port of departure, or if there be no consular officer at the port of departure, then before the collector or other officer in charge of the port of departure, and shall cause the list to be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival of the vessel at the time of inspection. Such list shall be prepared in quadruplicate, and the master or commanding officer shall be required to make oath before the consular officer, collector, or other officer administering the oath that the list contains a full, correct, and complete manifest of all persons employed on board the vessel, and that the nationality, last permanent residence, calling, age, sex, and final destination of each person employed on board the vessel are correctly stated therein to the best of his knowledge and belief. The consular officer, collector, or other officer administering the oath shall certify on the list the name of the vessel, the date of the departure, and the number of persons employed on board, and shall deliver the list to the master or commanding officer of the vessel. The master or commanding officer of the vessel shall deliver the list to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival of the vessel at the time of inspection, and shall produce the crew for inspection at such time and place as the immigrant inspector may direct. The list shall be prepared in such form as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and shall contain such other information relative to the persons employed on board the vessel as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe.

SEC. 37. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival the list required by section 36 hereof, or who shall refuse to subscribe and deliver the oath required by said section, or who shall refuse to permit any immigrant inspector to go on board of such vessel for the purpose of inspecting the list of passengers and crew, or who shall refuse to carry such immigrant inspector in the vessel from the port of arrival to the first port of call of such vessel, or who shall refuse to detain such vessel at such port of call for a period of twenty-four hours after the arrival of such immigrant inspector, if in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor the services of such immigrant inspector are necessary for the proper inspection of the passengers and crew of such vessel, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each offense.

(b) The master of any vessel who shall refuse to detain on board the vessel any alien who has been certified to him as a public charge, or who shall refuse to detain any alien when ordered by the Secretary of Labor, or who shall refuse to cause any such alien to be taken on board such vessel at the time of its departure from the port of arrival, or who shall refuse to cause any such alien to be taken from the United States on such vessel, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each offense.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall determine that any person has been permitted to land in the United States from any vessel in violation of this section, such person shall be deported in the same manner as provided for the deportation of aliens who have been unlawfully admitted to the United States, and the cost of such deportation shall be a lien against the vessel, which may be collected by the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located at the time of the discovery of the facts on which the lien is claimed, or at the time of the payment of such fine, and, in the event such fine is not paid, the vessel may be seized and sold by like process as provided for the enforcement of penalties imposed upon vessels for violations of the navigation laws of the United States.

SEC. 38. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to pay the head tax levied by section 2 of this Act in the case of any alien employed on board such vessel, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each offense. The head tax levied by section 2 of this Act in the case of any alien employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States shall be a lien upon such vessel, and clearance may be refused such vessel while any such head tax remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such tax, or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Every such alien who shall not depart from the contiguous territory of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who shall not be entered by the master of such vessel as a passenger, shall be deemed a public charge at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who shall not depart from the United States on such vessel, unless the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival shall be satisfied that sufficient provision has been made by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel for the maintenance of such alien while in the United States, and for his departure therefrom on such vessel or some other vessel within a period of thirty days after the date of his arrival, or unless such alien shall be admitted to the United States by the Secretary of Labor, or unless such alien shall be duly certified by the proper consular officer at the port of foreign departure to the Secretary of Labor as a person who was in the United States prior to the execution of the bond required by this section and who was allowed to depart therefrom without having become a public charge.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor shall determine that any person has been permitted to land in the United States from any vessel in violation of this section, such person shall be deported in the same manner as provided for the deportation of aliens who have been unlawfully admitted to the United States, and the cost of such deportation shall be a lien against the vessel, which may be collected by the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located at the time of the discovery of the facts on which the lien is claimed, or at the time of the payment of such fine, and, in the event such fine is not paid, the vessel may be seized and sold by like process as provided for the enforcement of penalties imposed upon vessels for violations of the navigation laws of the United States.

SEC. 39. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or be granted a landing permit, or be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the enforcement of this section, from any vessel on board which he may be employed or from the United States.

SEC. 40. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside thereof (except from foreign contiguous territory) any alien seaman (whether an immigrant or not) who has been refused a landing by the immigration officer at the port of arrival shall cause such alien seaman to be detained on board the vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have granted a permit for the landing of such alien seaman, or shall cause such alien seaman to be detained on board such vessel until the departure of such vessel from the United States, unless such alien seaman shall be sooner removed therefrom in pursuance of a permit granted by the Secretary of Labor or by a court or judge of competent jurisdiction, or unless such alien seaman shall be certified by the proper consular officer at the port of foreign departure to the Secretary of Labor as a person who was in the United States prior to the execution of the bond required by this section and who was allowed to depart therefrom without having become a public charge.

(b) Every such alien seaman who shall not depart from the contiguous territory of the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who shall not be entered by the master of such vessel as a passenger, shall be deemed a public charge at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who shall not depart from the United States on such vessel, unless the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival shall be satisfied that sufficient provision has been made by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel for the maintenance of such alien while in the United States, and for his departure therefrom on such vessel or some other vessel within a period of thirty days after the date of his arrival, or unless such alien shall be admitted to the United States by the Secretary of Labor, or unless such alien shall be duly certified by the proper consular officer at the port of foreign departure to the Secretary of Labor as a person who was in the United States prior to the execution of the bond required by this section and who was allowed to depart therefrom without having become a public charge.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall determine that any person has been permitted to land in the United States from any vessel in violation of this section, such person shall be deported in the same manner as provided for the deportation of aliens who have been unlawfully admitted to the United States, and the cost of such deportation shall be a lien against the vessel, which may be collected by the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located at the time of the discovery of the facts on which the lien is claimed, or at the time of the payment of such fine, and, in the event such fine is not paid, the vessel may be seized and sold by like process as provided for the enforcement of penalties imposed upon vessels for violations of the navigation laws of the United States.

PAR. 3. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel that shall have reported to section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, upon passengers, crew, or baggage, or any vessel that shall have reported to section 37 of said Act, or any vessel that shall have violated section 38 of said Act, or any vessel that shall have violated section 39 of said Act, or any vessel that shall have violated section

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of the vessel at the United States from foreign port or before it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of every vessel bringing any alien to the United States to deliver to the immigrant inspectors at the port of arrival lists or manifests of all such aliens, and to answer such questions in relation to such aliens as may be required by the Secretary of Labor at the time of inspection or prior thereto, and to cause such aliens as may be designated for examination by the medical officer of the United States Public Health Service to be detained on board or at quarantine for such examination, and to prevent the landing of any alien not duly certified by the immigrant inspectors, and to detain any alien on board or at quarantine who may be certified by the medical officer of the United States Public Health Service to be suffering from any contagious disease, and to perform such other duties relative to the inspection of aliens as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and to obey such orders as may be given by any such officer in relation to the removal of aliens who may be found on board or at quarantine. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to perform any of the duties required of him by this section, or who shall refuse or neglect to obey any such order, shall pay a penalty of $200 for each and every such refusal or neglect, and the vessel shall be liable for the payment of such penalty and may be libeled therefor in the district court of the United States for the district in which the vessel may arrive.

SEC. 36. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States from any place outside thereof (other than an alien crewman employed on the regular line of vessels between Canada or Mexico and the United States, and an alien who has been in the United States at least one year next preceding his departure therefrom, and who is returning to the United States after a temporary visit abroad) shall cause such alien to be detained on board such vessel at the port of arrival until a physician designated by the Secretary of Labor shall have had an opportunity to examine such alien and certify to the immigration officer in charge at such port whether such alien is afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disabilities which would be ground for excluding such alien from admission into the United States, and such immigration officer shall have given a permit for the landing of such alien. Any such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who shall refuse or neglect to detain any such alien on board or at quarantine as herein provided, or who shall land or permit to be landed any such alien except as provided in this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(b) If any such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer shall fail to detain any alien on board or at quarantine as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, or shall land or permit to be landed any alien in violation of any of the provisions of this section, such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such port of entry is located a sum not exceeding $1,000 for each alien so landed or permitted to be landed.

(c) If any master of a vessel shall fail to deliver to the immigrant inspectors lists containing such information in regard to all aliens on board his vessel as may be required by the Secretary of Labor at the time of inspection or prior thereto, or shall fail to answer truly any question in relation to such aliens which may be asked by the immigrant inspectors, he shall pay a penalty of $10 for each such alien in respect of whom such failure occurs.

(d) Every alien arriving at a port of the United States from any place outside thereof, and every alien who may be in transit through the United States to any place outside thereof, shall be subject to such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor.

(e) If any person, corporation, company, association, or vessel shall violate any of the provisions of this section, or any rule, regulation, or order made thereunder, for which a penalty is not otherwise prescribed, such person, corporation, company, association, or vessel shall be liable to a penalty of not more than $1,000 for each such violation, to be recovered in the district court of the United States for the district in which the violation occurs.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving at any port of the United States from any place outside thereof, except persons in the service of the United States, and no alien seaman employed on board any vessel departing from any port of the United States, except persons employed in the service of the United States, shall be granted a permit to go ashore from such vessel unless there be produced to the immigration officer in charge at such port a certificate issued by the Secretary of Labor stating that the presence of such alien seaman ashore is necessary for the medical treatment of such alien seaman, or that such alien seaman is ill and cannot be removed without danger to his life, or that such alien seaman has been detained for the purpose of being tried for an offense against the laws of the United States or of any State, Territory, or possession thereof, or that such alien seaman has been detained as a witness in connection with the trial of such offense, or that such alien seaman has been granted shore leave by the immigration officer in charge at such port under such conditions as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States without such certificate or who shall remain ashore after the vessel on which he arrived or intends to depart has left the port shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof.

SEC. 19. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States from any place outside thereof (other than an alien crewman employed on a vessel arriving at a port of the United States from a foreign contiguous territory, or an alien who has been in the United States at least one year next preceding his departure therefrom, and who is returning to the United States after a temporary visit abroad) shall cause such alien to be detained on board such vessel at the port of arrival until a physician designated by the Secretary of Labor shall have had an opportunity to examine such alien and certify to the immigration officer in charge at such port whether such alien is afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disabilities which would be ground for excluding such alien from admission into the United States, and such immigration officer shall have given a permit for the landing of such alien. Any such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who shall refuse or neglect to detain any such alien on board or at quarantine as herein provided, or who shall land or permit to be landed any such alien except as provided in this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(b) If any such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer shall fail to detain any alien on board or at quarantine as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, or shall land or permit to be landed any alien in violation of any of the provisions of this section, such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such port of entry is located a sum not exceeding $1,000 for each alien so landed or permitted to be landed.

(c) If any master of a vessel shall fail to deliver to the immigrant inspectors lists containing such information in regard to all aliens on board his vessel as may be required by the Secretary of Labor at the time of inspection or prior thereto, or shall fail to answer truly any question in relation to such aliens which may be asked by the immigrant inspectors, he shall pay a penalty of $10 for each such alien in respect of whom such failure occurs. Any master of a vessel who shall refuse to allow any immigrant inspector to enter the vessel for the purpose of performing any duty relative to the inspection of aliens, or shall refuse to detain any alien on board his vessel when ordered so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such port of entry is located a sum not exceeding $1,000 for each alien so ordered to be detained.

(d) Every alien arriving at a port of the United States from any place outside thereof, and every alien who may be in transit through the United States to any place outside thereof, shall be subject to such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor.

(e) If any person, corporation, company, association, or vessel shall violate any of the provisions of this section, or any rule, regulation, or order made thereunder, for which a penalty is not otherwise prescribed, such person, corporation, company, association, or vessel shall be liable to a penalty of not more than $1,000 for each such violation, to be recovered in the district court of the United States for the district in which the violation occurs. Any master of a vessel who refuses or neglects to perform any duty required of him or his vessel, or who interferes with, hinders, or delays or confines any immigrant inspector in the performance of his official duties, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

ART. 3. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the master thereof shall have delivered to the collector of customs the lists required by section 34 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and by section 18 of the Act of May 26, 1924, and shall have certified to the correctness thereof, and to the fact that the provisions of section 19 of the Act of May 26, 1924, relative to the detention of aliens on board vessels, have been complied with, and that no person has been granted shore leave, and no person has been landed from such vessel, except in accordance with the provisions of section 18 of the Act of May 26, 1924, and that no person has been taken on board such vessel except in accordance with the provisions of section 3 of the Act of February 5, 1917, relative to the boarding of vessels before the granting of clearance papers.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, Valentin Jonescu, master of the Roman Steamer "VICTORIA" do depose and say that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew now on board or who have during my present voyage from any port or place outside the United States, and that I have not, nor has any officer of said vessel, to the best of my knowledge or belief, concealed, secreted, or harbored on board said vessel any person who is not mentioned in said list; that I have not, nor has any officer of said vessel, to the best of my knowledge or belief, landed from said vessel any person who is mentioned in said list, except in accordance with the provisions of section 18 of the Act of May 26, 1924, and that I have not, nor has any officer of said vessel, to the best of my knowledge or belief, taken on board said vessel any person except in accordance with the provisions of section 3 of the Act of February 5, 1917, relative to the boarding of vessels before the granting of clearance papers.

Sworn to before me this 13th day of September, 1921.

Valentin Jonescu
Master.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below should be prepared in plain typewriting by the Department and be ready for delivery at the immigration inspector-in-charge's office at least 24 hours before the vessel arrives, but shall not in any instance be delivered to the master of the vessel at a time more than 24 hours (four (480 minutes) and not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the inspector at the principal immigration office at the port.

The list should be made out in the manner shown in the following specimen form, "forward" meaning toward the bow of the vessel, and "aft" toward the stern.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of the vessel in the United States from the foreign port or place at which the alien may be last regularly admitted for permanent residence, the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel in the United States bringing such alien to the United States shall be required to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list or manifest of all such aliens, which list or manifest shall be prepared and delivered at such time before the vessel's arrival at such port as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, and shall contain such information, and be in such form and be verified in such manner, as the Commissioner General of Immigration may prescribe: Provided, That the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel may be required to deliver such list or manifest at the time of the vessel's arrival at such port if specifically directed by the Commissioner General of Immigration or any special inquiry officer that such list or manifest is required for the proper inspection of the vessel and the aliens thereon: Provided further, That if the vessel on which any alien shall arrive at a port of the United States from a foreign port shall have touched at any port of the United States from which such alien is destined to the United States, the master, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival in the United States a list or manifest containing the name of such alien, and such other information regarding him as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, before the vessel shall leave the port of such intermediate stop: Provided further, That the master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel violating any of the provisions of this section shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each such alien not included in the list or manifest delivered by him to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival in the United States, and no vessel shall be granted clearance pending the payment of any penalty which may be imposed upon it under the provisions of this section, nor shall such penalty be remitted or refunded except that clearance may be granted prior to the payment thereof upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover the amount of such penalty when definitely ascertained, or of a bond with sufficient surety conditioned for the payment of such penalty as may be finally determined by the Secretary of Labor: Provided further, That clearance may be granted prior to the payment of the penalty or the deposit of a bond as herein provided in the case of vessels touching at ports of the United States solely for the purpose of taking on board passengers destined to foreign countries, upon the production of such evidence as may be required by the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 8

PAR. 8. Clearance shall not be granted vessel until the last report required by section 36 thereof has been furnished, and not then if the master refuses or neglects to make oath to the correctness of the lists or manifests required by such section to be delivered by him to the immigrant inspector.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

SEC. 14. No alien seaman admitted from adjacent insular possessions of the United States shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or emergency endangering the safety of the vessel, or for such time as the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel may be required to detain him on board, or for such time as may be necessary to secure his removal as a deserter from the vessel, or for such time as may be necessary to effect the repair of the vessel, or pending the sailing of the vessel on her return trip, or for such time as may be necessary to comply with the provisions of this section. Any alien seaman who lands in the United States from any vessel arriving in the United States from any insular possession of the United States, except during the period of time he is permitted to remain in the United States under this section, shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, operator, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any insular possession of the United States shall be responsible for the proper care while in the United States of any alien seaman employed on board such vessel, and for his departure therefrom with the vessel on which he arrived or on the vessel on which he shall next depart for the insular possession of the United States from which he came, or for the deportation of such alien seaman in the event he is ordered deported under the provisions of this Act, and for the payment of the hospital expenses and burial expenses of such alien seaman in the event he dies while in the United States. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers or the equivalent thereof, or shall depart from the United States, without the written permission of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person charged with the responsibility for the departure of such vessel, that every such alien seaman employed on board thereof will depart therewith or on such vessel or vessels as may be designated by the Commissioner General of Immigration, or pursuant to his order, and that the cost of maintenance, including hospital, medical, and burial expenses of every such alien seaman will be paid. Before granting such permission the master, agent, owner, consignee, or person charged with the responsibility for the departure of such vessel shall deposit with the collector of customs a sum sufficient to pay the cost of maintenance of such alien seaman for a period not exceeding five days, and the cost of his transportation and such hospital, medical, and burial expenses, or shall furnish a bond in such sum as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration with sufficient surety for the payment of such expenses. Any such deposit may be remitted or refunded, or such bond canceled, after the departure of such alien seaman, or after the lapse of such reasonable time as may be necessary for the presentation of claims against such deposit or bond for such expenses.

(b) Every alien who is employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any insular possession of the United States and who is refused a permit to land in the United States, and every alien seaman who is ordered deported from the United States, shall be detained on board such vessel or on board such other vessel or vessels as may be designated by the Commissioner General of Immigration, or pursuant to his order, until such alien shall have been removed from the United States: Provided, That the master, agent, owner, consignee, or person charged with the responsibility for the departure of such vessel may, in lieu of detaining such alien on board, deposit with the collector of customs a sum sufficient to pay the cost of maintenance of such alien for a period not exceeding five days pending his removal from the United States, or may furnish a bond in such sum as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration with sufficient surety for the payment of such cost of maintenance. Any such deposit may be remitted or refunded, or such bond canceled, after the departure of such alien, or after the lapse of such reasonable time as may be necessary for the presentation of claims against such deposit or bond for such cost of maintenance.

(c) A fee of $10 shall be charged for the removal from the United States of any alien seaman who is ordered deported under the provisions of this Act, and such fee may be collected from the master, agent, owner, consignee, or person charged with the responsibility for the departure of such alien seaman, and deposited in the Treasury of the United States as a head tax. [illegible]

(d) Except alien seamen employed on board vessels touching at ports of the United States solely for the purpose of taking on board passengers destined to foreign countries, no master, agent, owner, consignee, or person charged with the responsibility for the departure of any vessel from any port of the United States shall employ any alien seaman who has not been admitted to the United States or who has not been granted a permit to land temporarily pending the departure of the vessel on which he arrived, or who has not been granted a permit to proceed in transit through the United States to a foreign country, or who has not been ordered deported and who has not been granted a permit to depart on a vessel bound for a foreign port and sailing within a period of five days from the date of application for such permit. Any person violating any of the provisions of this subdivision shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(e) A fee of $8 shall be charged for the issuance of each permit granted under the provisions of this Act.

(f) Any person who knowingly violates any of the provisions of this section, or who knowingly makes any false statement in connection with the application for any permit or bond provided for in this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(g) If the Commissioner General of Immigration shall be satisfied that any vessel has been operated in violation of this section, he may withhold clearance for such vessel and refuse the issuance of such permits as may be required for the departure of such vessel from the United States.

(h) Sections 32 to 35, inclusive, of the Immigration Act of 1917 (U. S. C., title 8, secs. 148–151), are hereby repealed.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, ARMAS J. SOONS, of the "LOCHCOIL", do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew now on board of said vessel, and of all persons taken on board at any port or place during the past three months, so far as I have been able to ascertain the same, and that I have caused or shall cause a copy of section 36 of the United States Immigration Law and of paragraph 8, subdivision (d), of Immigration Rule 8, which appear below.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below must be prepared on plain white paper by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel as the boat is leaving the dock, and the list must be collected by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of entry (888 main building, 2 Ellis Island) before any person shall be allowed to land.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That from and after the first day of July, nineteen hundred and seventeen, it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or lessee in the United States of any vessel in the foreign trade of the United States to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of entry a list or manifest of all the aliens who may be taken on board at any foreign port or place where they may embark for the United States, and to prepare and deliver with such list such information in addition thereto as is called for by the said list or manifest as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe; and such list or manifest shall be prepared and delivered in such form and manner and contain such additional information relative to such aliens as the Secretary of Labor may by regulation require. Such list or manifest shall be signed by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or lessee of the vessel, and verified by him before a person authorized by the Secretary of Labor to administer oaths and take depositions in such matters, and delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of first arrival of such vessel in the United States. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or lessee of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such list or manifest, or who shall refuse or neglect to answer truthfully and completely to the best of his knowledge any question touching the right of any alien to enter the United States which may be asked by any immigrant inspector, or who shall refuse to allow any immigrant inspector to come on board such vessel for the purpose of inspecting the list or manifest, or who shall refuse to detain any alien on board such vessel when requested so to do by any immigrant inspector, or who shall refuse or neglect to carry any alien back on the vessel which brought him to the United States, or who shall refuse or neglect to pay the tax imposed by this Act in the case of any such alien, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each and every such offense. CN Lessee shall be construed to include any charterer, whether individual or corporation, who has control of the vessel as to the designation of the persons to be carried thereon. (1) Every alien shall be subject to such further inspection and examination after he has been admitted to the United States as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, under rules prescribed by him, whether such alien shall have been naturalized or shall have resided in the United States for any length of time before being found therein in violation of this Act or of any amendment thereto, or of any rules or regulations made in pursuance thereof, and may be returned in the manner provided herein in the case of aliens arriving from foreign ports who may be found in violation of this Act.

SEC. 38. (a) After three months from the passage of this Act it shall be unlawful for any person, including any transportation company, master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel, to bring to the United States from any place outside the United States any alien who does not appear to the examining surgeon at the time of inspection to be free from mental and physical defect, such defect being likely to affect the ability of such alien to earn a living, unless such alien is in possession of a certificate from the consul at the port or place of foreign departure, or, if there be no consul at such port or place, then from the consul at the nearest port or place to the port or place of departure, stating that such alien has been examined by the said consul and that the said consul has knowledge that such alien is not mentally or physically defective, such defect being likely to affect the ability of such alien to earn a living.

(b) Any person, including any transportation company, master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel, who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each and every such violation.

(c) The Commissioner-General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, shall prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of this section.

For U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals decisions see Appendix.

Rule 7. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the libel shall have been filed, or the stipulation in lieu thereof executed, as provided in section 941, Revised Statutes, and the amount of the bail bond fixed by the court or commissioner, and approved by the collector of customs, or other officer granting clearance, in accordance with the provisions of section 941, Revised Statutes, as amended by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and section 4 of the Act of May 27, 1921, and section 1 of the Act of September 19, 1922, and section 1 of the Act of March 4, 1925, and section 1 of the Act of June 5, 1930, and section 1 of the Act of March 3, 1931, and section 1 of the Act of June 17

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The law described below requires shall be observed on board every vessel to which it applies. The Department has no power to waive or dispense with any requirement of the law. The penalty for violation of its provisions is a fine of $100 for each offense.

Where an alleged violation is reported to the Department, a subpœna will be issued requiring the master to appear before the proper United States Commissioner, Shipping Commissioners' Office, or Consular Officer, and testify in the case. Witnesses will be subpœnaed to appear at the same time.

SEC. 36. That a vessel having on board at the time of departure from any foreign port or place any person who is afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, or who has been exposed to such disease during the period of detention, shall not be admitted to enter any port of the United States, but shall be detained at quarantine until the medical officer of the port shall certify that such person is not affected with such disease, or that such disease has been cured, or that such person has been exposed to such disease and has not taken the same, and such certificate shall be conclusive upon the officers of the customs in regard to the admission of such person: Provided, That the exclusion of persons afflicted with such disease shall not apply to persons in the cabin of any vessel who have been exposed to such disease prior to the sailing of such vessel, and who are not themselves afflicted therewith, nor to persons who have been naturalized or who have resided in the United States three years next preceding the time of application for admission, and who have been absent therefrom not more than one year at any one time, and who shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of the Treasury that they have not been exposed to such disease during such absence; nor to persons who are citizens of the United States, or who have resided therein next preceding the time of their departure therefrom three years, and who shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of the Treasury that they have not been exposed to such disease during such residence; nor to persons who are members of the crew of any vessel, and who remain on board while she is in port, and who depart therewith or subsequently in the service on board of her: Provided, That the Secretary of the Treasury may, in his discretion, cause to be removed to a hospital for treatment, or to be otherwise isolated, any person who is suffering from any such disease, and may cause the occupied space to be disinfected, and may cause the clothing of any such person to be disinfected or destroyed, and may cause any such person to be detained at quarantine for a period not exceeding fifteen days.

SEC. 39. (a) That whenever, whether in time of war or not, the President shall be satisfied that the public interest requires the exclusion from the United States of any aliens or any class of aliens, he may make proclamation thereof, and it shall thereafter be unlawful for any such alien or aliens to enter the United States until such proclamation shall be revoked.

(b) That whenever the President shall be satisfied that passports are required by the government of a foreign country from citizens of the United States, or any class of citizens thereof, he may refuse to permit any citizen of the United States to depart from the United States unless he shall have first obtained a passport, in such form as he shall prescribe, stating the name, age, residence, and occupation of such citizen, and containing such description and other information concerning him as the Secretary of State may deem necessary.

(c) That the master of any vessel bringing any alien to the United States in violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien so brought, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(d) That any person who shall knowingly aid or abet any alien to enter the United States in violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(e) That any person who shall knowingly aid or abet any alien to depart from the United States who has not received a passport as provided in this section, or who has received a passport which has been canceled, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(f) That any person who shall knowingly make any false statement in an application for a passport with intent to procure the issuance of a passport under the provisions of this section, or who shall forge, counterfeit, mutilate, or falsely apply any such passport, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $2,000 or by imprisonment for not more than five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(g) That any person who shall use any passport issued or visaed or purporting to be issued or visaed by the Secretary of State contrary to the conditions and restrictions thereof, or which has been procured in any way by reason of any false statement, or which has been altered in any way by the person to whom it was originally issued, or which has been canceled by the Secretary of State or by any diplomatic or consular officer of the United States, or which has been issued in the name of a person other than the true name of the person using the same, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $2,000 or by imprisonment for not more than five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(h) That any person who knowingly uses any passport issued or visaed or purporting to be issued or visaed by the Secretary of State, or any diplomatic or consular officer of the United States, which relates wholly or partly to the passport of another person, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $2,000 or by imprisonment for not more than five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(i) That any person who shall utter, publish, or sell, or attempt to utter, publish, or sell, or have in possession with intent to utter, publish, or sell, or who shall knowingly cause to be uttered, published, or sold, or attempted to be uttered, published, or sold, any false or forged passport, or any passport issued for the use of another than the person using the same, with intent to defraud the United States or any other person, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $2,000 or by imprisonment for not more than five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(j) That any person who shall willfully and knowingly make any false statement in any affidavit required to be made under the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $2,000 or by imprisonment for not more than five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(k) That the words "vessel" and "vessels" as used in this section include every description of vessel navigating the waters of the United States.

ALIEN SEAMEN.

SEC. 18. (a) That after the expiration of one hundred and eighty days after the date of the enactment of this Act no alien shall be employed on board any vessel of the United States, except the vessels mentioned in section 2 of the Act of March 4, 1915, and except as hereinafter provided in this section.

(b) That the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may permit masters of vessels of the United States to employ aliens as seamen on such vessels when no citizens of the United States are available, but only after the vacancies have been reported to the local office of the United States Employment Service for the district in which the vessel is located at the time the vacancies occur, and only if the vacancies have not been filled from the list of citizens and aliens registered at such office who are available for shipping on such vessels. Such permission shall be granted only for the particular vessel and the particular voyage specified therein, and shall not be granted for more than two voyages in succession. Such permission shall be granted only upon the condition that the wages paid to such aliens shall be the same as the wages paid to citizens employed on similar vessels on the same voyage, and that the treatment of such aliens shall be the same as the treatment of citizens employed on such vessels. Such permission may be revoked at any time in the discretion of the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, and shall be revoked upon the request of the Secretary of Labor. Any alien employed on board any vessel pursuant to the provisions of this section who shall desert while such vessel is in any port of the United States shall be deported in pursuance of the provisions of section 19 of this Act, and shall thereafter be ineligible to enter the United States, except within the period of his lawful permission to accompany the vessel on which he arrived.

(c) That the provisions of this section shall not apply to any alien who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who has resided therein for a period of five years next preceding any application for admission to the coastwise service, or who has married a citizen of the United States and has resided therein next preceding any such application, or who has served honorably on board a vessel of the United States during the war with Germany for a period of not less than one year, or who has declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States and who has resided therein next preceding any such application for a period of not less than two years.

(d) That the penalty provided in section 2 of the Act of March 4, 1915, shall be imposed upon the master of any vessel who violates any of the provisions of this section.

(e) That the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may issue such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of this section.

(f) That the words "vessel" and "vessels" as used in this section include every description of vessel navigating the waters of the United States.

Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below must be prepared on blank forms furnished by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall be taken to the location as may from time to time be designated by the Commissioner of Immigration. The list of crew (Form 486) shall not be required to be obtained on board, and shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival.

When an arriving alien seamen is a member "crew" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens, passengers and members of the crew respectively who may be found on board at the time of inspection by the said officer, or at any time prior thereto, and to report the sickness and deaths on board during the voyage; and it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to furnish such information in addition to the facts stated in the lists of passengers and crew as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and to subscribe to the truth of such lists before the said officer. Such lists shall be in the form prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and shall contain such particulars concerning each alien, including the place of birth, the last residence, the intended destination in the United States, whether he has a ticket through to such destination, whether he has been in the United States before, whether he has been in prison or almshouse or an institution for the care of the insane or supported by charity, whether he is coming for labor or otherwise, whether he has a relative or friend in the United States, and if so, what relative or friend, and whether he has been deported, as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. The said lists shall be prepared at the time of embarkation at the last port of departure from a foreign country, or at the time of departure from the United States in the case of vessels coming from contiguous territory, or at the time of arrival in the case of vessels originating in the United States and touching at foreign ports, and shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival before the inspection of the vessel begins, and shall be verified by the oath of the master or commanding officer thereof, or the first or second assistant thereof, as to the correctness of the entries therein. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, require the said lists to be prepared and verified before the vessel departs from any foreign port or place.

SEC. 37. (a) That it shall be unlawful for any person, company, partnership, or corporation to bring into the United States from any place outside thereof any alien not duly admissible under the provisions of this Act, or any rule or regulation made in pursuance thereof, and any person, company, partnership, or corporation bringing any alien to the United States shall take such alien back to the foreign port from which he came, or to any other foreign port to which he may be admissible at the option of the master of the vessel or other person in charge thereof, or shall pay the cost of returning such alien to the port from which he came, or to the country whence he came, or to the country of which he is a subject or citizen, by the vessel bringing him or by any other vessel or means of transportation, such return to be commenced within two days after the refusal to permit such alien to land, or within such further time as may be allowed by the immigrant inspector in charge. Pending the return of any such alien, reasonable provision shall be made for his detention, at the option of the master, commanding officer, agent, owner, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel bringing such alien, on board such vessel or at such place or places as may be designated by the immigrant inspector in charge, or by the Secretary of Labor, but no such alien shall be detained on board any vessel after the same has been duly cleared and is ready to depart from the port, except by his consent. Any such alien ordered returned shall be entitled to land at the port from which he came, or at the port at which he embarked for the United States, or at his birthplace, or at the port in the country to which he may be admissible at the option of the master, commanding officer, agent, owner, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel bringing him to the United States, and the cost of his maintenance while detained and of his return shall be borne by the master, commanding officer, agent, owner, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel bringing him to the United States, and the vessel shall be liable therefor and may be seized and detained until the amount is paid or secured to be paid to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(b) If the Secretary of Labor shall decide that any alien has been permitted to land in the United States from any vessel in violation of law, or that any alien has been allowed to land in the United States from any vessel through error or mistake of the immigrant inspector in charge, or that any alien has been allowed to land in the United States from any vessel by reason of any subterfuge, fraud, or misrepresentation, such alien shall be taken into custody and returned to the country from which he came to the United States, in the manner provided in subdivision (a) of this section, at any time within five years after the date of his entry into the United States, whether such entry was lawful or otherwise, upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be deported in the same manner as other aliens who have entered unlawfully. The decision of the Secretary of Labor shall be final as to the facts of deportability and shall be conclusive upon the Secretary of State with respect to the country to which such alien shall be deported. The provisions of this section shall apply to the case of any alien who may hereafter enter the United States as a member of the crew of any vessel arriving at a port of the United States, notwithstanding the fact that such alien may not have been entered or included in the manifest of the vessel upon which he arrived.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any alien has been deported in violation of law, or that any alien has been deported who was not subject to deportation, or that any alien has been deported who was not subject to deportation at the time of such deportation, he shall have the power and it shall be his duty to cause a true statement of the facts in the case to be communicated to the President, and to report to the Congress the full particulars in the case, with his recommendations for the relief of such alien, if any, and the facts shall be reported to the Congress in the annual report of the Secretary of Labor.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall have been admitted into the United States from any vessel arriving at a port thereof, or who shall have been allowed to land temporarily from any vessel, and who shall remain in the United States for a period of more than twenty days after the departure of the vessel from the port of arrival, shall be deemed to be a person who has entered the United States unlawfully within the meaning of this Act, and shall be subject to deportation in the same manner as provided in the case of other aliens who have entered unlawfully.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that any alien has been unlawfully brought into the United States by any person, company, or corporation, or by any agent or officer thereof, and that such person, company, or corporation knowingly assisted, encouraged, or solicited the unlawful entry of such alien, he may cause a complaint to be filed in the proper court against such person, company, or corporation, and prosecute the same to final judgment. Such person, company, or corporation shall be fined in a sum not exceeding $1,000 for each alien so unlawfully brought in respect of whom such proceedings are instituted, and in addition shall be liable to a penalty of not exceeding $1,000 for each alien in respect of whom such proceedings are instituted, whether or not such alien shall have been apprehended within the United States, which penalty may be sued for and recovered by the United States or by any person who shall first bring the facts upon which such proceedings are instituted to the attention of the Secretary of Labor. Such penalty shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States. Any such alien shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States unlawfully.

SEC. 38. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws, or who shall not comply with the conditions of his landing permit, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospital treatment, or emergency, or for such time as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and pending the return of such alien seaman to the country from which he came to the United States, or pending his deportation to any other foreign country to which he may be admissible, such alien seaman shall be detained on board or at such place as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival, and the cost of such detention shall be borne by the master, commanding officer, agent, owner, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel bringing such alien seaman to the United States.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws now in force or hereafter enacted, or who shall not comply with the conditions of his landing permit, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospital treatment, or emergency, or for such time as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and pending the return of such alien seaman to the country from which he came to the United States, or pending his deportation to any other foreign country to which he may be admissible, such alien seaman shall be detained on board or at such place as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival, and the cost of such detention shall be borne by the master, commanding officer, agent, owner, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel bringing such alien seaman to the United States. Any such alien seaman who shall have been admitted into the United States from any vessel arriving at a port thereof, or who shall have been allowed to land temporarily from any vessel, and who shall remain in the United States for a period of more than twenty days after the departure of the vessel from the port of arrival, shall be deemed to be a person who has entered the United States unlawfully within the meaning of this Act, and shall be subject to deportation in the same manner as provided in the case of other aliens who have entered unlawfully.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 6

SECTION 2. Clearance shall not be granted until the vessel shall have been entered, and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge shall have delivered to the immigrant inspector in charge a correct list, in the form prescribed by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, of all the persons on board the vessel, including passengers and crew, and specifying the number of each class on board. Clearance may be granted before the delivery of the list if the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel shall make oath that the list is correct and contains the names of all persons on board, to the best of his knowledge and belief, and that he will deliver the list to the immigrant inspector in charge before the departure of the vessel from the port, and will deliver a correct list if any change shall be made in the list before the departure of the vessel from the port. Clearance may be granted before the delivery of the list by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel upon the production of a certificate from the immigrant inspector in charge that the list has been received and that the vessel may be cleared without the list being delivered.

(b) Section 38 of the Immigration Act of 1924 provides that the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel bringing any alien who is not admissible under the provisions of that Act, or any rule or regulation made in pursuance thereof, shall take such alien back to the foreign port from which he came, or to any other foreign port to which he may be admissible at the option of the master of the vessel or other person in charge thereof, or shall pay the cost of returning such alien to the port from which he came, or to the country whence he came, or to the country of which he is a subject or citizen, by the vessel bringing him or by any other vessel or means of transportation, such return to be commenced within two days after the refusal to permit such alien to land, or within such further time as may be allowed by the immigrant inspector in charge. Pending the return of any such alien, reasonable provision shall be made for his detention, at the option of the master, commanding officer, agent, owner, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel bringing such alien to the United States, in the manner provided in the Immigration Act of 1924 and Immigration Rule 22 and not otherwise.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, ADAM HUNTER, of the "Amerika," do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew now employed in said vessel from any port or place during the past three months, and of all passengers who have taken passage on said vessel at any port or place in Europe, Asia, Africa, or elsewhere, for the United States, so far as the same have been ascertained by me, except as follows: None.

I have noted the color of section 36 of the United States immigration Law and of paragraph 2, subdivision (d), immigration Rule 2, which appears below.

Master, First or Second Officer.

Sworn to before me this 19th day of April, 1907

Immigrant Inspector.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of the vessel at the United States from the foreign port or place at which the duty of its owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival the lists of aliens required to be taken by section 12 of this Act, and to present such aliens for examination, the said officer, or the physician or surgeon of the United States public health service detailed for the purpose, shall have the right to board such vessel, and the said officer shall have the right to go and remain on board the vessel at the port of arrival for the purpose of examining into the condition of the aliens on board, and may detain such vessel at such port for a period not exceeding five days, exclusive of Sundays, pending the completion of such examination. Any such vessel which shall depart from a foreign port or place without having on board a surgeon duly appointed by the Secretary of Labor, if such surgeon can be obtained at such port or place, shall pay a penalty of $300 to the United States for each alien on board at the time of departure, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the infliction of such penalty, but clearance may be granted prior to such determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty with the collector of customs or other proper officer of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located pending the decision of the Secretary of Labor.

(a) If the Secretary of Labor shall have granted special permission for the landing of any alien before the payment of the penalty or the decision of the Secretary of Labor as to the infliction thereof, the payment of such penalty shall be a condition precedent to the granting of clearance papers for such vessel, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers while any such penalty remains unpaid, but the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, remit the whole or any part of such penalty when it shall appear to his satisfaction that there was no negligence, fault, or intention to violate the law on the part of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel, and that reasonable diligence was exercised by such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer to prevent the violation of the law.

(b) Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel who shall refuse to allow any immigrant inspector access to the vessel for the purpose of inspecting the alien passengers and crew thereon, or to the lists required by section 12 of this Act to be delivered to such inspector, or who shall refuse to detain on board such vessel, pending such inspection, any alien who may be required by such inspector to be detained thereon, or who shall refuse to deliver to such inspector any such alien who may be required by him to be delivered, or who shall refuse to pay the head tax provided for by section 1 of this Act, or who shall refuse to carry back to a foreign port or place any alien who may be required by the Secretary of Labor to be so carried back, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each alien in respect to whom any such violation occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the infliction of any fine or penalty provided for by this section, or while any such fine or penalty remains unpaid, and the payment of any such fine or penalty and the granting of clearance papers shall not relieve the vessel from subsequent seizure for any violation of the provisions of this section.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall have granted special permission for the landing of any alien before the payment of the penalty or the decision of the Secretary of Labor as to the infliction thereof, and such alien shall thereafter abscond or escape before such penalty shall be paid, the master of the vessel on which such alien arrived shall be liable to the payment of such penalty.

(d) Every alien in whose behalf a head tax is required by this section to be paid shall be entitled to a certificate from the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival showing the payment by him of such head tax, and every such alien who is not in possession of such certificate at the time of his application for admission to the United States from a foreign port or place adjacent to the United States shall be detained at the port of arrival until such certificate is obtained or the head tax is paid.

SEC. 2. (a) That the terms "immigrant inspector," "inspector in charge," and "commissioner of immigration" as used in this Act shall be construed to mean any officer of the United States appointed to perform the duties imposed by this Act upon such officer, and the term "Secretary of Labor" shall be construed to mean the Secretary of Labor.

(b) The term "United States" as used in this Act includes the Canal Zone, the District of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii, Porto Rico, and the Virgin Islands.

(c) The term "alien" as used in this Act includes every person not a native-born or naturalized citizen of the United States, but does not include (1) an alien lawfully admitted to the United States who has a right to return hereto from a temporary visit abroad; (2) a person who was originally a citizen of the United States and who has not voluntarily performed any act of expatriation; (3) a person who has lawfully acquired United States citizenship through the citizenship of a husband or parent; (4) a child who was born subsequent to the naturalization of its parent; (5) a person who has been naturalized by the judicial naturalization of a husband or parent, if such person has resided in the United States for at least five years next preceding the filing of the petition for naturalization and has resided in the United States continuously from the date of such judicial naturalization to the date of his application for a certificate of citizenship.

(d) The word "person" as used in this Act shall be construed to import both the plural and the singular, as the case demands, and shall include associations, companies, and partnerships.

SEC. 3. That the following classes of aliens shall be excluded from admission into the United States: All idiots, insane persons, epileptics, and persons who have been insane within five years previous; persons who have had two or more attacks of insanity at any time previously; paupers; persons likely to become a public charge; professional beggars; vagrants; persons afflicted with tuberculosis in any form or with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease; persons who have been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or who admit the commission of such crime or misdemeanor, or who admit the facts constituting such crime or misdemeanor, but the provisions of this paragraph relating to persons who admit the commission of such crime or misdemeanor shall not apply to persons who have been granted a pardon by the President of the United States or by the Governor of the State in which the conviction took place; polygamists, or persons who practice polygamy or believe in or advocate the practice of polygamy; anarchists, or persons who believe in or advocate the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States, or of all forms of law, or the assassination of public officials; prostitutes, or persons coming into the United States for the purpose of prostitution or for any other immoral purpose; persons who procure or attempt to bring in prostitutes or persons coming for the purpose of prostitution or for any other immoral purpose; persons who have come in consequence of advertisements for laborers inserted in foreign papers; persons who are assisted by others to come, unless it is affirmatively and satisfactorily shown that such persons do not belong to one of the foregoing excluded classes, or to the class of persons mentioned in section 2 of the Act of February 26, 1885, as amended by section 1 of the Act of May 26, 1892, relating to contract labor; persons whose ticket or passage is paid for with the money of another or who are coming in response to false or misleading advertisements, or who solicit or have paid their passage or given others money or other thing of value for procuring their passage; persons who have come in violation of the provisions of the Act of March 3, 1903, entitled "An Act to regulate the importation of contract laborers and laborers who have been deported, and other purposes"; persons whose ticket or passage is paid for by the United States Government, by the government of any State, county, town, municipality, or by any charitable institution or society, or any person not related by blood or marriage, unless it be affirmatively shown that such person does not belong to any

I, A.W. Gagon, Master, of the British S.S. ROCHETTE, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew thoroughly in said vessel from said port or place during her present voyage. I have noted the copy of section 36 of the Act of 7th March 1911, extract from supplement B, rule 7, and copy of sections 61 and 63, Act of May 30, 1911, multiple appear below.

A.W. Gagon
Master, [illegible]

Sworn to before me this 18th day of September, 1918

[illegible]
Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared in duplicate, one copy to be delivered to the Immigration officer at the port of first arrival in the United States, and the other copy to be delivered to the Immigration officer at the port of departure, or, if there be no Immigration officer at such port, then to the customs officer. The list of aliens required to be delivered to the Immigration officer at the port of arrival in the United States must be verified by the oath of the master or commanding officer or the first or second officer of the vessel, and must be delivered to the Immigration officer at the port of arrival before any of the passengers are landed. Any master or commanding officer who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such list, or who shall refuse to answer any question concerning the same, or shall willfully answer falsely, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be liable to a penalty of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom he shall refuse to answer any question or who shall willfully answer falsely, and may also be imprisoned for a term not exceeding one year. (See section 2 of the Immigration Act of February 5, 1917.)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel at the United States from any foreign port to which it may be bound, every master, commander, or agent thereof is required to deliver to the proper immigration officer at each port of entry in the United States a manifest or list or passengers taken on board at the port of departure, which list shall be prepared in the form or forms prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall contain such information as may be required by said Commissioner General of Immigration or Secretary of Labor, and such additional information relative to said passengers as the Secretary of the Treasury may require. Said list or manifest shall be sworn to before the consular officer of the United States at the port of departure, or, if there be no such consular officer at said port, then before the collector of customs or his deputy at the port or place in the United States at which the vessel shall first arrive, and shall be produced by the master for the inspection of, and shall be delivered to, the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival. Any master who refuses to comply with the requirements of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such violation occurs. (See section 2 of the Immigration Act of February 5, 1917.)

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 7. Clearance shall not be granted to any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, shall have been furnished, prepared, and sworn to before the consular officer at the port of departure, and delivered to the master for presentation to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival in the United States.

SEC. 36. (a) That every alien arriving at a port of the United States from any place outside thereof, or arriving at any port in the United States from any place in the Philippine Islands, except seamen employed in the regular service of vessels of the United States, and except persons who have been lawfully admitted to the United States and who are returning from a temporary visit abroad, shall be examined by one or more immigrant inspectors at the port of arrival, and for the purpose of such examination any such alien may be detained on board or at the immigrant station in charge of such inspectors for a period not exceeding two days, unless the Secretary of Labor shall extend the time in any specific case. Such inspectors shall have power to administer oaths and to take and consider evidence touching the right of any such alien to enter or land in the United States, which evidence shall be taken down in writing and filed with the record of the proceedings. Such inspectors shall also have power to administer oaths and to take and consider evidence in connection with any application for the issuance of certificates in lieu of lost certificates of arrival, or for the issuance of certificates of arrival in cases in which such certificates are granted by law without requiring the production of the certificates which may be lost, and for the issuance of such certificates. Any person who knowingly makes any false statement in connection with any such application shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and shall be punished accordingly. The decision of such inspectors adverse to the admission of any alien shall be final unless reversed on appeal to the Secretary of Labor, whose decision shall be final. Pending the final decision of such appeal, the alien shall be detained in such manner as the Secretary of Labor may direct. All appeals shall be taken within ten days after the decision adverse to the admission of the alien is rendered, unless such time be extended by the Secretary of Labor upon application therefor before the expiration of said period of ten days. In cases brought before boards of special inquiry, a majority of such boards shall have power to admit or reject. Any alien who comes in search of employment shall be subject to the payment of a head tax of $8, to be deducted from his first wages if not otherwise paid. All decisions made by boards of special inquiry shall be subject to challenge by the alien or his representative before the Secretary of Labor, whose decision thereon shall be final.

(b) That any alien who shall come in violation of section 3 of the Act of February 20, 1907, or of any other law or treaty now or hereafter in force regulating the immigration of aliens into the United States, shall be taken into custody and deported in the manner provided by section 20 of the Act of February 20, 1907, as amended by section 19 of the Act of February 5, 1917, unless the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that such alien belongs to one of the classes enumerated in exempted from deportation, or shall grant such alien a stay of deportation until, in his opinion, the cause for his detention no longer exists. In case any alien is ordered deported, a warrant shall be issued for his apprehension, specifying the time and place of his deportation, and the officer charged with the execution of the warrant shall have power to take and hold any property of such alien and to apply the proceeds thereof to the payment of the head tax and expenses of such deportation, and for this purpose to sell any property of such alien at public auction after reasonable notice. The decision of the Secretary of Labor in any case of deportation shall be final and conclusive. No alien ordered deported shall be admitted to the United States for one year thereafter without the consent of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien will result in serious injury to the party or corporation controlling the vessel bringing such alien to the United States, or that no suitable means exist for his immediate deportation, he may permit such alien to enter the United States upon the execution by such party or corporation of a bond in such amount, not exceeding $500, and with such sureties as he may require, conditioned for the deportation of such alien within such time as may be specified by the Secretary of Labor, and in default of the performance of the conditions of the bond it may be prosecuted and collected in the manner provided by law for the collection of other bonds given to the United States.

SEC. 36. (a) That every alien arriving at a port of the United States from any place outside thereof, or arriving at any port in the United States from the Philippine Islands, except seamen employed in the regular service of vessels of the United States, and except persons who have been lawfully admitted to the United States and who are returning from a temporary visit abroad, shall be examined by one or more immigrant inspectors at the port of arrival, and for the purpose of such examination any such alien may be detained on board or at the immigrant station in charge of such inspectors for a period not exceeding two days, unless the Secretary of Labor shall extend the time in any specific case. Such inspectors shall have power to administer oaths and to take and consider evidence touching the right of any such alien to enter or land in the United States, which evidence shall be taken down in writing and filed with the record of the proceedings. Such inspectors shall also have power to administer oaths and to take and consider evidence in connection with any application for the issuance of certificates in lieu of lost certificates of arrival, or for the issuance of certificates of arrival in cases in which such certificates are granted by law without requiring the production of the certificates which may be lost, and for the issuance of such certificates. Any person who knowingly makes any false statement in connection with any such application shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and shall be punished accordingly. The decision of such inspectors adverse to the admission of any alien shall be final unless reversed on appeal to the Secretary of Labor, whose decision shall be final. Pending the final decision of such appeal, the alien shall be detained in such manner as the Secretary of Labor may direct. All appeals shall be taken within ten days after the decision adverse to the admission of the alien is rendered, unless such time be extended by the Secretary of Labor upon application therefor before the expiration of said period of ten days. In cases brought before boards of special inquiry, a majority of such boards shall have power to admit or reject. Any alien who comes in search of employment shall be subject to the payment of a head tax of $8, to be deducted from his first wages if not otherwise paid. All decisions made by boards of special inquiry shall be subject to challenge by the alien or his representative before the Secretary of Labor, whose decision thereon shall be final.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien will result in serious injury to the party or corporation controlling the vessel bringing such alien to the United States, or that no suitable means exist for his immediate deportation, he may permit such alien to enter the United States upon the execution by such party or corporation of a bond in such amount, not exceeding $500, and with such sureties as he may require, conditioned for the deportation of such alien within such time as may be specified by the Secretary of Labor, and in default of the performance of the conditions of the bond it may be prosecuted and collected in the manner provided by law for the collection of other bonds given to the United States.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 9. No alien seaman shall be employed on board any vessel using the immigration visa provided for in this Act unless such alien seaman shall have been admitted to the United States upon the payment by the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel on which he arrived at a port of the United States of a tax of $8 in addition to any other tax now imposed by law. Such tax shall be paid to the collector of customs or deputy collector of customs at the port of arrival, and shall be refunded if such alien seaman is employed on board a vessel departing from the United States within four months after the payment of such tax. Such tax shall not be refunded in any case where such alien seaman has been employed on board a vessel during such four months' period. Such tax shall not be refunded in any case where such alien seaman has been employed on board a vessel during such four months' period. Such tax shall not be refunded in any case where such alien seaman has been employed on board a vessel during such four months' period.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, EDMUND HANSEN, master of the AMERICAN S. S. EVELYN BERG do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew thoroughly in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage. I have noted the copy of section 38 of the Act of February 3, 1917, extract from supplement B, rule 7, and copy of sections 21 and 50, Act of June 30, 1914, multiple appear below.

Sworn to before me this 18 day of SEPTEMBER, 19 18

Immigrant Inspector.

Second Officer.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 21. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof, transferring, or knowingly to cause to be landed in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or distress of the vessel, shall be permitted to land in the United States from any vessel arriving at any port thereof, or obtain a clearance from the collector of customs of the district in which such port is located for any vessel arriving after such alien shall have been excluded from admission to the United States from such vessel, unless such alien is in possession of a valid passport and a visa issued by a consular officer at the port, place, or country from which he seeks to depart for the United States, if such a visa is required by this Act or by regulations issued thereunder, and unless such alien is in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa, if such a visa is required by this Act or by regulations issued thereunder, or is specifically exempted from the requirement of a visa by this Act or by such regulations.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof who shall fail to detain on board the vessel such alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection shall be made before a passenger vessel leaves the dock or pier at which it docks, if practicable, and in any event before the vessel leaves the port), or who shall fail to do so as often as such alien seaman shall desert, or who shall fail to report to the immigration officer at the port of arrival the illness or injury of such alien seaman or the cause of the death of any such seaman, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. A vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such fine, and, if the vessel shall furnish a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart in the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign port or place, or who shall desert while such vessel is in port, shall be deported to the country whence he came, at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act, unless the Secretary of Labor shall otherwise direct.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that the owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel has violated any of the provisions of this section, such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such owner, agent, consignee, or master has paid the penalty or penalties for which such vessel is liable under this section, or the Secretary of Labor has given notice to the collector of customs that such penalty or penalties will not be required.

The list described below shall be prepared on plain white paper approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector at the port of arrival. The list of aliens or alien members of crews (Form 283) shall not be detached on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival.

When an alien seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel in the United States bringing any alien seaman to the United States to report to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival the name of the vessel, the name and description of each alien seaman employed thereon, and such other information relative to the crew as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe; and the master of any vessel bringing any alien seaman to the United States shall, before such vessel departs from the port of arrival, deliver to the immigration officer a complete list of the crew, containing the name, age, nationality, last permanent residence, and such other information relative to the crew as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe; and no master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel shall refuse to deliver such list when demanded by the immigration officer: Provided, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel may be fined not to exceed $10 for each alien concerning whom correct information is not furnished, and in the event such fine is imposed, shall not be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment thereof: And provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, cancel any or all such fines: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of inability to do so be given the administrative officer prescribed by section 37 of said Act, in case no list is furnished, and the deposit prescribed by section 38 of said Act, in case such list is furnished, and the deposit prescribed in rule 23 has been made.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared in plain form approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival or at place from which vessel sails directly to the United States. The list is to be signed by the master of the vessel, or other officer of the vessel (from 988 Main to 1000 Main), and sworn to before the inspector at the port of arrival.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That from and after the 1st day of July, 1917, every master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel having on board any alien who is not in possession of a valid passport viséed by an American consular officer, and who is destined to some place in the United States, shall cause a list or manifest to be made out at the time of sailing of such vessel from the last port at which such alien takes on board any part of his cargo, which list or manifest shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and shall contain the name, nationality, last residence, and final destination of every such alien so taken on board, which list or manifest shall be subscribed under oath by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel before the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and shall be in such form as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and may be changed from time to time by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, so as to secure the fullest and most complete information concerning each alien included therein. Every master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel as aforesaid shall furnish to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a correct list or manifest of the aliens on board such vessel, and in case any such alien is not duly listed therein, or in case the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any such vessel refuses to deliver such list or manifest, or knowingly delivers a false list or manifest, such master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every such alien not listed, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court: Provided, That nothing in this section shall be construed to require, prevent, or in any way interfere with the detention and examination of any alien for any of the causes for which he may be excluded under the provisions of this Act or any other Act or Acts regulating the immigration of aliens into the United States.

SEC. 19. (a) That no alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving at any port of the United States from any place outside thereof, except temporarily for medical treatment, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except upon such conditions as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and no alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving at any port of the United States from any place outside thereof shall be allowed to land temporarily for medical treatment unless a certificate from a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service is produced stating that in the opinion of such medical officer the proper hospital facilities are not available at the port of destination of such vessel, and that the sanitary conditions on board such vessel are such as to warrant the belief that the landing of such alien seaman will not endanger the public health.

(b) Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States, Alaska, Porto Rico, or the Canal Zone from any vessel arriving at any port of the United States from any place outside thereof, or who shall land in the United States, Alaska, Porto Rico, or the Canal Zone from any vessel at any time within five years after the date of his entry into the United States, shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 20 to 22, inclusive, of this Act, unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he entered the United States as a member of the crew of a vessel which has subsequently departed from the United States, or that he was forced to land in the United States or entered without inspection because of illness, injury, or other cause beyond his control, or that prior to his departure from the United States he had been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence and had procured the proper documents, viséed by the proper officers of the United States, entitling him to such admission, and is returning within a period specified by the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 30. (a) That any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel entering any port of the United States from any place outside thereof (except from Canada, Newfoundland, the West Indies, Panama, the Canal Zone, or the islands adjacent), or (b) any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bound from any port of the United States to any place outside thereof (except to Canada, Newfoundland, the West Indies, Panama, the Canal Zone, or the islands adjacent) who shall employ on board such vessel, or in connection therewith, any alien seaman not lawfully entitled to enter the United States, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every such alien seaman so employed, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers or the equivalent thereof by the collector or other officer of the customs while the master or owner thereof refuses to pay any such fine or imprisonment imposed upon him by the court. The Secretary of the Treasury may remit such fine or imprisonment if he is satisfied that the master or owner had no reason to believe that the alien seaman employed was not lawfully entitled to enter the United States.

(c) If any master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel on arrival at any port of the United States reports the name of any alien seaman as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence in any proceeding for the deportation of such alien seaman that he was employed on board such vessel as a seaman.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall desert while his vessel is in any port of the United States shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 20 to 22, inclusive, of this Act, unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he entered the United States as a member of the crew of a vessel which has subsequently departed from the United States, or that he was forced to land in the United States or entered without inspection because of illness, injury, or other cause beyond his control, or that prior to his departure from the United States he had been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence and had procured the proper documents, viséed by the proper officers of the United States, entitling him to such admission, and is returning within a period specified by the Secretary of Labor.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived will result in his becoming a public charge, or that the cost of his maintenance and care while detained pending deportation will be unduly burdensome, or that he is afflicted with any contagious disease, he may cause such alien seaman to be deported on any vessel which in his opinion can be employed for the purpose without undue risk to the health of the passengers or crew thereon, and the cost of such deportation shall be paid from the appropriation for the expenses of the Immigration Service.

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the master has delivered to the boarding officer the list or manifest required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and by subdivision B, rule 7, hereof, and such officer has certified upon said list or manifest that the master has delivered the same to him.

PAR. 7. The master shall not be granted clearance papers for his vessel if any alien seaman on board thereof has been refused a landing certificate by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, unless the master shall have given a bond to the United States in the penal sum of $1,000 for each such alien seaman, conditioned that he will pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located any and all expenses which may be incurred by the United States in the maintenance, care, and transportation of such alien seaman, and that he will deliver such alien seaman to the proper immigrant inspector at the port of destination for examination at such time as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, not exceeding one year from the date of the bond, unless such alien seaman shall sooner be duly admitted to the United States or shall sooner be delivered by the master to the proper immigrant inspector at the port of arrival for deportation, in which event the bond shall be canceled. Upon the master's producing to the collector a certificate from the immigrant inspector that the alien seaman has been delivered to him, the collector shall cancel the bond.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, A. Johnsen, Master, of the Gift Torpedo, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew now on board of my vessel from any port or place during the present voyage. I have noted the age of each person, the country to which he belongs, and the country in which he intends to become naturalized. I further declare that I have caused the vessel to be searched before her departure, and that to the best of my knowledge and belief there are not stowaways on board. I have noted the cabin accommodation of each passenger. I have also complied with the provisions of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from subdivision B, rule 7, and copy of sections 21 and 38, Act of May 18, 1917, which appear below.

A. Johnsen, Master, First or Second Officer.

The list specified below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector possessing the record at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens of whom information is required by section 12(a) of the Immigration Act of 1924 shall not be destroyed by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 12(a)) shall not be destroyed or deleted, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port.

Where an affidavit required is a "collective" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That when written or oral visa issued in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival first or subsequent to the issuance of all such visas a manifest or list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the foreign port or place where each was engaged, and the nationality, race, and last permanent residence of each alien, together with such information likely to lead to the apprehension of any alien who may be found to be unlawfully in the United States or who may become a public charge, as may be required by the Secretary of Labor; or the same shall be delivered by the master to the proper immigration officer at the time of the arrival of such vessel at the port of arrival; or if he can not do so, he shall deliver such list or manifest as soon as practicable thereafter, but before the vessel shall leave the port, and in default thereof such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and before the vessel shall be granted clearance papers such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall deposit with the collector of customs a sum sufficient to pay the head tax of all aliens employed on such vessel who may be admitted into the United States, such sum to be refunded if such aliens are duly admitted on arrival; and before any vessel shall be granted clearance papers as aforesaid the master thereof shall produce to the collector of customs a certificate from the immigration officer at the port of arrival showing that the provisions of this section have been complied with; and the Secretary of Labor shall make such rules and regulations and issue such instructions as may be necessary for the proper execution of the provisions of this section and for the prevention of the landing of any alien who is not duly admitted under the immigration laws. For every failure to deliver the list required or for every omission therefrom or for every error therein the master shall be liable to a penalty of $10 to be collected by the Secretary of Labor, by the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien not listed, and no clearance papers shall be granted pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, such fine shall be remitted or refunded if it is shown to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that the master has complied with the requirements of this section and that the failure to deliver the list or the omission or error therein was excusable or was not willful: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to other prescribed by section 35 of said Act has been waived, the deposit specified in rule 53 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for the sole purpose, to be certified by the Secretary of Labor, of receiving medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the sole purpose of obtaining his subsistence, and shall be deported on the vessel bringing him to the United States or on any vessel employed on board such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board thus alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has issued such alien from the United States (which re-injection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to deport any seaman (whether re-injection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to deport any seaman on board thus alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has issued such alien from the United States, or who fails to deport any seaman on board such vessel when ordered to do so by the Secretary of Labor, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $2,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. A vessel shall be cleared clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment thereof upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Any alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States in accordance with the conditions of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or who shall depart from the United States on any vessel other than the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, unless such departure was beyond control, or that he was removed by the immigration officer at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list preceding below shall be printed on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officers at the port. Any list or manifest presented to the master of a vessel, and which is not in the form prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, may be withheld from the vessel at the port of entry, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. Any list or manifest which omits the name of any person (from one) shall not be construed or permitted to be changed by the master to the benefit of such person except upon application to the proper immigration officer at the port of entry, and in no case after the vessel has left the port of entry. Any list or manifest which omits the name of any person (from one) shall not be construed or permitted to be changed by the master to the benefit of such person except upon application to the proper immigration officer at the port of entry, and in no case after the vessel has left the port of entry. Any list or manifest which omits the name of any person (from one) shall not be construed or permitted to be changed by the master to the benefit of such person except upon application to the proper immigration officer at the port of entry, and in no case after the vessel has left the port of entry.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel in the case of vessels from foreign contiguous territory, or owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel in the case of vessels from any foreign port or place, to deliver to the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival a list or manifest of all persons on board such vessel, whether cabin passengers or those in the steerage, which shall be prepared at the time of embarkation at the last port or place from which such vessel departs, except that in the case of sailors employed in the customary manner on vessels trading regularly between ports in the United States and foreign contiguous territory, only the names of such sailors as are destined to ports in the United States need be included in such list or manifest. The list or manifest shall contain the name of every person, his or her age, sex, whether married or single, calling or occupation, whether able to read or write, nationality, race, last residence, seaport for landing in the United States, final destination if any, whether in possession of a ticket prepaid for such destination, whether such person has paid his own passage or has it paid by others or by some society or other person, whether in possession of money, and if so how much, whether going to join a relative or friend, and if so what relative or friend and his name and complete address, whether ever before in the United States and if so when and where, whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether a polygamist, whether under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, whether in the United States or elsewhere during the war, whether a member of the anarchistic or other forbidden class, whether coming in pursuance of any prearranged plan, and whether having a ticket or passage paid for by the United States Government, or by any department thereof, or by any State, Territory, or municipality, or by the Red Cross Society, or by any charitable institution, society, or any other source, and whether having been deported before and the cause thereof, and such other facts as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization or by rules prescribed by the Secretary of Labor not inconsistent with law. The master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall also report the sex, age, nationality, race, last residence, and destination of all aliens in transit through the United States, and shall furnish such other information concerning them as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization or by the Secretary of Labor. Such list or manifest shall be prepared on forms furnished by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, and shall be verified by the oath of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, taken before a person authorized to administer oaths to masters of vessels, and shall be delivered to the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival before any of the persons named therein shall be allowed to land. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such list or manifest, or who shall refuse to allow the proper immigration officer to go on board such vessel and examine the list or manifest of passengers, or who shall refuse to answer truthfully the questions contained in such list or manifest as to any person on board such vessel, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each person concerning whom any such violation occurs.

(1) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that deterioration of the alien seamen on the vessel or water by which they arrive would cause undue hardship to such seamen if required to remain on board while such vessel remains in port, he may cause such aliens to be detained on shore at the expense of the vessel on which he arrives, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(2) Any alien who willfully fails or refuses to land from any vessel on which he arrives by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who lands in violation of any law or regulation made in pursuance thereof, or who goes on board any such vessel without the permission of the immigration officer at the port of arrival, may be arrested, and upon conviction be fined not more than $5 or imprisoned not more than five days, or both.

(3) Any person who knowingly brings into the United States any alien not duly admitted by an immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who knowingly conceals, harbors, or shields from detection any such alien, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

(4) Any alien who willfully fails or refuses to appear before, make application for examination by, or submit himself to examination by the immigration officers or the Board of Special Inquiry at the port of arrival, or who willfully fails or refuses to submit to such further examination as may be ordered by the Board of Special Inquiry at any time before a final decision is rendered by the Secretary of Labor, shall be deported in the manner provided by law. Any alien who willfully fails or refuses to appear before, make application for examination by, or submit himself to examination by the immigration officers or the Board of Special Inquiry at the port of arrival, or who willfully fails or refuses to submit to such further examination as may be ordered by the Board of Special Inquiry at any time before a final decision is rendered by the Secretary of Labor, shall be deported in the manner provided by law. Any alien who willfully fails or refuses to appear before, make application for examination by, or submit himself to examination by the immigration officers or the Board of Special Inquiry at the port of arrival, or who willfully fails or refuses to submit to such further examination as may be ordered by the Board of Special Inquiry at any time before a final decision is rendered by the Secretary of Labor, shall be deported in the manner provided by law.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 11. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for the purpose of and while in pursuance of his employment, and in no case for longer than five days, unless specially permitted by the Secretary of Labor to remain for a longer period, nor unless upon the same vessel or upon another vessel in which he is to depart from the United States or to proceed to a foreign port. Upon the arrival of any vessel with any such alien seaman on board, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall deposit with the collector of customs at the port of arrival a sum sufficient to pay the cost of maintenance of such alien seaman pending the completion of the physical examination by the medical examiners, or such lesser sum as may be determined by the Secretary of Labor, and such deposit shall not be refunded in whole or in part until such alien seaman has been certified by the medical examiners and has been granted a permit to land, or has been granted clearance or other permission to depart from the United States, or has been treated in a hospital, or has died. Any such deposit, or any part thereof, not refunded within two years after the date of the completion of the physical examination of such alien seaman, shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States as a special fund to reimburse such appropriations as may be available for the maintenance of such alien seamen in the United States.

(b) Any master, consignee, agent, owner, or charterer of any vessel who permits any alien seaman employed on such vessel to land in the United States in violation of the provisions of this section shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien seaman so landed, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance while any penalty imposed by this section remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of any question relating to the payment of such penalty upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty. Pending the payment of such penalty, clearance may be granted upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty, or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(c) Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or his agent, at any time within one year after such landing, upon the warrant of such officer, and such alien seaman shall not be granted admission to the United States, but shall be treated as an alien seaman who has been refused admission to the United States.

(d) Any master, consignee, agent, owner, or charterer of any vessel who shall refuse or fail to deport any alien seaman when ordered so to do by the Secretary of Labor, or who shall refuse or fail to pay the cost of maintenance of such alien seaman as provided in this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such refusal or failure.

(e) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien seaman who is afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disorders for the exclusion of which by the immigration laws aliens are required to be certified by the medical examiners, or who fails to deliver to such alien seaman on board such vessel the notification in writing prescribed by the Secretary of Labor to be delivered to him, shall pay a penalty of $200 for each such alien seaman, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such penalty. Pending the payment of such penalty, clearance may be granted upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty, or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(f) Any such alien seaman shall be deported in the manner provided by the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for the purpose of and while in pursuance of his employment, and in no case for longer than five days, unless specially permitted by the Secretary of Labor to remain for a longer period, nor unless upon the same vessel or upon another vessel in which he is to depart from the United States or to proceed to a foreign port. Upon the arrival of any vessel with any such alien seaman on board, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall deposit with the collector of customs at the port of arrival a sum sufficient to pay the cost of maintenance of such alien seaman pending the completion of the physical examination by the medical examiners, or such lesser sum as may be determined by the Secretary of Labor, and such deposit shall not be refunded in whole or in part until such alien seaman has been certified by the medical examiners and has been granted a permit to land, or has been granted clearance or other permission to depart from the United States, or has been treated in a hospital, or has died. Any such deposit, or any part thereof, not refunded within two years after the date of the completion of the physical examination of such alien seaman, shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States as a special fund to reimburse such appropriations as may be available for the maintenance of such alien seamen in the United States.

The list described below should be prepared on plain white paper by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the port of arrival of every vessel. The list of aliens on board each vessel is to be inspected by the immigration officer at the port of arrival and certified to (from 655 Main) and one so certified (from 655 Main) is to be delivered to the master or other person in charge of the vessel before she leaves the port. When no aliens are arriving on the vessel, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That from and after the first day of July, nineteen hundred and seventeen, in addition to the persons now by law excluded from admission into the United States, the following persons shall be excluded from admission into the United States: All persons physically capable and mentally competent to read who cannot read the English language or some other language or dialect, including Hebrew or Yiddish: Provided, That any admissible person or group of persons may bring in their parents or grandparents over fifty years of age and their wives or husbands, whether they can read or not, and any admissible father or grandfather may bring in his wife and children under sixteen years of age, if otherwise admissible, whether they can read or not; that skilled agriculturists, and their families, may be admitted, whether they can read or not; that any person who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who is returning from a temporary visit abroad may be admitted, whether he can read or not; that persons in transit through the United States from one foreign country to another through inland ports may be admitted, whether they can read or not; that persons who have been deported from the United States under the provisions of this section or of section 19 of the immigration act of February 20, 1907, may be admitted, whether they can read or not, upon the certification of the Secretary of Labor that the cause of deportation no longer exists; that nothing contained in this section shall be construed to affect the admission of the wife or children of any person lawfully admitted to the United States if such wife or children shall apply for admission within one year from the date of the issuance of the certificate provided for in section 3 of the act of May 19, 1914, as amended by section 4 of the act of October 16, 1918, and that nothing contained in this section shall be construed to affect the admission of any person otherwise admissible who was in the United States on May 19, 1914, and has remained therein continuously since that date.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 4. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the master has complied with section 36 of the act of February 5, 1917, and section 35 of this regulation.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 16. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be permitted to land temporarily for any purpose except on board the vessel in which he arrived in the United States and shall be detained on board or at quarantine or other immigrant station designated by the Secretary of Labor, pending examination, treatment, or deportation of such alien seaman.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing into the United States from any place outside thereof (other than persons in transit across the United States, persons in immediate and continuous transit through the United States without stopping, persons who have been lawfully admitted to the United States and who are returning from a temporary visit abroad, persons who have been in the United States less than twelve months and who are returning from a visit to Canada, Mexico, Newfoundland, the West Indies, Panama, the Canal Zone, or Cuba, and persons who have been in the United States less than twelve months and who are returning from a visit to the Philippine Islands, Porto Rico, the Virgin Islands, or Hawaii) shall before any alien, master, crew member, or other person employed on board such vessel shall land in the United States from such vessel, deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of entry a complete and accurate list or manifest of all aliens (including those in transit through the United States) employed on board such vessel, and of all aliens (including those in transit through the United States) who intend to land from such vessel in the United States, stating the full name, age, sex, calling or occupation, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each such alien, whether he has been in the United States previously, and if so, how many times, whether he has been deported, and whether he has a ticket through to his final destination. The master of such vessel shall also deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of entry a complete and accurate list or manifest of all aliens employed on board such vessel who have been left behind at any foreign port

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of cfranges of alien passengers at ports (888) shall not be retained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien is a "workaway" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, where and when they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the names of all aliens, if any, who have been left behind on account of illness or injury, and the destination of each of such aliens; and no person shall depart or attempt to depart from the United States by vessel from any port therein to any foreign port or place without having obtained from the proper immigration officer a permit granting clearance to such vessel, which permit shall not be granted until the master of such vessel shall have delivered to such officer lists containing full and correct information concerning all persons sailing on such vessel, and all aliens employed thereon at the time of the arrival at such port or place, and the number of such aliens who have been employed thereon at the time of the arrival at such port or place, and the names of all aliens employees who have left the vessel at any port or place in the United States, and the reasons therefor, and the number of such aliens, if any, who have been shipped or engaged to fill their places, and the names, ages, and last known addresses of such persons: but failure to list in the application for clearance the name of any alien employee who shall have been left behind in a foreign port or place for the reason that he was ill or injured and unable to travel at the time of the departure of the vessel from such port or place shall not be ground for withholding clearance if the master of such vessel shall have complied with the requirements of this section with respect to such alien insofar as information is available: Provided, That the master of such vessel shall report the name of any such alien who shall recover sufficiently to travel and who shall leave such port or place on any subsequent vessel, and the name, age, and last known address of any such alien who shall die before the departure of such vessel, and the place of burial: Provided further, That the master of such vessel shall report the name of any such alien who shall desert or attempt to desert such vessel, and any false information given by him concerning his intended departure from the United States: Provided further, That the master of such vessel shall report the name of any such alien who shall be employed on board such vessel at any port or place in the United States, and the reasons therefor, and the number of such aliens, if any, who have been shipped or engaged to fill their places, and the names, ages, and last known addresses of such persons: but failure to list in the application for clearance the name of any alien employee who shall have been left behind in a foreign port or place for the reason that he was ill or injured and unable to travel at the time of the departure of the vessel from such port or place shall not be ground for withholding clearance if the master of such vessel shall have complied with the requirements of this section with respect to such alien insofar as information is available: not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 6.

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by Section 36 have been (furnished, and not then unless, notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 36 hereof has been served, the deposit specified in Rule 22 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924.

ALIEN SEAMEN.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or distress, or for the sole purpose of obtaining treatment for such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof into which inspection (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to deliver such seaman on board such vessel upon inspection or to depart such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived or within the time limit of such bond may be made before the collector of customs of the district in which the vessel may be found within the United States or before any immigrant inspector at any port of entry thereof, or at that of the last arrival of such vessel as a passenger, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(d) Section 33 of the immigration Act of 1917 is repealed, but shall remain in force as to all vessels that entered, sailed, cleared, or were about to depart from the United States prior to the enactment of this Act.

LIST OR MANIFEST OF ALIENS EMPLOYED ON THE VESSEL AS MEMBERS OF CREW.

Required under Act of Congress of February 5, 1917, to be delivered to the United States immigration officer by the representative of any vessel having such aliens on board upon arrival at a port of the United States.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector ponding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form 966) shall not be examined on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien is a "MONTAGU," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917.

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from the foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, owner, or charterer thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held for and detained in the port of arrival; or lists containing no more of such aliens than may be specified in the regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor for the guidance of the masters in the preparation of the lists: and until the arrival of the said vessel it shall be the duty of such master, agent, consignee, or charterer to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed upon the vessel at the time of the arrival but who may then have been separated from the vessel, and specifying the time, place, and cause of such separation, so far as the same can be ascertained or learned: And in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the said lists of aliens required or learned: And in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report, detain, or deliver any such alien specified in said lists, or any of them, or any alien who may have been held to and thereafter illegally landed, or who, having been regularly admitted, shall become a public charge from any cause within two years after the date of his entry into the United States, it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel in which such alien arrived to the port from which he departed, or of the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel owning the vessel on board which such alien was a steerage passenger on the occasion of his last arrival at a port in the United States, to pay to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien so specified or named, unless such alien shall be satisfactorily proved to have been in the United States for a period of at least two years next preceding the time of his departure therefrom, or unless the Secretary of Labor shall in his discretion, and under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, remit, refund, or cancel any such penalty or portion thereof: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sureties approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seeking to land was not aboard when the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a foreign port left such port, or that he was temporarily in the United States under the immigration laws at the time of the departure of such vessel as a seaman, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to report, detain, or deliver such alien.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of the new laws then in force in the foreign country to which he belongs, or for other reasons, he may cause such alien to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to the government, reimbursed to the collector of customs, or satisfied in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor.

(d) Section 38 of the immigration act of 1917 is repealed, but shall remain in force as to all vessels, their owners, agents, consignees, masters, and as to all seamen, arriving in the United States prior to the enactment of this act.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof until such alien seaman has been granted, under such rules as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, a conditional permit to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospital to such destination as the Secretary of Labor shall designate. Any such alien seaman who remains in the United States for a period in excess of such permit, or who fails to maintain any status under which he was admitted, or who fails to depart from the United States when required so to do, shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the immigration act of 1917. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the immigration act of 1917. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the immigration act of 1917.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 8.

PAR. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 38 hereof has been furnished, and not then unless, unless of inability to the administrative time prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 38 hereof has been waived, the deposit specified in Rule 22 has been made.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER.

I, [illegible], master, of the [illegible], do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from and port or place during her present voyage. I have noted the copy of section 38 of the United States Immigration Law and of paragraph 2, subdivision (b), Immigration Rule 8, which appears below.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of the vessel in the United States from the foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all persons comprised in the manifest of the vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, and where each person is born, the last foreign country from which he came to the United States, the intended destination, whether he has a ticket through to such destination, whether his passage is paid by himself or by others, whether he has in his possession more than $50 and if so how much, whether he has been in prison or almshouse or an institution for the insane or supported by charity, whether he is a polygamist, whether he is an anarchist, whether he has ever been previously refused admission to or deported from the United States, whether he is coming in pursuance of a previously existing contract to perform labor in the United States, and whether he has been in the United States previously and if so when and how long he remained and where he lived and what he was doing while here, and whether he has been in any penal institution or almshouse within the three years next preceding his application for admission to the United States, and whether he is coming to join a relative or friend, and if so what relative or friend and his name and complete address, and whether he intends to become a citizen of the United States, and whether he is going to the United States for the purpose of performing labor or service of any kind, and if so what kind or character of labor or service he is to perform, and whether he is married or single, and the age, sex, nationality, race, and last occupation and ability to read or write of all persons over fourteen years of age, the height and weight of all persons, and whether they have any mark or scar of identification on the body of any person, the nationality, color, race, and last residence of all persons who have been lawfully admitted to the United States and who return after temporary absence to an unrelinquished residence therein, and whether any alien in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa has been refused admission to the United States, and if so, the cause for such refusal. Such lists shall be prepared at such time before the departure of the vessel for the United States as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be delivered by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel before any of the passengers are landed, except that in case of accident happening to the master after the departure of the vessel and before the arrival at the port of destination, or in case of his death, his place shall be filled by the person next in command on board, who shall be subject to the same duties and liabilities as the master would have been if living. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver the lists required by this section, or who refuses or neglects to answer truthfully to the best of his knowledge and belief any question forming part of the said lists, or who refuses or neglects to report to the proper officer the illness or death during the voyage of any person on board, or who refuses or neglects to detain in quarantine on board or elsewhere, when directed so to do by the proper officer, any person who has been exposed to any infectious disease during the voyage, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 2. Manifests, interpreters, and translators.—(a) Alleging the foreign address of the immigrant, if the address is known to the master. All persons who may be detained for examination, if any, shall be identified with the manifest of the vessel by the number placed after their names thereon.

(b) Questions which are not to be asked. Questions which relate to the political affairs of foreign countries, and questions which relate to the religious affairs of foreign countries, unless such questions tend to show that the immigrant belongs to a class which is excluded from admission into the United States.

AFFIDAVIT OF SURGEON

I, J. H. MORRISON, Surgeon of the U.S. PRESIDENT MCKINLEY, sailing therewith, do solemnly, sincerely, and truly swear that I have had 22 years' experience as a Physician and Surgeon, and that I am entitled to practice as such by and under the authority of THE STATE OF WASHINGTON, and that I have made a personal examination of each of the aliens named herein, and that the foregoing Lists or Manifest Sheets, 5 in number, accurately to the best of my knowledge and belief, are full, correct, and true in all particulars, relative to the mental and physical condition of such aliens.

Sworn to before me this 18TH day of SEPTEMBER, 1899

at SEATTLE, WASH.

NOTE.—If a surgeon sails with the vessel, the affidavit of verification shall be executed before an immigration officer at port of arrival, but if any changes that may have occurred en route in the condition of any of the aliens must be noted on the manifest before the affidavit is executed.

If no surgeon sails with the vessel, the affidavit of verification shall be executed at the port of departure before some officer authorized to administer oaths

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States, according as the passengers are destined for the third class and the so-called contract class, whose rates of transportation are higher. The number of the manifest should be entered in the space provided for the purpose at the top of the first page of each manifest, and those sheets which are not to be used should be marked "Void." The names of the passengers should be entered in the manifest in the order in which they are to be inspected, and the number of each sheet used should be stated in the space provided for the purpose at the footing of the last page of the manifest.

NATIONALITY.—Enter nationality of passengers as "Italian," "French," "German," "Irish," "Scotch," "Swedish," "Danish," "Norwegian," "Finnish," "Russian," "Polish," "Dutch," "Flemish," "Belgian," "Swiss," "Spanish," "Portuguese," "Greek," "Turkish," "Roumanian," "Bulgarian," "Servian," "Montenegrin," "Hungarian," "Austrian," "Syrian," "Arabian," "Chinese," "Japanese," "Hindu," "Mexican," "Cuban," "West Indian," "Central American," "South American," or "Negro," as the case may be. Do not enter as nationality the country to which a person may be going, nor the country from which he sailed, unless it is also the country of his nativity or citizenship. Do not enter "American" unless the person is a native-born citizen of the United States. Do not enter "naturalized" or "citizen" unless the person has been naturalized. Persons born in Canada should be described as natives of Canada, and persons born in Wales as natives of Great Britain. Persons born in Alsace-Lorraine should be described as natives of Germany or France, according to the country to which they belonged at the time of their birth. Persons born in Scotland, Ireland, or Wales should be described as natives of Great Britain. Persons born in Prussian Poland should be described as natives of Germany. Persons born in Austrian Poland should be described as natives of Austria. Persons born in Russian Poland should be described as natives of Russia.

RACE OR PEOPLE.—Enter race or people as "Negro," "Chinese," "Japanese," "Hebrew," "Bohemian," "Magyar," "Croatian," "Slovak," "Dalmatian," "Servian," "Montenegrin," "Bulgarian," "Roumanian," "Moldavian," "Wallachian," "Greek," "Spanish," "Portuguese," "Flemish," "Belgian," "Dutch," "Swiss," "Danish," "Norwegian," "Swedish," "Finnish," "Russian," "Polish," "Turkish," "Syrian," "Arabian," "Hindu," "Mexican," "Cuban," "West Indian," "Central American," "South American," "Irish," "Scotch," "Welsh," "English," "French," "German," "Italian," "Japanese," "Chinese," "Hebrew," or "Negro," as the case may be. Do not enter "American," "United States," "Canadian," "Acadian," "Celtic," "Anglo-Saxon," "Teutonic," "Latin," "Slavonic," "Aryan," "Caucasian," "Mongolian," "Indian," "Ethiopian," "Polynesian," "Malay," "Semitic," "Hamitic," "Mediterranean," "Iberian," "Basque," "Keltic," "Kymric," "Celtiberian," "Gaelic," "Erse," "Celtic," "Gothic," "Slavic," "Sclavonic," "Sclavonian," "Sclavonian," "Lithuanian," "Finnic," "Ugrian," "Turanian," "Scandinavian," "Dravidian," "Kanaka," "Maori," "Papuan," "Australian," "Berber," "Kaffir," "Negrito," "Nubian," "Zulu," "Bantu," "Kongo," "Soudanese," "Ethiopian," "Abyssinian," "Kushite," "Fellah," "Bedouin," "Kurd," "Afghan," "Beluchi," "Parsee," "Armenian," "Georgian," "Circassian," "Tartar," "Lapp," "Finn," "Samoyede," "Ostyak," "Tungusian," "Yakut," "Kamchatkan," "Aleut," "Eskimo," "Iroquois," "Dakota," "Apache," "Comanche," "Shoshone," "Algonquin," "Delaware," "Mohawk," "Huron," "Cherokee," "Pawnee," "Navajo," "Sioux," "Chippewa," "Seminole," "Creek," "Aztec," "Toltec," "Carib," "Arawak," "Patagonian," "Chilian," "Araucanian," "Peruvian," "Quichua," "Tupi," "Guarani," "Brazilian," "Portuguese-Brazilian," "Spanish-American," "Portuguese-American," "Mulatto," "Quadroon," "Octoroon," "Creole," "Mestizo," "Mestiza," "Zambo," "Zamba," "Cholo," "Cholan," "Chilan," "Mameluke," "Hamite," "Semite

I, L. H. MORRISON, Surgeon of the U.S.S. PRESIDENT MCKINLEY, SAILING THEREWITH, do solemnly, sincerely, and truly SWEAR that I have had 32 years' experience as a Physician and Surgeon, and that I am entitled to practice as such by and under the authority of THE STATE OF WASHINGTON, and that I have made a personal examination of each of the aliens named herein, and that the foregoing Lists or Manifest Sheets, 5 in number, according to the best of my knowledge and belief, are full, correct, and true in all particulars, relative to the mental and physical condition of such aliens.

Sworn to before me this 18TH day of SEPTEMBER, 1901, at SEATTLE, WASH.

(Signature and title of immigration or other officer authorized to administer oath)

NOTE.—If a surgeon sails with the vessel, this affidavit to verification shall be executed before an immigration officer at port of arrival, but if any changes that may occur on route the condition of any of the aliens must be noted on the manifest before the affidavit is executed.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFEST

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States, according as separate manifests immigrants and non-immigrants are desired by the Immigration Act of 1924; but also according to separate manifests those sailing intermediate ports-of-call (called "local ports" in the Immigration Act) for the purpose of filling out the complete list of passengers on board at the time of arrival at the first port of entry in the United States. Each manifest should be prepared in the order of the numbered columns, and the entries in each column should be arranged in the order of the lines, as follows:

Column 1 (Number on list.)—Number the persons consecutively, beginning with the number 1 for the first person in the list.

Column 2 (Name in full.)—Enter the surname (family name) and the given names (including middle name) in full of every person.

Column 3 (Relationship.)—Enter the relationship, if any, of each person to the person whose name immediately precedes, as husband, wife, child, father, mother, grandfather, grandmother, brother, sister, cousin, nephew, niece, uncle, aunt, or friend.

Column 4 (Age.)—Enter the age of each person as of his last birthday. Infants under 1 year old should be entered as "under 1 year."

Column 5 (Sex.)—Enter the word "male" or "female" as the case may be.

Column 6 (Married or single.)—Enter the word "married" or "single," as the case may be.

Column 7 (Occupation.)—Enter the occupation or profession of each person, if any. If a child or person has no occupation, write the word "none." If a person has a trade, specify which trade, as "carpenter," "mason," "painter," "tailor," "shoemaker," "baker," "seamstress," "housekeeper," "engineer," "farmer," "laborer," "servant girl," "cook," "waiter," "clerk," "bookkeeper," "stenographer," "typewriter," "accountant," "salesman," "merchant," "manufacturer," "dressmaker," "locomotive engineer," "miner," "author," "editor," "lawyer," "physician," "surgeon," "chemist," "teacher," "professor," "actor," "actress," "musician," "sculptor," "painter," "architect," "clergyman," "missionary," "barber," "hairdresser," "butcher," "conductor," "guard," "sailor," "fireman," "soldier," "policeman," "detective," "watchman," "porter," "hostler," "driver," "chauffeur," "aviator," "aeronaut," "parachutist," "blacksmith," "machinist," "electrician," "plumber," "steamfitter," "roofer," "bricklayer," "plasterer," "painter," "paperhanger," "glazier," "tinsmith," "upholsterer," "weaver," "spinner," "dyer," "printer," "pressman," "bookbinder," "cabinetmaker," "woodworker," "stonecutter," "stonemason," "potter," "jeweler," "goldsmith," "silversmith," "tailor," "tailoress," "milliner," "hatter," "cap maker," "glove maker," "shoemaker," "boot maker," "harness maker," "saddler," "upholsterer," "rubber worker," "leather worker," "tanner," "furrier," "miller," "grain dealer," "cotton planter," "cotton grower," "rice planter," "rice grower," "sugar planter," "sugar grower," "tobacco planter," "tobacco grower," "fruit grower," "orchardist," "florist," "gardener," "nurseryman," "seedsman," "poultry raiser," "stockman," "cattle dealer," "horse dealer," "sheepherder," "shepherd," "cowboy," "fisherman," "oysterman," "lumberman," "woodchopper," "logger," "hunter," "trapper," "guide," "prospector," "miner," "quarryman," "driller," "well driller," "oil driller," "oil operator," "gas driller," "gas operator," "contractor," "builder," "real-estate dealer," "banker," "broker," "merchant," "manufacturer," "agent," "commercial traveler," "peddler," "draftsman," "inventor," "scientist," "student," "clerk," "bookkeeper," "stenographer," "typewriter," "accountant," "salesman

I, J. H. MORRISON, Surgeon of the U.S.S. PRESIDENT MCKINLEY, SAILING THEREWITH, do solemnly, sincerely, and truly SWEAR that I have had 22 years, experience as a Physician and Surgeon, and that I am qualified to practice as such by and under the authority of THE STATE OF WASHINGTON, and that I have made a personal examination of ONE in number, according to the foregoing Lists of Physical Grades, and that I have made a personal and physical examination of each of the aliens named herein, and that the foregoing Lists of Physical Grades, to the best of my knowledge and belief, are full, correct, and true in all particulars, relative to the mental and physical condition of such aliens.

Sworn to before me this 18TH day of SEPTEMBER, 1918.

at SEATTLE, WASH.

(Signature and title of immigration officer or other officer authorized to administer oaths)

NOTE.—If a surgeon mails this affidavit, the mailing of it will be executed before the nearest immigration officer at port of arrival, and has changed that very grave occurred en route if the condition of any of the aliens must be noted on the manifest before the mailing of it will be executed.

If no surgeon mails this affidavit, the mailing of it will be executed before some officer authorized to administer oaths.

LIST OF RACES OR PEOPLES

Passengers coming to the United States to join relatives or friends, or to accompany them, must show whether such relatives or friends are citizens or aliens, and give their names and complete addresses.

Persons in transit through the United States must be fully described, and the final destination given.

If any person is deported, he may be required to pay the expenses of his return to the country whence he came, or to the country of which he is a subject or citizen, unless security for such expenses has been previously furnished.

Aliens who have been in the United States previously should be carefully questioned as to the time of their last departure therefrom.

Every alien must be in possession of an unexpired immigration visa, except that an alien who is returning to a foreign contiguous territory to which he is a native citizen, or in which he has resided for at least one year immediately preceding his application for admission to the United States, may be admitted without such visa if he establishes to the satisfaction of the immigration officer that he is returning to such territory after a temporary visit to the United States.

Every alien must be in possession of a valid passport, unless he is a native citizen of a country contiguous to the United States, or unless he is in possession of a border-crossing identification card issued to him by the Secretary of Labor.

Every alien must be examined by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service unless he is in transit through the United States and has been examined abroad by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service.

Every alien must be examined by a consular officer unless he is in transit through the United States or is a native citizen of a country contiguous to the United States, or unless he is in possession of a border-crossing identification card issued to him by the Secretary of Labor.
